THE WEEKLY UNION In the cheapest and most desirable Home, News and Literary Journal published on the Pacific Coast.

Entered at the Postoffice at Sacramento as second-class matter.

The RECORD-UNION and WEEKLY UNION are the only papers on the Coast, outside of San Francisco, that receive the full Associated Press Dispatches from all parts of the world.

San Francisco Agencies. This paper is for sale at the following places: L. E. Fisher's, room 21, Merchants' Exchange, California street; the principal News Stands and Hotels, and at the Market-Street Ferry.

Weather Forecast. Forecast till 5 p. m. Thursday: For Northern California--Fair weather; except slight rain in Northwestern Nevada; winds generally south to west, and fresh to brisk; cooler; heavy fog along the coast.

CHARACTER AND LEADERSHIP.

According to all accounts the prize fight in San Francisco Tuesday night was a particularly brutal and unfeeling affair. One of the men had his arm broken, but was kept in the fight for a long time after the limb hung helplessly at his side.

Whether the Democratic organization can afford to have its leading officials engage in such an avocation, and thus teach the young voters that political honors are conferred regardless of character and moral status, remains to be seen.

The independent action which partisans stigmatize with such severity is very largely due to the fact that a following desires to have personal respect for its leadership, and when it cannot, there is a falling away from it. It is mainly for this reason that local politics in cities and counties is so frequently disturbed by revolts against party control and withdrawals from disciplinary contact with it.

There would seem to be no reason whatever why political managers should be fools, but they denigrate themselves such when in this day of free spirit and individualism they force upon the people as party chiefs and captains the class of men referred to. Possibly these managers are not without wisdom of an order that has a very restricted horizon.

OUR UNPLEASANT CONDITION. Californians are in a peculiar, an unpleasant, if not a pitiable condition. Here we are living in the chief fruit-growing State; the season is a good one; luscious fruits overburden the orchards; the finest yield of our history is upon us, but we cannot even taste the splendid fruits of which we are so proud.

Lightning played a queer freak in a New Hampshire town recently. It took off the tail feathers of each of twenty hens sitting on a roost, and affected a rooster so that he has not been able to crow since.

the kind that three or four years ago we fed to the hogs. The greenish, sickly looking peaches that do not even blush in their shame, which marketmen offer us, are enough to turn the stomach of the lover of good fruit.

There are children growing up in California at the fruit centers who wonderingly hear the tradition that California grows more bountifully than any other part of the most luscious fruits, but these children are not destined to learn of them by actual inspection, much less by taste.

And the reason of this state of woe is that our best fruit all goes East. The ragged children of the Chicago alleys for a few cents can indulge in luxuries that grow at our doors, which for dollars and groves we cannot enjoy.

Four fruit shipping interests are to continue in growth, local consumers must do something to protect the taste for the prime fruit article, or it will become strange to the people of the greatest of fruit-growing States.

The other night an engineer of the Danville, Mendocino and Eureka Railroad dreamed that a large rock had fallen on the road near Leatherwood Creek, N. C., and that his engine, having come in contact with it, was broken to pieces.

A physician, speaking of summer vacations, remarks: "Wherever you go be sure to spend at least ten hours of the twenty-four in the open air."
