

EIGHT DAYS OF SOLDIERING.

Preparations for the Coming Regimental Encampment.

The Soldier Boys Will Leave for Santa Cruz One Week From Saturday

—The Camp-Ground.

The First Artillery Regiment will leave this city for camp one week from next Saturday. The militiamen are all eager to enjoy the week's outing at the seaside. All necessary details have been arranged, and the prospects are that the encampment will be one of the most successful ever held.

Lieutenant W. B. Maydwell, of Colonel Guthrie's staff, will leave for Santa Cruz next Tuesday, with a squad of ten men, for the purpose of pitching the tents and placing the camp in readiness for occupancy by the regiment on the following Sunday morning. Lieutenant Maydwell has had considerable experience in pitching camps, and the officers feel confident that under his direction the camp city will be properly laid out, and that all the necessary details will be carefully looked after.

In conversation with a RECORD-UNION reporter yesterday, the Lieutenant stated that he was in Santa Cruz last Friday, and was hospitably entertained by the Sixth Regiment officers. He says he intends pitching the camp in nearly the exact location that it occupied last year. To the left and rear of the camp will be the high range of mountains, and the dining tables and kitchen will be built beneath the limbs of the trees at the base of the range of hills. Instead of having to cross the ditch to reach the tables, as was the case last year, the latter will be stationed nearer the camp, and directly in rear of the headquarters tent. Outside the lines the tents for the families of the officers will be put up.

The drill-ground, Lieutenant Maydwell states, is in better condition than it was when the first of the San Francisco regiments camped on the scene. Considerable marching over the ground has obliterated most of the ruts. The field is now in fairly good condition. The regiment will employ its own cooks and waiters, and will send down the necessary utensils, which the regiment owns. A large cooking range already on the grounds, and which has done service for the troops which have already camped there this summer, will probably be retained by Lieutenant Maydwell. J. J. Carburn will be the chief cook, and the same person who was employed at the last camp will have charge.

Battery B has decided not to go down by the road, as the trip is a rougher one than the members desire to take, and the funds will not permit of their hiring horses. It is thought, however, that four pieces of artillery will be sent down, that the company horses, which the company necessary horses can be hired in Santa Cruz.

It is expected that the companies of this city will go to the averaging forty men each. Company C of Nevada City may take as high as fifty men, and Company F of Woodland will not be the smallest company in camp.

The First Artillery Band, of twenty pieces, will accompany the regiment, and as usual delight the people of Santa Cruz with its choice music. The hour of the regiment leaving the city for camp has not been definitely fixed, but it will probably be about 8 o'clock in the evening of August 1. The camp will be reached on Sunday morning, and after an eight days' outing the regiment will return, arriving here early on Monday morning.

The fare for the round trip for each soldier in uniform is $3.50. Tickets for others desiring to go down with the regiment are placed at $5.00. Quartermaster-Sergeant J. A. Klein of Company G has constructed three large chests in which to transport the uniforms of the members of that company to the camp-ground.

THE OWENS BROS. CLAIM

Controller Colgan Explains Why He Has Not Paid It.

State Controller Colgan says he has good reasons for refusing to draw a warrant in favor of Owens Bros. for work on the seawall at San Francisco. To a RECORD-UNION reporter yesterday he stated that the amount was $1,728.50. The contractors are in the habit of receiving from the San Francisco Board of Harbor Commissioners demands on the Treasury for the amount of work performed. Owens Bros. assigned their demand, or draft, to J. M. Wood, who was the financial backer of the firm. Wood sent the draft to the California State Bank in this city, and that institution forwarded it to D. O. Mills & Co.'s bank for collection. The Controller had no doubt as to the correctness of the demand, and was about to issue the warrant when he received notice on July 18th from Owens Bros. repudiating their indorsement on the draft. Two days later they made a demand that the warrant be drawn in their favor and forwarded to them.

This is the position in which the matter stands. Mr. Colgan states that J. M. Wood, being the assignee of Owens Bros., should receive the money, but he does not want to pay it as long as Owens Bros. claim that the transaction was not "on the square." He prefers that Owens Bros. should do what they have done—bring a mandamus suit to determine who is the proper party to receive the warrant. He has notified Mr. Wood to have his side represented by counsel, or otherwise he will permit the suit to go by default. Mr. Wood has assured Mr. Colgan that he will have an attorney on hand.

BARWICK'S BUGLE

He Toots It Loud and Long About the Cool Weather.

The temperatures yesterday at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. were 55° and 79°, while the highest and lowest were 82° and 65°, being one degree cooler during both the day and night than the day before. There was an extremely heavy dew yesterday morning. It ran off the tin roofs like falling mist from a dense fog, showing how very moist the air is when it reaches this city from the sea, when the wind blows from twelve to eighteen miles per hour from the south, freshening up vegetable growth. The barometrical readings at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. were 29.96 and 29.94 inches.

The highest and lowest temperatures one year ago yesterday were 91° and 66°, and one year ago to-day 88° and 68°. We are at last having cooler weather than one year ago. Tuesday the average temperature was five degrees below the normal, and yesterday was three degrees below, being the first time from the 12th of the month to the 27th. The range was from one to fourteen degrees warmer than the normal or mean average temperature for each day, as obtained from records of fifteen years or more.

SOMETHING BRILLIANT.

The East India Lawn Party To-Morrow Evening.

The ladies of the Young Women's Christian Association are doing everything in their power to make the East India lawn party to-morrow evening a genuine success. It will take place in the beautiful grounds of Mrs. E. B. Crocker, at Third and O streets, which will be lighted with electricity for the occasion. The feature of the evening will be glimpses of court life in India, reproduced by a lady who was a resident there for many years, with special advantage of studying the native customs and dress. The string band of C. A. Neale will disconcert select music during the evening, and there will be promading in the spacious grounds, refreshments, etc. The street-cars will run until after

POISONED MEAT

It Causes One Death and Much Sickness About Loomis.

A child of A. Free, residing at Loomis, died on Saturday last from the effects of poison caused by eating some pressed corned beef. A local marketman put a quantity of the meat on the market, and many of his patrons bought and ate of it. Mr. and Mrs. Free, E. W. Maslin, G. W. Ellery, Mr. and Mrs. Owen and many others living within a radius of several miles of Loomis also partook of the meat, and all were attacked with severe symptoms of poisoning. Mr. and Mrs. Free and some others were not out of danger at last accounts, and the services of the local doctors were all in demand.

Mr. Payne Was Not Guilty.

By one of those unaccountable mistakes which sometimes occur even in the best regulated printing offices, an item announcing the acquittal of J. N. Payne on the charge of violating the midnight closing ordinance was overlooked in the making up of yesterday's paper. The jury acquitted Mr. Payne because there was no evidence that he had authorized the keeping of his saloon open after midnight. He was not himself present when the officer visited the saloon, and the jury found on the ground on which to bring in a verdict of guilty.

St. Gertrude's Academy.

This excellent school for young ladies, conducted by the Sisters at Rio Vista, Solano County, will reopen for the fall term on Monday, August 17th. Rio Vista is a delightfully situated village overlooking the Sacramento River near its confluence with Suisun Bay, and the academy is a popular institution of learning.

W. C. T. U. Incorporated.

Articles of incorporation of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Sacramento were filed in the Secretary of State's office yesterday. The directors are Mrs. M. E. Jenks, Mrs. G. Schadt, Mrs. J. M. Stalker, Mrs. S. P. Goodell and Mrs. H. P. Mandeville.

Alleged Assault to Murder.

William Donavan, who lives at the Five-mile House on the Brighton road, has been arrested on a charge of assault to murder, and occupies a cell at the County Jail. He is alleged to have tried to kill his wife. They have not lived happily together for a long time.

GETTING INTERESTING.

The Rogers-Smith Case Opens Up An Inquiry.

Smith Says He Was Offered a Bribe to Quit, But the Accused Denies It.

Albert Rogers, who was arrested last week for assault with a deadly weapon on Jack Smith, was examined in the Police Court yesterday and held to answer before the Superior Court. Ball was fixed in the sum of $4,000. The testimony for the prosecution was to the effect that Rogers met Smith on the corner of Third and L streets, and, applying a vile epithet, accused him of stealing his watch. Smith started to explain the matter, when Rogers drew a pistol and declared that he would blow Smith in two if he advanced another step. Rogers claimed that Smith had threatened his life, and that he pulled his pistol, believing that Smith was advancing to carry out the threat. Judge Craven could not view the testimony in that light, and said he thought the evidence was sufficient to warrant the holding of the defendant. During the examination Smith stated that he had been offered $200 if he would consent to a dismissal of the case. He said he had been approached by a man called "Chaney" with the offer. Henry Rubenstein had also offered him the same amount just outside the courtroom door, and stated in addition that $20 which "Chaney" wanted to pay Smith was his (Rubenstein's) money. Judge Craven called Rubenstein to the stand and asked him what he had to say about the matter. He testified that he did offer Smith $20, but told him distinctly that it was not offered for the purpose of bribing him in the case, but in payment of any injury he might have received at the hands of Rogers, who was an employee of his (Rubenstein's) shop. The further hearing of the matter was continued in order that "Chaney" might be subpoenaed to tell what he knew of the transaction.

IT WAS ALL THE SAME

Alleged Case of Garroting on Seventh Street Yesterday Morning.

About 3 o'clock yesterday morning a young man presented himself to Night Clerk Clark at the police station and said that he had just been garrotted, and clubbed and robbed of sixty-five dollars. He was crying like a schoolboy, and exhibited bruises on the face and a bandaged head as evidence that his story was true. He had evidently been drinking, but declared he had not. According to his story he was passing the alley on Seventh street near the rear of the Golden Eagle Hotel, shortly after 3 o'clock in the morning, when two men jumped upon him, choked him, and (he thought) garrotted him with a small club and robbed him of sixty-five dollars in gold. The young man refused to give his name, but said he was employed at the railroad shops. He was paid day-over there, and it is not unlike the alleged victim got his face scratched about in that locality, and that the critic also chewed out the pocket in which he carried his wealth.

Odd Fellows' Installation at Folsom.

Andrew Carlaw, D. D. G. T. P., accompanied by S. B. Smith, G. F. P., Ezra Pearson as G. S. W., H. F. G. Wolf as Grand Scribe, W. D. Stalker as Grand Treasurer, C. W. Baker as G. J. W., John Carlaw as Grand Senior, and James Scott, Deputy Grand Senior, went to the officers of Folsom Encampment, No. 24, as follows: J. H. Hendrick, C. P.; Ed. Christy, R. P.; W. L. Ramsey, S. W.; George Little, Scribe; J. Hyman, Treasurer; F. Myers, J. W. Appointed officers: Wm. Nichols, O. S.; T. J. McFarlane, Guide; George Marvin, L. S.; E. Downs, First Watch; G. Ferguson, Second Watch; J. Graham, Third Watch; S. Foster, Fourth Watch; Patriarchus Lawton and Odora, Guardians of Tents. After the installation a splendid banquet was served, and general good feeling prevailed.

The Chinese Shooting Case.

The examination of Ong Ah Gong, the Chinaman accused of shooting Fong Ah Dep, was continued in the Police Court yesterday afternoon. Three Chinese witnesses and Officer Wilson testified for the prosecution, and the further hearing was continued until Friday.

WILLIAM ARLINGTON.

Funeral Services Held Yesterday Over His Remains.

Circumstances Which Strengthen the Belief that He Was the Son of the Peoria Doctor.

There was quite a large number of persons present at the undertaking rooms of J. Frank Clark yesterday forenoon on the occasion of the obsequies of the late William Arlington. Among those present were the members of the police force and officers of the Police Court.

The body of the deceased was dressed in a full policeman's uniform, including the star he wore when he received his final wound at the hands of Annie Manning. A prayer was read by Rev. A. T. Needham, who made some remarks relative to the dangers of policemen's lives, and warned the officers present that they should always be prepared for death.

The friends of the deceased officer then took a last look at the body, and the coffin was closed. The burial will be delayed for several days in the hope of hearing some details from the East regarding the whereabouts of deceased's relatives.

WAS HE DR. MURPHY'S SON?

There seems to be every reason for believing that William Arlington, the recently-deceased police officer, was really the son of Dr. Murphy of Peoria, Ill. Chief Drew called upon Mr. Younger, who resides at 609 Seventh street, who is an old acquaintance of Dr. Murphy, and he informed the Chief that he some time ago received a letter from Dr. Murphy requesting him to look after his son. In the letter it was stated that the latter visited the family about five years ago, and after spending a few weeks at home left for the West, and that he had not since heard from him. Dr. Murphy also sent him his own photograph to Mr. Younger, and the latter gave it to Chief Drew. All who have seen it agree that it bears a strong resemblance to the deceased officer.

Chief Drew says he finds that five years ago Arlington went East and remained there for several weeks, and several of his friends here remember his saying that while East he visited his parents.

J. R. Hodson, who is a professional photographer, viewed the remains at the Morgue last evening, and said he was positive that the deceased was a son of Dr. Murphy of Peoria, Ill. "I knew the doctor well, before I came to this State," said Mr. Hodson, "and I remember that he told me he had a son who was in the army, and who was in the West. In looking at the remains of the officer, I can see a strong resemblance to Dr. Murphy. He has the same nose, forehead and chin, and I do not know of any other ways. I feel very confident that Arlington is Dr. Murphy's son."

There are not a few who believe that Arlington could have talked while in the hospital had he wished to. One of the officers at the police station states that the nurse informed him that on one occasion when the patient was unable to talk, he "cranked," and he was asked if he desired a certain thing, and instead of nodding or shaking his head, he said quite audibly, and in a distinctly intelligible manner, "That was, however, the only time any intelligible exclamation escaped his lips."

WANTS DAMAGES

Mrs. Renfro Sues Her Adopted Father in the Superior Court.

Melvina Renfro has commenced suit in the Superior Court against Rufus Walton, for $700 damages and costs of suit. The plaintiff is Walton's adopted daughter, and alleges that in May, 1890, she agreed to take up her residence on Walton's ranch, near Florin, and do the housekeeping; that Walton agreed to provide her and her three children a good home during his lifetime, to allow her to raise chickens and have the profits therefrom, and that he would, upon his death, devise his ranch to her. It is further alleged that on July 26, 1891, defendant refused longer to permit Mrs. Renfro and her children to live on his ranch, but compelled them to remove therefrom.

OFF TO FOLSOM

Harry Gordon's Long Vacation—Smith and Furlong.

Harry Gordon, who confessed that he was one of the party who cruelly assaulted and robbed Robert Allen, and who was sentenced to twelve years' imprisonment, was taken to Folsom by Deputy Sheriff Fay yesterday. The argument of the motion to reduce the bail in the case of J. D. Smith—one of the alleged Allen conspirators—was not heard in Judge Catlin's court yesterday, as expected, but was postponed until today. The court was engaged in a divorce matter and could not take up the case.

It is said that after the Smith motion has been disposed of, Major W. A. Anderson will ask for the discharge of James Furlong—charged with complicity in the same crime—on the ground that there is no evidence to warrant him being held. Word was received from Stockton yesterday that Robert Allen, the victim of the cowardly assault, was very low and that his death might be expected any moment. His wife and daughter are with him. He is unconscious and is said to be sinking.

STILL IN IT

The I-Street Duckery Continues to Run in Full Blast.

About two weeks ago the RECORD-UNION called the attention of the authorities to the filthy nuisance that was maintained by a Chinese duck-raiser in the basement and yard of 209 I street. The party was arrested and fined for violation of the city health ordinances, and the nuisance was presumed to have been abated. Judging from the fact that the nuisance still exists, it seems evident that the real violators of the law were not arrested, and that the ducks are apparently enjoying full immunity and peaceful possession of the foul-smelling premises. If this condition of affairs is to continue, would it not be better to return the owner the amount of the fine recently imposed, and arrest the ducks instead? In any case the nuisance should be promptly and effectually abated.

The Sheriff Sued.

Edith H. Fee has commenced suit in the Superior Court against Sheriff Stanley to recover possession of a piano, valued at $500, which she alleges the Sheriff unlawfully seized. She also sues for $100 damages. F. A. Fee, husband of the plaintiff in this action, recently sued on a promissory note, and the Sheriff, under an attachment, took charge of the piano, among other things. Mrs. Fee now alleges that the piano was her personal property and the Sheriff had no right to seize it.

The Swimming Baths.

The directors of the swimming baths at Twenty-first and the streets say there is little doubt but that the institution will be in readiness to be thrown open to the public on Monday evening next. The new work on the tank will probably be finished today, and will be in readiness for Monday evening.

The Liquor Dealers' Association announces a public meeting to be held at the Clubine Opera-house, on Friday evening, at which the question of liquor license will be discussed by Grove L. Johnson and W. A. Anderson. All who feel an interest in the subject are invited to be present.

Fine Music.

Last night's concert at the Plaza as usual attracted an immense throng of people. The concert was one of the best ever given by the Artillery Band. The final piece, a description of "A Trip to Coney Island," was particularly fine, and when it was finished the crowd stood and cheered the musicians lustily.

Wants to Be Separated.

George J. Berger commenced suit in the Superior Court yesterday for a divorce from his wife, Josephine H. Berger.

Not at Home.

"Johnny, is your sister at home?" said the young man at the front door. "Wait until I light the gas—or hold on—why, I haven't seen her." "Why, no," replied the abashed youth. "Have you got a mustache that curls up at the ends?" "No—no, I don't wear a mustache at all."

"Hum. Have you got a large seal ring on the fourth finger of your left hand?" "Yes, I have." "Then, said Johnny, confidently, "she ain't at home." And he shut the door without further to do.—Washington Post.
