

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS.

Richard Arnold's Fusillade in the Union Saloon.

A Valuable Mirror Ruined, and the Painting, "She," Shot and Otherwise Mutilated.

The reports of several pistol shots coming from the Union saloon on Second street, between J and K, about 9:30 o'clock last evening, created considerable excitement in that locality and caused a crowd to gather in and about the saloon.

Special Officer May was among the first to reach the place, and finding "Dick" Arnold, one of the proprietors of the place, with a pistol in his hand, the officer ran up and grasped him from behind.

Arnold broke loose from May and was about to bring his "gun" to bear on the latter, but when he saw who it was he said he would go with him to the police station, but warned the officer not to touch him.

Arnold accompanied May to the police station, where he remained for some time in consultation with Chief Drew, and then departed with the latter. There was no charge entered against him.

A Russian-Ukrainian in the meantime ascertained that nobody had been shot, and in fact that nobody had been shot at. The large French-framed mirror behind the bar had been shattered.

The cash-register and also received a bullet, but the lead had flattened out against it, and dropped harmlessly among the keys.

In the billiard-room adjoining the large, full-length painting entitled "She," which adorned one of the walls, was found with a bullet-hole through one arm, while the lower half of the canvas contained a ragged three-cornered rent about a foot and a half long, made by a blow with a pistol. The picture is ruined.

The cause of all this rattle and destruction of valuable property by Arnold was said to have been a falling out between himself and his partners, Ramon Montenegro and Leo, who had a settlement come to the conclusion that his partners were getting more than their share of the proceeds of the business.

He had become so worked up that he had taken to the control of himself, and appeared to have taken this means of revenging himself.

The reporter asked Montenegro to give his version of the affair, and he replied: "Oh, it's a long story, but to be brief, the main facts are these: When Silvey and I opened this place some months ago we took Arnold in and gave him a third interest in the business. Later he had found fault and was dissatisfied with things, and he had a settlement and I bought him out and paid him for his interest. He was in bad humor, and came in here to-night and declared that we should not make anything out of the business.

Then he whipped his gun out of his pocket and commenced blazing away, with the result you see. He could not have shot me if he had wanted to, as I was right here behind the bar all the time."

"Had he been drinking?" the reporter asked. "No," replied Montenegro, "he was perfectly sober—he doesn't drink a drop. The man acted as if he was crazed from excitement."

Mr. Silvey informed the reporter that the ruined mirror had been valued at $750, and the picture at $1,000. From conversations with various persons about the place it was learned that the ruined mirror had been regarded as a very temperate, quiet young fellow, but a person of great determination whenever his energies were called into action. He was about 20 years of age, after the shooting, but did not again visit the Union saloon.

THE COLORED CONFERENCE.

What Was Done the Third Day of the Session.

Bishop Grant Speaks on the Race Question—Protest Sent to the Grand Army.

Yesterday's proceedings of the African Methodist Conference were conducted by Rev. G. C. Clark of Stockton.

After the singing of "Prayer is the Soul's Sincere Desire," Revs. John Pointer and P. S. Green were elected alternates to the General Conference.

Members of the conference severely criticized the action of the Grand Army of the Republic in drawing the color line at the institution of the colored members, and a special committee prepared and reported the following telegram which was sent to Hon. William Warner, a member of the encampment, who had ably defended the cause of the colored members of the organization:

To the Hon. William Warner, Detroit—DEAR SIR: The California African Methodist Episcopal church, now in session, desires to express its appreciation and thanks for the efforts made in the past by the negro veterans of the G. A. R. in the support of the African Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. P. H. Green, Rev. O. Summers, Rev. W. H. Weathers, Presiding Elder of the California District, and Rev. P. R. Green, Presiding Elder of Washington and Oregon, who have been so generously and ably assisted by the members of their respective districts.

Bishop Grant was authorized to issue credentials recognizing the members of the church of San Francisco as an evangelist. She was warmly indorsed by Rev. O. Summers.

Some remarks were made by Rev. M. Beechgood, pastor of the Central M. E. church, who said his heart and prayers were with the members of the conference, and the churches it represented, in their good work.

Bishop Grant then favored the conference with an address, in which he ably discussed the subject of race distinction. While the speaker's remarks were most confined to the well-beaten paths that so many orators and writers have followed in discussing this subject, there was a vigor and originality in his manner of expressing himself that was quite refreshing.

At this point a little breeze sprang up to disturb the harmony of the conference. Presiding Elder Weathers of the Stockton District preferred charges against Rev. G. C. Clark of that district, alleging that he had misappropriated the sum of $3.05 of the Elder's salary, also that he had been guilty of insubordination.

The accused made a charge in regard to the money by stating that he had paid a coal bill with it; as for his alleged insubordination, he said it was not intentional, and his heart was free from malice.

This explanation did not fully satisfy the conference, and the accused was adjudged guilty, but entitled to a discharge, and the Bishop extended to him his blessing.

Rev. J. R. Dorsey, Traveling Elder, and G. A. Bailey, Traveling Deacon, having lost their credentials, the Bishop was authorized to issue new credentials to the brethren.

A sermon was delivered at the afternoon session by Rev. G. W. White, and Revs. O. Summers, J. Pointer, G. C. Clark, and P. S. Green. Resolutions were appointed a committee on assessments.

In the evening Rev. D. E. Johnson of Oakland delivered an able address on education.

Copy Valley Lands.

A CAPRAY COLONY. Busy Fruit-Growers in a Pretty Yolo Valley—Tanned and Its Adjoining Farms.

IN THE SPRING OF LAST YEAR Robert A. and Neal D. Barker associated themselves with William McKay, all of Oakland, with a view of securing on a suitable location in which to engage in the profitable occupation of fruit-growing. After visiting many localities, they decided on the Copy Valley, Yolo County, and the Rhodes tract at Tanager.

Negotiations were opened with the Copy Valley Land Company, owning the tract in question. With W. H. Mills, the General Agent of that company, they arranged for the purchase of about 220 acres of foothill land. This being more than they had thought of taking for their own use, they spoke to a number of friends about it, with the result that the tract was divided among the following: B. L. Hlecock, 40 acres; W. T. Barnett, 20 acres; N. T. Greathouse, 20 acres; Mrs. L. Greathouse, 20 acres; W. McKay, 20 acres; N. D. Barker, 20 acres; E. A. Barker, 20 acres; J. P. Brown, 20 acres; E. A. W. Kelly, 10 acres; Joseph Barker, 10 acres; A. W. Greathouse, 10 acres.

So far this had been merely a private venture of the gentlemen above named, but in talking up the question of dividing the land already purchased, it was found that so many more would like to join it than the area of the purchase would admit of, that it was suggested on all hands, "Why not get some more land and divide it up in the same way?"
