

AUGUST WEATHER.

Lieutenant Finley Explains Its Peculiarities.

The Month Was Distinguished for High Temperatures, Local Storms and Unusual Humidity.

In his monthly report for August Lieutenant John P. Finley, Government Officer in charge of the Pacific division of the Weather Bureau, says the month has emphasized the abnormal conditions of July, except perhaps as to rainfall in certain localities. Like July, August is distinguished for high temperatures, local storms, high winds and excessive humidity. The local rains have been heavier and the local storms more severe. There has been more warm waves, more continued high temperatures and more injury to plant growth. The centers of all cyclonic disturbances have moved eastward north of Washington. The area of high barometric pressure have been especially marked for their extent and intensity. The warm waves in Oregon and Washington have been particularly severe and long continued. They were marked by high humidity, which increased the sultriness of the atmosphere and the discomfort of the high temperatures. The excess of rainfall and humidity in Oregon and Washington has been beneficial to crops. The rains which have fallen in California, Nevada and Arizona have been beneficial to the crops. The excessive dryness of the air attending the hot waves in these States has been detrimental to crops in some places.

RAINFALL.

There has been an excess of precipitation in all districts north of the fortieth parallel, and a deficiency over the entire region south of that latitude. The excess is most marked in Northern Nevada and Western Washington, and ranges from 0.65 inches at Red Bluff to 4.75 inches at Olympia. The deficiency is most marked in Southern California and Arizona, and ranges from 0.08 inches at Los Angeles to 0.53 at Yuma.

Rain fell on 21 days in California, mostly in mountain districts; on 22 days in Nevada; on 20 days in Arizona; on 12 days in Oregon; on 10 days in Washington. Although the Nevada, Nevada and Arizona report rainfall on a large number of days the precipitation has not been excessive in some few cases. The greatest rainfall in 24 hours are as follows: Tatoom, 1.48; Reno, 1.37; The Needles, 2.54; 1.70; 1.41; 1.37; Belleville, Nev., 1.00; Independence, Cal., 1.74; 1.00; Olympia, 6.75; Mesa Grande, Cal., 1.54.

LOCAL STORMS.

Thunderstorms occurred during the month as follows: Salem, Or., 5th; Spokane, Wash., 6th; Monmouth, Or., 6th; Keeler, 10th; San Francisco, 11th; Highlands, Cal., 11th; Warm Creek, Cal., 11th; Campo, Cal., 12th; Hawthorne, Nev., 14th; near San Diego, 12th; Florence, Ariz., 14th and 15th; near Yuma, 15th and 16th; near Redlands, 12th, 15th and 16th; Prescott, Ariz., 18th and 21st; Barstow, Cal., 23rd; Torrey, 31st; Temecula, Cal., 19th. The heaviest rain and hail fell on 23rd, 24th and 25th, attended nearly all of these storms.

Floods occurred at Santa Cruz, Ariz., 14th; Florence, Ariz., 14th and 15th; San Bernardino and Redlands, 14th, 14th to 16th; Campo, Colton and The Needles, 16th and 17th. Much damage to property by high waters. Historic structures at Eureka, four days at Yuma, two days at Keeler, two days at Fort Canby.

It has been decidedly above the normal in all districts. The excess ranges from 3° at Eureka to 8° at Sacramento, 7° at Portland, 10° at Los Angeles, and 10° at Walla Walla. It will be observed that the abnormal heat has been distributed over the Pacific Coast States. This uniformity is unusual, and discloses the prevailing influence of the area of high barometric pressure. The excess of heat and over occurred on thirty-one days in California, on thirty-one days in Arizona, on 11 days in Oregon, on twelve days in Washington.

The highest temperatures are reported as follows: The Needles, 107, 234, and 118, 224; Red Bluff, 124, 234, 118, 224; Healdsburg, 112, 234; Roseburg, 107, 224; Walla Walla, 107, 234. The lowest temperature, 36°, occurred at Winnemucca on the 6th; Truckee, 32, 7th; Boca, 30, 7th.

Frosts occurred on the 6th and 7th at various places in Western Nevada. Owing to high temperatures and excessive dryness grass and forest fires have been very destructive in Northern California.

POLICE COURT.

The Three Chinese Highbinders Held for Examination. Henry Farrell was arraigned in the Police Court on Saturday on a charge of petty larceny, in stealing a small sum of money from another boy. He pleaded not guilty, and demanded a jury trial. The case was set for the 22nd inst, and a venire for twenty-four jurors issued.

Fong Ah Him, Fong Ah Leung and Fong Ah Moy, three Chinamen charged with robbing a Chinese woman of some jewelry, had their examination set for the 10th inst. Bail was fixed at $2,000 in each case.

In the case of Ed. Clark, the newsboy who was convicted of battery, the court gave the defendant a severe lecture and suspended judgment indefinitely.

William Henderson, the man who attempted to smuggle opium to a prisoner in the City Jail, was discharged. The City Attorney stated that he had no section in the statutes under which he could prosecute him.

The battery cases of T. J. Bohan and William Seccombe were dismissed on the payment of the costs.

Peter Hernandez, charged with disturbing the peace, was ordered to appear to-morrow for trial.

New Incorporations. The following articles of incorporation were filed in the Secretary of State's office Saturday:

Luckel, H. W. Stoll, George N. Dewey and I. R. Dunkelberger. William Niles & Co. Capital stock, $50,000. Directors—William Niles, N. S. Niles, H. J. Niles, M. L. Starr and B. W. Diehl.

MR. HENRY TALKS.

He Refuses to Illegally Use Money of the Stockholders.

The Subject of the J-Street Assessment Freely Discussed—The Q-Street Franchise.

J. H. Henry, President of the Central Electric Railway Company, is in the city, and was seen yesterday by a reporter in search of information, who remarked: "Mr. Henry, the Record-Union would like to know why your company refuses to pay the double-track street improvement assessment on J street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-eighth streets." "In order to answer your question," replied Mr. Henry, "I shall have to go into details somewhat. In the first place, we have only a single track over that portion of the street, and when Street Commissioner McLaughlin made his assessment for a double track against our company he and I talked the matter over and could not agree as to our liability. He said he would like to have that question settled, and proposed getting the City Attorney's opinion on the matter. I told him that was the proper way to settle the matter. If we were liable for a double track when we only had a single one that we would pay it without a word. The opinion of the City Attorney was to the effect that we were not liable. "In that same opinion, I think it was, he said we had no authority of law for creating out of the air the side of the street. That, in my opinion, was no figure in the street assessment, because if we have no right to operate the track in its present position the payment of the assessment will not give us such right. That question is strictly governed by statute, and the Trustees have nothing to do with it. If we have no right to operate that portion of our line where it now lays, we shall immediately take steps to put it where the law will protect us. "I do not care to operate a street railway contrary to law. We would take many chances in doing so. This is a new question, and a very serious one for us, as well as some other who are operating street railways in this city, and I shall take the matter right up, and, as I said before, if I have no right to operate in the center of the street, to comply with the law we will get there in a hurry. "Going back to this claim of the Mayor's agent—how can the manager of this company, pay a bill clearly known to me to be unjust, unfair and illegal? Would I not be personally responsible to the stockholders for a misappropriation of funds? "What would the Mayor do if a bill he had introduced was presented to him against the city? We all know what he would do—refuse to pay it. "I saw it stated in one of the papers the other day that we are only waiting for the street work to be paid, and then we would lay a double track, thereby getting the benefit of the improvement. According to the terms of the franchise, we have no right to lay a double track until anything else, that privilege expired some time ago. Hence, if we want to lay an additional track, we must get a franchise. "The Mayor's agent, however, claims that in granting that the Trustees can impose such conditions as they think proper. "You say you have no right at this late date to lay the additional track. You recently doubled the track from Nineteenth to Twenty-first. Why did you do that without first getting permission? "We do it that without knowing the exact terms of the franchise. We got permission of Trustee McLaughlin, but I presume at the time he did not know the terms of the franchise. "What do you intend to do about this? "We intend," replied Mr. Henry, "now to apply for a franchise covering these two blocks of new track, so as to put us within the pale of the law. "Are there any other tracks in the city laid on one side of a street so as to permit the laying of an additional track when the business of the road requires it? "Yes, on K from Tenth street out, and if I mistake not, Mr. Carey is laying his new road on their road in the same manner. In San Francisco there are plenty of such cases. This center of the street question is a new one—that is, the question of drawing it fine is a new one. "Mr. Henry" queried the reporter, "do you think you will get the Q-street franchise?" "Yes, sir, I see no reason why we should not." "Is there anything in the report that you intend to abandon the center of J street, from Twenty-first to Twenty-eighth and M, if compelled to move it in the center of the street?" "No, sir, I never made any such statement as that, although it would be for the company's interest to abandon that portion where we had our new station and make the M-street line through line to Oak Park."

Real Estate Transfers.

The following real estate transfers have been recorded since our last report: J. L. May, L. G. and Mary Siller to G. L. Simmons—South 42 feet of north half of lot 5, M and N, Ninth and Tenth streets, $3,000. W. L. Sullivan to Mary Sullivan—East half of lot 6, L and M, Twenty-first and Twenty-second streets, $1,000. Orange Valley Colonization Company to Charles H. Clark—Tract 169 of Orange Vale Colony, $1,250.

Sierra Valley Plums.

There is one kind of fruit that reaches perfection in Sierra Valley, at an altitude 5,000 feet, and that is the plum. Lawyer G. G. Davis, who has just returned from a visit to his parents' home in that mountain paradise, brought with him a branch of a tree, grown at the village of Randolph, on which the plums are as thick as ever grapes were seen in a cluster. Indeed, it looks more like a bunch of grapes than anything else, the plums not yet having reached their full growth.

GUM HO'S ESCAPE.

Attorney Charles T. Jones has often been spoken of as a clever practitioner, but never did he accomplish a neater piece of work than he did on Saturday in the case of the Chinese girl, Gum Ho, for whose possession the Chinese slave-owners have been making such a lively fight of late.

A Clever Bit of Maneuvering at the County Jail.

The Girl's Friends Spirit Her Away and Felt the Slave-owners—In Safe Hands. Attorney Charles T. Jones has often been spoken of as a clever practitioner, but never did he accomplish a neater piece of work than he did on Saturday in the case of the Chinese girl, Gum Ho, for whose possession the Chinese slave-owners have been making such a lively fight of late.

The contest has been a series of rapid arrests and habeas corpus cases. No sooner would the girl be released on habeas corpus than she would be arrested again on another trumped-up criminal charge.

ONCE TOO OFTEN. The last arrest was on a charge of embezzlement, in which the girl's husband was made a co-defendant. The warrant was duly filed at the Sheriff's office by the Colusa officer who came down to get the girl. It had not, however, been served on the husband up to Saturday morning.

On the morning the Colusa officer learned that the husband was over in Justice of the Peace Henry's Court and went to the Sheriff's office, asked for his warrant, and was given it and he departed to serve it on the Chinaman. He was hardly out sight when Attorney Jones stepped into the Sheriff's office and asked what authority the girl was being held.

COLBERT HELP HIMSELF. The Sheriff acknowledged that at that moment he had no authority. "But I demand that she be released," said Mr. Jones.

There was nothing else for the Sheriff to do. The girl was liberated, and quickly escorted to a carriage that was standing on Seventh street and driven off.

When the Colusa officer came back with his warrant it was too late. "Nobody seems to know who the girl is, and the Colusa officer is liable to have a hard time finding her. It is safe to conjecture that she is in the hands of friends who will protect her from the mendacious slave-owners who have been fighting for her."

Changed Daily for the Red House. CLOSED TO-DAY FROM 12 M. TO 5 P. M.

LABOR DAY.

THERE CAN be no more fitting time than today to indulge in a bit of salutatory to our friends—the working people of our city and State. May your success in the future be even greater than in the past, and here we would express to you thanks for years of patronage. From an acorn to an oak. Our motto has been, "Honor between buyer and seller." Our interests are mutual. For every son of toil we wish the brightest future and beg to drop this hint:

In the battle of life, 'tis the bread-winner's care To provide for his family dear, And surround them with comforts such as he will dare To take from his income each year.

There is hardly a man in the State, so to speak, When wishing to purchase, gives thought How much they could save from their wages each week If they knew where their goods should be bought.

The Red House is known all over this coast As the store for the people at large. For the money you spend you get value the most, And you never will be overcharged.

Paste the above lines in your hat; write it down where you will fall over it every day. Don't wait to be knocked down with hard facts and kicked insensible with high prices. Don't wait until your days of usefulness are over and a pauper's grave stares you in the face. Think of the great unknown hereafter and the terrible end of the foolish man. Think of those who are to come after you and keep your grave green. Are they to remember the one who took no thought of their future? See that your honest, hard-earned dollars are invested where they bring the largest returns. Buy for cash; the credit graveyard is full enough without you. Patronize the one-price dealer and those who pay no tribute to middle men.

Yours, with best wishes,

C. H. GILMAN, Red House, Sacramento.

Capay Valley Farms.

GOLDEN EAGLE HOTEL. Corner Seventh and K Streets. STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS. FREE BUS TO and from the cars. W. O. BOWERS, Proprietor.

Busy Fruit-Growers in a Pretty Yolo Valley—Tancred and Its Adjoining Farms. IN THE SPRING OF LAST YEAR Robert A. and Neal D. Barker associated themselves with William McKay, all of Oakland, with a view of searching out a suitable location in which to engage in the profitable occupation of fruit-growing. After visiting many localities, they decided on the Capay Valley, Yolo County, and the Rhodes tract at Tancred.

Negotiations were opened with the Capay Valley Land Company, owning the tract in question. With W. H. Mills, the General Agent of that company, they arranged for the purchase of about 220 acres of foothill land. This being more than they had thought of taking for their own use, they spoke to a number of friends about it, with the result that the tract was divided among the following people: B. L. Hickok, 40 acres; W. T. Farnett, 20 acres; N. T. Greathead, 20 acres; Mrs. L. Greathead, 20 acres; W. McKay, 20 acres; J. P. Browne, 20 acres; E. H. Haack, 10 acres; and Frederick Kelly, 10 acres.

So far this had been merely a private venture of the gentlemen above named, in talking up the question of dividing the land already purchased, it was found that so many more would like to join it than the area of the purchase would admit of, that it was suggested on all hands, "Why not get some more land and divide it up in the same way?" Then followed the idea of a stock company to take hold of a larger tract and arrange for the cultivation of the whole of it, after subdividing it according to the requirements of the subscribers. A provisional board was formed, a prospectus issued, and finally, on the 5th of June, 1890, the Western Co-operative Colonization and Improvement Company was duly registered and proceeded to business, with the following officers: President, William McKay; Vice-President, M. P. Brown; Directors—H. C. Ellis, Charles Brooke and R. A. Barker; Secretary and General Manager, Neal D. Barker; Solicitor, C. E. Snook; Treasurer, First National Bank of Oakland.

The balance of the tract, 373 acres, was purchased. A contract was entered into for the purchase of a large number of fruit trees, vines, etc. This early purchase of trees was the means of saving between $3,000 and $4,000 to the company, the prices in some cases having more than doubled since they were planted.

The ideas which the prospectus set forth have been but slightly modified and the progress of the company has been uninterupted. Those who went into it from the beginning have become enthusiastic, and almost all the members arranged to set out all their lands in fruit trees, etc., the first year. Consequently in this, the first season, some 40,000 trees and between 20,000 and 30,000 vines will be planted.

The satisfactory working of this scheme has had the effect of attracting considerable attention to the work of the Colony Company, and a number of people are now desirous of joining in with them. An additional 200 acres have been added to the sixty acres originally purchased.

For the company is predicted a very bright future, as well as for the beautiful valley in which their operations are conducted. How rapidly this marvelous little garden has come to be so long neglected is a puzzle to every one who has visited it, but one thing is very sure, and that is that this neglect will never again be felt in the valley.

The fruits set out are mostly of the standard varieties—peaches, apricots, Bartlett pears, prunes, figs, raisin grapes, etc., while along both sides of the avenue, throughout the tract, walnuts will throw their graceful shade. A considerable number of citrus trees are also being set out; quite a sufficient number to demonstrate that these fruits can be successfully grown in this valley, about which the colonists appear to have no doubt, provided proper care is given to the young trees. Neal D. Barker, General Manager of the company, resides on the tract, and his correspondence is to be addressed to the Tancred colonists at the county road, and to build a bridge across Cache Creek at this point, in order to give the settlers on the east side of the creek access to Tancred Station. The Tancred colonists are quite willing to give the necessary right of way, and are very desirous of having a bridge there, as the colony lands extend along both sides of the stream. It is thought that it would be a very wise expenditure of public money to grant them this very necessary improvement, as the operations of such companies are of widespread benefit to the whole county and State. The Tancred colonists are of the cities are well known, but to those who are willing to settle on the land and show that the country also affords attractions and comforts and ways of making money pleasantly, every inducement should be held forth.

The following is a list of the principal members of the Tancred Colony, with the number of acres owned by each, and a fact worthy of mention is that in each contract or deed issued by the Colony Company there is a provision that no intoxicating liquor shall ever be manufactured or sold on the tract, as a permanent success of the enterprise shows that the ideas and plans of the colony, as set forth in the prospectus some time ago, are not impracticable: C. E. Hull, Berkeley, 5 acres; W. P. Hammon, Oakland, 14 acres; S. R. M. San Francisco, 11 acres; Jos. Barker, 10 acres; A. W. Kelly, Kincaid, 10 acres; N. T. Greathead, 5 acres; R. G. Greathead, Oakland, 10 acres; B. A. Barker, San Francisco, 10 acres; N. D. Barker, Tancred, 10 acres; Dr. K. Favor, San Francisco, 27 acres; J. P. Brownlee, Kincaid, Ont., 9 acres; W. T. Barnett, Berkeley, 5 acres; M. P. Brown, 10 acres; Chas. Brooke, Sr., Oakland, 10 acres; W. C. Boutelle, Berkeley, 20 acres; J. A. Crealin, Oakland, 5 acres; C. H. Peach, Tancred, 5 acres; H. C. Ellis, Oakland, 10 acres; J. Vanstone, Wintrop, 10 acres; E. A. Vanstone, Tancred, 5 acres; E. Wadsworth, Sacramento, 5 acres; M. A. Thomas, Oakland, 6 acres; James Graham, San Francisco, 11 acres; Stark, 12 acres; Starke, 10 acres; Mrs. M. Vrooman, 5 acres; C. E. Snook, 10 acres; C. T. Greathead, 10 acres; Wm. McKay, 5 acres; Mrs. E. C. Woolley, Brooklyn, N. Y., 10 acres; Mrs. H. Beckley, Oakland, 5 acres; T. A. Marriett, 5 acres; J. C. Harrison, Tancred, 5 acres. The land reserved by the Colony Company, including townsite, consists of 61 acres.
