

OPEN TO SETTLEMENT.

Proclamation Issued Concerning Ceded Indian Lands.

THEY WILL BE THROWN OPEN TO THE PUBLIC ON TUESDAY.

The Announcement Causes Great Excitement at Guthrie—Thousands of People Getting Into Line to Join the Crowd Already in Waiting for the Order to Go Into Effect—Trouble Looked for Between Whites and Negroes.

Special to the Record-Union. WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The President has signed the proclamation opening to settlement and homestead entry the newly ceded lands of the Sac and Fox, Iowa and Potawatomi Indians, in the eastern part of Oklahoma. These lands may be entered upon next Tuesday, the 21st instant, at 12 m., central standard time.

The proclamation reviews in detail the agreements between the Government and the several tribes and bands of Indians, and also the Acts of Congress authorizing, accepting and confirming these agreements and providing for the proclamation. Notice is given in the proclamation that no person shall be permitted to enter upon and occupy any of the lands included in the proclamation be attached to the Eastern and Oklahoma Land Districts. Attached to the proclamation is a schedule of reservations upon which it is to be opened, the aggregate of which is 3,042,283 acres.

(GUTHRIE O. T.), Sept. 18.—The long-expected news from Washington announcing the opening of the ceded Indian lands for next Tuesday was received here this morning, and caused intense excitement. The ceded reservations comprise almost as much territory as Oklahoma proper. The land lies directly east of Oklahoma. The two regions are separated by the Indian Territory line, which runs directly through the new country. Thousands of people were camped on the line of the new territory, and the companies A and D of the Thirteenth Infantry and a troop of the Fifth Cavalry are in the new territory driving out the Indians, and assisting in maintaining order. Everybody is now making the best possible time in getting into line to join the crowd that is already waiting for next Tuesday.

In the treaty with the Sac and Fox Indians the words "open to white settlement" occur. These words are apt to cause some trouble. The Indians say they will insist on their stipulations, and will not permit negroes to take lands in their country.

WAR BETWEEN COWBOYS AND NEGROES. GUTHRIE (O. T.), Sept. 18.—A Deputy Sheriff has just arrived, and brings the news of a race war in progress just on the line of the Iowa reservation. The town of Langston was founded several months ago, and is inhabited solely by negroes. There are several thousand of them there, and more are being sent to the town from the new lands. The negroes contemplate settling in a body in the Cimarron Valley as soon as the land is opened. A gang of cowboys from the Cherokee strip also have their eyes on the locality, and say that any negro who attempts to settle there will be killed. The negroes have visited Langston, got into a row, and attempted to shoot Eggleston, editor of the Herald. Last night they returned, and a row was fought. The negroes all armed themselves, and if they do return many will likely be killed. Officers have left for the scene.

WORLD'S FAIR.

Representatives of Foreign Countries Looking Over the Ground. CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—The World's Fair Foreign Commissioners arrived here this afternoon from their European tour. They were accompanied by Sir Henry P. Wood, Secretary of the English Commission; Herr Wermuth, the German Commissioner, and James Dredge of the British committee. A Reception Committee, selected by the Directors, met them this evening. Director Peck entertained them at a dinner. The commissioners expressed themselves well satisfied with the reception extended to them in this country. They will be here for several days, and will be in the city for an exposition interesting to exhibitors. They will hold conferences with the officers and visiting dignitaries, being joined in the conference by the French Consul, who, at present, looks after the French interests. The foreigners will be here about two weeks.

"PEACH DAY."

Anniversary of the Planting of Peach Trees in Colorado. GRAND JUNCTION (Col.), Sept. 18.—Grand Junction has the distinction of inaugurating "Peach Day," established to celebrate the raising of the luscious fruit in this arid and barren part of Colorado. Ten years ago the pioneers brought here leafless saplings; Tuesday they fed nearly 10,000 people with the fruit from them. It was a gala day for the junction. From Governor Rout down, nearly every high official in the State has been present and participated in the proceedings. Having the driving park followed the parade, and in the evening the State militia gave a grand street parade. The day's doings wound up with a grand ball.

BASEBALL IN THE EAST.

No Agreement Yet Reached Between the Major Leagues. NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The National League managers to-day gave further consideration and discussion to the report of the Conference Committee appointed by the league to negotiate with the American Association, and which the latter refused to deal with after Kelly jumped from the Cincinnati Club. When the meeting adjourned it was stated that the Conference Committee had been discharged and the Chairman of the League Committee instructed to so notify the association. This is generally considered to be the end of all present efforts at harmony between the two organizations. Before adjournment resolutions were adopted declaring that the league would be glad to welcome the return of the American Association in the same manner as they withdrew therefrom, namely, by notice to the National Board.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18.—The Grand Jury met again this afternoon and took up the prize-fight matter. It is said that some of the jurors were in favor of a special report recommending that prize fights be stopped. The necessary twelve votes were not forthcoming, it is said, and the report was not made. However, the jury decided to make a test case of the club's position under the law, and indirectly reveals the character of the monarch who seizes every occasion to revile France and hasten revenge.

Disastrous Fire in a Chicago Tenement House.

Five in One Family Lose Their Lives.

Terrible Mistake of a Woman at Rush City, Minn.—A Boiler Put on the Stove Containing What Was Supposed to be Water, Causing an Explosion and the Serious Burning of One of the Occupants of the House.

Special to the Record-Union.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—A. M.—One of the most disastrous fires that has visited this city for some time started at 1 o'clock this (Saturday) morning in a four-story tenement on Sedgwick street, north side.

Although the blaze lasted but fifty minutes, the loss of life made the trifling damage to property stand out insignificant in comparison. The basement of the building and lower floor were used as a bakery by Kafets. In the rear of his own room the fire started. In the upper story of the building were five families, and the scenes following the discovery of the fire were terrible to behold. Within an incredibly short time, men, women and children in the night gowns were hurrying through the burning building. All egress was cut off in the rear, the hall had gained such headway up the stairs. There was no fire escape, and the flight of stairs in the front of the building being cut off by the smoke and heat. The partition of the smoke was ready charred in places, and his escape was almost a miracle. He and his family got out safely, though he was slightly burned about the face.

It was on the second floor that the fire did the worst work. The rooms were occupied by Otto Hennings and his family, Officer O'Neil broke into the rooms of the shack family, and in a short time Captain O'Connell, with the fire engine, and his assistants, O'Connell helped the Hennings escape. Schalk's rooms were filled with smoke, and water stood on the floor to the depth of several inches. When O'Neil entered he heard a weak cry for help, and as he pushed his way into the main room he stumbled over a body. It was that of Cynthia Schalk, who had picked her up the girl swooned away and was carried down a ladder to the street. She was carried forward and stumbled over an obstruction. It was a pile of human corpses. In one heap were Mr. Schalk, his wife, two sons and one daughter. Whether they were suffocated or drowned will probably always remain a mystery. One or two other people were slightly injured.

CUMBERLAND (WIS.), Sept. 18.—Forest fires are raging in the country immediately south of this city, and a strong wind prevails. Several farms and barns, two wood-yards near the Omaha track and a large amount of other property have been destroyed. The village of Perry is almost wiped out. The loss is estimated at $250,000.

JAMESTOWN (N. D.), Sept. 18.—Fires in Stutman and Eddy Counties have destroyed over 355 acres of grain.

LANESHAW (N. D.), Sept. 18.—A fire started mysteriously in the morning at a farm, six miles north from here, and nearly 30,000 bushels of wheat were destroyed. At the latest reports the fire was still at large.

THE SEAL FISHERIES.

Charges Made That the Modus Vivendi Has Been Violated.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, has officially called the attention of the United States to a violation of the terms of the modus vivendi in effect between the two countries as to the catch of seal in the Behring Sea. By the agreement between the two countries the North American Commercial Company, which leases the Seal Islands from the United States, is restricted to a catch of seals this year to 7,000 skins. It is alleged that the company has exceeded this limit, and the British government has called the United States to account for it.

NEVADA, Sept. 18.—Sheriff Dunster and ex-City Marshal Peagle reached home at 2 o'clock this morning after six hours' hunt for the murderer of Superintendent Galavotti of the Derby mine. From here they went direct to the scene of the killing on the South Yuba grade, six and a half miles above Yuba City, and found the track of a 4 or 9 foot leading from the point on the hill where the shooter stood down to the road. Here they were joined by parties from North Bloomfield, seven and a half miles north of Yuba City, and the information that led them to hasten to that town.

Upon arriving there they were notified that George Clark, a gambler, who has been in the city for some time, had left his home about dark the evening before the killing and had not returned until noon yesterday. Clark was wearing a red coat and a hat with a red band. Clark had a reputation of being a good shot, and it was thought that he had fired the shot which killed Galavotti. Clark was arrested at his home, and was taken to the county jail. He was held for some time, but was released on bail. He is now in the city, and is being held for trial.

Boiler Containing Coal Oil Put on a Heated Stove.

RUSH CITY (Minn.), Sept. 18.—Just before daylight Tuesday morning, at the home of John Bannehan, whose wife died Monday afternoon, Mrs. Potter, a sister of Mrs. Bannehan, put a boiler on the stove, containing what she supposed to be water, but which proved to be kerosene which had been emptied from a leaking can. The oil soon began to boil, and in ten minutes exploded, setting the house on fire in a dozen places. The flames soon enveloped the parlor and set on fire the coffin, the lid of which had not been fastened. John Bannehan, a son, rushed in, and grasping the remains, ran through a sheet of flames. His hands and face were burned to a blister. He will die. Mr. Bannehan, Sr., and Miss Lizzie

POLITICAL.

Congressman Springer Addresses a Large Audience in Iowa.

SPENCER (Ia.), Sept. 18.—The largest Democratic meeting in the history of Northwestern Iowa was held at Spencer this afternoon. It was addressed by Congressman William M. Springer of Illinois. The counties of this region, thirteen in number, composing the Eleventh District, have with two or three exceptions heretofore given the Republican majority. The Republican stronghold of Iowa, Spencer is in the heart of this region, and will be the scene of a Democratic contest of unusual interest. Springer held the earnest attention of his audience for an hour and a half, while he discussed issues of national politics. His speech was chiefly devoted to the tariff question and a criticism of the present Republican Administration.
