

STANFORD UNIVERSITY.

Everything in Readiness for the Opening Exercises To-Day.

REMARKABLE FRESHMAN CLASS FOR THE NEW INSTITUTION.

Fatal Accident at the Pennsylvania Mine, Near Grass Valley--Governor Markham in Attendance at the Fallas Fair--A Wealthy Citizen of Pasadena Meets with a Strange Experience in Los Angeles.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

MENLO PARK, Sept. 30.--The Leland Stanford Jr. University will be opened with appropriate ceremonies at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning. The examinations have been in progress for the past two days, and the place is crowded with parents and friends of the students. There were 475 applicants, about 450 of whom will pass the ordeal and remain. Of these, about 150 are for the upper classes and 300 for the freshmen class. This is a remarkable freshman class for the new institution. In fact, only the greatest universities of the country ever have so large a freshman class, and the leading colleges have only half that number. Among the students are eight young ladies.

Hundreds of people visited the great buildings to-day, and were surprised at their massive proportions and handsome fittings. The dining-room in the ladies' dormitory building is not yet completed, and for the present the ladies will take their meals in the dining-room of the men's dormitory building.

The opening exercises will take place in the great quadrangle, which has been elaborately and elegantly decorated. Troops of people are expected here from San Francisco and elsewhere to-morrow morning.

Governor and Mrs. Stanford are in excellent health, and happy in anticipation of the great event.

WRIT OF ERROR.

The First Issue by the Supreme Court Under the New Constitution. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.--The first writ of error issued by the Supreme Court since the adoption of the Constitution in 1879 was ordered issued this afternoon in the case of F. H. Walker against the Superior Court of San Joaquin County and Judge Budd. It appears that certain creditors of W. W. Stockwell petitioned the San Joaquin County Court in February last to adjudicate him insolvent. Three days after the filing of creditors' petition the debtor fled to the State of California, where he was immediately adjudged insolvent, Stockwell having ten days in which to answer the creditors' petition. He filed his voluntary petition to defeat the order of adjudication on the creditors' petition. Judge Budd refused to adjudicate Stockwell insolvent upon the creditors' petition, and also permitted the secured creditors to vote for an assignee in the amount of their secured claims. Hence the writ of error, which was granted by the Supreme Court, upon the grounds that it has appellate jurisdiction in insolvency, although the errors committed by the county court were not appealable, and that the writ of review will not reach the errors. A decision in this case will be awaited with great interest by the mercantile world of California.

CHUTE CONTEMPT CASE.

JUDGE MURPHY DISCHARGES THE DEFENDANT. He Holds that the Manner in Which the Grand Jury Was Drawn Was Not Regular.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.--Judge Murphy, of the Superior Court, in passing upon the writ of habeas corpus sued out by Richard Chute, discharged the latter from custody. The court recited the facts which led up to Richard Chute being cited for contempt, and stated that the following four questions had been presented to him for determination: 1. Have I, as Judge of this court, the legal right to hear, determine and decide the legality of the action and proceeding taken by the presiding judge of this court in the impeachment of the alleged grand jury? 2. Was the mode and manner pursued by the presiding judge of this court in impeaching and certifying the names of the persons to constitute the Grand Jury legal and proper? 3. Did the facts in this case, had the presiding judge the legal power to appoint an elisor? 4. Can the question here involved be determined under a writ of habeas corpus, and if so, what is the proper order to be made thereunder?

The court devotes many pages of his decision to stating that any person lawfully imprisoned or restrained of his liberty under any pretense whatever may prosecute a writ of habeas corpus to test the cause of such imprisonment or restraint. In discussing the second point the court holds that the manner in which the Grand Jury was drawn was not regular. The third point he dismisses after quoting from various authorities, showing that a grand jury cannot be appointed until after all other means provided for by law had failed. In dealing with the fourth proposition the court holds that the names of the persons to constitute the Grand Jury were drawn in a legal and proper manner. "If I am correct in the three propositions here discussed, and more particularly the last, there can be no doubt or question as to my right and duty to order the discharge of the prisoner."

The decision was very lengthy, and occupied fully an hour in reading. In the concluding sentence Judge Murphy said: "It only remains for me, therefore, to order and adjudge that the prisoner be discharged from the custody and restraint he is now held under by virtue of said commitment for the alleged contempt herein set out, and that his bail be exonerated. And it so ordered."

As soon as Chute was discharged he was served with a subpoena from the Grand Jury commanding him to appear before that body at 3 p. m. on Friday. Barclay Henley, foreman of the Grand Jury, said to-day: "I regard Judge Murphy's decision as a judicial outrage, and as an unlawful attempt to assassinate the judgment of Presiding Judge Wallace. The Grand Jury has not yet met to discuss the matter, but will do so on the decision as if it had not been made."

Other Grand Jurors expressed similar opinions, and said no attention would be paid by the jury to the decision. Attorney-General Hart said: "The Grand Jury is a legal body, and is legally empowered in accordance with the laws of the State. As to Judge Murphy's decision, I cannot express an opinion until I have read it."

On being asked if he would take steps to have the Supreme Court rule on the validity of the Grand Jury's proceedings, the Attorney-General said: "Yes, I have considered such a course, and may act with that end in view at once. The only way to get the matter before the Supreme Court is on a writ of prohibition or review."

A mass meeting has been called, to take place next Friday night at Metropolitan Temple, to protest against Judge Murphy's decision in declaring the Grand Jury an illegal body.

GENERAL BOULANGER

Commits Suicide at the Grave of Mme. Bonnemain.

GRIEF OVER THE LOSS OF HIS MISTRESS THE CAUSE.

One Thousand Armed Men Said to be Marching From Quezaltenango on the City of Guatemala--Passengers on the Steamer Which Left Guatemala on the 16th Inst. Deny That a Revolt Took Place on the 15th.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 30.--General Boulanger has committed suicide. The suicide occurred at the tomb of Mme. de Bonnemain, his mistress, who died here recently. Boulanger committed suicide about noon. He stood alone by the grave of his mistress for some time, when the attendant, who stood near by, suddenly heard a sharp report in that direction. Rushing to the spot, he found General Boulanger lying dead upon the ground with a revolver clenched in his right hand. An examination of the body showed the dead man had placed the weapon to his right ear and fired the shot.

The affair caused great excitement here and some commotion among the General's followers in Paris. The police and the dead man's friends here have taken possession of his lodgings. The General's position, financial and political, has been getting blacker and blacker recently. He had no hopes for the future, and his remaining friends were few and becoming fewer. One of his most intimate friends, General de Lamoignon, who was once a close friend of the General, had recently written to him, advising him to leave the country, and to go to some place where he could live in peace and quiet. The General refused to do so, and he was the more determined to do so because of the fact that he was the subject of a bill of attainder, which would have deprived him of his rank and his pension.

This evening friends admit that recently he frequently openly avowed his desire to commit suicide. He had made attempts to take his own life. In consequence he has been watched as closely as possible by the police. He was a very loyal man, and his friends were very loyal to him. He was a very brave man, and his friends were very brave to him. He was a very generous man, and his friends were very generous to him. He was a very kind man, and his friends were very kind to him.
