

CANT STOP THEM.

The Sacramento Making a Galant Fight for the Pennant.

COMPLETE THE SERIES WITH A LIST OF VICTORIES.

The San Francisco Shut Out on Saturday, and Come Within an Ace of Receiving the Same Dose on Yesterday—San Jose and Oakland Split Even in Yesterday's Games—Standing of the Clubs.

The Sacramento baseball team was not able to claim until yesterday that it had won a straight series of games in this city since the season of 1891 opened.

But now the Senatorial aggregation can shout long and loud, for the first time to drop an entire series to them is the San Francisco combination, or Manager Harris' squad of employees—not only the metropolitan team but the leaders of the League, and by many regarded as the champions.

The Sacramento baseball team was not able to claim until yesterday that it had won a straight series of games in this city since the season of 1891 opened.

The players in the home team, situated as they are as regards the financial status of the management, are deserving of unusual praise for their energetic work.

The game was interesting because it was "gingerily" played, and though the Sacramento maintained the lead throughout, the San Francisco team was not in such a bad position but that it could have jumped to the lead in an inning if Hoffman had permitted them to bunch a few good hits.

The few errors that were made in the game were overshadowed by the many brilliant plays. A noticeable fact is that Sacramento made but four errors in the entire series of games.

Cobb did not pitch his usual strong game, and thirteen hits were pointed out by the opposing batters. Goodenough got three of them, Spies three, McGuirk and McHale two each, and Roberts, Hassam and Hoffman one each.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—A Berlin correspondent of the Herald says: Had it not been for the excellent common sense of Queen Victoria and the sound judgment of the czar, who in a moment of emergency acted in perfect accord, Europe would perhaps this very moment be in the throes of war.

The facts are these: Last summer, when Emperor William was at Osborne, he one evening asked the Queen to accord him a confidential conversation upon a matter of the utmost importance.

The Queen's reply: "As long as I live I firmly hope that peace will be maintained. I am now old, but still feel that my last years shall not be saddened by responsibility flowing in Europe. The terrible one. It would, in my opinion, be criminal for any Sovereign or statesman to attempt to precipitate events. In any case, what you have said caused me the greatest uneasiness."
