

LEADING THE WAY.

How the Young Men's Christian Association Works.

Addresses Delivered and Discussed at Yesterday's Session of the Convention--The Year's Work.

Yesterday's forenoon session of the Young Men's Christian Association Convention was opened with readings from the Bible and comments by Evangelist O. B. Read.

President Giles Kellogg of San Diego gave the first of three fifteen-minute papers, his subject being, "The Financial Incubus--Can It Be Removed?"

In discussing Mr. Kellogg's address, F. B. White of San Francisco referred to the case of a secretary of a certain organization who was almost and conducted the affairs to his own liking, until at last the directors found a floating debt of $12,000 hanging over the concern.

LITERARY ENTERTAINMENTS. Willard D. Ball of Los Angeles read a paper on the subject of "Practicable Entertainment Courses," in which he explained how a course of literary and musical entertainments was maintained in his city successfully.

Among the four Secretaries who reported that their associations had literary courses, Moore Hesketh of Riverside said his came out $95 ahead last session.

Afternoon Session. At the afternoon session the opening Bible reading was given by John Currie, the Scotch evangelist, his subject being "The Way Made Plain."

The report of the Chairman of the State Committee was read by H. J. McCoy. Great attention was given during the year to building up the weaker associations, and not so much to organizing. The result is the work, as a whole, is in much better shape than last year.

During the year H. Hillard has been appointed College Secretary; three Secretaries resigned to leave the work and one to re-enter it at another point. Five general Secretaries have entered the work from the East and are now engaged at various points in California. Other young men have also gone into association work.

In addition, two physical directors have taken charge of gymnasiums at Oakland and Riverside. Four District Conferences, one College Conference and two Secretarial Institutes have been held during the past year.

The debts on the buildings of the Riverside and Woodland associations have been provided for. The Santa Rosa association has disbanded. The current expenses have been provided for, and the outlook for the ensuing year is very encouraging.

A discussion followed on the "Boys' Work," and at its close the session divided, to meet in departments.

Evening Session. A musical service, led by male choir and orchestra, was conducted by J. J. Morris. Professor C. W. Treat of Napa College conducted the devotional exercises. There was a very large attendance.

boys' work, J. McTaggart; committee members, E. S. Gillin; representatives of ladies' work, C. W. James; representatives from unorganized towns, J. C. Taylor.

An invitation to all evangelized pastors to become members of the convention was unanimously given. Reports from the following colleges were then received: University of the Pacific, J. F. Lyman; State University, M. Woodhams; Napa College, C. W. Treat; University of Southern California, A. B. Embree; University of Los Angeles, H. E. Banham; Occidental College, Los Angeles, C. W. James; Pomona College, D. P. Barrows.

A greeting was received from the Wisconsin convention. Robert Weidensall, of the International Committee, followed with a brief account of the inception of the college work. The first was made in Michigan, 1871. The difficulties in early organization were spoken of and how men were won to engage in this work.

Professor T. G. Wood, Professor of Hygiene and Physical Training of the Leland Stanford Jr. University, then delivered an address on "The College Work of the Future." His theme was also described, and closing he urged the California colleges to push on this grand work.

7 P. M.--Mass meeting at Congregational Church and at Sixth-street M. E. Church. To Aid George Nelson. The public is familiar with the circumstances connected with the arrest, conviction and pardon of George Nelson, the man who was accused of having held up and robbed two men named Davis and Cowie on the 3d of July, 1890, near the American River bridge, but was afterwards found to be innocent.

The members of the Federated Trades have interested themselves in the case, and will use all honorable efforts to have the next Legislature suitably reimburse Nelson for the great wrong done him.

Accident to a Switchman. A switchman named Kelly, employed in the front-street yards, was knocked from the top of a freight-car yesterday morning, before daylight, by being struck on the head by a beam of the freight shed.

He was rendered unconscious for some time, but finally came to, and was taken to the Receiving Hospital, where his wounds were dressed. In a short time he went out to work again.

Reclamation About Isleton. The Rio Vista News says that work has begun in Swamp Land District No. 407. A contract has been let, and work is under full way to clean the ditch and its banks of weeds and rubbish that might retard the flow of water to the pump. Levels have been run and stakes set in the lower cross-levee, preparatory to letting contracts to raise the levee to grade. In places it will have to be raised nearly seven feet.

Lost His Reason. A man named Devin called at the Sheriff's office yesterday afternoon and asked that an officer be sent out to Sixteenth street to take charge of his (Devin's) brother, whose mind had become unbalanced. Deputy Johnson went out in a hack after the unfortunate and brought him to the County Jail. He had become insane on the subject of religion, and will be examined by the doctors to-day.

Work of Christian Young Women. H. J. McCoy will speak at the First Congregational Church on Sunday morning on the importance of the work of the Young Women's Christian Association. The young women of Sacramento are earnestly requested to be present.

The Free Kindergarten. The ladies of the Sacramento Free Kindergarten and their friends are now very busy making beautiful articles of fancy work, to be disposed of before the Christmas holidays. The time and place will be given later.

Theological Lecture Sunday evening. Subject, "Theosophy, the Religion of Jesus." See notice.

TEN INNINGS.

But It Was a Dull and Listless Game Throughout.

The Sacramento Got Away With It, as They Should Have Done--Some Local Notes.

The ball game yesterday between the Oakland and Sacramento was a ten-inning contest, and yet it was a decidedly tame affair. It lacked that spirit and dash which an extra-inning battle generally instils in the players, and the entire game was slowly played.

Because the Oakland team is so far behind in the race for the pennant, that is no reason why its players should become careless and act as though they were tired on the diamond. If the public once gets to understand that the Oaklanders are not trying to win games, baseball in Sacramento will receive such a severe blow, by the withdrawal of patronage, that the last contests will have for audiences only reporters and the few whose duty it is to be on hand at every game.

It would probably be unfair to say that the Oaklanders did not attempt to win the game yesterday. The trouble with their playing was this: When they were first on the field they were over-enthusiastic, and that time on there was some real baseball played. The ninth inning was played, and still the score stood 6 to 6. But the tenth inning found Baltz wild and throwing the ball underhand. Hard hits by Spies, Reitz and McGurk, and a very rank error by Carroll, netted the Sacramento three runs, and the game ended in that way.

Hoffman was hit very hard in the first four innings, but after he settled down and did his usual effective work. The playing of the Sacramento in the field was perfect and of a brilliant character.

Spies' work was excellent. He made four hard base hits, and accepted ten chances without letting in an error to mar his record. Reitz, Hassner, McCall and McGurk played the infield positions perfectly, and Goodenough, Roberts and McCloskey played well in the outfield gardens.

For the Oaklanders, Speer, Power, Shea and Carroll batted hard. Sweeney, at third, had a decidedly odd day. His work was very poor. Cantillon got into the game by tossing a ball high to Shea, when he (Cantillon) was only a couple of feet from the base. Cantillon himself should have made the put-out.

O'Neill was as loud as ever on the coaching lines, and he paid a great deal more attention to the audience than he usually does, probably because there were so few in the grand stand. O'Neill does not "cut up" as he did yesterday when he has a large crowd looking on. Following is the score:

GREAT PITCHING. Blauvelt of the San Francisco proved a puzzling Twirler. San Francisco, Oct. 16.--Blauvelt pitched a great game of ball for the San Francisco team to-day, and only two hits were made by the San Jose club. In the third inning G. Sharp let a ground-ball pass and two men scored. Those two runs gave San Francisco the game by a score of two to one. Score:

Baseball Notes. Callen has been released, and Bowman has also left the local team. "Big" had the management good-bye at San Francisco last week. There was a big rupture in the Sacramento team this week. Goodenough was the manager last Tuesday, but finally McCloskey took charge again. It is understood, however, that he does not want to have anything to do with handling the money.

Ward and Hustin were spectators at the game yesterday. Reynolds has left the club and gone to his home. The Sacramento boys expected about $90 a piece as their share of the receipts taken in at the Bay during the last series. They got $18 each.

Borchers will pitch to-day's game for the Oaklanders, and Sommers will probably do the work for the home team.

Standing of the Clubs. The following table shows the standing of the four California League clubs:

Table with 5 columns: CLUBS, GAMES PLAYED, GAMES WON, PERCENTAGE. Oakland, 16, 8, 14, 38, 124, .306. Sacramento, 32, 19, 14, 45, 123, .524. San Francisco, 29, 14, 15, 71, 123, .524. San Jose, 32, 16, 24, 72, 123, .585.

Accident to a Carpenter--Location of the Old Walls. C. Schindler, a carpenter employed in the work of rebuilding Sutter Fort, fell off the roof the other day, and though no bones were broken he was badly shaken up. His injuries will confine him to his bed about a week.

The tiles which are to be used in restoring the fort are expected to arrive from Monterey on Monday. Governor Markham and Controller Colgan visited the fort the other day and were greatly pleased with the character of the work being done. In fact, every one who has visited the grounds since the work was begun has had words of praise for the old outside wall. The commissioners feel greatly encouraged. The visiting librarians who were here last week were most eager to carry away with them a chip of wood or a piece of adobe from the old wall.

In excavating the adobe material, the men employed came upon the foundation of the old outside wall. It was found to be in strict conformity with the lines established in the survey by the commissioners.

HE WAS A HUNTER. The Man Found Drowned in the Mokelumne River. Some days ago mention was made of the finding of the body of a drowned man in the Mokelumne River, near its mouth. The Rio Vista News says the deceased was Thomas Shade, a hunter.

It appears that Shade and his partner, William Raymond, better known as "Buffalo Bill," were coming up the Mokelumne in a hunting-crew. Raymond went to bed about 12 o'clock, telling Shade not to set the snail alone, but if any wind came up to call him. In the morning when Raymond awoke, the crew was caught on the bank, the snail set and Shade was gone.

Judge Hart F. Smith held an inquest over the remains on October 14th, and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. Shade was a native of Denmark, and aged about 30 years. He was buried on Tyler Island, on the bank of the Mokelumne River.

Little Raymond or Shade or his relatives by the people along the Mokelumne. He went there recently from Point Pinole, and it is claimed he has a brother-in-law in San Francisco named Peterson, who is a contractor of street paving.

PASSING OVER. The Threatened Storm Falls to Visit These Parts--Barometer Rising. The Weather Bureau's reports yesterday show the highest and lowest temperatures to have been 77° and 48°, being warmer during the day and slightly cooler at night than for several days past.

The barometrical readings at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. were 30.12 and 30.04 inches, with northerly winds and cloudless skies during the day. The storm that has been in Washington and Oregon for several days, brought rain in this valley as far south as Red Bluff, and much farther south in the mountains, but it has passed eastward, and the barometer is rising. The weather, or nearly so, is clear and cool.

The highest and lowest temperatures one year ago yesterday were 75° and 48°, and one year ago to-day, 78° and 46°.

Appreciative Librarians. At the concluding session of the American Library Association Conference in San Francisco yesterday, resolutions were unanimously adopted thanking the people of Sacramento for their profuse hospitality on the occasion of the reception last Saturday.

The Fifty Chinese. Yesterday five Chinamen were arrested by Sanitary Inspector Starr and Officer Higgins for violating the health ordinance. They had been notified to clean up their premises, but had not obeyed the mandate.

Steam-Plows for Grand Island. Another year will witness a great improvement on Grand Island, for by that time it will probably be all under cultivation. Recently some steam-plows have arrived there for turning up the rich tule-sock.
