

IRELAND'S DEAD LEADER

Services in New York in Memory of Charles S. Parnell.

GLORIOUS TRIBUTE BY CHANCEY M. DEPEW.

The Remains of the Late Don Platt Laid to Rest at West Liberty, O.-- Snow Falling Throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas--One of the Oldest and Supposedly Soldest Banks in Texas Forced to the Wall.

Special to the Record-Utson.

New York, Nov. 15.--Services in memory of the late Charles Stewart Parnell were held to-night in the Academy of Music, Chancery Depew was eulogist. Delegations from the Irish societies of New York were on the platform, and representatives from Philadelphia, Boston, New Haven and Bridgeport paid tribute by their presence. The orator was greeted with earnest applause. Mr. Depew spoke as follows:

"We are here to pay tribute to the memory of a man who lived and performed incalculable services for his country," said Mr. Depew. "In the audience are Irishmen of the empire to see the justice of their views on questions affecting Ireland, who for the evening and occasion lay aside antagonism to plant a flower upon the grave of one of the most eminent of their race. The weakness and errors of great leaders are an inseparable part of the elements which affect their careers while they live, and which are dead the sum of their services to the people is their monument. A career crowded with battles, persecutions, imprisonments, defeats and reverses, concluding in one individually hopes and fears, passions and resentments of a nation for centuries, could not end without leaving behind controversy and dispute and opportunity alone to-night.

"It is our purpose to-night to recognize and gratefully remember the wisdom, patriotism, courage and super-generous spirit with which Charles Stewart Parnell organized and led his countrymen within the grasp of the promised land of self-government. The history of the period does not write chronicles of Germany without Bismarck, of France without Gambetta, Italy without Garibaldi, and of Ireland without Parnell and Garibaldi. The speaker then reverted to Ireland's turbulent history before the beginning of the present century. He traced the time the history of modern Ireland began. "After war and devastation in other European countries there followed peace, recuperation and prosperity. Ireland forms a solitary exception to the beneficent power of peace. Her story is a paradox of nations. When most at rest she has suffered most miseries. The Republic which she has seen recently characterized as 'centuries of wrong.' Forms of self-government without the spirit of liberty work greater wrongs than any other.

"The autocrat can be forced to listen to the cry of his people, but when they are misrepresented, or not represented at all, in the Federal Congress they have no voice. There was no possibility of the Imperial Parliament hearing, knowing or caring for the wrongs or aspirations of Ireland until Parnell's advent. Parnell had neither eloquence nor genius, nor possessed trenchant energy, grasp of his surroundings, or the ability to aim which commend Senators of our day. "In a representative Government composed of different classes of empire, peace and security, and a feeling of nationality will always combine a united force of the whole against the effort of any part to violate the rights of the rest. The right lasts and the lever of nationality is on, they will be blind and deaf to the just demand of a dissatisfied member. The necessity of a strong and united commonwealth is a competent and incorruptible leader, and a united and loyal representation in the Federal Congress. "At the hour of his death Parnell was the darkest and the Irish were despairing of their cause, there appeared upon the field a champion who presented none of the usual attributes of a hero. He heralded his coming; no applause greeted his arrival. His comrades had not noticed his presence, the enemy was not aware of his coming. He was linked to speak, and whenever possible avoided the forum or platform, but he was effectively present. He demanded and principles which had taxed the powers of the greatest orators of a nation justly famed for eloquence. He was cold, unromantic, unimpassioned, unimpassioned, yet became the idol of the most impatient of peoples. If he had ambitious other than his country, they were not apparent. The spirit which motivated him in his career and guided him in his work was the motto, 'God Save Ireland.' "Mr. Depew followed Parnell through his work at its inception, when with only three who dared follow he attacked six hundred and odd, entrenched in forms, usages and traditions. He demanded that measure shall pass until the demands of Ireland are granted, was his battle cry. The undisciplined and unruffled leader stood with his back to the Commons, and public business, demanding justice for Ireland. He baffled statesmen who had led the House of Commons for generations by showing the Commons were could neither stop, nor suspend, nor expel, for he was acting strictly within their own rules, and fighting with weapons from their own armory. "The perfection of the Land League by Parnell and Davitt was next outlined. "When the House of Commons sat at the head of eighty-three out of 100 representatives from Ireland, he held in one hand party power and in the other the homes and fortunes of his people. He returned in triumph. The Commons were bewildered. The calm and confident leader, who defied them with three followers, now faced them with a large number of Irish members behind him. From that hour the Irish question became the foremost factor in British politics, and Parnell the most powerful member of the Commons. "Parnell's confinement at Kilmainham jail, his release upon his terms, and his triumphant return to Ireland were recalled, and his defeat of the Gladstone Ministry was reviewed. "The conversion of Gladstone to home rule for Ireland," said Mr. Depew, "is the most momentous event in English politics of our great generation. He went to defeat and out of power on the issue, and has steadily kept it as a test of faith. "Near the close Depew said: "Ireland no longer fights with one arm tied and others held back by false friends. Ireland freed both hands, Ireland no longer struggles alone--her cause is the stake of one of the greatest parties of England, and made so by Parnell."

The closing of the oration was in these terms: "It was Parnell's task and fame that he brought together 4,000,000 of his countrymen to witness the funeral of a man brought by bitter feuds among themselves, and then converted 30,000,000 of an alien race and faith in the confederate states of the empire to see the justice of his course, and join in demanding of the Imperial Parliament that Ireland should be granted for her domestic affairs self-government and home rule. As the orator of the morning sun for coming ages penetrate the shades of the cemetery of Glasnevin and glance from the tomb of O'Connell, the liberator, to the monument of Parnell, the deliverer, may they illumine the homes of a contented, happy and prosperous people."

Letters were read from Henry Waterston and others were read.

FORCED TO THE WALL.

One of the Oldest Banks in Texas Suspends Payment.

New Orleans, Nov. 15.--A Times-Democrat's Tyler (Tex.), special says: The banking-house of Hines & Bonner has been forced to the wall. It had a successful career of twenty years, and a reputation as one of the solidest and soundest banks in the State. The news of the failure spread like wild-fire, and was the topic of conversation. It has been known by those familiar with its affairs that the bank was in a bad way, but it was thought that it would be able to pull through. Yesterday its paper went to street in New Orleans, and Receiver Campbell of the International and Northern Railway, ran an attachment against it for $385,218, being the amount owing to the receivership on deposit. There had been debts of trust connected by the bank as guarantor for the railroad's deposits. Receiver Campbell, thinking its deposits still insufficiently secured, had an attachment above referred to. The failure is, in fact, an assignment for the benefit of certain preferred creditors, and the depositors generally. It is thought that the loss to outside banks will be small, as most have withdrawn their balances or were secured. The individual and business deposit accounts were heavy, and the loss will be severely felt, many men losing the savings of years. The failure will occasion no panic among the gravest of the most eminent of their race. The weakness and errors of great leaders are an inseparable part of the elements which affect their careers while they live, and which are dead the sum of their services to the people is their monument. A career crowded with battles, persecutions, imprisonments, defeats and reverses, concluding in one individually hopes and fears, passions and resentments of a nation for centuries, could not end without leaving behind controversy and dispute and opportunity alone to-night.

Special to the Record-Utson.

New York, Nov. 15.--Services in memory of the late Charles Stewart Parnell were held to-night in the Academy of Music, Chancery Depew was eulogist. Delegations from the Irish societies of New York were on the platform, and representatives from Philadelphia, Boston, New Haven and Bridgeport paid tribute by their presence. The orator was greeted with earnest applause. Mr. Depew spoke as follows:

"We are here to pay tribute to the memory of a man who lived and performed incalculable services for his country," said Mr. Depew. "In the audience are Irishmen of the empire to see the justice of their views on questions affecting Ireland, who for the evening and occasion lay aside antagonism to plant a flower upon the grave of one of the most eminent of their race. The weakness and errors of great leaders are an inseparable part of the elements which affect their careers while they live, and which are dead the sum of their services to the people is their monument. A career crowded with battles, persecutions, imprisonments, defeats and reverses, concluding in one individually hopes and fears, passions and resentments of a nation for centuries, could not end without leaving behind controversy and dispute and opportunity alone to-night.

"It is our purpose to-night to recognize and gratefully remember the wisdom, patriotism, courage and super-generous spirit with which Charles Stewart Parnell organized and led his countrymen within the grasp of the promised land of self-government. The history of the period does not write chronicles of Germany without Bismarck, of France without Gambetta, Italy without Garibaldi, and of Ireland without Parnell and Garibaldi. The speaker then reverted to Ireland's turbulent history before the beginning of the present century. He traced the time the history of modern Ireland began. "After war and devastation in other European countries there followed peace, recuperation and prosperity. Ireland forms a solitary exception to the beneficent power of peace. Her story is a paradox of nations. When most at rest she has suffered most miseries. The Republic which she has seen recently characterized as 'centuries of wrong.' Forms of self-government without the spirit of liberty work greater wrongs than any other.

The autocrat can be forced to listen to the cry of his people, but when they are misrepresented, or not represented at all, in the Federal Congress they have no voice. There was no possibility of the Imperial Parliament hearing, knowing or caring for the wrongs or aspirations of Ireland until Parnell's advent. Parnell had neither eloquence nor genius, nor possessed trenchant energy, grasp of his surroundings, or the ability to aim which commend Senators of our day. "In a representative Government composed of different classes of empire, peace and security, and a feeling of nationality will always combine a united force of the whole against the effort of any part to violate the rights of the rest. The right lasts and the lever of nationality is on, they will be blind and deaf to the just demand of a dissatisfied member. The necessity of a strong and united commonwealth is a competent and incorruptible leader, and a united and loyal representation in the Federal Congress. "At the hour of his death Parnell was the darkest and the Irish were despairing of their cause, there appeared upon the field a champion who presented none of the usual attributes of a hero. He heralded his coming; no applause greeted his arrival. His comrades had not noticed his presence, the enemy was not aware of his coming. He was linked to speak, and whenever possible avoided the forum or platform, but he was effectively present. He demanded and principles which had taxed the powers of the greatest orators of a nation justly famed for eloquence. He was cold, unromantic, unimpassioned, unimpassioned, yet became the idol of the most impatient of peoples. If he had ambitious other than his country, they were not apparent. The spirit which motivated him in his career and guided him in his work was the motto, 'God Save Ireland.' "Mr. Depew followed Parnell through his work at its inception, when with only three who dared follow he attacked six hundred and odd, entrenched in forms, usages and traditions. He demanded that measure shall pass until the demands of Ireland are granted, was his battle cry. The undisciplined and unruffled leader stood with his back to the Commons, and public business, demanding justice for Ireland. He baffled statesmen who had led the House of Commons for generations by showing the Commons were could neither stop, nor suspend, nor expel, for he was acting strictly within their own rules, and fighting with weapons from their own armory. "The perfection of the Land League by Parnell and Davitt was next outlined. "When the House of Commons sat at the head of eighty-three out of 100 representatives from Ireland, he held in one hand party power and in the other the homes and fortunes of his people. He returned in triumph. The Commons were bewildered. The calm and confident leader, who defied them with three followers, now faced them with a large number of Irish members behind him. From that hour the Irish question became the foremost factor in British politics, and Parnell the most powerful member of the Commons. "Parnell's confinement at Kilmainham jail, his release upon his terms, and his triumphant return to Ireland were recalled, and his defeat of the Gladstone Ministry was reviewed. "The conversion of Gladstone to home rule for Ireland," said Mr. Depew, "is the most momentous event in English politics of our great generation. He went to defeat and out of power on the issue, and has steadily kept it as a test of faith. "Near the close Depew said: "Ireland no longer fights with one arm tied and others held back by false friends. Ireland freed both hands, Ireland no longer struggles alone--her cause is the stake of one of the greatest parties of England, and made so by Parnell."

Special to the Record-Utson.

New York, Nov. 15.--Services in memory of the late Charles Stewart Parnell were held to-night in the Academy of Music, Chancery Depew was eulogist. Delegations from the Irish societies of New York were on the platform, and representatives from Philadelphia, Boston, New Haven and Bridgeport paid tribute by their presence. The orator was greeted with earnest applause. Mr. Depew spoke as follows:

"We are here to pay tribute to the memory of a man who lived and performed incalculable services for his country," said Mr. Depew. "In the audience are Irishmen of the empire to see the justice of their views on questions affecting Ireland, who for the evening and occasion lay aside antagonism to plant a flower upon the grave of one of the most eminent of their race. The weakness and errors of great leaders are an inseparable part of the elements which affect their careers while they live, and which are dead the sum of their services to the people is their monument. A career crowded with battles, persecutions, imprisonments, defeats and reverses, concluding in one individually hopes and fears, passions and resentments of a nation for centuries, could not end without leaving behind controversy and dispute and opportunity alone to-night.

Special to the Record-Utson.

New York, Nov. 15.--Services in memory of the late Charles Stewart Parnell were held to-night in the Academy of Music, Chancery Depew was eulogist. Delegations from the Irish societies of New York were on the platform, and representatives from Philadelphia, Boston, New Haven and Bridgeport paid tribute by their presence. The orator was greeted with earnest applause. Mr. Depew spoke as follows:

"We are here to pay tribute to the memory of a man who lived and performed incalculable services for his country," said Mr. Depew. "In the audience are Irishmen of the empire to see the justice of their views on questions affecting Ireland, who for the evening and occasion lay aside antagonism to plant a flower upon the grave of one of the most eminent of their race. The weakness and errors of great leaders are an inseparable part of the elements which affect their careers while they live, and which are dead the sum of their services to the people is their monument. A career crowded with battles, persecutions, imprisonments, defeats and reverses, concluding in one individually hopes and fears, passions and resentments of a nation for centuries, could not end without leaving behind controversy and dispute and opportunity alone to-night.

Special to the Record-Utson.

New York, Nov. 15.--Services in memory of the late Charles Stewart Parnell were held to-night in the Academy of Music, Chancery Depew was eulogist. Delegations from the Irish societies of New York were on the platform, and representatives from Philadelphia, Boston, New Haven and Bridgeport paid tribute by their presence. The orator was greeted with earnest applause. Mr. Depew spoke as follows:

"We are here to pay tribute to the memory of a man who lived and performed incalculable services for his country," said Mr. Depew. "In the audience are Irishmen of the empire to see the justice of their views on questions affecting Ireland, who for the evening and occasion lay aside antagonism to plant a flower upon the grave of one of the most eminent of their race. The weakness and errors of great leaders are an inseparable part of the elements which affect their careers while they live, and which are dead the sum of their services to the people is their monument. A career crowded with battles, persecutions, imprisonments, defeats and reverses, concluding in one individually hopes and fears, passions and resentments of a nation for centuries, could not end without leaving behind controversy and dispute and opportunity alone to-night.

Special to the Record-Utson.

New York, Nov. 15.--Services in memory of the late Charles Stewart Parnell were held to-night in the Academy of Music, Chancery Depew was eulogist. Delegations from the Irish societies of New York were on the platform, and representatives from Philadelphia, Boston, New Haven and Bridgeport paid tribute by their presence. The orator was greeted with earnest applause. Mr. Depew spoke as follows:

"We are here to pay tribute to the memory of a man who lived and performed incalculable services for his country," said Mr. Depew. "In the audience are Irishmen of the empire to see the justice of their views on questions affecting Ireland, who for the evening and occasion lay aside antagonism to plant a flower upon the grave of one of the most eminent of their race. The weakness and errors of great leaders are an inseparable part of the elements which affect their careers while they live, and which are dead the sum of their services to the people is their monument. A career crowded with battles, persecutions, imprisonments, defeats and reverses, concluding in one individually hopes and fears, passions and resentments of a nation for centuries, could not end without leaving behind controversy and dispute and opportunity alone to-night.

PIERCE FLAMES.

Quarter of a Million-Dollar Fire at Cleveland, Ohio.

ONE FIREMAN KILLED AND TWO BADLY INJURED.

Officials Frustrate an Attempt of the Daltons to Rob a Train on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Road--Excited Gatherings at Chicago Condemn in Unmeasured Terms the Recent Raid by the Police on the Anarchist Meetings.

Special to the Record-Utson.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 15.--One of the most threatening fires Cleveland has had broke out at 8 o'clock this evening, and before extinguished at midnight it destroyed $200,000 worth of property, and resulted in the death of one fireman and the serious injury of two others. The fire started in the big job printing establishment of Short & Forman, fronting on Superior street and extending a block through to Frankfort street. The building is in the heart of the town-business and banking center, and surrounded by high brick blocks. The fire burned fiercely, and spread rapidly to four buildings adjoining, and all were soon enveloped in the flames. The Johnson House, a five-story brick building fronting on Superior street, was next in the path of the fire, and the flames played over and around its roof. The guests made a hasty exit, and it seemed almost certain that the hotel would be destroyed, together with the Weddell House, which adjoins it on the east. A general call for steamers was made, and then engines were sent to work. One of the first steamers to arrive was No. 1, and Captain John Grady and firemen Michael Hawley and John Ward, of the same company, carried a line into the burning building. An instant later one of the floors fell, crushing Captain Grady to death and seriously injuring Hawley and Ward. Grady's body was recovered, and the other two sent to the hospital, where they are reported in a critical condition. After hours of hard work, the firemen gained a mastery over the fire, saved the two hotels, and the flames to the Frankfort-street buildings. The total loss will aggregate $125,000, insurance, about $175,000. The wires of the Postal Telegraph Company were burned out.

CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

The Police Force Condemned for Friday Night's Raid. CHICAGO, Nov. 15.--"Red" was the subject discussed by a vehement, excited gathering of socialists at Waverly Hall this afternoon. The discussion contained nothing but scathing denunciations of the Chicago police force in general, and Inspectors Hubbard and Lewis particularly. The red in the American flag was discussed, and declared the token of universal brotherhood. As a cherished color of anarchists, it was praised in the extreme, and the recent outbreak of the police in Chicago was characterized as a burlesque upon justice. Resolutions ridiculing the Mayor and Chief of Police were introduced by one Mrs. W. C. Williams, and carried by an audience by asserting that the only difference between Russia and the United States is that in the former the Czar, while here Inspector Bonfield attended to the duties of executioner.

At a turbulent Trades and Labor assembly Mayor Washburne, Chief McClaughrin, Inspector Lewis and the Chicago police were condemned in unmeasured terms. Several speakers declared that the raid made by the police was the first move by those in power against organized labor to destroy and break it up.

A petition was introduced to be presented to the City Council to-morrow night, asking that the police be forbidden the intrusion of the police made for the purpose of breaking up meetings.

The Citizens' Alliance passed resolutions demanding that the Mayor investigate the raid, and report to the Council.

LONDON, Nov. 15.--The Times, in an article commenting on the activities of the Chicago police, ventures the prediction that the anarchist, commits murder there within the next few months he will be hanged with much greater dispatch than was used about his predecessors five years ago.

ROBBERS FOILED.

Officials Frustrate an Attempt to Hold Up a Train.

ST. LOUIS (Mo.), Nov. 15.--An attempt to rob the Missouri, Kansas and Texas south-bound train at South Canadian, 1.7 miles west of St. Louis, was frustrated by officials last night. A telegram was received from the Missouri, Kansas and Texas officials that the Daltons were seen in that vicinity. An extra was run ahead of the regular train, and guards placed in the postal and express cars. It is believed that one or two of the gang got on the train at Muskogee and signaled the robbers not to attempt the robbery as the train was guarded. Officials have been put on the trail of the robbers.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

Report of the Commissioner for the Fiscal Year Just Passed.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.--The annual report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue has just been submitted. The total receipts of the last fiscal year from all sources were $148,035,416; increase over the previous year, $3,440,719. The cost of collection was 2.88 per cent. Reports during the year of 608 stills destroyed and 97 removed. There were 1,288 and seventy-five persons were arrested. Aggregate amount of taxes collected on account of tobacco, $2,798,270, a decrease of $1,162,720, due to the reduction of tax on snuff, chewing and smoking tobacco and the repeal of the special tobacco taxes. The tax on cigars and cigarettes has increased $1,856,000 over last year. The increase of taxed tobacco and snuff over the previous year was 14,640,884 pounds; increase of cigars, 357,062,784; increase of cigarettes, 451,284,088. The Commissioner says in order to make the tariff law effective several amendments are required, among them the one following: "The forfeiting of illicit factories, as well as the duly authorized factories, where there is a serious violation of law."

The quantity of spirits produced and deposited in distillery warehouses during the year was 115,923,389 gallons, an increase of 113,000 gallons. The quantity of spirits in distillery warehouses on June 30, 1891, was the largest quantity so held at the close of any fiscal year, it being 113,000 gallons.

The Commissioner announces his purpose of substituting weighing for gaug-

INDIAN OUTBREAK FEARED.

Rumors That the Pine Ridge Indians Will Renew the Ghost Dance.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.--Acting Indian Commissioner Bell has received advice from Special Agent McKoon, of Pierre, S. D., confirming the published reports regarding Bear Eagle's band abandoning their camp and going to Pine Ridge. He says he understands that the brinks are all armed. What this outbreak means is not known. A Pine Ridge agent thought it was because he demanded their children to go to school. McKoon doubts if the Indian police will bring them back to their homes. Some reports are that the Cheyenne River, that the Pine Ridge Indians are preparing to renew the ghost dance, but nothing reliable as to that could be learned.

Women's Christian Temperance Union.

BOSTON, Nov. 15.--Most of the pulpits of this city and suburbs were occupied to-day by visiting W. C. T. U. delegates. At the First Church, Rev. Henry Somers delivered the annual sermon. This evening there was a young people's meeting, at which addresses were made by various people.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 15.--Oscar Twitchell, a Philadelphia merchant, asserts that his 17-year-old nephew, Oscar Preston, who is a well-known actor, has been in a satchel containing valuable property, including diamonds. Foul play is suspected.

DEATH OF A PORK PACKER.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 15.--Joseph Rawson, a well-known pork packer, died to-day, aged 82 years.

MADERA BANK SCANDAL.

MADERA, Nov. 15.--As the examination of the books of the Madera Bank and the John Brown Colony proceed, the number of forgeries increase, and this afternoon discoveries were made that will enable the officers to compel Baird to return to Madera to face those who swindled. A complaint has just been sworn out against George Yost, Cashier of the Bank of Madera, charging Baird with having on July 27th last forged the names of J. A. Jacobs and Sarah Young to a $200 note for $200 payable on sight to the Bank of Madera. A second complaint, sworn to by Tomblin, is that on June 13th of this year Baird forged the name of George Yost, Cashier of the Bank of Madera, charging Baird with having on July 27th last forged the names of J. A. Jacobs and Sarah Young to a $200 note for $200 payable on sight to the Bank of Madera. A second complaint, sworn to by Tomblin, is that on June 13th of this year Baird forged the name of George Yost, Cashier of the Bank of Madera, charging Baird with having on July 27th last forged the names of J. A. Jacobs and Sarah Young to a $200 note for $200 payable on sight to the Bank of Madera.

Another complaint is forging Return receipts, made on the 10th to certify for 200 shares of the bank stock, which were sold to R. H. McDonald, Jr., and last for forging the names of Yee Ching and Yee Ching, of the same town a few miles south of here, and A. Anderson to a note for $72. This was dated July 23rd. The fact of unusual interest is that the date of the note is the date of the note. So far as known the names connected with the other forgeries are mythical. Baird's wife is Mrs. Yost.

John Brown, founder of the colony, passed through Madera on his way to San Francisco in answer to a telegram from the Pacific Bank.

OPUM FACTORY.

Evidence That One Has Been In Full Blast at Marysville.

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 15.--Friday night Revenue Inspectors Thomas and Nelson of San Francisco, and Thayer of this district, after considerable searching and much effort, made an entrance through an old and deserted Chinese theater building to an adjoining house and there discovered four very large opium ovens and every evidence of recent preparation for the packing of cooked bricks. Over 1,000 lbs. of opium were discovered on the floors. These had been put in position and were ready to receive the prepared substance. When the opium was taken out, it was found to be the sign of a Chinaman, nor could any dope be located. The building is evidently constructed to avoid an investigation by the police. The opium was for cooking the contraband article. The furnace showed recent use and strainers had also been used. From the strainers it was ascertained that the Deputy Thayer gave it as his opinion that not less than $20,000 worth of the drug had been put up in the place very recently. It was found that the opium was in two stores. These were confiscated, but no arrests were made.

A Murderer at Large.

WOODLAND, Nov. 15.--William Wohlford, the slayer of Mat Faigle, broke jail yesterday morning by saving the bolts that secured the rear door to the corridor of the jail. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bemmerly, Wohlford seems to doubt the propriety of standing trial. Officers have been searching for the escapee all day. Wohlford was with Dan Beumery at the time of the killing of Faigle, and was sentenced to seven years at Folsom, but has been granted a pardon. Wohlford is a convict of Bem