

STATE BOARD OF TRADE.

Manager Maslin Corrects a Mistake Concerning It. E. W. Maslin, Manager of the State Board of Trade, publishes the following statement in a San Francisco paper:

"There is a misconception of the attitude of the State Board of Trade upon the resolution to endorse the Traffic Association. The State Board did not refuse to pass the resolution. The facts are these: Mr. Beach, before the board was called to order, showed me the resolution and asked me what I thought of it. I replied that it seems indefinite in expression. With that before me, I took my seat. Nearly at the close of the session I observed the resolution and read it. There was a pause, as every one was waiting, I suppose, as I was, for Mr. Beach to make his objection, but Mr. Beach was in the room, having been called out. Finally Mr. Mills, next to whom Mr. Beach had been sitting, rose and said to Mr. Beach, desiring that proper respect might be paid to the resolution, and to have the object better expressed, if possible, in the resolution. Mr. Beach then rose and said that he had no objection to the resolution. The resolution was then referred to a committee. There was no opposition, expressed or implied, by Mr. Mills, or any other member, to the resolution. The State Board of Trade is now engaged in a work that will redound to the supreme good of the State. It is seeking to create a market in Europe for our dried fruits. It is on the side of the tiller of the soil. With him all industries rise and fall. The fruit crop throughout the State is not so profitable this year as heretofore, and therefore trade languages in the State. It has been hinted to me before that some merchants did not favor our project, and in such narrow-mindedness may be sought the motive for the falsehood that the board is opposed to the Traffic Association. Just now, while we are opening a path for the merchant, to the farmer and the farmer's profit, it would be suicidal for the merchants of San Francisco to set out support from the State Board. Rather, indeed, should they increase their supervision."

PELICAN CLUB.

An Enjoyable Party at Turner Hall Last Evening. The Pelican Club gave a dance last evening, at Turner Hall, and it was one of the most enjoyable parties of the season. Turner Hall looked prettier than it has for many a day, thanks to the art of a decorator. The decorations were of Japanese style. Huge fans ornamented the side walls between the windows, and streamers hung with scores of lanterns were draped from the center of the ceiling to each of the four corners of the hall. An immense Japanese umbrella made an appropriate centerpiece. A dozen or more bamboo fishing-poles, each hung with tiny lanterns, were placed about the hall, and beside these there were large fire screens and mirrors and potted plants of numerous kinds. The arrangement of the decorations was very neat.

There were a large number of dancers in attendance, and almost as many spectators, and everything seemed to enjoy the evening greatly. An excellent orchestra furnished the music, and light refreshments were served.

The following committees did much to promote the success: Arrangements—Charles Herzog, David A. Horn, George Hill and William Pritchard. Reception—Silas Hess, M. Ginsberg and W. A. Washburn. Floor Director—D. J. Broich. Floor Managers—Max Ginsberg, H. Alexander, Lee Gorman, J. F. Doherty, William Malone, Charles Hogan, Thos. Toole and J. L. Sullivan.

EATEN BY WOLVES.

Horrible Fate of Three Children in Minnesota. St. Paul (Minn.), Nov. 19.—Wolves killed three children of Andrew Gulick yesterday afternoon at the iron rolling mills near New Brighton, ten miles north of St. Paul. During the great fires in Pine County in September great droves of wolves were driven southward into Ramsey and Anoka Counties, and they have been subsisting on sheep in the neighborhood of the Twin City Stockyards at New Brighton. A drove of 125 wolves was seen in that vicinity on Monday afternoon.

The Gulick children wandered away from home into the woods at noon to-day and were attacked and devoured by the wild beasts. Their bodies were found before help could reach them; they had been killed and partially eaten. Twenty-five men were sent out after the wolves, surrounded them in a swamp and killed eleven of them, the others escaping northward.

Three hundred men will attempt to surround and exterminate them at their nesting-place on the Anoka County line Sunday morning. A reward is offered by the State for every wolf scalp taken, and $50 will be paid the man who kills the largest number of the beasts.

THE SHENANDOAH WINS.

She Outruns Her Competitors in a Long Ocean Voyage. NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Maine ship-building men scored a victory in the triumph of the ship Shenandoah, which has just completed the race from San Francisco to Havre, France, at which port a cablegram announces she arrived to-day.

On August 1st four sailing vessels left San Francisco for Europe, and it was understood at the time there would be a lively race. Shipping men were greatly interested in the race, and members of the Maritime Exchange in this city today were discussing the race and were jubilant over the victory of the Shenandoah, the British ship Strathairn, the S. B. Carleton of Newport, Me., and the British ship Balkonah. The M. P. Grace left at the same time for New York. The destination of the four races was Havre, France, which is the regular port of call for the vessels in the race. None of the other vessels in the race have yet arrived. The Shenandoah carried 3,500 tons of wheat, the largest cargo ever carried in a vessel.

GRAIN BLOCKADE.

Railroads Unable to Move the Grain in North Dakota. HURON (S. D.), Nov. 19.—The South Dakota Railway State Commissioners have been in session here trying to devise some means for relieving the grain blockade which now exists. So far they have been unsuccessful, and frankly declare they cannot see any way out of the difficulty. They say the railroads are doing all in their power to relieve the situation, but the farmers are rushing the wheat in such quantities for shipment that it is simply impossible to find storage for it. The receipts thus far at St. Paul, Duluth and Minneapolis are far in excess of the entire shipments for last year, and the movement of the crop has only just begun. It is estimated that it will exceed the supply by from 1,500 to 1,600.

INDIANA MINE TROUBLES.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 19.—A special from Terre Haute, Ind., to the Sentinel says that a strike at the Alum Cave coal mines, where a riot occurred Tuesday, and one Polish non-union miner was shot, was feverish to-day, but the latest telegrams contained no reference to further trouble. The Poles were put to work this morning and were untroubled, although the feeling is intense against them. The Poles are much respected in the district, and the non-union countrymen and everyone of them is armed. Serious trouble is feared.

BOTH ARE DEAD.

RHINECLAND (Wis.), Nov. 19.—William Houston and William Brown would not be found last night by emptying a pint-bottle of whisky into a tin containing twenty grains of morphine in addition to the liquor. Both are dead. Mrs. Houston says she is a morphine user. She dissolved twenty grains in the whisky and the receipts thus far at St. Paul, Duluth and Minneapolis are far in excess of the entire shipments for last year, and the movement of the crop has only just begun. It is estimated that it will exceed the supply by from 1,500 to 1,600.

DEEP WATER IMPROVEMENT.

DENVER, Nov. 19.—The Interstate Deep Harbor Commission met to-day with thirty delegates from various States. President Evans outlined a plan for obtaining from Congress the entire appropriation necessary to complete the transportation improvements, it being estimated that if the appropriation is obtained the work will be completed in a year or eighteen months. A resolution was adopted in accordance with Evans' plan.

He says: "The total cases number 83; deaths, 13; convalescent, 90. The population of the infected district is between 6,000 and 6,500."

ABSOLUTELY PURE

SMUGGLING.

Annual Report of Special Agent Tingle on the Subject. WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Supervising Special Agent Tingle of the Treasury Department, in his annual report, shows that during the past fiscal year special agents seized goods to the value of $143,236, and recovered $225,660 on account of seizures, fines, etc.

He gives several instances of fraudulent importations, and refers to the difficulties under which the agents worked, especially in guarding against smuggling from Canada. The number of officers for preventive duty on that long frontier does not exceed twenty, and their efforts are necessarily to a large extent futile. A similar condition exists on the boundary of Mexico. The Puget Sound district furnishes splendid facilities for smuggling, both of dutiable goods and Chinese into this country.

Tingle says he is reliably informed that during the past year 125,000 pounds of crude opium were smuggled into the United States, making about 70,000 pounds of the prepared article for smoking purposes, and nearly every pound of the latter was smuggled into the United States. The enormous profits in opium smuggling are due entirely to the high duty in this country, and have induced the employment of large capital and a great number of bold, skillful men to engage in the illicit trade, made so alluring by the Chinese, he says, the exclusion laws are practically nullified by the clandestine introduction of them through Canada. When a Chinaman enters Canada he pays a head tax of $50. He gets a certificate which enables him to return to Canada without further payment, should he be detected in trying to enter without the certificate. In several cases have given the construction that Canada and not China was the country where these Chinamen came. Within the month of the past year this is the number of Chinamen caught and returned to Canada immediately repeat their attempt to steal into the United States. Reported instances of this kind occurred, and in this manner the object of the Restriction Act is practically defeated.

Tingle urges the revision of the customs districts and laws with a view to the abolition or consolidation of districts in which little or no business is done. He says that the present laws are needed, and new and comprehensive legislation upon the needs of the Northwest and Mexican frontiers is urgently demanded.

NAUTICAL GIRLS AS STRIKERS.

High Kickers of the East Refuse to Kick When Most Needed. At some of the great Hindoo temples in India it is the custom, handed down from immemorial ages, to keep a permanent staff of dancing girls on the premises, says the London Globe. These light-hearted dancers are a prominent part in the religious ceremonies, jiggling it gayly when directed by the priests. In return they receive handsome wages, and are entitled to the same privileges, and the place is consequently eagerly sought for by the nautching sisters. But they do not always do as they please, and in the case of a certain girl, the young ladies brook no priestly interference with their private recreations; so long as they dance gracefully when called upon, they are left in peace. The contract is fulfilled. Unhappily the demon of discord has entered into this happy family. In an evil hour the priests of the temple, as a result of a presidency lately determined to reduce the emoluments of their dancing assistants, which had gradually grown beyond reasonable bounds, they were accordingly reckoned what would follow; within twenty-four hours every one of the fair beauty went on a strike, and as a particular grievance was the fact that one of the strikers, to which dancing was a necessary accessory, the holy men themselves had to practice about, much to the edification of the priests, who were given what they desired, in the course of a day or two the retrenchment decree was rescinded, and the victory won by the fair beauties. The times are certainly marching in pace when the spirit of trade unionism thus catches hold of the Indian nautch girl. No doubt it is some time before long that is cultivating the methods required to make picketing effective.

TO SERVE WITH TURKEY.

There are some things that are understood by the rooster, and he is accordingly the rooster turkey, among them being glibet sauce, cranberry sauce, celery, and certain kinds of vegetables, says Maria Parloa in her department in the Ladies' Home Journal.

For a change one might have mushroom or chestnut sauce and current jelly. The celery might be replaced by green peas, three inches long and then be cut into narrow strips, placed in iced water for twenty-four hours, and then served on a bed of ice. Here are some recipes for vegetables appropriate to serve with roast turkey or chicken:

Potato balls or cubes, with parsley butter, escalloped potatoes, spaghetti with Bolognese sauce.

Plain boiled potatoes, escalloped sweet potatoes, mashed turnips, French peas.

Casserole of potatoes, creamed onions, Lettuce, with tomato sauce.

Stewed celery with cream or Bechamel sauce, mashed potatoes, squash.

Escalloped cauliflower, potato timbale, vegetable terrine, and green peas.

Plain boiled potatoes, squash, cauliflower with white sauce.

Boiled potatoes, boiled onions in cream sauce, glazed sweet potatoes.

Macedoine of vegetables, potato croquettes, macaroni with brown sauce.

Old People.

J. V. S. is the only Sarsaparilla that old or feeble people can take, and which is in every other Sarsaparilla that is made, is under certain conditions known to be emaciating. J. V. S. on the contrary is purely vegetable and stimulates digestion and creates new blood, the very thing for old, delicate or broken down people. It builds them up and prolongs their lives. A case in point:

Mrs. Belden an estimable and elderly lady of 80 years of age, was for months declining so rapidly as to be unable to see her family. It got so bad that she was finally afflicted with fainting spells. She writes: "While in this dangerous condition I saw some of the testimonials concerning J. V. S. and sent for a bottle. That marked the turning point. I regained my flesh and strength and have not felt so well in years. That was two years ago and Mrs. Belden is well and hearty to-day, and still taking J. V. S."
