The Kind That Flourish on the Soil of Oregon.

A Portland Clergyman Who Went Shooting on Sunday, and Treated on Private Grounds.

The "high tea" had struck our city. All the four hundred seem to be seized with the same idea and at the same time.

Next to her sat the delicate young lady who, according to her own statement, does nothing from morning till night but read novels and eat candy.

Another young lady was stage-struck. She longed to be a Cleopatra or Lady Macbeth. At intervals, and where it could be done without being noticed,

The Grand Army of the Republic has just closed an Author's Carnival, given for sweet charity's sake. It was a success in every way, in spite of the inclemency of the weather.

A certain minister of the gospel was lately arrested for poaching. He was shooting ducks on Sunday, and it turned out he was on forbidden ground.

The restaurant fiend is again to the front, displaying in his window the tempting winter strawberry.

OF HUMBLE ORIGIN.

Men Born of Poor Parents Who Have Become Famous.

Luther was of "humble origin." Latimer's father was an honest yeoman. The crusty John Knox was the son of "obscure parents," while Calvin was the son of a cooper.

Science has a long list of great names named after their fathers. The learned and vintner, Prior was supposed to be the son of a joiner.

There is quite a difference between the English and American speech, though we are not aware of it to any extent until our attention is called to it.

There are hundreds of other words which at first are confusing. In money we have the sovereign, which is also a quill, and in Yorkshire sometimes called a "dick."

Anthropologists all over the world are said to be aroused by the proposition of Professor Pittman of Harvard to gather at the World's Fair in Chicago living representatives of every race of aborigines.

Capay Valley Lands.

A CAPAY COLONY.

Robert A. and Neal D. Barker associated themselves with William McKay, all of Oakland, with a view of securing on a suitable location in what is regarded as the most profitable occupation of fruit-growing.

IN THE SPRING OF LAST YEAR Robert A. and Neal D. Barker associated themselves with William McKay, all of Oakland, with a view of securing on a suitable location in what is regarded as the most profitable occupation of fruit-growing.

Negotiations were opened with the Capay Valley Land Company, owning the tract in question. With W. H. Mills, the General Agent of that company, they arranged for the purchase of about 220 acres of foothill land.

The balance of the tract, 373 acres, was purchased. A contract was entered into for the purchase of a large number of fruit trees, vines, etc.

The ideas which the prospectus set forth have been and slightly modified and the progress of the company has been uninterrupted.

For the company it is predicted a very bright future, as well as for the colony, and that their operations are conducted. How this marvelous little garden has come to be so long neglected is a puzzle to every one who has visited it, but one thing is very sure, and that is that this neglect will never again be repeated.

The fruits set out are mostly of the standard varieties—peaches, apricots, Bartlett pears, prunes, figs, raisins, etc.

Mention should be made of the town-site, about which the company has secured by purchase a large tract of land, which will be subdivided into lots for the building of houses, and which might with profit be followed by more ambitious places.

A petition has been circulated recently and very largely signed, asking the county to accept Island avenue, on the colony tract, as a county road, and to build a bridge across Cache Creek at this point, in order to give the settlers on the east side of the creek access to the city.

The following is a list of the principal members of the Tancred Colony, with the number of acres owned by each, and a fact worthy of mention is that in each contract or deed issued by the Colony Company there is a provision that no intoxicating liquor shall ever be manufactured or sold on the land.
