

MEDALS FOR MARKSMEN.

Rewards of Merit Issued to National Guardsmen.

The Gold Medal Goes to Captain Huber of the Second Artillery--Plenty of the Bronze Ones Won Here.

The lengthy tabulated report by Adjutant-General Allen on the target practice of the National Guard during the year 1891 was received yesterday from the State Printing Office. The report is the longest issued since General Allen's incumbency, and is of interest to all National Guardsmen in the State. It contains the name of every militiaman who is entitled to a medal this year, either of the first, second or third class.

The report shows that Captain Adolph Huber of Company C, Second Artillery Regiment, is entitled to the gold medal, he being the best shot in the State. His score at the first practice was 45 points, and at the second 46 points, out of a possible 50.

Strange to say, the Captain is the only soldier in the State who receives a first-class medal. He might have made the best score and obtained the prize medal, yet the shooting making 40 points in his two trials would have been entitled to a first-class medal. None, however, were able to reach the first-class margin line this year, while the second class line was more than 100 points below it.

There are nine hundred and seventy-two other members of the State militia who are entitled to medals of either the second or third class, and the trophies are now being made in the East.

The medal won by Captain Huber will be all gold. The second-class medal will have a silver pin and stamp of a dog's head, and a silver and bronze bar will be suspended from the third-class medals.

The First Artillery Regiment has captured seventeen second-class medals and one hundred and eight third-class. The Fourth Brigade Staff has won four of the third-class, and the Signal Corps two.

Following is a statement showing the many medals of the first and second classes were won by the different companies in the State:

- Seventh Infantry--Company A, first class 4, second class 15; B, first class 1, second class 5; C, first class 1, second class 11; D, second class 9; E, first class 1, second class 4; G, second class 17.
Ninth Infantry--Company A, first class 5, second class 22; B, first class 2, second class 20; C, first class 2, second class 20; D, first class 2, second class 20; E, first class 2, second class 17; F, second class 12.
First Infantry--Company A, second class 12; B, first class 5, second class 15; C, first class 15, second class 15; D, first class 1, second class 10; E, first class 2, second class 10; G, first class 1, second class 8; H, first class 2, second class 5.
Second Artillery--Company A, first class 7, second class 9; C, first class 2, second class 15; D, second class 1, second class 8; E, second class 1, second class 8; G, second class 1, second class 1.
Third Infantry--Company A, second class 3; B, first class 2, second class 12; C, second class 2; D, second class 4; E, second class 5; F, second class 5; G, first class 1, second class 10.
Fifth Infantry--Company A, first class 3, second class 12; B, first class 3, second class 10; C, first class 7, second class 14; F, first class 1, second class 14.
Sixth Infantry--Company A, first class 1, second class 15; B, first class 1, second class 11; C, second class 12; D, first class 1, second class 12; E, second class 15; F, second class 11.
First Artillery--Company A, second class 15; B, first class 2, second class 12; C, second class 18; E, first class 4, second class 12; F, first class 1, second class 18; G, first class 6, second class 24.
Eighth Infantry--Company A, second class 8; B, second class 12; C, first class 7, second class 10; D, second class 5; E, second class 4.
Tenth Infantry Battalion--Company A, second class 10; B, second class 7.
First Troop Cavalry--Second class 4.
Those on the retired list in this city who won third-class medals are Major A. Sheehan, Major Fred Neary and Major W. I. Wallace.

STATE BOARD OF PHARMACISTS.

It refused Thomas Tallman a license and is mandamused.

Thomas Y. Tallman commenced suit in the Superior Court yesterday against S. H. Melvin, W. M. Seabury, J. W. Wood, J. H. Flint, H. J. Finger, R. J. Van Voorhis and John H. Dawson--the members of the State Board of Pharmacists.

Tallman is the manager of a local drug store, and was refused a license by the State Board. He now asks that a writ of mandamus issue, compelling the board to give him a license.

The pharmacy had a bill passed through the last Legislature providing that licenses should only be issued to druggists who were actually conducting a pharmacy. It appears in Tallman's case, that the State Board has construed the meaning of the Act to be that one must own a drug store--must conduct his own place. Tallman is simply managing the drug store, he is connected with, and does not own it, hence the refusal of the State Board to give him a pharmacist's license.

Tallman claims that this ruling is not in accordance with the new law. In his suit he declares that inasmuch as the law reads that persons actually "conducting" a pharmacy are eligible to receive licenses, he is entitled to one.

THE GRAND JURY.

Newspaper Reporters Asked Where They Obtain Information.

The Grand Jury met yesterday morning. Some of the members entered a protest against the publication in the RECORD-UNION and Bee of the fact that E. O. Miller was to be indicted before the indictment against that individual had been filed in court. It was stated that possibly some member of the Grand Jury had given out the information, and it was agreed to investigate the matter. Representatives of each of the newspapers mentioned were subpoenaed and examined under oath. They showed, however, that the information was not the facts of any other cases had not been gotten from any of the Grand Jurors--that the details were obtained by keeping a close watch on witnesses, "putting this and that together," and keeping awake generally.

This satisfied the jurors, and the reporters were excused.

In the afternoon the Grand Jury, to all appearances, resumed its investigation of the "waste basket" scandal of the last Legislature. Assemblyman H. C. Bibbia was noted in the corridors and was apparently waiting to be called upon for what he knew of the mystery.

DRAINAGE-PUMP FUEL.

Mayor Comstock and Trustee McLaughlin "A-Figging."

The Former Makes a Good Showing in His Own Behalf, and Likewise Does the Latter.

At yesterday's special meeting of the City Trustees, after the matter of awarding a contract for doing city advertising had been disposed of, Mayor Comstock brought up the subject of the cost of running the drainage pump at Sixth and Y streets. He referred to a statement made on the preceding day by Trustee McLaughlin, to the effect that he (the Mayor) was spending too much money for fuel.

The Mayor read some figures, and claimed that the wood bills for October and November showed a saving on his part of about $400 per month. He believed Trustee McLaughlin's statement was a wild and wanton one.

Trustee McLaughlin replied with warmth that the Mayor's statement was wild. It had no basis. He (McLaughlin) had given the number of hours the pump ran, and how much wood was used in that time, showing exactly how much was burned in an hour. If the Mayor wanted figures on the hour basis, he could readily learn that it was costing the city $17 per hour for wood, while when he (McLaughlin) also claims that, under the Mayor's management, from November 24th to December 8th, a run of 151 hours, the cost was $285.40, or at the rate of $1.89 per hour, and that from December 8th to December 20th, a run of 157 hours, the cost was $238, or $1.51 3/5 per hour.

The Mayor accused Trustee McLaughlin of attending to everybody's business but his own, and the latter replied that that was just what was the matter with the Mayor.

The figures submitted by the Mayor are as follows: For the last four weeks (370 hours) under his management, the cost was $306.40. During the previous four weeks, under a run of 362 hours conducted by McLaughlin, the cost was $393.85.

Trustee McLaughlin's figures differ somewhat from those of the Mayor. He claims that, under his management, the pump, from June 12th to July 28th, a run of 570 hours, the cost was $255.50, or 92 cents per hour. Then the work was done by contract from July 28th to November 24th, a run of 1,743 hours, at a cost of $2,273.74, or $1.30 per hour.

Mr. McLaughlin also claims that, under the Mayor's management, from November 24th to December 8th, a run of 151 hours, the cost was $285.40, or at the rate of $1.89 per hour, and that from December 8th to December 20th, a run of 157 hours, the cost was $238, or $1.51 3/5 per hour.

Weather Notes.

The Weather Bureau's reports show the temperatures at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. yesterday to have been 37° and 49°, while the highest and lowest were 32° and 33°, with light variable winds and a nearly cloudless sky.

The barometrical readings at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. were 30.40 and 30.41 inches, respectively. The barometer still keeps high.

The highest and lowest temperatures one year yesterday were 42° and 39°, and one year ago today 48° and 38°.

Public Money Coming In.

Twenty-dollar pieces poured into the State Treasury yesterday at a great rate, and the clerks were kept busy all day counting the cash and storing it away in the big vault. In all $253,371.67 was turned in.

The following county settlements were made: Sutter, $182,973; Tehama, $42,800.25; Napa, $4,588.19; Santa Clara, $31,189.49; Plumas, $7,917.01.

A San Francisco County Treasurer Willard, who is in this city last evening, $1,310,652.14, the State's portion of city and county taxes collected up to December 1st.

Moore Wanted at the Bay. Police Officer Gibson of San Francisco passed through this city yesterday from Marysville with a prisoner named McDonald, alias "Moore." McDonald is wanted in San Francisco on a charge of felony. He is the same individual who was arrested here about three months ago for endeavoring to pass a bogus check on one of the banks.

Two More Divorces. Francesca Perino was granted a divorce yesterday from Antonio Perino by Judge Catlin. Desertion and failure to provide were the grounds set forth.

In Judge Van Fleet's court Grant N. McElroy was granted a divorce from Joseph P. McElroy, on the same grounds as above. The defendant did not contest.

It was a Formality. In the suit of James Brenton against Kate May Hill, Superior Judge Catlin yesterday ordered that judgment be given for the plaintiff. The latter is the minor heir of the McLaughlin estate, and the suit was simply to formally establish a claim for him to a piece of land belonging to the estate. The suit was not contested.

Commendable. All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the California Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

The Very Latest. The latest style of hats, caps, etc., can be seen at the store of Charles J. Frederick & Co., 802 J street.

See the select line of music rolls, tolls, harmonicas, and general musical novelties at Hansen's Music Store, 230 J street.

THEIR DAY IN COURT.

Malefactors Hauled Up Before Police Judge Cravens.

Tom Gainer's Abhorrence of the City Jail's Odors--Trouble Over a Dive-Town Eviction.

Tom Gainer was in the Police Court yesterday, charged with drunkenness. His contumacious bore evidence of his recent jail term. Judge Cravens told it was his first offense in several months, and he thought he ought to be excused.

"I'll give you ten days in which to sober up," said Judge Cravens. Gainer did not like the idea of going to jail, however, and he asked if the court would not allow him to pay a fine. Judge Cravens was not disposed to do so at first, but finally made the fine $20, and the prisoner appeared satisfied.

In the case of Henry Wohlfarth, the man who was convicted on Monday of disturbing the peace, W. A. Anderson moved for an arrest of judgment and a new trial, and the hearing was set for the 26th inst.

Wohlfarth feels that he has hardly had a fair show. He denies having used any vile epithets toward the girl (Lela Cullingford) whose peace he was accused of having disturbed, and says he merely warned her that she must not further annoy his aged mother and sister as she had been doing. He realizes that he made a mistake in addressing her on the street after dark, but says it was his only opportunity, as he is a locomotive fireman and his time is very limited. He did not speak to her stepfather, he says, because the latter would not, he believed, have interested himself in the matter.

Wohlfarth appears like one who would not use abusive language to a young girl. He says the girl was annoying his folks, and he simply told her she must stop it, and if she saw a boy he would punish her.

PREPERS A JURY.

Charles Howard demanded jury trials on the charges against him of disturbing the peace and malicious mischief, and asked for a week's time in which to enter his pleas. The request was granted, and the cases set for trial on the 27th. A venire for twenty-five jurors was issued.

FORFEITED HIS DEPOSIT.

John Boase did not appear when his name was called, and his deposit of $5 for drunkenness was declared forfeited.

AN L-STRICKT EVICTION.

The cases of two young girls who occupy houses on lower L street, and whose names appear on the calendar as Jennie and Mary, were the last on the calendar. They were charged with disturbing the peace of Anita Waga, the Spanish woman who sub-lets houses in that quarter of the city. She testified that the girls would not pay their rent, and when she went to evict them they hurled all sorts of annoying epithets at her.

Two men were sworn as assessors, and they testified that one of the defendants used bad language, but the other did not. The defendants, testifying in their own behalf, claimed that Anita wanted them out of the houses before they could remove their trunks and clothing. They claimed that they used no indecent language toward her.

Judge Cravens discharged "Jennie" and found "Mary" guilty. Sentence will be pronounced in the latter case next Saturday.

After the installation the members of the chapter and council met in the banquet hall, where an enjoyable evening was spent.

Died in the East.

Word has been received of the death in St. Louis of Mrs. Susan Heister, mother of Mrs. L. P. Gilman of this city. Deceased's husband was in early days a member of the firm of Whittier, Fuller & Co.

Mrs. Heister was injured in a railroad accident two weeks ago, and, although causing a severe shock to her nervous system, which probably hastened her death. She leaves two other daughters, a son, Mrs. M. J. Heister, and Mrs. Hyatt of St. Louis. Her remains will be brought here for burial.

Should be Looked After.

All day yesterday a woman, who appeared to be a professional beggar, kept two little children out in the cold at Fourth and K streets while she solicited alms from passersby. One child was in a baby-wagon, the other was kept on the cold and muddy ground.

If the woman be allowed to expose the ill-clad children to the cold, she should at least keep them on the dry sidewalk. It is pitiful to see them punished in this way.
