

THE INCARNATION.

Rev. Father Shaw Discourses on Christ's Birth and Greatness.

How the Coming of the God-Man Dispelled the Darkness From the Minds of Men.

At the beautiful Cathedral of the Holy Sacrament there were large congregations at all the masses yesterday. At the 10:30 o'clock service pontifical high mass was celebrated by Right Reverend Bishop Manogue in a very impressive manner.

The choir rendered "Generalis Mass in G," the music being unusually effective. The sermon was preached by Rev. Father Shaw, his theme being "The Incarnation of Christ."

The reverend gentleman is one of the most eloquent preachers heard in this city for many years. His splendid voice and perfect diction made it possible for all the large congregation in the great edifice to hear and understand him distinctly.

He chose for his text the following passage from the first chapter of St. John: "In Him was the life, and the life was the light of men; and the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness did not comprehend it."

Study of any kind, said the reverend speaker, should be made to reach truth—study of any kind, said the reverend speaker, should be made to reach truth—study of any kind, said the reverend speaker, should be made to reach truth.

First—The founder of Christianity is born to-day. Let us go over to Bethlehem and see the place where he came to pass. A couple of poor people, whom we recognize by their simplicity and reserve, have entered a cave on the outskirts of a little village in the mountains of Judaea.

The angels bringing their glad tidings of great joy because of the birth of the Saviour, the shepherds that hurried to the cave from the hillsides, simple as the flocks they tended, form

THE TABLEAU THAT EARTH HAD NEVER BEFORE WITNESSED.

In that midnight hour, as the stary heavens shone down on the virgin mother and the God-man—the Saviour of man.

They answer: "We have seen the Son, and the choir of angels praising God! Alleluia! For a child is born to us, and the Son is given to us, and this shall be a sign to you. You shall find the infant wrapped in swaddling clothes, and laid in a manger. We have Him who, in the beginning, was the word—by whom things were made, and without whom nothing was made that was made. In Him was the life, and the life was the light of men. This is the true light, that enlighteneth every man coming into the world."

THE GOD-MAN, AS NARRATED BY THE BOOK OF BOOKS.

Now, in the second place, let us see the influence of this fact on the world. This principle governed the whole world of humanity. First, the principle of independence; man acknowledged no superior to himself. Second, the principle that pleased was good. Third, the principle of avarice, that "he should take who can."

First, the principle of pride, or independence—man was his own law; he was his own reward; he was his own God; might was right; applause and flattery—the gain for his actions—and the witness of a principle that he was his own creator, and responsible to none other; and therefore, whatever genius he had and influence he could wield, was directed to do his best against all opposition.

THE MOTTO OF THE GREAT ROMAN.

The mightiest of the powers of the ancient world, was "Spare the vanquished—those who submit to you without wage unrelenting war on all who quail before my power and resist my will." Hence the simple and selected motto of the old system, before and at the time of the birth of the kind of Bethlehem, laying down the principle that man was amenable to none beside himself—sighing for the truth he had well-nigh lost, as he adored himself, he selected the motto of the garden, the lowliest of all the brutal passions. No wonder the satirists, Juvenal and Lucian, piqued the Romans on the dignity and purity of their gods!

These were the gods for the individual, family and society, selected from—Mercury, the God of Theft; Hercules, the God of Muscle; Mars, the God of War and Blood; Venus, the Goddess of Lust; Jupiter, the father of all the gods, the God of Adultery!

The God-man in the crib, by assuming the lowliness of man's nature, while he elevates it infinitely, becomes 25 per ct. difference. ROYAL BAKING POWDER Strongest, Purest, Most Economical.

Certain baking powder makers are publishing falsified extracts from the Government reports, with pretended analyses and certificates, wherein an attempt is made to compare their baking powders with the "Royal," or making bogus tests from house to house, their obvious purpose being to counteract the recent exposures of the inferiority of their own goods arising from their impurity, low strength, and lack of keeping qualities as shown by the Government chemists and others.

As to whether any of these baking powders are equal to the "Royal," the official tests clearly determine. When samples of various baking powders were purchased from the grocers, and analyzed by the United States Government Chemists and the Chemists of State and City Boards of Health, the reports revealed the fact that the "Royal" contained from 28 per cent to 60 per cent more leavening strength than any other cream of tartar baking powder, and also that it was more perfectly made, of purer ingredients, and altogether wholesome.

As these powders are sold to consumers at the same price, by the use of the Royal Baking Powder there is an average saving of over one third, besides the advantage of assured purity and wholesomeness of food, and of bread, biscuit, and cake made perfectly light, sweet, and palatable—advantages not to be had in the use of the low-grade, cheaply made baking powders that contain lime, alum, and other impurities.

man lay in the crib, and in vain shall you seek them. Let those who talk as the selfish show, in the mockery and teaching of all the lords of paganism, anything that reflects even the shadow of the light that falls on the crib to-day! Ah, no. The eternal blessing of the human family, are because of the most perfect of all models and divinest of teachers—Jesus Christ.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES.

Churches Where Appropriate Exercises Will be Held To-morrow.

The churches which did not hold Christmas services yesterday will do so to-morrow, and they promise to be of an interesting character.

At the Central M. E. Church a choice programme of exercises will be given at the morning service, as follows:

Organ, prelude; Scripture Lesson; "Gloria in Excelsis" (Buck); Hymn; Prayer; "To Deum Laudamus" (Barrett); Scripture Lesson; Hymn; Sermon by Rev. A. T. Needham, E. J. Hyman, Sacrament of "The Lord's Supper"; Doxology; Benediction.

In the evening the choral service will be as follows: Organ prelude; "Cantata Domino," S. P. Warren; hymn; prayer; anthem, "There Were Shepherds," H. Millard; solo, "The Star of Bethlehem," A. Sullivan; Scripture lesson; anthem, "Angels From the Realms of Glory," G. W. Warren; hymn; Scripture lesson; solo, "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," H. Millard; anthem, "Christmas," H. R. Shelly; address by the pastor; offertory—solo, "Nazareth," (Gounod); announcements; anthem, "Brightest and Best," B. Buck; hymn; benediction—postlude.

SIXTH-STREET M. E. CHURCH.

At the Sixth-street M. E. Church will be held the first quarterly services of the organ, prelude, "Love feast" at 6:30; communion after the morning sermon. In the evening Rev. A. T. Needham, the Presiding Elder, will preach.

WESTMINSTER PRESBYTERIAN Church, Sixth and L streets, there will be at 10:45 A. M. Christmas services. Children are specially invited. Subject at 7:30 P. M., "Signs of the Times."

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The pastor, Rev. W. Ward Willis, will preach his farewell sermon at 11 A. M., and all the members are requested to be present.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

At 11 o'clock A. M. the pastor, Rev. B. Silcox, will preach, also at 7:30 o'clock P. M. Both services, by song and sermon, will be celebration of the joyous Christmaste.

ENGLISH LUTHERAN.

Services will be held by the English Lutherans at Firemen's Hall, and in the morning and evening. The subjects will be: "The Angel's Song," and "Fullness of Joy."

FIRST CHRISTIAN.

At the First Christian Church, on Eighth street, Rev. B. B. Burton, the pastor, will preach appropriate sermons at 11 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.

Collided With a Man.

FRANK BALDWIN'S ERROR.

He Tries to Do a Man a Favor and Gets Into Jail.

It doesn't pay to be too accommodating. So thinks Frank Baldwin, who is locked up in the City Jail.

Last evening a man drove up to the corner of Twelfth and C streets and tied his team. Hitched to the rear of his wagon were two other horses. Some hoodlums untied one of them and it ran away. Then somebody suggested to Baldwin to mount the other and try and recover the runaway for the owner.

Baldwin jumped on the horse and started off, but the animal was of the "cantankerous" kind and objected to the business. When he got through with his routine gymnastics both he and his rider were down. The latter was badly bruised and the horse seriously injured.

Then the owner caused Baldwin's arrest and says he will today swear out a complaint against him. What the charge will be is not known, but it should be, "Trying to do a stranger a favor and not succeeding."

AMUSEMENTS.

Duncan B. Harrison and John L. Sullivan presented yesterday afternoon and last night the drama, "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands," at the Clunie Opera-house.

There was very light attendance in the afternoon, but a good house at night—the gallery was filled and the orchestra and parquet half full. The play was given about as when presented here before. Sullivan and Harrison in the last act appeared in a boxing exhibition three short rounds. To-night the new Irish comedy drama, "Broderick Agra," will be given, with Sullivan in the title role.

Manager Henry says a hot fire was put into the heater yesterday, but certainly there was no fire in the heater. A suspicious object in the auditorium was Proprietor Clunie sailing around in a heavy overcoat and vainly seeking some spot a little less cold than the last, while a draft straight from the North Pole came through the swing doors of the ladies' retiring-room, and made the portiere over the entrance from that apartment to the theater stand out at an angle of forty-five degrees, supported by the cold blast that snote the audience with a scimiter-like stroke. It is simply nonsense to tell the public that the house cannot be warmed.

An ordinary heater will do it; an extraordinary heater, with eight large registers has been put in, but without fire in the furnace it is of as much use as a lamp without oil. It is fair to assume that last night's lesson will result in the furnace being fired up to-night, and kept going until the performance is over.

The company supporting Mr. Harrison is good, and a main quartet of good voices adds to it much. The boxing bout, brief as it is, at least serves to present Sullivan in his order and to show the build and the character of the fight. The exhibition of curiosity to that extent can be satisfied. But if the entire corps of dramatic artists of the nation and all the prize-fighters of the globe were put upon the stage, they could not compensate for the discomfort of an unheated house on these nipping nights. Let the management to-night seek for a better way than to hammer and nail to close a wholly unused double swinging-door; what faith can be placed in a tin roof, and a smashed-in window plugged up, and our word for it the house will be as comfortable as hot toast, and the audience will retire at the close confident that the promise to have the house warm enough not to be chilly was made in good faith.

Is This Business?

The Rio Vista News of yesterday contains the following item: "Chief of the State Fish Patrol Thomas Tunstead was here Monday, accompanied by a party of friends from San Francisco who had been up in the vicinity of Bouldin Island shooting ducks for several days. They returned to the city on Monday afternoon's boat. Ducks were scarce, but that did not prevent them from having a rip-roaring time."

Probably it did not prevent Chinese and other alien poachers about the bay getting away with a good many tons of young fishes, either. But it is possible that the Chief of Patrol doesn't draw a regular salary.

Yesterday's Balloon Ascension.

Fugal, the aeronaut, made a successful balloon ascension and double-parachute descent at Oak Park yesterday in the presence of quite a large crowd of spectators.

A Justice of New York has just decided that you need not pay for a meal ordered at a restaurant unless you eat it.

NOT HOPELESS.

Zemansky Thinks He May Yet Recover His $400.

"Jake" Zemansky does not like to lose sight altogether of that $400 which farmer Phillips of Sutter County got from him recently on a worthless check.

Zemansky went to Yuba City a couple of days ago to see his man, and found Phillips still sick abed from the effects of his late escapade. Indeed, he was not in a condition to be interviewed, and there is danger that he may not recover.

The Sacramento broker learned, however, that the eccentric farmer is not without means, and his family promised that Zemansky's loss should be made good, whether or not Phillips' illness should prove fatal.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

E. W. Meredith has gone to Smartsville to visit his relatives.

Mark Eckart is spending the holidays with his father in Marysville.

Miss Lizzie O'Brien is in Marysville, visiting her aunt, Mrs. Scrivener.

Mrs. Doan is spending the holidays in Auburn with her son, W. E. Doan.

Miss Jessie Walling is the guest of Miss Elsie Stevenson of Marysville for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. P. Sheets of San Francisco spent Christmas with the latter's relatives here.

Joseph G. Mansfield, of the Reconstructionist's editorial staff, has been confined to his home for several days from illness of the prevailing character.

At the Golden Eagle Hotel yesterday: John L. Sullivan, Frank Moran, Jack Ashlon, Duncan B. Harrison, Escher Lyons, Miss Ruby Ellidge, D. L. Hamill, Albany; Bert Hayward and wife, Men's Fine French Imported Broad Cloth, worth $22.50, now $15.00.

Another Lucky Editor.

Rufus Shoemaker, editor of the Grass Valley Telegraph, is the recipient of a watch, presented as a Christmas gift by an admiring friend. It keeps excellent time for three minutes at a stretch, and is about an inch in circumference and an inch thick. Mr. Shoemaker will hire a small boy to carry it around for him.

Another "Green" Done For.

Officer Simmons last night arrested an L-street woman named Nellie Green. She is charged by a visitor to her den with having robbed him of $40.

Doing a Magnificent Work.

(Rio Vista News, December 25th.)

The Sacramento Daily Record-Union is doing a magnificent work in most ably and industriously showing up the large land holdings in the agricultural counties of the State and suggesting a plan to curtail land monopoly, to which we are indisputably tending. The action of the Record-Union is commendable and deserving of hearty encouragement.

The Nonpareil. "The Nonpareil."

HOLIDAYS AND HOLIDAY GIFTS. The Christmas Holidays, and everything pertaining to the mutual interchange of hospitalities, friendly greetings and gifts that betoken love, friendship and esteem. These, and these only, are the themes that befit the present occasion.

We extend hearty congratulations to all our patrons and the public, wishing a very happy Christmas to all.

VISITORS! Our establishment is one of the sights of the city, and we most cordially invite you to spend some of your time with us. Before going home we would kindly request you to visit THE NONPAREIL, as we have so much that we wish to show you. The cold, seasonable weather, the influx of visitors and the usual Christmas requirements for presents and festivities—these have brought us a splendid run of business, and with our gigantic stock we are prepared to go on without any cessation. Our supplies of everything that is useful and ornamental for presents are still very abundant, and in these goods we recognize no competition in Sacramento, and we mean to clear them this year.

Our many departments of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods demand more than passing notice, as in all these commodities we are equal to every possible request. We have had a splendid run on Ladies' Cloaks and Jackets, and we know no one can touch us for style, quality and price. Our Blankets, Comforts, Shawls, Dress Goods, in act anything and everything are excelled by none and equalled by few. Indeed, the general opinion is that they are superior to any shown in this city.

Mail Orders Carefully Executed. Samples and Prices Free on Application.
