

FEELING OF UNREST.

The Gravity of the Situation Over Chile Affairs Apparent.

MUCH ANXIETY AS TO THE FINAL OUTCOME.

The President Will Have the United Support of Both Parties of Congress in the Adoption of Any Measure He Feels Necessary for the Preservation of the Dignity of the United States--Our Available Fleet in Case the Trouble Should Result in Open Hostilities.

Special to the RECORD-UNION. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.--There can be little doubt that the developments of the past few days in the investigation now being conducted at San Francisco by Judge-Advocate General Remy into the attack upon the Baltimore crew, the publication of the testimony in Shields' case and the ugly demonstration at Valparaiso against the Yorktown's gig crew have had the effect to create a very uneasy feeling at the Capitol. Senators and Representatives who have all along defied the idea of any serious result following the Chilean correspondence, and who had the greatest confidence that Chile would make amends for the misdeeds of her citizens, are now willing to admit privately that the situation is full of grave difficulties.

The ominous sign is the great inactivity of Congress in the matter. Heretofore it has been customary, whenever a matter of the smallest public interest is the subject of diplomatic correspondence, for one of the two houses to call upon the President for information. The gravity of the situation appearing to have a reprehensible effect upon Congress.

The situation in Congress is one of anxious waiting, in hope the President will soon relieve the general desire for information. Very naturally, the Senators and Representatives who are members of the committees having the foreign relations of the Government under their charge are unwilling to express themselves at this juncture upon the merits of the controversy which they may soon have to deal officially. But in their private expressions, it is clear that no party line is to be drawn, and the President will have the united support of Congress in the adoption of any measure which may be necessary for the preservation of the dignity of the United States.

Foreign Relations, the leading Democratic member of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, is particularly indignant at the revelations in the case of Patrick Shields, fireman of the American steamer Kennerly, in the Honorable members of the Foreign Affairs Committee have discouraged all who spoke to them in favor of calling for the correspondence. The members of the committee said it would not be wise to precipitate discussion in the House while the correspondence was incomplete, for any ill-considered utterance or action might result in embarrassing the negotiations, if indeed it did not prevent an honorable understanding being reached.

In reply to an inquiry as to the truth of the report that an ultimatum demanding an instant apology and reparation had been offered to Chile, the Honorable member said that he had sent no ultimatum to Chile, and still is devoting himself to a careful examination of the voluminous Chilean correspondence.

A RESTIVE FEELING. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.--Many Democratic members of Congress are growing restive under the delay of the Executive in communicating to the House the correspondence to Congress, and some of them believe the time has come for Congress to take some action. Representative O'Neil of Massachusetts called on Chairman Blount of the Foreign Affairs Committee and told him he had in his mind to introduce a resolution asking the President to inform the House whether the press reports of Colonel Remy's investigation of the Baltimore assault had been officially authenticated, and declaring that he would not be bound by the President's rather than by Congress.

O'Neil replied that ordinarily the President ought to take the initiative, but that while he had faith in the patriotism of Harrison, it was surrounded by insidious influences, leading to restrain him from properly asserting the dignity of the United States. He said he would be as ready as any other Democratic member of Congress believed that the time had come for the United States to declare before the world that her flag should not be trampled upon and respected in every part of the world.

He significantly asked how long would Great Britain have delayed in demanding satisfaction for such an outrage upon her seamen.

THE AVAILABLE FLEET. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.--The Navy Department is informed that the gunboat Lexington arrived at Montevideo yesterday. It is expected that the Atlanta will arrive there this evening or to-morrow. These two vessels will increase the American fleet at that port to five, the others being the flagship Chicago and Essex and Yantic. These will be available in case of any warlike aspect than at present. The Philadelphia, Concord and Keokuk are at Port-au-Prince, and Congress is expected to be in session at New York and the Newark at Norfolk. The disposition of vessels on the Pacific station is as follows: San Francisco and Charleston at San Diego; Baltimore and Mohican at San Francisco; Pensacola at Honolulu; Boston at Callao; Yorktown at Valparaiso, and Ingham at Samoa.

CRUISER NO. 12. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.--Cramp, the Philadelphia shipbuilder, was at the Navy Department in conference with officials in regard to the condition of work on the naval vessels now under construction at his yard. He said work was progressing as rapidly as possible, but was hampered somewhat by the scarcity of materials. For this reason he could not say positively when the cruiser No. 12, better known as the Frigate, now well under way, would be finished. She will be ready to launch in May.

transferred to the Yorktown yesterday.

Three were arrested as these refugees, five at the United States Legation and two at the Spanish Legation. They were accompanied from Santiago to the Yorktown by the American, Italian and Spanish Ministers. The remainder of the vessel until the 16th, when they will be transferred to the Pacific Mail steamer "Crime" at Valparaiso, a steamer on that route for Europe.

The dispatch says nothing in regard to the condition of affairs in Chile. It is, therefore, inferred that there is nothing to report on that subject.

The final report of Captain Schley, commanding the Baltimore, in regard to the assault at Valparaiso, is in the Navy Department to-day. In it Captain Schley makes a positive statement that the only interview he ever had with Judge of the Chilean Legation, the subject of the attack on the Baltimore's sailors occurred shortly after that event, and before its full gravity was known and understood at Valparaiso. At that time Captain Schley says Judge Foster expressly stated to him that the cause of the attack was the hatred the lower classes had for the Americans because of the belief that the Americans had been on the side of Balmaceda. This expression by Judge Foster is regarded by naval officers as highly significant, in view of his subsequent statements in regard to the Baltimore incident. The interview took place before the receipt of the President's note calling on the Chilean Government for reparation.

CAPITAL NOTES.

Bill to Make Sacramento a Port of Delivery. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.--Representative Caminetti to-day introduced a bill declaring Sacramento, Stockton and Marysville ports of delivery. Caminetti's idea is that if this is done the importance of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers will be made apparent to Congress, and to the people generally, for if the three towns named are made ports of delivery, statistics will be tabulated annually showing the amount of goods transported by water on the two rivers.

Justice Field of the Supreme Court pronounces as a falsehood the charge of Senator Power that he (Field) was lobbying for the bill. The bill is a measure which would be of assistance to the Western railroads. "I can't conceive what the Senator means by uttering such an untrue statement," says the Senator.

The above action necessitated the withdrawal of the application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Sly was arraigned under the indictment found yesterday. When asked to plead he created a sensation by exclaiming, "Let us see what sentence the court would give in case of a plea of guilty." He finally pleaded not guilty, and was remanded to jail, being unable to furnish $20,000 bonds.

MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS.

STRONGLY FORTIFIED ON THE OUTSKIRTS OF ASCENSION. They Are Well Armed and Abundantly Supplied With Food--Garza's Band.

Special to the RECORD-UNION. ST. LOUIS, Jan. 13.--A Republican's Deming special says: An American named Martinez reached here from Ascension to-day and reported that the revolutionists are strongly fortified on the outskirts of the town. They number 200, are well armed, and abundantly supplied with food. Residents in sympathy with them are aiding in preparing to meet the troops. Partial civil authority has been restored by the officials, who have succeeded in stationing armed guards around the Custom-house and the insurgent stamp building. No attempt has been made to dislodge the revolutionists from their position, nor will there be until the troops come.

The insurgents' leader is reported as issuing orders to refrain from all violence until a decisive battle is fought. The town is practically deserted, no business being transacted, and all buildings, including private residences, have been barricaded. A revolutionary flame has been kindled here, yet an outbreak would probably be a disaster. The town is not for the re-election of Anchaeta as Town President, in defiance of public sympathy with the movement, and the active sympathizers of Garza's cause are too remote from Ascension to be of any assistance.

That they had been preparing for an insurrection is demonstrated by the fact that the mill in which they have taken refuge is well stocked with arms, ammunition and supplies. It is impossible to conceive how the civil authorities have remained in ignorance of their operations. Even subordinate officials are in the hands of the revolutionists, and the higher officials can trust no one.

GARZA'S BAND.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.--General Schofield said to-day that the latest reports from General Stanley, commanding the Department of Texas, indicated that Garza's band was badly scattered and nearly disorganized; that the men were hiding in the chaparral, and the United States troops were close on the trail of Garza, with a reasonable expectation of capturing him.

DUKE OF CLARENCE.

The Heir Presumptive to the Throne Passes Away. LONDON, Jan. 13.--Great apprehension is felt by all classes of society regarding the condition of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, the heir presumptive to the throne. The attack of congestion of the lungs, from which he is suffering, has developed into a very serious case, and the Duke is openly expressed that the Duke will not recover.

A bulletin issued this morning from Sandringham Hall states that grave symptoms have supervened in the case, and that the condition of the Duke is critical. No doubt, however, is shown up to 1 o'clock was noted. The illness of the Duke is the sole topic of conversation in the clubs, hotels, at the railway stations, and in every place where the people congregate. There is no denying the fact that no such anxiety and excitement has been displayed since 1871, when it was thought the Prince of Wales would die from an attack of typhoid fever from which he was then suffering. Great crowds of people of all classes are gathered around Sandringham Hall, and at the Mansion House, where bulletins are posted. Much excitement is shown over the Duke's illness.

The Duke's anxiety prevails at Osborne House, the Isle of Wight, where the Queen is at present sojourning. She is thought to be in a very delicate condition, and is directly with Sandringham Hall. Until yesterday evening only one lung was seriously affected. This morning, however, an examination showed both lungs affected. The patient is greatly troubled by acute pain, and his breathing is difficult. The patient is assisted by the Princess Mary. The regular nurse, Miss Hallam, known as Sister Victoria, the invalid developed so rapidly early this morning that she died at 11 o'clock at his bedside, refusing to take any more throughout the night. Large groups of persons waited anxiously outside the church, waiting for the funeral to-day. The Duke's illness, Wednesday last, she said, the Duke was a member of a party shooting in game covers situated a long distance from Sandringham Hall. At luncheon he complained of not feeling well. He was seen to shiver and said he had taken cold. But after the meal he continued shooting. At the conclusion of the shoot he walked home, instead of driving. That evening he finally pleaded to his company, and retired early. On Thursday morning he was made to dismount from joining the shooting party, but he insisted on going, and he was seen to shiver and to be ill. After luncheon, however, he said he felt compelled to return home, and left the party, going on foot. Princess Mary accompanied him, and he is reported to be better during the evening, but the malady began to declare itself Friday.

PETERSBURG, Jan. 13.--A peasant, who formerly kept a shop in the Government of Tula, became so poor that he begged for assistance from a rival in trade, whose success had caused his ruin by attracting away his customers. The rival refused to listen to his appeal, and the peasant determined upon a terrible revenge.

The flames made rapid headway, and as the incendiary had deliberately barred the only way of escape, the inmates of the house, three women and seven children, were burned to death.

The calendar was taken up and the following bills passed: For the relief of the residents of California who have granted to the State of Oregon townships 2, 28, 29, 30 and 31, south, in ranges 5 and 6, of Williamette meridian in Oregon, for a patent road, or for the relief of Thomas Guinean of Oregon.

At 3:50 o'clock the Senate went into executive session and a few minutes later adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.--The war cry of the Democratic leaders of the House was sounded by Representative Holman to-day, and it is echoed by the Democratic majority to-morrow, the policy of the party in the coming session will be first private industries or enterprises, independent of the constitutional power of Congress, is unjust, impolitic and in manifest conflict with the spirit of republican institutions.

The resolution further resolves that in view of the present condition of the treasury, and because an efficient and honest government can only be assured by the frugal expenditure of public money, while unnecessary and lavish expenditures lead inevitably to ruin and corruption, no money ought to be appropriated by Congress, except such as is manifestly necessary to carry on the several departments frugally, efficiently and honestly.

Holman demanded the previous question on the adoption of the resolution. Henderson of Iowa and various other Republicans asked an opportunity for debate, and McKenna of California insisted that the resolution, if adhered to, would result in the defeat of all appropriation bills of any character, except such as referred to departmental affairs.

CRIME IN ARIZONA.

Further Particulars of the Double Murder Near Solomonville.

THE MAN AND WOMAN BOTH SHOT THREE TIMES.

Special to the RECORD-UNION. SOLOMONVILLE (Ariz.), Jan. 13.--Fuller particulars of the double murder that occurred south of here Sunday last show that the man was named Miller and the woman Morgan. Miller was carrying Mrs. Morgan and her child, two years old, to her husband at Globe. They were traveling in a four-horse wagon. They were attacked at a point of rocks in the road, and the wagon tracks show that they ran about 100 yards out of the road, where the bodies were found. The child was badly bruised, but was alive when the posse arrived from Solomonville at 11 o'clock Sunday night. The man and woman were shot three times. Deputy Sheriff Dan Olney and posse found the trail and followed it all day Sunday. It went straight toward Mexico. There were three of the murderers. After going some distance there were but two tracks. The posse followed these tracks, and only three tracks were seen. The posse followed only three tracks on purpose to throw suspicion from them. The bodies of deceased were buried here to-day.

The anchor was dropped, but not in time, and the big cruiser brought up in the mud almost against the wharf. The tide falling she keeled over very considerably to the right. The crew, an unpleasant, though not dangerous, position. It is hoped that she can be hauled off at high tide to-morrow afternoon. Her engines are being repaired, and she is unable to get up steam, and she must depend on a small tug to haul her off. She may perhaps have to go back into the dry dock to see whether the grounding has injured the hull, but it is hoped not.
