

BADLY DEMORALIZED. Gloom Cast Over the Camp of the Advocates of Free Coinage.

THEY HAD COUNTED ON A VERY DECIDED MAJORITY.

An Effort to be Made by Bland to Have the Bill Come to a Vote on Final Passage on Monday—Opponents of the Measure Will Endeavor to Postpone Action, and Are Confident of Success—Interesting Analysis of the Test Vote.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The silver advocates were badly demoralized by the weakness of their cause betrayed by last evening's proceedings of the House. They had all along been confident of a majority of thirty or forty. Bland will at once appeal to the Committee on Rules to set apart a day and hour for the further consideration of the silver bill, thus cutting off all intervening motions and forcing a vote. The anti-silver people will also appeal to the Committee on Rules for permission to offer motions, first to substitute an international Congress; second, to recommit; third, to postpone till December next, and fourth, that a vote be taken first on the minority report on the International Monetary Congress. The opponents of the bill claim this would be simply protecting the rights of the minority.

If Catches returns to Washington in time, a special order may be brought into the House on Monday for the immediate consideration of the bill and the pending amendments. In fact, during the afternoon session of the House, disclosed the plan by the introduction of a resolution fixing Monday, March 28th, as the date on which the bill will be taken up and put upon passage. Accompanying the resolution is a provision giving the Speaker power to refuse to entertain any dilatory motion, and the resolution went to the Committee on Rules.

In view of the extreme closeness of the vote on the silver question, as disclosed last night, an analysis of the vote on the test motion of Burrows to lay the bill on the table is interesting. Of the 187 votes in favor of the motion, 112 were cast by Democrats and 75 by Republicans. The negative vote shows 117 Democrats and 70 Republicans. The large showing of Democratic votes against the silver bill came from the following States: New York 15, Pennsylvania 10, Wisconsin 7, Massachusetts 7, Iowa 5, New Jersey, Ohio and Maryland 4 each, Illinois, Connecticut and Michigan 3 each, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Louisiana and Minnesota 2 each, South Carolina 1 (Brawley), Delaware 1 (Causy), West Virginia 1 (Wilson), Missouri 1 (Cobb), California 1 (Henry).

Of the 11 Republican votes, Vincent A. Taylor of Ohio was the only one east of the Mississippi River. Kansas contributed two in Broderick and people, South Dakota two more, Pickler and Jolly, while the other six votes came from as many different States—Colorado (Townsend), Wyoming (Clark), Nevada (Bartine), California (Bowers), Idaho (Sweet), Oregon (Hermann).

The pairs were announced: Enoch with Tarsney, Sanford with Elliott, Durbin with Hooker of Mississippi, Morse with Catchings, E. B. Taylor with Coates, Yankov with Johnston of South Carolina, Henderson of Illinois with Peal, Rusk with Compton, W. A. Stone with Jones of Virginia. The names first given in each case are members who would have voted against the bill, and the latter those who would have voted for it.

Following is the list of the members not paired and who failed to vote: Campbell, Wadsworth and Stahnecker of New York; Fortman, Wake and Springer of Illinois; Cooper of Indiana; Clowry of Kansas; Chatham of North Carolina; Monovan of Ohio; Shell of South Carolina; Herbert of Alabama; Lester of Virginia; Bonner of Louisiana and Enloe of Tennessee.

Figuring the absentees according to their previously expressed pleas, an absolutely full vote shows a majority for the silver men, but a full vote is practically unknown in the House, and the silver men counted that it comes to a very close vote. They are less than their opponents to secure the vote of every member. The situation is less encouraging to the silver men who come to consider the future course, as the large showing made has unquestionably strengthened the opponents, and some men who always voted in favor of free coinage have since expressed themselves as political reasons, to further push the matter.

AS VIEWED ABROAD.

BERLIN, March 25.—The discussion in the American Congress of the silver question has attracted much attention in Germany. The newspapers nearly all agree in the belief that free silver will be a bad thing for the United States. The Associated Press correspondent interviewed Dr. Koch, President of the Imperial Bank, the greatest financial institution in Germany. Dr. Koch, director of the Deutsche Bank, the largest private banking corporation in Berlin, having relations with America, and other prominent bankers, with reference to the effect of the proposed silver legislation in America. Dr. Koch said that undoubtedly both Germany and England would be willing to take part in an international monetary conference, but felt positive that neither country would consent on a basis, although Germany would doubtless agree to some increase in the amount of silver used. Except a few agrarians, nobody in Germany is in favor of the free silver, nobody there would be benefited. The farmers would receive more for their crops, but silver dollars would have less purchasing value, and the end they would be worse off. A change of currency is always bad, but a change to an inferior currency would inflict especially heavy losses on the country making it. The continuous export of gold from America was a surprise to Dr. Koch. He said that he had long desired to see the part of foreign gold to a desire on the part of the present high prices for American securities. Dr. Siemens and other bankers hold similar views with Dr. Koch.

"OBSERVATION" SOCIAL.

A Pleasing Entertainment at the Sixth Street M. E. Church. The "Observation" social given at the Sixth-street Methodist church last evening was well attended and proved an enjoyable affair. The musical and literary features of the entertainment were especially well rendered and were well received.

The exercises began with a piano duet by the Misses Stephenson. Mrs. Keefe gave a well-applauded recitation, and a recitation by Mr. Keefe. Mr. Keefe, accompanied by Mrs. Keefe on the piano, was also eulogized. The piano and violin solo by Mr. and Mrs. Keefe, and the recitation by Mr. Keefe, were also eulogized. The piano and violin solo by Mr. and Mrs. Keefe, and the recitation by Mr. Keefe, were also eulogized.

AMUSEMENTS.

There was a fair house at the Metropolitan Theater last night—the auditorium should have been crowded. Mr. Ward's "Richard III." is a dramatic effort of the highest order. He rises to the level of the composition of the text and the thought and purpose of the great dramatist's complete tragedy. His Richard takes on more of the dignity of Richard III. He is more of a statesman, more of a philosopher, more of a character with less of cunning, perhaps; his handling of it in the soter passages of assumed love for Anne is less than that of some of his great colleagues. But his Richard is more king when once he is enthroned, and his craft as the aspiring cloister, as Mr. Keefe says, is the art of some of his great colleagues. REPEATED.

Evidently there is pressing need at the Metropolitan Theater for an additional scenery and the renovation of some of the old. In Richard III. last night the battle scene had as a background a scenic flat, wholly out of keeping with the country. It is a standard round of scenes that all well-appointed theaters ought to have and that will make any standard drama to be staged with them. The Metropolitan stage is worthy a complete scenic outfit.

THE BOX SET FOR THE GEORGIA MINSTREL entertainment opens at the Metropolitan Theater this morning.

REPEATED.

To-day the pay-car officials will hold a reception at the railroad shops and dispense souvenirs. Joseph Fry, teamster, is in confinement at the County Jail, having apparently become insane. He will be examined by the Lunacy Commissioners. On Wednesday evening next an entertainment will be given at the City Baptist Church, by the original Tennessee Jubilee Singers, for the benefit of the church. William Howard has been arrested on complaint of John Menton, who charges the former with having stolen $10 from him while under the influence of liquor. Numerous complaints are again coming in about the dusty condition of the streets. The new street sweeper should call out the men who are paid to keep the dust down.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Dr. M. F. Clayton is suffering from cerebral congestion. Miss Beringer has returned to St. Helena after a visit to friends here. Attorney Charles A. Swisher of Placerville is registered at the Golden Eagle. Miss Barney of Shasta and Miss Young of Sacramento are visiting the former's relatives at Colfax. Dr. G. A. White, the County Physician, has been ill and confined to his room for two or three days past. He has been able to attend to his duties in the main, however, and was better yesterday. An afternoon tea was given yesterday by Mrs. M. R. Higgins in honor of Mrs. Governor Markham. She was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Charles McGraw, Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. Charles Auld, Mrs. J. D. Gilchrist, Mrs. G. E. Pratt and Mrs. E. S. Hadley. Arrivals at the Golden Eagle Hotel yesterday: O. L. Woerner, New York; M. A. Lightner, Sacramento; A. H. Lightner, Bakersfield; L. G. Yoe, Chicago; W. Beatty, Jr., Walter H. OFFICER McLAUGHLIN.

The Police Commissioners Exonerate Him From Blame.

Pierce's Statement Insufficient to Establish the Charge of Attempting to "Fix" the Tobin Case.

The Police Commissioners held a special meeting yesterday to inquire into the charge made by Frank Pierce—the man who was robbed by one Minnie Tobin—against Police Officer McLaughlin, of having approached him with a proposition to settle the case. All the Commissioners were present, Mayor Comstock presiding. The examination was conducted by City Attorney Hart. W. A. Anderson appeared as counsel for the accused officer, and read an affidavit signed by the latter, in which a general denial was made of all the allegations in the complaint.

The first witness called was Frank Pierce, the complainant. He testified that Officer McLaughlin called on him at about 12:30 o'clock on Sunday night last, at the State House Hotel, and asked: "You're the man who was robbed, aren't you?" "I am," replied Pierce. "How much did you lose?" "The hundred and sixty dollars." "Well," said McLaughlin, "I'm the partner of Gibson the arresting officer. If you'll get up, put on your clothes and come with me I will get you your money." "I knew my money was safe enough," said the witness, "so I told him I would not go."

McLaughlin then asked me if I had sworn to a complaint, and when I told him I had he said: "When you cannot settle it—you'll have to appear in court, and with that he left me." Pierce further said he did not know who his visitor was until the next morning, when he was informed by the hotel people. To Attorney Anderson witness said he had been informed by the arresting officer not to talk about the matter with outsiders. McLaughlin did not tell witness that Officer Gibson had sent him to his room, he merely said he was a partner of Gibson's.

During the cross-examination of the witness Mr. Anderson asked him how he received "that" money. Pierce denied that there was any such deal, and he evinced considerable irritation at the attorney's mode of examining him. After some words had passed, Commissioner Cravens told Pierce he need not answer the question, as it was not pertinent to the case. Anderson—Did you ever lose any money before this in the same way? Pierce—I never did, and I don't propose to lose any more that way. Andrew Eiler, clerk at the State House Hotel, testified that between 12 and 1 o'clock on Sunday night Officer McLaughlin called at the hotel to see Pierce, and was shown to the latter's room. Officer J. A. Gibson testified that he arrested Minnie Tobin on Saturday night, at the instance of Pierce. After the arrest he escorted Pierce to the State House, and returned to his duty down town. Feeling that he had no more business to do, he left the State House at about 12:30 o'clock on Sunday night. Officer McLaughlin called at the hotel to see Pierce, and was shown to the latter's room. Feeling that he had no more business to do, he left the State House at about 12:30 o'clock on Sunday night.

McLaughlin said he visited Officer Gibson on Sunday and asked him if "that fellow" had sworn to a complaint against Minnie Tobin, and Gibson said he did not know. Witness then said he would go to see Pierce about it. He did so in the interest of the prosecution, solely, and when Pierce told him he had filed a complaint witness said it was well he had done so, or he would not be able to recover his money. He did this for Officer Gibson, the latter being too ill to look after his case. Commissioner Cravens asked the officer if he knew of any one having called at the police station several times on Saturday night and inquired about the arrest of Minnie Tobin, and witness replied that he did not. Minnie Tobin was called, and denied that she had seen Officer McLaughlin since two or three days before her arrest, and had not asked him to interest himself in her case, nor sent any request of that kind to him. The defense here rested, and the Commissioners put their heads together for about a minute, when the Mayor announced that they had agreed that the evidence in the case failed to show that the officer had been guilty of the charge against him, and that he was exonerated.
