

COLUMBUS DAY, OCTOBER 12

A Message to the Public Schools of America.

Local Observances Suggested—The Day Should Be Signaled in Every Town and Village in the Republic by a Local Celebration of Which the Public School is the Center.

To the scholars of the public schools of the United States the Executive Committee of the Columbian public school celebration sends the following message:

The 12th of October, 1892, the 400th anniversary of the discovery of America, ought to be observed everywhere in America.

The day will be marked in Chicago by the dedication of the Columbian Exposition grounds. The day also may be signalled in every town and village in the republic by a local celebration of which the public school is the center.

The public schools of the republic will form the most fitting centers for all these local celebrations. A national public school observance simultaneous with the Chicago exercises will awaken a peculiar interest in the coming exposition.

More important is the fact that the public school has the right to occupy the most prominent place in the celebration. The public school is the one characteristic institution which links all the neighborhoods together and binds them by a common bond for a national celebration.

The public school is the ripe fruit of the four centuries of American civilization. The public celebration to-day sways the hundred years to come.

HOW IT CAME ABOUT. The first approval of this suggestion came from the public school scholars themselves. The day also may be signalled in every town and village in the republic by a local celebration of which the public school is the center.

The world's congress auxiliary of the Columbian Exposition then took up the proposal, calling upon all the people of the republic to observe the day in their own localities, and suggesting that the public schools be everywhere the centers of the celebration.

The superintendents of education were the next to recognize the fitness of giving to the public schools the first place in this Columbian anniversary. At their national convention in Brooklyn, in February, 1892, they took charge of the movement, and appointed the undersigned an Executive Committee to lead the schools in their celebration.

APPEAL TO THE SCHOLARS. This Executive Committee now appeals to the scholars themselves to be the first to move. It is for you, scholars of the American public schools, to give the sentiment in your schools and in your neighborhoods for this grand day of celebrating the finding of America. Educators and teachers will meet you from their side. But it is for you to begin.

There are 13,000,000 now in the public schools. You have the chance to conduct a patriotic movement which will take place in history, and will strengthen the republic through the coming century.

WHAT TO DO. The first thing to do is to determine, when you read this message, that you will do all you can to induce your school to enter the celebration. Then show this message to your teachers; every patriotic teacher will be glad to help you to give yourself in earnest. Take the message to the school committee and the superintendent; their consent and aid are indispensable.

After you secure the support of all these then let the school vote that it will enter the celebration with the best of will.

THE LOCAL COMMITTEE. The duty of your committee will first be to interest the citizens and to prepare the school. Processions may be arranged. The veterans, both North and South, will give their support for the schools. The other military, civil and religious organizations of each town will lend their aid if they see that the schools are determined that the celebration will be worthy of the day. The local press will be the most valuable of all supports.

On October 12th the stars and stripes should be floating from every school-house in the Republic.

It is the hope of the friends of common school education that not one public school in the United States will allow itself to be left out in this most memorable celebration.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. Francis Delany, Chairman, representing Youth's Column, Boston; John W. Dickinson, Secretary of Massachusetts Board of Education; Thomas B. Stockwell, Commissioner of Public Schools, Rhode Island; W. R. Garrett, Superintendent of Public Instruction, Tennessee; W. C. Hewitt, Superintendent of Michigan educational exhibit at World's Fair.

NEW PUBLICATIONS. In variety of subject and popular treatment the contents of the June "Cosmopolitan" (New York) furnish an attractive standard. It is the leading movement for the solution of the problem of aerial navigation, and Hiram S. Maxim, the great inventor, gives the result of some recent experiments under the title "The Aeroplane." St. George Mivart brings a series of papers in which he will set forth the conclusions he has reached in regard to the great theory of natural selection and its philosophical bearings upon the religious thought of the day. The magazine opens with a charming Philadelphia story by Janvier. Miss Hewitt, daughter of ex-Mayor Hewitt, gives advice regarding fashions and counterfeits in Ladies' Era. The fiction includes a mystical and peculiar story by Howard Pyle, the well-known illustrator, accompanied by two fine pictures of his, and "Maw," a rather striking character of slave life. Other important articles in this number are: "The Working of the Labor Department," by the Commissioner of Labor, Andrew D. Wright, and "Fur Seals in Alaska." Another sonnet of James Russell Lowell's is published in this number, and the magazine is closed with a full page illustration from the work of Will Low. Many people will read with interest also the poem, "Mystery," by Amelia E. Barr, which was first employed to illustrate this number by Miss Cox, H. Siddons Mowbray, Will H. Low, Wilson de Meza, Walter Crane, Howard Pyle and E. W. Kemble. Murat Halstead, Brandor Matthews and Edward Everett Hale are among the other contributors.

The "North American Review" for the June (New York) presents the usual and notes: "The Harrison Administration," by Senator Davies of Massachusetts, Senator Dolph of Oregon and Senator Colquhoun of Georgia; "Modern Revolutions and Their Results," Karl Bird; "A Silver Screen Reviewed," Murat Halstead; "Prehistoric Times in Egypt and Palestine," Sir J. William Dawson;

Responses to Correspondents Seeking Substantial Information. For responses to questions of practical value, the Bureau publishes the following and common answers to which ought to be found in the ordinary home library, will receive attention. Queries published without responses are invitations to furnish answers, make this department an information exchange also. Communications must be brief and signed with name and address.

SANTA ROSA.—Yes, a bill is pending in Congress relative to indecent advertisements in newspapers. But it is opposed by nearly all newspapers in the United States, because it gives the power of censorship to every postmaster, which is considered a dangerous innovation. It is not necessary to publish a copy of the bill. It simply gives postmasters the power to refuse the mails to papers publishing indecent, lewd and lascivious matter. The bill is House Bill 120.

F. J. S.—Your inquiry should be addressed to the Department of Agriculture, Washington. At no other place can a satisfactory reply be given.

BUTTER.—Yes, the Supreme Court of the United States has held the oleomargarine law to be constitutional, being but the exercise of the police power of the State.

LA.—The lottery forces were defeated in the Louisiana election. The reason you have seen in the paper is, because the lottery proposition was withdrawn and the question omitted from nearly all the tickets. An anti-lottery majority was elected to the Legislature, however.

ASYLEM.—Switzerland has abolished the right of asylum extended heretofore to political criminals. The new law went into force only recently; technically, therefore, you lose your bet.

EDS. RECORD-UNION: What became of the anti-Chinese resolution that the papers say was introduced in the National Editorial Convention?

CAUCASIAN. [It was sent to the Committee on Resolutions and the House of Representatives.] TISA.—Texas was admitted to the Union December 29, 1845. The first passage of the Turks into Europe was in 341.

Why the reconstruction of the positive and negative electricity always to be found in the upper and lower strata of the globe, says M. de la Rive, the noted geophysicist.

An interesting feature of "Harper's Weekly," published May 28th, was an account by W. H. Murray, King, of a recent ascent of the great volcano, Ometepe, near Lake Nicaragua. The article was illustrated. The same number contained Richard Harding Davis' seventh article on "The West from a Car Window," giving an account of what was seen by "A Cavalier at an Army Post," by several striking illustrations by Remington. There was also a variety of articles, stories, poems, and illustrations apropos of the occasion.

"The Church at Home and Abroad" (Philadelphia) for June has these papers: "Cows and Folks," by Andrew Farnsworth; "An Open Door," by Rev. Charles A. Killip; "London Missionary Society," by Rev. James Johnston; "Mrs. Bishop's Travels," by Rev. B. Labaree; "A Study in Arkan Missions," by Rev. P. F. Leavens, D. D.; "Teaching Geography in China," Rev. F. H. Chaffin; "Home Missions from a Patriotic Standpoint," by Rev. J. H. Chaffin; "Evolution of the American Negro," by Thomas Nelson Page has written for "Harper's Young People" a two-part story, entitled "Two Prisoners," the first chapter of which, appropriately illustrated, appeared in the issue of this periodical for May 10th.

THE EDITORS. They Went Up into the Mining Regions This Morning. The two special trains carrying the members of the National Editorial Association arrived from Chico about 9:30 last night, and left again at 2 o'clock this morning for Dutch Flat and Grass Valley, where they are to visit the mines. They were met at the depot by members of the local press, and the officers were informally entertained for a couple of hours at the Sutter Club.

W. H. Mills was to have accompanied the party to Dutch Flat, but the sudden death of a neighbor and intimate friend prevented him from leaving home.

BRIEF NOTES. Blackberries have been in the markets nearly all this week, and are becoming plentiful.

This evening the Capitol Turf and Driving Club members will again be out for a ride at Dutch Flat.

Memorial Day exercises were held on Thursday evening by Edward Robie Circle, No. 2, Ladies of the G. A. R.

A little girl was thrown from her horse at Dutch Flat, Saturday morning, on Thursday evening, but fortunately was not seriously hurt.

The lively little foothill town of Nevada, which has been her summer season of open-air concert, the music is furnished by the local band.

Milton G. Eisner, Grand President; William Osterman, Grand Treasurer, and Louis C. Graham, Secretary of the I. O. O. F., paid a visit to Etham Lodge, No. 37, on Thursday evening.

On Monday evening next the junior department of the Sacramento Y. M. C. A. will tender a reception to the members of the Oakland junior department, Y. M. C. A., at the Sacramento Association's rooms.

Notes From Franklin. A Reception at Frankfort, writing from Frankfort, on the 20th, sends the following items:

The public school has just closed a successful term under the tutelage of Professor J. A. Riley.

A Reception at San Francisco this week, having been called there as a witness in the Bruner case.

Among the corners and goes this week were the Hon. Charles W. Graham of Elk Grove, W. W. Beckley of Colusa, and Mr. Harrington, the teacher at Clarksville.

A young man, a Swede, lately from the old country, was sunstruck last Friday, while working in a hay field on Senator Johnson's ranch. Dr. De Jarnette of this place was summoned by telephone and hastened there, but too late to save him. The funeral took place Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Massey conducting the services.

A Sunday-school was organized Sunday afternoon. A large number of children were in attendance, accompanied by Amelia E. Barr, who was present in person.

The hot wave of last week has been superseded by cool, pleasant weather; just what the hay-makers want.

"Smoking is a vile habit," says the moral reformer; yet, when we see what a source of comfort a pipe is to many a poor hard worked man, we should hesitate to condemn. Many men through ignorance lose half the pleasure of the pipe by smoking inferior tobacco.

"SEAL OF NORTH CAROLINA" is thoroughly matured and blended for the pipe. Smokers themselves have made it the most popular in the United States.
