

WORLD'S FAIR EXHIBIT.

The Board of Supervisors Appropriated $4,000 for the Purpose.

The $7,500 Proposition Carried, But Was Reconsidered—David Lubin Addresses the Board.

The Board of Supervisors disposed of the World's Fair appropriation matter yesterday. David Lubin appeared before the board and reported on behalf of the Sacramento Industrial Association and Sacramento World's Fair Association, which met jointly on Tuesday evening, that those associations favored the appropriation of $5,000 rather than the full amount allowed by law—$7,500. This money, it was agreed, should be used for a county exhibit at the World's Fair, which exhibit should first be shown at the State Fair. Mr. Lubin said that, personally, he preferred the larger appropriation, so that a thoroughly good exhibit could be made.

If a small amount of money only was intended to be appropriated, the board had better keep it at home, as a poor exhibit would hurt the county more than it would help it. Chairman Greer of the board has been working hard to secure the appropriation, but heretofore could only secure one other Supervisor, Mr. Black, to vote with him, the others being opposed to any fairly large appropriation. But yesterday Mr. Bates was in a joking mood, and as a couple of lady advocates of the appropriation were present, announced that he would "just as soon vote for the hull $7,500 as not."

Supervisor Black, taking the cue, immediately moved that that amount be appropriated, and Mr. Greer seconded the motion. In another second the roll had been called and the motion carried. Mr. Lubin and the other advocate present cheered lustily and began shaking hands with the three Supervisors who voted the measure through. But Mr. Greer began to look troubled. "Gentlemen," he said rising and addressing the board, "we started in here with a joke, but we are now in a serious position. If we allow this action to stand I think we will find we have made a mistake—an unwise step. I am a member of the board, and I know that to stand by this board for assistance in getting up an exhibit, and I know that we never asked for nor expected so large an amount. The committee we named to do this work, the board should begin with a smaller appropriation, and then, if that were not sufficient, a little more could be added. But to appropriate the whole amount at this time, I think would be a grave error. We have no means of knowing that the entire amount would be used. It is for me to move that we reconsider our action in appropriating $7,500."

Mr. Greer seconded the motion and voted for it, and now I won't vote to reconsider," said Mr. Bates. "Well, I see my error," replied the Chairman, "and I have a right to correct it. I believe that we are doing as other counties are doing—make small appropriations at a time."

Mr. Bates moved to fix the amount at $5,000, but Mr. Greer offered an amendment fixing it at $4,000. The amendment was carried.

Mr. Greer insisted that the minutes should show that the exhibit thus obtained should first be shown at the State Fair in this city, and afterward removed to the World's Fair.

HIS SKULL FRACTURED. Antonio Pacasso, an Italian, probably fatally injured.

Antonio Pacasso, a laborer in the employ of the Electric Railway Company, was struck on the head with a pick-handle by Simon Fernandez yesterday where they were working on O street. The men were employed with a number of others in taking up the old railroad there, when they quarreled, and Fernandez, who is said to be a Portuguese negro, attacked Pacasso, striking him on the back of the head with a pick-handle. Fernandez's story is that Pacasso and several other Italians came at him in a threatening manner, and he simply defended himself against them. If they had attacked him singly he would not have resorted to the use of the pick-handle, but under the circumstances he claimed he had no other alternative.

The injured man was taken to the Receiving Hospital where he was cared for by the City Physician, who pronounced the skull fractured and feared it might result fatally.

Fernandez was arrested and locked up in the City Jail, after being identified by Pacasso as the man who struck him.

Pacasso's wife came to the Receiving Hospital and has been nursing him constantly since he received his injury.

KILLED BY A TRAIN. Walter Peacock fatally injured at Brighton Junction.

A shocking and fatal accident occurred yesterday at Brighton Junction, four miles east of the city, where the railroads to Stockton and Placerville meet, by which Walter Peacock lost his life.

The unfortunate young man came from Pilot Hill, and was on his way there when he met with the accident which resulted in his death. He was waiting at the station for the train for Folsom, and a freight train came along on the other track.

As both trains neared the station he became confused and jumped upon the track on which the freight was coming, with the result that he was knocked down and badly bruised, beside suffering a fracture of the skull.

He was removed to the County Hospital in an unconscious condition, where he died a few hours afterward. He was only 24 years of age, and was a brother-in-law of Sheriff Conroy of Placer County.

THE BING KONG TONGS. Examination of Two of the Highbinders Progressing Slowly.

The preliminary examination of Chin Hane and Hoey Yeng Sing, for the murder of Lee Gung during the recent highbinder outbreak, has been going on in the Police Court for several days past. The special boxing match which was to have taken place at the rooms of the Sacramento Athletic Club this evening between Henry Rubenstein and Thomas Johnson, has been declared off. A telegram was received from Johnson yesterday from San Francisco, announcing his inability to enter the ring at the agreed time.

From the issue of Johnson's recent correspondence, coupled with the fact that he had neglected choosing seconds, and evinced no interest in the selection of judges, referees, etc., many of the clubmen believe that he never intended to face the gritty and hard-hitting champion, Rubenstein—in other words, that he was afraid of him.

POLICE COURT CULPRITS. Only a Few Offenders Up Before Judge Cravens Yesterday.

J. Harbeck admitted to Judge Cravens yesterday that he had been drunk, and was fined $5 for his "jag."

M. G. Dandried was arraigned for violating Ordinance No. 276, in selling liquor without a license. He asked time to employ counsel, and was given until this morning.

Facundo Martinez, found guilty of battery heretofore, had judgment indefinitely suspended in his case. He showed that he had a sick wife and two children dependent upon him for support, and as the difficulty in which he was implicated was not apparently of his seeking, the Judge was inclined to be lenient, especially as he has borne a good character.

George Irving and John Kelly were arraigned for stealing grain from the Sacramento Transportation Company. Both pleaded not guilty, and demanded a trial by jury. Kelly's case was fixed for Monday next, and Irving's for Thursday, the 15th inst. Verne was ordered for jurors, and the witnesses cited to appear at the times stated.

RESCUED FROM A TOUGH. A Woodland Widow Who Was Led Astray by a Man.

A woman whose home is in Woodland came to this city on Tuesday night to meet her brother. As she did not appear at the hotel where she was to meet her brother, the latter applied to the police, and the woman was found at a down-town lodging-house that has a very shady reputation.

She was not alone, either, having in her company a man whom she met in Woodland before starting for this city, and who had induced her to drink several times. The supposition is that he intended to rob her.

The woman, who is a widow, is said to have been somewhat out of her head since the death of her husband.

LOW DEATH RATE. The General Health of the State Continues Good.

Secretary Laine of the State Board of Health offers some warning suggestions against cholera.

Dr. J. R. Laine, Secretary of the State Board of Health, in his report for the past month, says that mortality reports from 100 cities, towns, villages and sanitary districts, showing a aggregate population of 788,073, show 1,021 deaths from all causes during June. This corresponds to a death rate of 1.29 per 1,000, or 15.45 per annum.

There were 136 deaths due to consumption, 68 to pneumonia, 21 to bronchitis, 5 to congestion of the lungs, 17 to diphtheria and dysentery, 33 to cholera infantum, 63 to other diseases of the stomach and bowels, 22 to diphtheria, 7 to typhoid fever, 14 to typhoid fever, 3 to malarial fevers, 8 to cerebro-spinal fever, 1 to erysipelas, 34 to cancer, 89 to diseases of the heart, 6 to alcoholism and 475 to other causes.

No deaths from la grippe were reported in June.

PREVAILING DISEASES. Reports of prevailing diseases from 70 towns and sanitary districts outside of the large cities show 23 cases of pneumonia, 7 of bronchitis, 6 of pleuritis, 5 of congestion of the lungs, 2 of diphtheria, 5 of dysentery, 53 of cholera morbus, 32 of cholera infantum, 77 of inflammation of the bowels, 22 of scarletina, 31 of measles, 15 of whooping-cough, 43 of la grippe, 24 of typhoid fever, 118 of malarial fevers, 6 of cerebro-spinal fever, 13 of erysipelas, 63 of diphtheria, 63 of neuralgia and 72 of tonsillitis.

June was comparatively a healthy month. The death rate per thousand was 1.29, against 1.81 in May. There is shown an increase of diseases of the stomach and bowels, but that is expected in summer, when the fruit ripens. Cholera infantum is more frequently fatal during the warm weather.

Those diseases which increased the mortality reports of the winter continue to abate. Small-pox is not reported at all. It is, however, reported epidemic at Victoria, B. C., and although Oregon and California are not yet in a position to place an inspector at the northern boundary of the State to detain any persons showing symptoms of the disease.

CONCERNING CHOLERA. Cholera, true to tradition, is following upon the heels of la grippe. It has leaped all boundaries between Asia and Europe, and is reported as devastating the famine-stricken districts of Russia. But with the rapid and easy methods of travel, cholera no longer moves at a man's pace, like a winter messenger. It has arrived at the great capitals of Europe, and consultations are being held to decide what best may be done to stay its fatal spread.

Common prudence would dictate that we look after our private and municipal sanitary affairs. It is just as well to expect no benefits from quarantine in cholera. It has never alone checked the progress of this disease. Cholera has always mocked at quarantine, but it has been repeatedly talked by want of fifth and sixth sense to breathe in and spread from. It is the duty of medical men to explain to the public that cholera is not contracted, like small-pox, measles and scarletina, but from swallowing the germs in water and food, or, after they have effected a lodgment in the throat, from a vitiated and poisoned atmosphere. We may not be visited at all, but the specter will be shorn of half its terrors when we have done all there is to be accomplished to hold it back.

The Ladies' Benefit. All should remember that the popular Mothers' Emporium has been removed to 519 J street. For bargains call on Mrs. F. J. Sullivan.

Dogs. Look out for dogs. City license, water rates, dog license now due. Pay immediately and save trouble.

WRITE TO Cooper for everything in the musical line. 631 J street.

To protect the public from fraud and imposition, the genuine medicine, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, is now sold only through authorized agents. They are the cheapest medicine to use, as well as the best, because in every case, you pay only for the good you get. The money is refunded if they fail to benefit or cure.

Being sold on this peculiar plan of "value received or no pay," the prices of the genuine guaranteed medicines always have been, are, and always will be, as follows: Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, $1.00 per bottle. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, $1.00 per bottle. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, 25c per vial. Dispensed naturally and rightfully attached to any medicines purporting to be Dr. Pierce's, when offered at any other prices than those above given.

"GREEN GOODS" SWINDLERS.

What the Treasury Department Says About Them.

They do Not Sell Counterfeit Money. But Simply Pretend to do so—Their Methods.

A. L. Drummond, Chief of the Secret Service Division of the United States Treasury Department, writes as follows to a banker of this city, exposing the methods of that class of swindlers who pretend to sell counterfeit or contraband paper money. As there are gullible people who are constantly being swindled by these frauds, the letter may serve to put a stop to their guard. Says Chief Drummond:

Sir: From the tenor of your letter I am led to infer that the party offering to sell counterfeit money is of the numerous class of swindlers known by the title of "Boodlers." Such persons never deal in it, but make a pretense of doing so on purpose to inveigle dishonest persons—who would buy counterfeit money if they could—into buying with their good money in the hope of getting counterfeit. These swindlers are usually located in large cities, and New York contains by far the greater number.

They send circulars in imitation of letters by thousands all over the country, inviting their prospective victims to visit New York, naming the hotel at which they should stop, and offering them great inducements to purchase. Those who go after such lures never obtain counterfeit money, and seldom return home without leaving all of their good money in the hands of these plausible but dangerous swindlers.

In August, 1885, James T. Holland, of Abilene, Tex., allured to the city of New York by a circular similar to that forwarded by you, met Tom Davis and Theodore, his brother. These men, while pretending to sell Holland $10,000 of so-called counterfeit money, but which were genuine notes, cheated him out of his good money. Holland, at once discovering the cheat, shot Tom Davis, killing him instantly. A jury subsequently acquitted Holland.

Another practice is to toll on their victims by sending a genuine one or two dollar note, or parts of the same, and representing them to be specimens of the counterfeit notes they have for sale.

Under the various names of "Green Articles," "Green Cents," "Green Leaves," etc., they offer for sale counterfeit money which they aver is printed on plates stolen from the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. Not a plate of any kind has ever been stolen from that establishment.

Those who have counterfeit money for sale do not write offers requesting strangers to buy it. Even after the introduction of a new man by one counterfeiter to another, it takes a long time to establish such friendly relations as would induce a counterfeiter to trust a newcomer. Yet thousands of criminally minded people, who can purchase counterfeit money as they would butter or cheese, and in their attempts to obtain it, are robbed, and an honest public sentiment says, "Get out."

The crime of which the "boodler" is guilty is covered by Section No. 5480, United States Revised Statutes, as amended and approved March 2, 1882, and the offender, upon conviction, is liable to a fine of $500 and imprisonment for eighteen months. It is next to impossible to obtain legal redress against these swindlers; and were one of them arrested and brought to trial, the testimony of the main witness (he who lost the money) would be weakened by the fact that he would have been a criminal if he could.

This office is in daily receipt of "boodle" circulars, sent in from all parts of the country, hence the necessity of putting this explanatory statement in its present form.

SMALL FIRES. Some of Them the Work of Bold Incendiaries.

A defective stovepipe caused a small blaze in the tannery factory on Seventh street between H and I yesterday morning, but neighbors extinguished the fire.

About 10 o'clock yesterday morning a barn on the premises of C. J. Huggart at Twenty-fifth and O streets, but the damage resulting was small.

Somebody attempted to burn the church at Twenty-fifth and K streets late on Tuesday night by setting on fire some rubbish in the rear of the building. It was discovered in time, however, to save the structure.

Several attempts at arson have been made lately and if the guilty parties could be caught they will be apt to realize that they had mistaken their vocation.

MR. JONES' JAG. Thought He Was a Bicycle and Combined Himself to the Road.

In response to a telephone call Special Officer Greer went to Tenth and P streets yesterday evening with his ambulance to suppress a drunk who was reeling in that vicinity.

Officer Ahern accompanied Greer, and when the officers reached the scene they found their man laboring under the delusion that he was a bicycle. He had taken to the road, and was rolling along at a good gait, and in a few moments after a lively tussle, the roly individual was extracted from the dust and taken down by the police station, where he said his name was Jones—John (sic) Jones.

SERIOUS CHARGE. A Walnut Grove Butcher Accused of Threatening His Family.

Yesterday Mrs. Fred Wickers of Walnut Grove came to the city and swore out a warrant against her husband for threatening to murder her and their three children, and Constable Brissel left for the village to make the arrest.

A few months ago Mrs. Wickers applied for and was granted permission by the Superior Court to conduct business on her own account, and it was apparent then that matters were not running smoothly between her and her husband.

FAITHLESS CRISMAN. He Left His Wife and a Hotel Business for Another Woman.

Mrs. Mary Crisman, who keeps the Hibernia Hotel on the river front, was granted a divorce from her husband, William H. Crisman, by Superior Judge Catlin yesterday on the ground of desertion.

It appeared from the evidence that he maltreated his wife while living with her, and finally left her to go to another woman, going to Fresno, where he is now living with her.

KELLEHER'S FRIEND. How He Came to Grief at Roseville Yesterday.

James Kelleher, evidently a hard-working countryman, came in from Haggin's ranch on Monday, and preparatory to going to Roseville indulged in a spree. On Tuesday he fell in with a man by the name of J. M. Hartley, and as Hartley was without money Kelleher provided for the drinks for the two on numerous occasions, and on Tuesday night induced his new friend to consent to go with him to Roseville.

The two men went to the depot, where Kelleher purchased tickets for himself and Hartley, and while waiting for the train Hartley patronized the saloons in the neighborhood.

It seems that Hartley withstood liquor better than Kelleher, for the latter succumbed and went to sleep, whereupon Hartley "went through" him, taking his watch and chain and $17 in coin. Hartley then disappeared.

As soon as Kelleher regained his senses he reported at the police station, where it was learned from Kelleher that he and his "friend" had rendezvoused at a saloon at Second and I streets, and that the proprietor could probably describe the fraudulent companion.

McLaughlin, proprietor of the saloon, gave a description of Hartley, and promising he had gone to Roseville on the ticket purchased by Kelleher, a telephone message was sent to Constable Trippet, requesting him to watch the train and arrest Hartley if he appeared.

Kelleher's watch was found on Hartley, and he was promptly identified by his victim and by McLaughlin.
