

THE MINING EXHIBIT.

To be Held Here During the Coming State Fair.

Address by the Committee to All Persons and Localities Interested, as to Its Purposes.

The special committee having in charge the matter of collecting and arranging a mining exhibit for the coming State Fair has issued its prospectus, coupled with a request to all persons and communities interested to aid the exhibit in every way.

The committee addresses its announcement to manufacturers of mining machinery of every description; builders of electrical apparatus for mining use; makers of hydraulic appliances for direct or transmitted application of power; inventors of processes, models and mechanical devices relating to mining; dealers in or agents for mining tools and supplies; owners of mines, practical mine operators and miners generally. Says the committee:

It has been decided by the State Agricultural Society to have, in connection with the State Fair for 1892, a State mining exhibit—a display devoted exclusively to the mining interests of the State of California.

With this object in view, the Sacramento Industrial Association, composed of the leading business men of the Capital City, have appointed a special committee to co-operate with and assist the State society in organizing a department devoted exclusively to the mining interests of California, believing that by so doing the annual State exposition will assume an importance greater than hitherto acquired, and that the commercial welfare of the State will be promoted.

Transportation will be furnished free for all exhibits in Mining Department, on following conditions: Freight must be paid on articles shipped to exhibit, after which, on reshipment back to point whence originally forwarded, upon presentation of a receipt signed by the Secretary, and original expense bill, money paid will be refunded, and no charge will be made for return freight.

For details relating specially to the mining exhibit, apply either to the Chairman or Superintendent.

Due notice will be given in way of premiums for which premiums are not given in schedule.

This exhibit will be the nucleus of the grand display of California at the World's Fair, and the State Agricultural Society takes pride in being the first to aid to encourage the display of California's resources at that exhibition.

It is the intention of the special committee having in charge the mining exhibit to afford the many thousands of spectators, attracted by business observation as well as pleasure, varied practical illustration of the processes of mining as carried on in the manipulation of the different gold-bearing materials by the different mechanical appliances now in vogue.

Among some of the prominent features already in course of preparation may be mentioned slusher and other quartz-reduction mills, with attachments which will be in actual operation, propelled by electricity.

There will also be afforded an illustration of some of the primitive methods adopted by the early gold-hunters and not yet wholly discarded in new and remote localities.

In its general character the exhibit will be a practical working display, made in all respects as realistic as circumstances will permit.

Besides, there will be provided a number of unique and novel features that will lighten the general interest. One of which will be a handsome trophy—participated in by some of the most expert miners—in single and double, and in the quarrying, breaking and sinking, and in the particulars of which will be hereafter announced.

Members of the press throughout the State, and especially those who reside in the mining regions, and whose interests are largely identified with mining, are respectfully requested to lend their influence in making a success of the approaching event.

Besides those to whom this circular is specially addressed—and whose active aid is invoked—it is desirable to awaken the interest of the general public, that every one may put forth an effort in behalf of an undertaking to awaken renewed interest in mining, and bring into greater prominence the wonderful natural wealth possessed by this State.

George M. Mott of Sacramento is Chairman of the committee, and W. G. Scott of 22 Montgomery street, San Francisco, Superintendent and secretary.

In connection with the mining exhibit, special attention is called to the fact that there will be an extensive and varied display of minerals, quartz, agate, building stone, etc.

There are numerous private collections throughout the State, from which loan contributions are urgently requested. It is expected that this will be a strong feature of this year's exposition.

FOUND DEAD

Sudden and Unexpected Demise of J. Kirkland.

J. Kirkland, a young man who had been employed as a salesman in the Red House for a year and a half, up to a few months ago, was found dead in his bed at the Clarendon House on Saturday afternoon.

He retired on the preceding night in apparently good health, and the news of his death was quite a shock to his friends. There was a rumor about the city that the deceased had taken poison, but it is said that there is nothing to warrant that conclusion.

It has also been said that the deceased had been drinking hard, but his fellow clerks say it is not so, and point to the fact that, during his long employment at the Red House, he was never absent from his duty, as a sufficient refutation of the report.

An autopsy was held on the body yesterday, when it was found that the deceased came to his death from gastritis.

THROWN FROM A CART

A Man and His Wife Quite Seriously Injured.

About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a man and his wife were thrown from a cart at the American river bridge on Twelfth street. The accident was caused by the lines having caught on the shafts, and the horse becoming frightened overturning the cart.

The man had three ribs broken, while the lady had one of her arms and shoulders broken. The couple were Germans, who are conducting a cheese dairy and were returning from town to their home, but their names could not be ascertained.

"His Chances Are Good." The condition of affairs in the contest for the Republican nomination for Congress in this district is now very favorable to Grove L. Johnson's candidacy.

The convention will be held at the time the convention meets in Sacramento it is to be hoped that there will be a unanimous vote for him. From estimates at hand it is believed that he will receive fifty-five of the votes of the delegates if Bittie, with her nine votes, goes on the unit rule. If not, he will bring five, which will give him a majority of just enough to make him the nominee.

These figures are based on estimates that do not include the Nevada County delegation, which will probably be divided, and on his getting but one vote from Yuba, whereas it is quite likely he will get three and perhaps four.—Marysville Appeal.

"RAILROAD JACK."

Arrival Here of the Champion Canine Traveler.

He Started From Albany, N. Y., and is Making a Quiet Tour of the Continent.

A large-sized Scotch terrier, known as "Railroad Jack," arrived in this city at 4:05 p. m. for San Francisco, thence to return East via the New Orleans route, to his home in Albany, N. Y.

"Railroad Jack" is making a tour of the principal cities, presumably for his health, but possibly for mere pleasure. He stops only at cities of consequence, avoiding way-stations and small towns. He travels with the express companies, exclusively, and not even a Pullman car porter can get a cent out of him.

Appended to Jack's collar is a large package of tags showing that he left Albany, N. Y., on July 15th, reached Buffalo the same day, and thence came through Cleveland, St. Louis, Kansas City, La Junta, Col., Pueblo, Salt Lake, Denver and Ogden. He remained over night in Salt Lake City, and from Ogden went via the Oregon Short Line to Portland, Or., arriving there on the 14th instant.

Leaving Portland for Sacramento, he arrived here, as stated, at 4:05 yesterday morning, and left for San Francisco in the afternoon.

Jack was introduced to several Sacramento dogs, but assumed an aristocratic indifference, and did not manifest much interest in the capital city. He is evidently a staid old chap, and has learned to adopt a dignified policy of avoiding strangers, one who enters the time away, and took his train in the evening in a nonchalant, matter-of-course way.

His brass collar is engraved with the following inscription: "Railroad Jack, Headquarters Union Depot, Albany, presented by Illustrated Buffalo Express."

On his arrival at Albany Jack will be met by a committee of railroad men and royally welcomed home. He has evidently enjoyed a prosperous and pleasant trip, and is as fat as a rhinoceros.

MR. BUEHLER'S WOE.

When Arrested She Tried to Succeed With Novel Weapons.

Mrs. Buehler was arrested on Saturday afternoon for creating a disturbance on Third street. It appears that she indulges in intoxicating liquors, and when under the influence goes on the warpath in quest of a neglected husband.

When confined in the City Jail she raved continually, and applied to jailer Nagel for a knife. She did not attract much attention, as she was evidently intoxicated, but about 7 o'clock she was discovered by the jailer.

She had cut her arm with a common lead pencil and was digging away at the wound when jailer Nagel took the pencil away from her. She next tried to cut her arm with a broken comb, and the officers put her in a straight-jacket.

Yesterday morning she seemed to have recovered her normal condition, and on promising to beware of liquor and keep off the streets, she was released.

QUARRERLIOUS CHILDREN.

One arrested for Throwing a Missile Which Struck a Neighbor's Child. A warrant was applied for on Saturday evening at the police station for the arrest of a 14-year-old girl named O'Connell, living on I Street, between Eleventh and Twelfth.

It appears she got into a quarrel with a boy, who, it is claimed by the father, threw a clod or stick at her. She threw a small stick in return, which missed the

SOCIAL AND POLITICAL.

The Bicyclists are Moving for Closer Affiliation.

They Even Propose to Have Something to Say in Politics—Candidates Take Notice.

And now it is the bicyclists who propose to go into politics. Such trivial things as national issues—the tariff, the silver question, lending money to farmers and other questions—are not to be considered in preference to the all-absorbing one as to whether or not the wheelmen are to have good roads over which to ride their machines, and it is presumed—unrestricted territory.

The San Francisco Bicycle Club has sent out circulars suggesting to the "icycling clubs of California the advantage of forming an association similar to the Metropolitan Association of Cycling Clubs of New York and Brooklyn, and the associated clubs of Philadelphia, Chicago and New Jersey.

According to this circular, the object of the proposed association may be stated in part as follows: "To promote friendly relations among the clubs, and co-operation in all matters relating to the advancement of 'icycling and the work of the League of American Wheelmen."

"To establish and contest championships, to be known as Pacific Coast championships, at distances other than those at which championships have been fixed by the League of American Wheelmen."

"To assume control of, regulate and legislate for road racing in California, and to receive and pass upon all claims for records made on the road in competition or against time, at stated distances or between certain well-known points."

"In the event of the failure of the Metropolitan Association of New York and Brooklyn, and an ex-President of the L. A. W., speaking of his association, says: "One of the features of the association is a committee on political action, and I have no doubt that when thoroughly organized some excellent results may be expected. It is an opportunity to bring the clubs together."

By the political action to which Mr. Lusk refers, is meant exerting an influence, where practicable, in the election of municipal and legislative officers who favor bicycling, and the like.

All clubs have been requested to send delegates to a conference to be held in San Francisco on the evening of the 30th instant.

If the proposed association be formed, candidates for office are likely to be "stood up" in the usual manner, and other associated interests are in the habit of dealing with them.

There are no lies on the wheelmen.

HE GOT THE YEAST.

An El Dorado Husband Who Does Things on a Big Scale.

Frank Myers, a resident of Placerville, made a purchase in Sacramento for his wife last week, but it is not likely he will soon be called on to make another.

Mrs. Myers wanted some yeast, and as Myers was coming to the city she requested him to purchase some and send it by the first train. Myers concluded that it would be a good thing to lay in a supply, so he dropped into a bakery and ordered $5 worth. The order surprised the baker, but as the customer paid, his money for it he concluded the latter knew what he wanted.

The next morning a small barrel arrived at the Myers' residence and was placed in the barn. The day was very warm, the stuff began to ferment, and then followed an explosion. When Myers got home he had no beer, and his friends have made his life miserable by asking him what is the wholesale price of yeast.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

A Good Programme That Was Appreciated and Enjoyed.

A large crowd gathered at the Plaza last evening, and those in attendance were well entertained by the Hussar Band. The programme was of excellent one and a number of the pieces rendered were encored.

Number seven received special applause and was repeated in its entirety. It was entitled "Descriptive Conglomerate," and it was an effort to reproduce various baritone and four sounds.

The Irish overture, "Humors of Donnybrook," was also encored, and several of the pieces were heartily appreciated.

STRUCK BY A CAR.

Attorney John Swezey Quite Badly Injured on K Street.

He Was Riding a Fractious Horse When the Collision Occurred—His Leg Fractured.

Charles E. Swezey, the land lawyer, met with a serious accident Saturday evening, while riding a horse on K Street. He is accustomed to going to Wilson's stable on K Street almost every evening and getting a saddle-horse for himself and another for his wife. Saturday evening about 5 o'clock he called at the stable as usual and started off, leading the side-saddled horse by the bridle and riding to his home.

The horse on which the attorney was mounted began acting ugly as soon as it left the stable, giving evidences of a desire to "buck" and be balky. Swezey was getting as best he could toward Fourth street when an electric car approached from the rear. The motor man stopped the car first and as soon as he saw the balky horse moving off the track started up again. But the horse did not get out of the way as quickly as was expected and ran into by the car.

Mr. Swezey was thrown from his horse violently and seriously injured. A number of persons ran to his side, and he was conveyed back to the stable where a physician was summoned.

It was found that Mr. Swezey's leg was badly fractured, as was also his left ankle. Beside this he was considerably bruised up, and, it is feared, internally injured.

As soon as possible the injured man was placed in a carriage and removed to his home.

The dashboard of the street-car was considerably battered up, but the horse was uninjured.

Are not the only abode of malaria. You find it everywhere, even in localities where atmospheric and sanitary conditions would seem to be unfavorable to its development. The universal remedy for and preventive of the dire complaint is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Wherever the malarial assumes its most virulent form, and whether it be chills and fever, bilious, remittent, dumb ague or ague cake, the bitters is most popular and constitutes the best means of protection and cure. From Maine to the Isthmus of Panama, in Guatemala, Mexico, South America and the tropics this truly famous medicine has won "golden opinions" from all conditions and classes in more than a metaphorical sense. For debility, indigestion, constipation, rheumatism, insomnia, neuralgia, liver and kidney trouble it is highly efficacious. Use it with persistence.

HISTORIC CALL.

Sacramentans Called Upon to Contribute to the Exposition.

The Historical Section of the Associated Effort to aid the State Fair, is receiving from all over the State promises of loans for the exhibition, typical of the pioneer, missionary, Spanish, Mexican and railroad era of California history. The section wants Sacramentans to now contribute with it on the subject of the State Fair. It is a store of historic articles of interest in the homes and societies of this county, and it should be brought to the attention of the section at once. E. M. Woodson, Assistant Secretary of the section, 511 K Street, says he will respond promptly to all notices of contemplated loans for the exposition, and give all desired information on application. D. Lubin is Chairman of the section. Chris Green, W. D. Lawton and Joseph Steffens, also of the

A RAW DEAL.

The Stockton Umpire Defeated the Sacramentans.

As a Failure He Proved Himself to be a Howling Success—A Big Crowd Present.

The Scott & Gilbert Baseball Club went over to Stockton yesterday to play with the club of that city and were beaten by the umpire, who gave them the worst of every decision; in fact, his umpiring, according to the judgment even of most of the Stockton players and of the majority of the spectators, gave at least seven runs to the Stockton club.

The game opened up with the Stocktons at the bat, and they scored one run. In the Scott & Gilbert half the latter secured two runs. In the second inning, after two of the Stocktons were out, Callen, who pitched for the visitors, caught a runner napping at first and threw him out. The umpire declared him safe, but afterward acknowledged his mistake.

The Stocktons made two runs in the fourth, but the Scott & Gilbert's tied the score at 4 to 4. In the sixth inning, after two men were out, Pace (catcher for the Sacramentans) threw to second, and although the umpire was standing right over the base and the runner was over two feet on the other side and not touching any part of the base, he declared him safe, but could not explain why he did it.

In the eighth, after two men were out, an infield hit was made when a runner was on third. The Sacramento boys accepted it no longer, and walked off the diamond and started for home. After talking the matter over while better judgment prevailed, and they decided to play the game out. The score at the finish was 10 to 6 in favor of Stockton.

Gilbert had his new battery, Callen and Pace, formerly of Santa Rosa, and the opinion of the Stockton people is that they are the best battery that has ever visited Stockton. Callen watches the bases closely, never letting a runner get any start.

The throwing of Pace was remarkable. The feature of the game, however, was a line hit to third baseman Nedding, of the Scott & Gilberts, by John Shurr. It lifted him off the ground and he fell back, but he recovered himself and threw the runner out at first base.

The Stocktons have a new battery from the delinquent Texas League—Moody, pitcher, Callen and Pace, catcher. Their playing was very good.

Pace, at shortstop, and McDaniels, at centerfield, both played their positions well.

The new electric cars are running in Stockton and are a good drawing card. The largest crowd that ever attended a ball game in Stockton was present at yesterday's game.
