

THE RIVER FRONT.

Inspection by the Trustees and City Engineer.

What was Said and Done at the Citizens' Meeting—The Trustees Severely Criticized.

The Mayor and Trustees Green and Conklin, accompanied by J. O. Coleman, C. A. Luhrs, City Engineer Boyd and a Record-Union reporter, made a tour of the river front below the city yesterday morning.

The entire forenoon was taken up in investigating the present condition of the levee and considering the report made upon the improvements necessary to be made to insure the city against possible damage from high water.

After the inspection of the general condition of the levee and river from the proposition as to raising and widening the levee was discussed, and the advice of the engineer asked upon several questions.

The latter is preparing estimates which will be submitted to the board on Monday next.

It was generally agreed by the members of the board that the levee should be raised, and to some extent, but until the estimates are made no decision as to the extent of operations can be reached.

Mayor Constock was of the opinion that all necessary improvements could be made without the issuance of bonds, by following precedents heretofore established, in that the city's debt was as good as its bond for the amount that would be required.

Mr. Coleman, representing the citizens' meeting held July 1st, and adjourned last evening, wanted to know if the Trustees would submit some report of their inspection at the meeting which was to take place on Monday evening.

He thought the property-owners represented at the meeting would appreciate such a report, and that it would have a good effect. He thought such action on the part of the board would prevent some criticism and show that the Trustees were alive to the importance of the project.

Trustee Conklin objected. He thought the Trustees should not recognize the meeting or its committee as a body of Sacramento, and positively opposed making any report at the meeting or elsewhere.

"We would have been as prompt to act in the matter without the resolution adopted at that meeting," said he. "We are not prepared to make any report, and we have given the committee all the recognition in having placed its resolutions, as given to us, on file."

Mr. Coleman argued that he did not ask for any special report, but for a plan, but thought it would be the proper thing for the board to inform the meeting that it was investigating and preparing to take action at an early day.

The matter was still a subject of debate when other things attracted the attention of the party.

Trustee Green stated, however, that he would be present at the meeting in the evening, and Mr. Boyd also volunteered to go prepared to answer any questions, but would not expect to furnish any figures.

The party next inspected the places in the levee near Y street, at what is called Braman's Addition, where there was considerable damage last spring, but through no damage was done to the levee and the trouble could be easily remedied.

The sewer pipes at the river were found unjoined for a hundred yards, and there was evidence that they had been displaced by wash-out, and had been replaced by wash-out and hauled sand from within a few feet of the pipes. This broke the ground, and the water came in and washed out and disconnected the pipes.

It was decided to at once stake out 80 feet, which is property Y street, to the river and order all persons to refrain from taking dirt or sand from this reserved ground in which the pipes are laid.

Where the pipes dump into the river it was ordered to have some more piles driven, and Trustee Green said he had arranged with Barry, Layton & Co. to do the work, and they are to go about this morning. They will put the piles in order and drive the additional piles required.

It was also thought a good plan to put in a sort of windgam of piles to protect the pipe where it extends into the river.

Messrs. Luhrs and Coleman accompanied the Trustees in all their investigations, and the party got the full benefit of a very "hot wave" along the sands and rocks of the levee.

CITIZENS' MEETING. The Trustees censured for their lack of energy.

There was another citizens' levee meeting at the Court-house last evening. Ex-Senator F. R. Dray presided and the following persons were present: J. O. Coleman (Secretary), S. Prentiss Smith, H. M. LaRue, B. L. Steinman, C. E. Adams, G. W. Lorenz, P. Schmitt, G. H. Cummings, James McCreary, E. A. Crouth, H. Weinstein, S. Laverson, Mayor Constock, Trustee E. H. Green, Frank Miller, A. Abbott, W. F. Peterson, A. Johnson, Felix Tracy, J. C. Pierson, E. K. Alsip, D. W. Hibbons, Captain J. Roberts, C. A. York, W. D. Lawton, Dr. W. A. Briggs, F. Mier, V. S. McClatchy, C. N. Post, E. C. Atkinson, L. B. Richards, General T. W. Simpson, Matt F. Johnson, R. D. Stephens, Joseph Arnold, J. H. McKune, E. W. Haie, A. Heilbron, L. Mohr, Dr. G. L. Simmons, C. A. Luhrs, C. Boyer, Victor Holt, William Beckman, Charles McCreary, and others.

After the meeting had been called to order Secretary Coleman read letters of regret from several prominent citizens and taxpayers who had been invited to attend, but had other engagements.

F. Mier took the floor, and after referring to the resolutions adopted at the last meeting, asked what, if anything, the City Trustees had done to improve the levee's condition, and what they intended to do for its improvement.

There was a silence lasting several minutes, and then Mayor Constock took the floor. He said that the board had instructed Engineer Boyd to inspect the levee between H and Y streets, and along the Y street levee. No report had yet been received regarding this inspection. Probably the Trustees would have this report, and he would, however, he considered it in good condition, and did not think the Trustees would be justified in spending much money on it.

E. K. Alsip said that if the Trustees did not intend to profit by the suggestions of the citizens—those who are most interested in the welfare of the city—there was no use for further meetings. He asked Trustee Green, who was also present, what his views on the subject were.

He thought that some work should be done along the river front from H street to Y, and thence up the north levee to Seventh street. A great deal would have to be expended from the Southern Pacific Company, but probably the Trustees would have to lead off. The City Engineer was making a survey below K street and would probably have a report ready

GET READY.

Assurance of Great Crowds at the State Fair.

A Suggested Organization to Accommodate and to Insure Fair Prices.

All the indications now point toward the largest attendance upon the State Fair in September in this city ever known in the history of the State Agricultural Society. The associated effort to aid the exposition by new features added to it have, in the matter of the historic and mining exhibits, alone assured the exposition of wider advertisement and greater attractiveness than in any previous year of its history. There will be an unusually fine produce and stock exhibit, probably the largest and best ever made upon the coast. There will be a very large display of exhibits that will go to the World's Fair at Chicago, so that the assurance is that we will have a great gathering of people.

Sacramento can accommodate comfortably 20,000 guests a day, and she ought to prepare to do it now. Her good name and her reputation for hospitality will be at stake, and possibly her credit, if she fails now, she will lose all assemblages of great bodies in the future and in other directions. There will be no failure if there is system, for there must be system to prevent possible extortion by some, and to secure for each guest a comfortable lodging at a reasonable price.

There is just one way to do this: Organize a Citizens' Reception Committee, have its headquarters just before and during the fair at the little exhibit building near the depot. Make a canvass of the city and ascertain exactly how many guests for each night, and many and the price to be charged. It means to secure a grading of these prices to a fair figure. Then let guests as they arrive be directed to the kind of accommodation they want.

As fast as rooms are vacated the owners should be notified, and the committee day by day that others may be accommodated. As will be obvious, by a method any good disciplinary committee could see to it that there shall be no over-crowding. This fact ought to be made known before the middle of August throughout the State that the people may be assured that if they attend the exposition they shall have good accommodation without extortionate charges.

The details of the plan suggested are readily seen to be good and reasonable, and should be taken therefore at once in this matter; there is no time to lose; the sooner it is attended to the better. In the meantime the people can rest assured that there is going to be a very large attendance in the two fair weeks, and they must prepare to receive them as best as possible. It will require the entire evening room to show public spirit and arrange to receive decent people as temporary lodgers.

The Native Sons of the Golden West managed this kind of a thing handsomely in San Francisco two years ago, and with very little friction. Minneapolis did it well on the occasion of the meeting of the Republican National Convention. Sacramento must do likewise, and preparation for it cannot be made too early, because it is vitally important that news be sent abroad of the capacity and readiness of the city, and assurance that there will be accommodation in plenty and at fair prices.

There ought to be common agreement that this shall be a red-letter occasion in our history; that there shall be no over-crowding, no over-crowding, no imposition, but such generous action by private citizens, and by hotel-keepers, that no guest shall go away with the slightest excuse for complaining, but with only praise of the capital city in their mouths. Such are the friends in these days of hot rivalry between communities, and she ought to know how to make them.

Christian Endeavor Social. The ladies of the Christian Endeavor Society will give an invitation social at the Congregational Church this evening. A novel programme of entertainment has been arranged, and as the affair has been prepared for some time by a committee of experienced ladies, it promises to be an exceptionally pleasant occasion.

Thrown From a Cart. The horse of D. J. Mannix, the plasterer, became unmanageable at Sixth and L streets last evening and dashed against the sidewalk, wrecking the cart in which Mr. Mannix was riding and throwing him to the ground. Mr. Mannix was considerably scratched and bruised, but escaped serious injury.

Claimed to Have Been Robbed. A stranger, who said he was from Stockton, reported on the street last night that four men had "stolen him up" and robbed him. He did not, however, report the matter to the police, so there may be no truth in the story.

The Florence Mission. At the Florence Mission this evening Rev. J. B. Silcox, pastor of the Congregational Church, will preach. The nightly meetings continue to be well attended.

MAY BE RECOVERED. Attorneys Must Not be Paid to Assist in Criminal Prosecutions. The Superior Judge of Modoc County, Judge Chaffin, has decided that the employment by the Supervisors of that county of Attorneys Spence and Bakerto assist the District Attorney in criminal cases was illegal. He holds that their appointment is void, and has enjoined the County Treasurer from paying them money for their services.

A similar decision was made in a Yolo County case, and the Judge of that county has decided two similar cases in the same way.

The authorities hold that it is illegal for the Supervisors to employ attorneys for the prosecution of criminal cases, and that any fees paid such attorneys may be recovered by the county.

It is, however, allowable to employ attorneys to assist prosecuting attorneys in civil suits.

SUNDAY'S GAME. A Hot Contest Between the Vallejos and Scott & Gilberts. The Vallejo baseball team, which is said to be the crack one of the Valley League, will be here on Sunday and play against the Scott & Gilberts of this city. The latter team expect to have as their battery Mooly and McDonald, late of the Stocktons. These men were in the game two weeks ago when the Stocktons gained such a brilliant victory over the Vallejos.

Those who witness the coming game may expect to see fully as exciting a contest as the clubs of the league can put up.

RESULTED FATAU. Antonio Paacasi Dies from the Effects of a Blow. Antonio Paacasi, the Italian laborer who was injured a week ago in an affray with Simon Fernandez, a Portuguese negro, while working on O street, died yesterday from the effects of the blow he then received from a pick handle.

City Physician C. B. Nichols made an autopsy on the body and found that Paacasi's skull had been fractured from the crown to its connection with the spinal column.

Corner Clark took charge of the body of Paacasi and will hold an inquest thereon.

LOST HIS BEARINGS. The Driver of a Sprinkling Cart Wanders Upon M Street. A resident of M street, in the vicinity of Eighteenth, telephoned to this office at

THAT SUNDAY ROW.

The Three Barbers Tell a Different Story From Hellman's.

William Morton, one of the men injured in the affray last Sunday night at Robert Hellman's place at Twenty-eighth and B streets, left the Receiving Hospital yesterday, although it will be some weeks before the wound on his arm will be well.

Hayes, his companion, who was shot through the left arm, shattering the bone, is not getting along as well, and it is not yet certain that amputation will not be necessary.

The men deny that one of their number was trying to shoot Hellman's chickens. Mr. Mier, ever ready to arrest Morton because he saw the latter had been drinking, and that Morton resisted, and his companion went down his side.

They also deny that any of them were armed, and claim that all the wounds inflicted were made by weapons in the hands of the Hellmans. The latter's statement, it will be remembered, is entirely different, and seriously implicated the three barbers—Morton, Hayes and Burkhardt.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Ex-Senator Wolskill is up from Los Angeles. Mrs. E. R. Hamilton is visiting in San Francisco. Superior Judge Van Fleet has returned from San Francisco.

W. P. Lett, a prominent citizen of Riverside, is in the city. Lawyer C. J. Swozy is recovering from the effects of his recent accident.

Miss Letta Wilcox of Yuba City, and Miss Ada Robinson of Visalia are visiting friends here. Mrs. C. A. Luhrs and son Carl, and the Misses Carrie, Louisa and Rose Yeerk are spending their summer outing at Shasta Springs.

On Wednesday, at high noon, as the organ pealed forth a wedding march, there lay out at the cathedral a bridal party, and led by the Rev. Father Grace, were united in marriage, Rev. Father Grace officiating. The bride was attended by her sister and the groom by his brother. After a wedding feast and the congratulations of friends the happy couple left on the 3:00 train for San Francisco on their return they will take up their residence 1721 M street.

The many friends of Mrs. David Hewes of San Francisco will be pained to hear that her condition is very critical. She has been seriously ill for some time, but she had sufficiently recovered a couple of months ago to warrant her sister, Mrs. Leland Stanford, to leave for Washington to attend to the arrangements of her intended departure for the National Capital, in order to be at Mrs. Hewes' bedside. The sad news of her recovery will meet Mrs. Stanford with joy.
