The City Trustees Moving Earnestly in the Levee Matter.

An Important Legal Opinion on the City's Powers—The Necessary Ordinance is Passed.

The session of the City Trustees yesterday was brief. Only one important matter was to be considered, and that was very important—the levee.

Shortly after Mayor Comstock called the board to order Clerk Young read the following legal opinion, touching the levee question, from the law firm of McKune & George:

SACRAMENTO (Cal.), August 27, 1892. Honorable the Board of Trustees of the City of Sacramento: We have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 23rd inst., and in reply to inform you that we have considered the subjects propounded to us.

First—The ordinance adopted at the session of the board on the 23rd inst., and which was introduced, contrary to a practice which has grown up in such matters to read an ordinance at the session it was introduced, and allow it to lie over till the next meeting for final passage, is an ordinance legally passed, and will come up for further hearing at our next session.

Answer—In such matters your powers as a board are limited only by the Constitution, general laws of the State and Charter under which you act, and by the further consideration that your ordinance must be reasonable. Your Charter provides in 2, subdivision 2, that your board shall have power "to make ordinances not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California." A rule of law in the construction of such provisions is, that unless the Charter otherwise provides, such a board can do anything that is reasonable and proper.

Second—In the status of the present debt of our city such that, when compared with the value of the property of the city listed for taxation, a further sum of $100,000 can be legally added to our present indebtedness.

Answer—The ordinance listed for taxation within the city must be the tax-roll as corrected by the Board of Equalization, equal to $15,363,175.

(b) The funded debt of the city, excluding bonds and coupons held by the city, is $1,000,000. The amount of the same, as provided in the Act, approved March 25, 1872, to provide for the redemption of the funded indebtedness of the City of Sacramento, may be set down as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Description and Amount. Includes Liquid Coupon Bonds ($250,000), Ad. Bonds for Street Improvement ($90,000), Ad. Bonds for Levee Improvement ($100,000).

Total $1,240,000. Section Five of Chapter 261 of the Statutes of California, approved March 19, 1881, as amended by Act of March 11, 1891 (Statutes of 1891, page 84), provides that no city shall incur an indebtedness for public improvements, equal to or exceeding five per cent of the taxable real estate and personal property of such city.

(c) Can the bonds and coupons held by that Commission be considered as "indebtedness" of the city within the true intent and meaning of Section 5 above mentioned.

The Act under which that commission is organized is entitled "An Act to provide for the redemption of the funded indebtedness of the city, but to redeem it."

(d) The scope of the Act is to the like effect and clearly indicates that the bonds, when purchased, do not continue to be a charge against the city.

1. The annual tax provided for in Section 1 has been raised from the taxpayers of this city, not to preserve the bonds as a debt to be again paid for the redemption of such bonds.

2. The money so collected from the taxpayers, went into a special fund, to be known as the Funded Debt Sinking Fund, and when that money was used in taking up the bonds of the city, the bonds thus purchased as bonds against the city became and were liquidated.

3. The Act provides that the commissioners with the funds of the city shall purchase funded indebtedness, and that they will see that the Commission, as agents of the city, with the funds of the city, made such purchases, and not in their own right.

4. It seems perfectly clear that all other bonds of the funded debt of this city being paid, those held by the commission are paid. If they constituted a debt against the city, they could not be cancelled by the payment of other bonds.

We might have contented ourselves with giving your honorable board our opinion merely, but we think it best to mention some of our reasons for the same, so that the large amount of bonds and coupons held by the commissioners of the funded debt, which are in no just sense a debt against the city, and we advise that your board is not prevented by any statutory enactment from issuing another $100,000 to the city debt, in your opinion, the same is required.

Third—Ordinance 27, a matter unnecessary in such preliminary legislation, and ought in the future to become an embarrassing one in taking further action.

We have prepared an ordinance which complies with the Act, and is amended, leaving out all unnecessary matter.

We add a clause marked "d," to the ordinance framed by us out of abundant caution, rather than because we think it necessary, and the second ordinance is now ready for adoption at $100,000.

Section 2 of the Act of March 10, 1889, as amended, provides that your honorable board may, after the due publication of an ordinance like the one we have framed, call an election and submit to the qualified voters of said city, town or municipal corporation the proposition for the proposed increase of the bonded indebtedness of the city, and no question other than the incurring of indebtedness for said purpose shall be submitted.

The ordinance calling such special election shall recite the special purpose for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the proposed public improvement, and that the bonds of the municipality shall issue for the payment of the cost of such improvement as in such ordinance set forth.

The validity of the action of your board in the matter must rest largely, in case observed, in the preparation of the ordinance, and we direct your attention to the following matters to be observed in the preparation of the ordinance:

1. You should have plan of the contemplated improvements.

2. You should have estimates of the cost thereof.

3. These should be prepared by a competent engineer, and we recommend, should be for the appointment of the engineer with your determination that he is competent.

4. The plan and estimate by the statute mean an engineer's statement by profile or language or by any other means, which shall enter into the computation of cost to be included in his estimates.

In addition to the usual entry in your minutes and endorsement on the ordinance showing its passage, there should be appended to it the approval of the President of the Board of Trustees.

If you take the course suggested, Ordinance No. 297 should be passed with us, and the new ordinance may be passed without material delay.

The additional question submitted to us we reserve for further consideration, not having time to give the requisite attention, as it will work no delay.

We take the liberty to suggest that the plans, specifications of the contemplated improvements of the levee system contemplated be completed at as early a day as practicable, so that the second ordinance provided for in the Act may be framed with a full knowledge of the things to be done.

Your City Surveyor has prepared a map which will enter into his specifications, and when he completes his field work he can give you a body of the necessary information to enable you to determine exactly what shall be done in the premises. His specifications may then be made to conform to your determination. McKune & George.

Dated August 29, 1892. THE ORDINANCE. The proposed ordinance submitted by the attorneys to the board was then read. It is as follows: The Board of Trustees of the city of Sacramento, State of California, by the unanimous votes of all the members thereof, do ordain as follows: Section 1. It is hereby determined by the Board of Trustees of the said city of Sacramento, said board being the legislative branch of said city, as follows: (a) That the levee and surrounding said city of Sacramento and protecting said city from overflow and inundation, which are now in need of repair by raising, enlarging, widening and improving the same for

THE PURPOSE OF PREVENTING THE OVERFLOW AND INUNDATION OF SAID CITY BY WATER, AND SUCH REPAIRS ARE PERMANENT PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS NOW NEEDED AND REQUIRED IN SAID CITY.

(b) That the public interest of the said city of Sacramento does necessitate the said board to demand that said permanent public municipal improvements, to-wit, said repairs to said levee above mentioned, shall be made.

(c) That the cost of the said permanent public municipal improvements, to-wit, the repairs to said levee above mentioned, will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the said city of Sacramento.

(d) That the cost of said permanent public municipal improvements, to-wit, the repairs to said levee above mentioned, is hereby estimated at $100,000, and the annual income and revenue of the said city of Sacramento for such purposes are insufficient to pay the said estimated cost of said repairs or any part thereof.

Section 2. Ordinance No. 297 of the said city of Sacramento, passed August 22, 1892, is hereby repealed.

IT IS ADOPTED. Mr. Conklin then moved that the rules be suspended and that the ordinance be read the second time immediately, in order to comply with the law. The motion was carried.

The roll was then called on the adoption of the ordinance, and the Trustees voted unanimously for it. Trustee Green announced that City Engineer Boyd would be prepared to make a concrete sidewalk in front of the City Hall, by the necessary levee work by next Monday. Mr. Boyd was by motion formally authorized to proceed with the work.

G. Coleman, on behalf of the Citizens' Committee, offered the services of the citizens in any work the board or engineer might desire. He said that when the matter was raised before the people the committee would furnish election officers, etc., free of charge.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS. The balance of the business which came before the board, was quickly disposed of. Mayor Comstock announced that L. T. Hatfield, representing Thompson and Jacobs, who are applying for a street lighting franchise, had requested that the matter be postponed one week, as he was too ill to be present. The request was granted.

A remonstrance was received from property-owners against the proposed construction of a sewer in the alley, N and O, Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets. As the protestants are in the majority their remonstrance was adopted.

A protest was received from N. D. Goodell against the proposed laying of a concrete sidewalk in front of his premises on Seventh street, between H and I.

An aged lady, who lives at Third and Q streets, appeared before the board and told a tale of woe. She was the owner of a cow and a calf and eked out an existence by selling milk to her neighbors.

The cow had calved and the calf was behind the bars yet, and he wanted another dollar, which she could not raise.

At the suggestion of Mr. Conklin, the Trustees dove into their pockets and "dug up" enough money to release the calf. The old lady departed muttering copious thanks and blessings upon their honor.

A communication was received from the Board of Police Commissioners, recommending that the Trustees give them authority to appoint special police officers for fifteen days in September, covering the State Fair.

Mr. Conklin thought that ten days would be a long enough term for the specials. So did Mr. Green. It was so ordered.

The board passed a resolution of intention to lay out Four street from M to R, by grading and grading, and then adjourned.

SOUTHERN COUNTIES.

Some Whose Tax Assessments Require Explanation.

The Enormous Cattle Ranches in San Luis Obispo—Valuations in Santa Barbara County.

Yesterday was the day set for a hearing of the Boards of Supervisors of San Luis Obispo and Santa Barbara Counties by the State Board of Equalization.

A. M. Hardy, an ex-Assessor of San Luis Obispo, was the only representative from his county, and the hearing was continued over until to-day, as some of the Supervisors are expected.

Mr. Hardy, however, responded to a good many informal queries from members of the State Board, and proved himself to be very familiar with the property values of the county.

Dairying and stock-raising are the leading industries here, and there are a number of large ranches, utilized chiefly for grazing purposes. Among them are the ranches of the Hearst estate of 47,000 acres, the Murphy ranch of 64,000 acres, and that of Christy & Wain containing 74,000 acres.

During the year, according to the assessment roll, there has been a decrease of $90,000 in the aggregate value of cattle, and $225,000 in the value of horses in the county.

The reduction in the value of cattle was accounted for by short feed, which resulted in diseased and diminished herds, while he accounted for the loss in the value of horses by the reduced prices offered for them.

TULARE COUNTY.

SANTA BARBARA TO THE FRONT.

In the afternoon Santa Barbara County, through Frank Smith, its Assessor, and J. L. Barker, Deputy Assessor, was heard by the board. The matter of the board were chiefly in regard to city realty, which seems to be undervalued.

The Assessor contended, however, that he had used the utmost judgment, and believed that in most cases he had, rather than under, estimated values in city property.

He represented that the assessment roll would show an increase in county real estate of about ten per cent, on country property, and land values in Santa Barbara, Santa Maria, Lompoc, Carpinteria and other localities where it seemed to have advanced values were underestimated.

During the present session it was stated by a member of the board that of the fifty-four counties of the State forty-four showed a material increase in their assessment rolls, and but ten a decrease.

Nothing further of general interest came up during the conference, and Santa Barbara, like the other counties which have been heard, will not know what action will be taken by the board for some time.

ART AT THE FAIR.

A Few of the More Noted Works to Be Shown.

The Display Promises to Excel in Interest Those of Former Years—The Exhibitors.

Norton Bush, the well-known artist, who will superintend the fine art exhibit at the State Fair, will come up from San Francisco to-morrow with a magnificent collection of pictures. In addition to those intended for the Art Gallery proper, he will also exhibit a number of other works of art, including a number of the mining exhibit and placed to grace the historical display.

The liberal policy pursued by the Board of Directors of the State Agricultural Society toward the artists of the State, in distributing a large sum of money among them each year, and the gold and silver medals awarded in recognition of their work, has produced the gratifying result that each year brings forth the largest and best collection of art to our annual State Fair. This year will be no exception to the past; in fact, the display that is promised at the coming fair will probably contain a larger number of choice works by the California artists than have ever been shown.

Mr. Bush has met with great success in collecting the exhibit for this year. Amadeo Joullin, whose work in still life has made him the largest and most popular and brilliant picture, "The Balcony of a Joss-House." This picture has been painted expressly for the World's Fair, and will be seen for the first time by the public here.

Mr. Ludovichi will make his first appearance here with several important canvases, the largest and best of which is "Maude Morgan at the Harp." This picture was painted from sketches made while that lady was visiting California in the summer of 1891. The picture is life-size. This picture will also go to the Chicago Exposition.

Ernest Narjot, the veteran artist, who, unfortunately was stricken with blindness several weeks since, had completed for the World's Fair a large picture, entitled "Horse-Racing in a Mexican Village." This will be exhibited at the coming fair, along with a companion picture, called "Pascola—a Mexican Indian Dance."

Several others of Mr. Narjot's pictures will be seen. It is feared that this will be the last exhibition of this artist's work, as his blindness, which has been long left him in such a condition that but little hope is entertained of his recovery.

David Neal, the celebrated American artist, now in Paris, has promised one of his European pictures, which was shown for the benefit of the Polynesian land winter at the rooms of the San Francisco Art Association. Mr. Neal ranks with the best of the European artists abroad.

Lee Lash will be represented with several of his latest works, the most important is "The Old Soldier's Home." Several of the grim and war-scarred veterans are shown sitting around a table, recounting their tales of hard and hair-breadth escapes. The figures are all painted from life. This picture was shown at last year's Minneapolis fair.

Northern California's most famous painter, will have his World's Fair pictures here, "Dripping in Mid-Ocean" and "Mount Chimborazo" in the Andes of Peru. The former, his latest picture, which has been pronounced by his brother artists as the best he ever painted.

Ernest Peixoto, a native of San Francisco, who has spent several years in Paris studying art, will exhibit here for the first time a large number of his pictures in oil, water colors and pen and ink drawings. Among them is a picture of '91 entitled "Devotion"; also his Salon picture of '90 called "November." This young artist has come back to his home with much fame gained in the art center of the world, and all lovers of the beautiful will have an opportunity to see the paintings that have won him so much credit abroad.

Mr. Keith, whose pictures are now acknowledged to be among the best painted by any American artist, will have a number of his recently finished works on exhibition.

R. D. Yelland will make a large display, his large picture, "Castle Crags" being among the number.

Oscar Kunath, who received the gold medal last year in the art department, will exhibit several of his pictures. K. Takahashi, the talented Japanese artist, will make a large showing in the water-color department.

Amelia Austin of Sacramento will, as usual, contribute largely to the exhibition of her latest and best works.

Another Sacramento artist, Katherine D. Almond, now in New York, has sent on, specially for this year's fair, two pictures painted this summer at "Avon-by-the-Sea," New Jersey. Miss Almond will be remembered by our Sacramento people of ten and twelve years ago. She is now following her profession successfully in the East.

Susan Sroufe of San Francisco will make an interesting exhibit of scenes taken at the Great Salton Lake last year. These pictures are intended to be shown at Chicago during the great fair.

Henry Bacon of Paris will send his "Telephone Girl" ("Hello"). Mrs. Mary Richardson of London, whose beautiful picture of "Spring," a young girl in white, was exhibited at the State Fair in 1888, will have Governor Waterman's portrait.

It is expected that Harry Mills of New York, brother of James E. Mills of Sacramento, and a well-known artist, will send his Salon picture of 1888, entitled "The Old Fisherman."

Nellie Burrell (Mrs. W. G. Scott) will repeat this season with a number of her pleasing and interesting pictures.

Mr. Hill, the great landscape artist, has promised to send two of his latest pictures, "Crescent Lake" and the "Rio Grande," which will surely be among the leading features of the art exhibit.

Following is a list of the artists who will be represented in the Art Gallery this year: Amadeo Joullin, Oscar Kunath, Ernest C. Peoxott, David Neal, W. A. Coulter, Mary Curtis Richardson, Susan Sroufe, Fred Florh, Leonora Lash, Kothey Mrs. J. B. Paine, Harry Mills, New York; Miss S. E. Bender, Martha Patterson, Mrs. S. M. Farney, Bertha Springer, Mrs. T. S. Ely, Katherine D. Almond, New York; Josephine Bayley, R. D. Yelland, Lee Lash, J. Ludovichi, Hugo Fischer, Norton Bush, San Francisco; Ernest Narjot, Rupert Schmid, Henry Bacon, Paris; Nellie Burrell (Mrs. W. G. Scott), Amanda Austin, Miss Froelich, A. J. Wagner, Alfred Kraft, Brussels, Miss S. E. Ryder, Madge Richardson, Max Reinhardt, Miss Vassault.

AN OLD ENGINEER GONE.

W. H. Cooley Dies from the Effects of a Recent Injury. The many friends of W. H. Cooley in this community will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred here on Saturday night. Deceased was a brother of Master Mechanic M. W. Cooley of the San Joaquin Division of the Central Pacific Railway Company's system, and latterly had resided at Armona, Tulare County. He was one of the oldest railroad engineers in the United States, and was engaged steadily in railroading for forty-one years, about thirty of which were spent in the locomotive's cab.
