

THE SLAVE FAIR.

SECOND RACE. The sunset stake came next, a sweepstake for 3-year-olds, a mile and one-eighth. But three horses came to the post—Edmond stable's Elmwood, 112; Rudy & Longworth's Eva D., 114; and George Dinsdale's Red Cloud, 122.

In the pools Elmwood brought $50 and the other two $7. Red Cloud acted very bad at the post, repeatedly running away with his rider and delaying the start. The send-off was a good one, however, and Elmwood was reached by Eva D. by an open length. Red Cloud and Elmwood trailing. On the first turn Red Cloud was given his head and when the quarter was reached he led Eva by a half-length, Elmwood close up. In this fashion they ran to the half-mile, but on the far turn were strung out so that there was just daylight between them.

Coming down the last stretch the riders of Elmwood and Eva D. plied the whip vigorously, while Red Cloud was urged easily with the race well in hand. He led under the wire by a length, Elmwood second and Eva close up. The distance was made in 1:58 1/2.

Time, 1:58 1/2.

THIRD RACE. The third race was the Rosemead Handicap, for all ages, one and a quarter miles. It brought out Joseph Stephens' Wild Oats 108, Elmwood Farm's Sir Wall 112, Eureka Stable's Canny Scott 122, Owen Bros' Captain Al 120, W. L. Appleby's Raindrop 108 and H. Jones' Almont 115.

Sir Walter and Almont sold even in the pools at $50, against $10 for Captain Al and $48 for the field, but these rates were constantly changing, and lots of money went into the pool-box before the horses were brought to the post. The scoring six times the flag fell before the horses and down they came to the wire, Al leading, with Almont a nose behind. When the quarter pole was reached the positions had not changed, except that Raindrop had moved up to third place, the other three being lapped and close together. Before the half was reached Almont moved into the lead, and Captain Al's rider resorted to the whip, but had to be content with third place in rounding the far turn. At the head of the stretch Raindrop let out a few links and valized to the front, holding the position to the wire, which she passed with a half length ahead of Almont in 2:08, Canny Scott and Captain Al being about even for third place. The Judges gave it to the Scotchman.

Thus for the third time the "talent" had been downed during the afternoon, and heavily, too. Raindrop, the winner, sold in the field for those who held field pools won a pile of money.

Jones names b. g. Almont, by Three Cheers—115; 2. Eureka Stable names b. c. Canny Scott, by Leinster—Tibbie Dunbar, 122. Time—2:08.

FOURTH RACE. The selling purse, for all ages, three-quarters of a mile, brought out a very large field of horses—Miss Walling 100, Ida Glenn 100, J. H. Adams 108, Keverly 102, Initiation 100, Joshua 109, Gibson 112, Mackey 107, Joe Harding 102, Albatross 110, Leila S., 104, Demard 101, Applause 100, Motto 85.

The pools sold—Field $50, Applause $30, Initiation $21, Lady Glenn $12. Seven attempts were made before the horses got away, and the race was a struggling start. Joe Harding was let at the post, and after traveling a quarter of a mile in a cloud of dust his rider pulled up and quit. It was a very close race, and the half-mile pole, where Motto could be distinguished in front of the others. She led the mob into the homestead, where Ida Glenn and Keverly were close up. Motto fell back, while Ida shot to the front, with Applause at her throat, and thus they swept under the wire, Motto being second, Applause third and Keverly fourth.

FIFTH RACE. The afternoon's sport closed with a selling sweepstake for two-year-olds, five-eighths of a mile. The starters were Maltese Villa 108, Fanchita 109, Ledalia 113, Goldstut 105, Estrella 107, Gregg 85. In the pools Tigress sold for $47 1/2, Ledalia $30, and the field $50.

At least fifteen times the colts broke away, when Goldstut got well out in the lead for the society of the others and started off to have a race all by himself. He carried his rider around to the head of the stretch before the boy was able to pull him up. Then several more attempts were made before the flag fell to a tolerably fair start. Tigress at once shot into the lead and was two open lengths to the head of the stretch. Running easily she held her place to the outcome in 1:53 1/2, Tigress second, Estrella third.

TO-DAY'S EVENTS. First Grand Stock Parade—Four Trotting Races.

At 9 o'clock this morning the first grand stock parade will take place at the Park, and will be well worth seeing.

In the afternoon there will be four trotting races. The first will be between roadster teams owned by Messrs. Killip, Kingsley and Wieland of San Francisco.

In the pools last night the Killip team sold for $25, Kingsley's $19 and Wieland's $8.

In the two-year-old stake the starters and their ratings in the pools are: Rowena $30; Adelaide Simmons $20; Field (Sablehurst, Aaron S. and Cascade), $8. The 227 class has been divided, owing to the large number of entries. Some will trot today and the others will go next Tuesday for a special purse of $1,000.

The starters for to-day are: None Better, Frank B., Colonel McNasser, Free Conies, Orphins, Madred, Astor and John W. In the 218 class the starters are: Richmond, Jr., $40; Frank M., $15; Beauty Mae, $15, and Lee, $3.

State Fair Events. There were three scrapping matches at the Park yesterday, small fistfights that amounted to little, but occasioned some temporary excitement.

Superintendent Brown, of the Sunset Telephone line, has placed a telephone box in the reporters' stand at the Park, which the members of the press are very thankful for, and extend their acknowledgments to the general Superintendent accordingly.

At the Park to-day will be played by the Artillery Band "The Forge in the Forest," "Columbus Fantasia" and "The Revised Padre's March." There will be corn and apple supplies and novelties. The only official program of the races is that sold within the Park, say the officers of the Agricultural Society.

One of the noteworthy figures at the fair is L. A. Barnes, better known as "Old Back." He is present at Park and Valley daily as a "Historic Exhibitor" on his own account, but none the less interesting for that. He is an old Calaveras minor, and is dressed in the pioneer mining costume, with a flour sack brand on the bosom of his pants, his pants and rooker, cups and camp equipage strapped to his back, and his knife and pistol swung in front, while in his hands he carries a long-handled shovel and pick. "Old Back" came from Illinois to the California mines in May, 1850, reaching Sacramento in 1851. He has lived in the mines, prospecting and washing for the golden sands. In fact, he never came out or saw a railroad train until 1859.

On the upper terrace of the east gallery the Native Sons and Daughters gave last evening the first of a series of historic tableaux. They were put on the historic section, but devised and arranged by Native Sons and Daughters of Sacramento. Under stage management of Albert H. East, Superintendent of Schools, the tableaux last night related to the pioneer mining era, and were very successfully presented, and won a great deal of applause. The first of the series was that of the series will be given. By the way, it is well for some to bring opera-glasses to see these tableaux well, as those far distant will find them very useful. An immense concourse of people witnessed the tableaux last evening.

STATE FAIR NOTES.

TESTED JERSEYS. Stock men and rubbers fair judges of beef qualities and are apt to judge dairy cattle by beef standards. They might just as well judge running horses by draft standards. They never stopped to think that a fair average beef steer and then turns out more dollars worth of butter every year than the best steer producer of beef in his lifetime. For this reason they have a great deal to say in regard to the place of the cow, and that people have to milk cows, and they have to be able to take time to use pens.

When they enter a race they don't choose a horse that will put money on a horse pretty well, but they put money on a horse that has generations bred for running alone and that has a reputation for speed. In the best dairy sections competition has brought the Jersey cow to the front. Twenty years ago Mr. Mallard could not have run fast enough to have given an average milk cow a fair trial. In those days, says, because they were too little for beef. Now, if a man has a cow there is not so much to be said for the cow as there is for the man who will see that she is advertised in the paper.

Dairymen from Marin, Humboldt and San Luis Obispo were on the stand to his special friends and admirers in little sample pens for testing. As a boy would enter his emphatic protest because there is no chance to help mother sell the raisins and take toll as one goes along. Possibly, mother might even the thing up by putting the raisins in a tin, so she did not have the trouble of stoning them. The Zante currant and the Seedless Sultanina grapes from the same vineyard show very clearly the difference between varieties and are enough to convince the most skeptical that this Thompson's is the seedless raisin of the future.

One bunch shown has forty-three pounds in weight and this was only one-third of a crop of a three-year-old vine. Another bunch of the same vintage ripens at once, and they can be more cheaply gathered than other raisin grapes, and they are dried and put in the market in the form of Raisins. Muscats. Instead of taking all day of an expert hand to pack ten boxes of layers they can be packed in a stammer and sack them out as easily as you clean and sack wheat. Raisins require long pruning, like the Emperor, and should be dried in the sun, and the raisins of the exhibitors best worth the careful attention of those who are looking for a crop to pay rent or mortgage.

A SACRAMENTO INDUSTRY. Among home enterprises represented at the Pavilion one of the leading is that of the Capital Packing Company with its exhibit of the State Capitol as its trade mark. The county exhibit shows that Sacramento is the center of the world's raisin trade, and the Packing Company that she can put it in a box and ship it to any part of the world.

Among the most interesting exhibits at the fair and those suggesting most possibilities of application, is the next little room where Schaefer's ventilating attachment for refrigerators is on practical exhibition. By free circulation of air from above and by metallic plate to absorb and carry off moisture the air is kept so dry that the floor is not wet, and the air is kept so dry that the floor is not wet, and the air is kept so dry that the floor is not wet.

For the little folks those new rainbow jerseys are getting to be all the rage—they are light and gay and give a mischance such a jaunty air with their bright colors and gay jassies. They are all the rage in Eastern California, and they will have a wide sale here. We expect to see the crowd of ladies fairly blocking the street in front of the fair, and all feeling that their new idea of the styles and materials which combine to give them a very desirable and comfortable garment.

For the most meritorious California invention our fruit-growers will feel inclined to award the medal to one who makes it possible to handle the most delicate fruits without bruising. You have a basket lined with a sack, solid as any other market you see as you move it with the handle. When full of fruit you lower it to the bottom of the box, or barrel, gassy by the sides, and "Prosser" makes you a prosidigator says—your basket opens in the center and you lift it without disturbing or giving the fruit any chance to bruise. This is especially important in handling citrus fruits, and many of the leading growers. It will be an equal advantage in handling delicate fruits, and many of the leading growers. The fruit may look well enough when it leaves here, but it will be a white wrapper, but it has been at all bruised in handling. It looks like a deflated pugilist when it comes to be exposed for sale in Eastern California. It is the invention of the exhibitor, Thomas Cogswell of San Diego.

VALUABLE IMPROVEMENT. An oil cup and oil in paste form, to save three-fourths the oil and the time of old methods, is among exhibits most attractive to farmers and machinists. With a quarter turn of the screw you force the paste upon the bearing with no chance for oil to escape or dust to enter. The running electric plant, Daniel Best's famous electric saws, and the bin harvesters are fitted with these cups. The exhibitor, Mr. Schaefer, has a special machinery in Chicago firm dealing in machinists and blacksmith supplies and novelties. They have lately established a branch house under the management of W. H. Young, 339 Market street.

A PAYING PRODUCT. Among exhibits most suggestive to fruit-growers of future possibilities, is that of the hand saw made by F. O. Snow of Yuba City. Not only does it cut the tree in Royal Baking Powder. Splendid Tribute. THE SAN FRANCISCO BOARD OF HEALTH URGES THE USE OF THE Royal Baking Powder.

The magnificent tribute of the San Francisco Board of Health to the great purity and wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder greatly disturbs the manufacturers of the lower grade powders. Their envious publications, however, cannot break the force of this unsolicited and unbiased high medical endorsement. Attached is a certified copy of their original report, with the signatures of the members of the Board in fac-simile:

We, the members of The Board of Health of the City and County of San Francisco, cordially approve and recommend the Royal Baking Powder. It is absolutely pure and healthful, composed of the best ingredients of the highest strength and character. In our judgment it is impossible to make a purer or stronger Baking Powder than the "Royal."

quantity as it grew on the vine, but also the raisins displayed in various forms, and to his special friends and admirers in little sample pens for testing. As a boy would enter his emphatic protest because there is no chance to help mother sell the raisins and take toll as one goes along.

It is not very much mislead by the appearance of the young man, and special delight is explained the latest improvements in coats, gloves, caps, manikins, etc., by which insects are kept from the body, and made to allure the pupil along the flowery paths of science, where we once were driven by times of each or willy.

Perhaps the anomaly of success in times when so many are complaining of dull trade may be explained when one of the first-class stands without any of the traditions of 49 methods, when the customer had to buy your goods or go without. Again, he started with the idea that California was a part of the United States, and that it should be done on a scale of profit prevailing elsewhere.

Although he came to California only because he was growing in it and this was only one-third of a crop of a three-year-old vine. Another bunch of the same vintage ripens at once, and they can be more cheaply gathered than other raisin grapes, and they are dried and put in the market in the form of Raisins. Muscats.
