LAND QUARANTINE AND THE BOARD OF HEALTH. Some very incorrect ideas are entertained concerning land quarantine by the State Board of Health.

each polling place can thwart any scheme of that kind. The trouble is that the friends of fair play organize with difficulty, have not, as a rule, any treasury to draw upon and lack the compactness and energy of the bosses in such organizations as are effected in the interests of decency and clean government.

Let our friends, the Democrats, who affect to believe that the Legislatures of the several States will regulate the banking question so that there will be no harmful results from the repeal of the bank tax, remember that State bank issues are not confined in circulation to the State that charters the bank.

On the contrary, these issues will be scattered over all the States. In the fifties the bank officers used to issue notes with the express consent, agreed to by the receiver of the issue, that it should be floated in distant parts of the Union.

This gave the wildcat banker time to "clean up" and fall before the notes could reach the bank for redemption. At that time the Democratic party had control of seven-tenths of the Legislatures in the United States, and only one of them passed a law to check the very thing that the present Democracy says it will prevent if invested with power.

We judge parties as we do men, their promises for the future by their performances in the past.

Mr. CLEVELAND has written so many indiscreet letters that a campaign committee has been sent to him with request that he will desist and give his pen a rest. For a wonder, the candidate admitted the justice of the complaint, and has agreed to cork up his ink horn.

But the committee should go a little further, and make the effusive Mr. Cleveland agree to submit to no interviews; in short, to go into political quarantine until after election.

We confess, however, that Mr. Cleveland's letters eliminated from the campaign will be made out of the realm of doubt and made absolute certainty.

WHAT a glorious privilege it is to live in a free land. Here is the well-known author of "Weinman," the learned Dr. Frankel of Germany, who has been dragged into court and fined $25. What for? Last summer a heartless military commander, full of beer and his own importance, compelled his troops to march long distances in the time of great heat, so that many soldiers were prostrated by the way and one died from over-exertion.

This was in time of peace, when there was no demand upon the army for extraordinary exertion. Dr. Frankel criticised this officer, and told the simple truth, and that which any man can utter here without fear of law, when he said that the conduct of the officer was heartless, cruel and inhuman. And for this Dr. Frankel was hauled out of his home and into court and punished.

MR. CLEVELAND and Mr. Hill have made their peace. So, if Mr. Cleveland is elected in November it will be because he carries New York, and he cannot do that without the aid and consent of Mr. Hill. If he is elected then it will be because Mr. Cleveland consents to represent Mr. Hill, Mr. Dick Croker and the Tammany Democracy of New York City, with all that implies.

Now come the Democratic press and tell us that the repeal of the bank tax would harm no one, because the States would not authorize banks of issue without due guards and securities. That was the talk in the fifties, and yet there came about the wild-cat issues of that decade, and the crash of 1857.

Thus far this is an apathetic National campaign. But the absence of the whoop and hurrah does not indicate that the people are any the less thinking out the problem for solution in November. They will vote more silently this year, but just as intelligently as in 1888, and with the same result.

WHAT has become of that Democratic war cry, "The Billion-Dollar Congress?" The genuine Angostura Bitters of Dr. J. G. B. Siegert & Sons are the most efficacious stimulant to excite the appetite. Ask your druggist.

Special Notices. POSITIVELY Cures Dyspepsia IN ALL ITS FORMS.

THE criticisms made, therefore, upon the board's action are not well preferred, and too much reliance must not be placed upon its land quarantine, which is good as far as it goes.

The thing to do is to look to our towns, cities and households, and so prepare that cholera shall not find lodgment and breeding places for long dwelling when it does come. A good deal is being done in the matter of cleansing the centers of population, but not nearly enough. There is need for more personal work by householders in the matter of disinfecting filth pits, cesspools and the like, and keeping them so, and in making home premises invulnerable to the cholera germ so far as cleanliness can thus provide.

THE San Francisco papers report a scheme on foot to defeat the will of the people despite the reform ballot law. This is to provide such election officers as can be bought by the bosses with small rubber stamps concealed by rings on the inner side of the hand. As the officers unfold the ballots they are to adroitly press the stamp upon the ballot face in a manner to destroy straight votes antagonistic to their employing interest. Thus, if a ballot is stamped straight Republican, by making a cross opposite the name of any candidate the ballot will be thrown out of the count. It is a pretty bit of rascality that is thus plotted, and it is not impossible to carry it out here and there. Watchfulness alone will defeat it, coupled with personal courage, by the friends of fair play. One good, strong, fearless man in each polling place can thwart any scheme of that kind. The trouble is that the friends of fair play organize with difficulty, have not, as a rule, any treasury to draw upon and lack the compactness and energy of the bosses in such organizations as are effected in the interests of decency and clean government.

PEOPLE'S PARTY. It is Entitled to Recognition at the Head of the Ballot.

Secretary of State Waite So Construes the Law—He Gives His Reasons Therefor.

The following official communication from Secretary of State Waite to Attorney-General Hart explains the former's position regarding the legal right of the People's party to be named at the head of the official ballot at the coming election:

Hon. W. H. Hunt, Attorney-General: DEAR GENERAL: The interesting question is presented, and my judgment asked thereon, whether or not the People's party of the party relying upon petition to obtain a place upon the ballot, is entitled to appear in a straight, like other parties which cast not less than 3 per cent. of the entire vote of the State at the last general election, and is contended, with considerable force, that upon the presentation to the proper authorities of a sufficient number of bona fide petitioners equal to at least 5 per cent. of the votes cast at the last election in 1878, the county or political division nominating a candidate or candidates for public positions, their names are entitled to go upon the ballot in the proper place, but that no new party can claim the right to recognition at the head of the ticket, to be voted for straight, until it has earned the right by having polled at least 3 per cent. of the entire vote at the last general election.

The latter part of Section 1197 of the election law is clear on this point. It is contained in the portion of Section 1197 which reads as follows: "At the head of each ballot shall be printed in separate lines the names of all political parties which have filed certificates of nomination of candidates in accordance with Sections 1185 and 1187 to sustain this view of the law." The portion of Section 1197 which reads as follows: "At the head of each ballot shall be printed in separate lines the names of all political parties which have filed certificates of nomination of candidates in accordance with Sections 1185 and 1187 to sustain this view of the law." The portion of Section 1197 which reads as follows: "At the head of each ballot shall be printed in separate lines the names of all political parties which have filed certificates of nomination of candidates in accordance with Sections 1185 and 1187 to sustain this view of the law."

Now, as Sections 1185 and 1187, thus construed, are in accordance with the provisions of the constitution, and another section—namely Section 1188—provides for the nomination of candidates for public positions, their names are entitled to go upon the ballot in the proper place, but that no new party can claim the right to recognition at the head of the ticket, to be voted for straight, until it has earned the right by having polled at least 3 per cent. of the entire vote at the last general election.

After an examination of the ballot law, and some thought, I cannot agree to this opinion. Section 1188 reads as follows: "At the head of each ballot shall be printed in separate lines the names of all political parties which have filed certificates of nomination of candidates in accordance with Sections 1185 and 1187 to sustain this view of the law." The portion of Section 1197 which reads as follows: "At the head of each ballot shall be printed in separate lines the names of all political parties which have filed certificates of nomination of candidates in accordance with Sections 1185 and 1187 to sustain this view of the law."

WORTH $1,000. THE DREADED CHOLERA HAS PLANTED ITS SEED ON THE Atlantic coast, but we out here in California need not fear it if we follow these instructions: First, drink no liquors, as this heats the blood and encourages disease. Second, drink no water except that which has been boiled, as it will make it more palatable. Third, eat nothing of fatty substance, such as pork, butter or sweet milk. Fourth, eat your food just as it comes from the fire and eat it slowly. Follow this advice and if the cholera is next door it will not affect you.
