They Were Concerned in the California Train Robbery.

THE SURVIVING BROTHER MAKES A CONFESSION.

Reports From Indian Territory Indicate That Bloodshed Will Follow in the Choctaw Nation Unless the Government Takes Prompt Action in Providing Troops—A Defuncting Philadelphia Merchant Suicides.

SPECIAL TO THE RECORD-UNION.

COPPEYVILLE (Kan.), Oct. 6.—The streets are packed with crowds of excited people from the adjoining country who have been attracted by the Dalton tragedy of yesterday.

The four dead bandits lie in coffins at the City Jail with a guard to see that they are not disturbed. Crowds of people are attracted to view them through morbid curiosity.

The railway leading to the room where Emmet Dalton is surrounded by a crowd of men and women who are endeavoring to persuade the guard to allow them to see him. He is weak from the loss of blood. His wounds were dressed this morning.

In conversation with a reporter he said that Bob put up the job last Saturday and prevailed upon the rest to take part in it, though they were opposed to it, believing that it was not feasible.

They were short of funds, and were preparing to leave the country, as they were being closely examined. The bodies were carried to the grave by the hands of Bob and Gratton Dalton, Tom Evans and Jack Moore were taken to his bedside this morning and he identified them. He shed tears when he saw his brothers. The names of the last two are not their real names, which are withheld from the public for what the officials say are good reasons.

The dead bandits were buried here this afternoon in the City Cemetery, in a lot owned by the Dalton family. The bodies were carried to the grave by the hands of Bob and Gratton Dalton, Tom Evans and Jack Moore were taken to his bedside this morning and he identified them. He shed tears when he saw his brothers. The names of the last two are not their real names, which are withheld from the public for what the officials say are good reasons.

The robbers secured $20,000 from the First National Bank, and $3,000 from Condon's bank. The amount recovered exceeds this, confirming Emmet's statement that the robbers had $900 of their own money.

It is now thought that only five men were in the raid, and if this is true the entire gang has been exterminated. The body of Lucius Baldwin was taken to Burlington, Kan., this morning, and that of Charles Brown will be sent to Hartley, S. D.

The funerals of Marshal Connelly and George Cubbin were held this afternoon. Emmet Dalton has made a sworn statement that Bob Dalton was the man concerned in a California robbery, and also in the A. J. Robbery of several weeks ago.

At 11 o'clock to-night Emmet Dalton was still alive, but suffering greatly from his wounds. Cashier Ayers will probably recover. The party who started in pursuit of Allie O'gee returned to-day, having lost track of the fugitive.

RELIGIOUS.

Proceedings of the American Board of Foreign Missions.

CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—At to-day's session of the American Board of Foreign Missions the report of the Committee on Church Representation on the Board was made the special order of this afternoon.

Joseph Cowell introduced a resolution on the World's Fair Sunday-closing resolution. Adopted.

The Treasurer's report on the various missions occupied the most of the forenoon session.

The Committee on Church Representation in the Board presented two reports. The majority directed the Committee for Nominations of Non-Corporate Members to receive from State, Territorial and independent congregations, organizations nominations to fill vacancies on the board to the increased number, and that the committee select from such names enough to fill three-fourths of the vacancies in the board and that the committee be instructed to report such plan for representation of the churches in the board as seems likely to satisfy the reasonable desire of the churches. The minority report was similar, except that it provided for the selection of a membership to make up half of the vacancies. The matter was temporarily dropped.

At the afternoon meeting Rev. Bradford presented a resolution that all young men and women of approved Christian character and sound physical qualifications, who accept the creeds of the churches in which they are members, and the Congregational creed, be accepted as suitable candidates for missionary services. After a red-hot discussion this was postponed indefinitely.

Rev. Dr. Dickinson, in a bitter letter, refused to accept the nomination to the "Federal" committee. His letter was the cause of much surprise by its attacks on the conservative elements.

A ticket was nominated to-day and although not voted on, the election is practically assured. It contains the names of Richard S. Stokes, President; E. W. Blatchford, Vice-President; Henry A. Gilman, Secretary; Langdon S. Ward, Treasurer.

MRS. HARRISON.

No Particular Alteration in the Condition of Her Health.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Aside from the usual changes characteristic in consumptive cases, there is no particular alteration in the condition of Mrs. Harrison. Her right lung is entirely consolidated, so she has no use of it whatever. The left lung is now involved. Although anxious for prolonged life, the patient does not exhibit the cheerfulness and hopefulness usually so apparent in the case of consumptives. This is due to extreme nervous exhaustion, from which she suffers. This extreme prostration has been one great cause which has operated against her rallying. The most noticeable result of her illness is the great emaciation. Before she was taken ill Mrs. Harrison weighed 160 pounds, and it is said that she has lost during her prostration between forty and fifty pounds.

SPECIAL TO THE RECORD-UNION.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The woman accused of smuggling paintings valued at $110,000 is said by the Custom-house authorities to be the divorced wife of William Campbell, the millionaire wall-paper manufacturer. She is now the wife of an Italian named Di Oacai of Naples, Italy.

Mrs. Campbell called at the Custom-house to-day very angry, and said she called to prefer charges against Inspector Trautman. The latter, she said, concocted the charge against her, and in order that she might take possession of paintings which belonged to her. His motive, she charged, was revenge, because she did not reciprocate his passion for her. She declared that she pursued her to Saratoga and other places to make love to her.

Deputy Collector Phelps took the papers, but did not give Mrs. Campbell much satisfaction. Next day she went to the Custom-house officers to get her things, but they were not intended for sale. She said she had a number of paintings which she stored them away in storage-houses and auction-rooms in this city, and had a catalogue printed and numbered by other masters. Sixty-nine are by Italian masters who lived prior to the sixteenth century.

The woman interested is well known. A few years ago she met the man who has been her husband in Central Park and had a catalogue printed and numbered by other masters. Sixty-nine are by Italian masters who lived prior to the sixteenth century.

FISTIC MATTERS.

John L. Sullivan Talks of the Fight With Corbett.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—John L. Sullivan denied to reporters that he said he had been dragged in the fight with Corbett. He said: "After Corbett defeated me I made no excuses. The man who makes excuses is very foolish. After I returned North nobody heard me offer any explanation. I was not in the ring, other than as the story of my being dragged is concerned, I never intimated that any such thing happened. I was never before in better condition than I am now. I am not my intention to take one bit of credit away from Corbett. What I shall do in the future is my own affair. I am making no excuses, and I will not make any. I choose to fight again. I will back myself. I don't say I will challenge him again, still, if I take a notion to, I don't see how anybody can cut me off."

It is the intention of Jim Goddard to bring about a meeting with Joe Corbett, or get the championship by default in the attempt. It will be a bloody fight. Monday since Billy Madden, the Australian manager, deposited $1,000 as a forfeit with a sporting paper here, and a match with the champion for $10,000, the best purse offered to October 11th. Unless the Californian consents to arrange to fight on the above-named conditions Goddard will claim the championship. He also wants a go at Jackson, Corbett says he won't fight anybody till his year's theatrical engagement is ended.

RAVAGES OF CHOLERA.

Thirty Thousand Deaths Out of a Population of Five Millions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The Marine Hospital Bureau has caused to be translated and published an article from a leading medical journal at Constantinople describing the routes by which cholera has spread over Asia and Europe. The article states that cholera is a part of the trans-casianic movement of little more than two months, or from June 20th to August 24th, there were about 30,000 cholera deaths in the case of a population of about 5,000,000, or one death in about 200 of the inhabitants. The Caucasus has been one of the most virulent focuses of cholera epidemics. The article says the disease started at Djellabad, Afghanistan, in December, 1891, spreading slowly until it reached the Caspian Sea rapidly. At the time of writing, cholera exists in three-fourths of the immense territory of Russia, in some parts of Germany, Austria, Italy, etc. The disease is still a dread cholera focus in the Caucasus and Persia, but the conditions prevailing are less threatening than during the month of August.

CANADA AND AMERICA.

Substantial Indorsement Looking to a Union of the Two Countries.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—A new movement looking to the political union of the United States and Canada, represented by E. A. Macdonald of Toronto, who is at present on a visit to this city, received a substantial indorsement at a meeting of representative Boston business men held to-day. Hon. Jonathan A. Lane, President of the Boston Merchants' Association, and President Jerome Jones of the Associated Board of Trade, President L. G. Burnham of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and other prominent men were present. Macdonald outlined the plan of campaign, stating that political union was not only possible, but inevitable, and the people of Canada were ripe for the great change. A public meeting will be held at Boston in a few weeks to further discuss the matter.

AN EXCITING EPISODE.

Result of a Quarrel Between a Man and His Wife.

ATTEMPTED MURDER AND SUICIDE AT FRESNO.

The Southern Portion of the State Visited by a Severe Thunder, Lightning and Rainstorm—Steamer Sunk in Coos River—The Passengers Narrowly Escape With Their Lives.

SPECIAL TO THE RECORD-UNION.

FRESNO, Oct. 6.—Two pistol shots, a bullet in the scalp of the wife and one in the brain of the husband composed an exciting episode in the life of a young married couple in this city to-night. The parties have been living on the third floor of the Kutner-Goldstein block, on I street, for about a year. At about half-past 7 this evening they quarreled. It was brought to a sudden termination by the husband, Alfred E. Hunt, drawing a revolver and discharging it at his wife's forehead. She was sitting on a lounge. Fortunately for her the nerves were unsteady and the bullet intended for her brain struck high and plowed a furrow through her scalp, just about the place where the hair met the forehead. Then, without a moment's hesitation, the infuriated man pointed the pistol to his own forehead and fired, inflicting a wound which nearly proved fatal. The husband was stunned by the shot and the husband fell to the floor after making a target of himself. The report of the shots brought a number of people to the scene, and the pistol was secured and a doctor sent for. A determined effort was made to lull the husband, and no reporters were permitted to see either Mr. or Mrs. Hunt. It is stated that Hunt has been jealous of his wife for some time, apparently without cause, and that they have quarreled before this. His wife, this evening in conversation with the doctor, attributed the occurrence to a streak of insanity. She said nothing of his being jealous or of their having quarreled.

NEWS FROM THE NORTH.

Proposed Closed Season for Salmon in the Columbia River.

VICTORIA, Oct. 6.—Commissioner Livingston's report recommending a close season for salmon in the Columbia River and its tributaries is favorably received by salmon packers, who think it would be better for all parties concerned were there some understanding between the United States and Canada, so that no advantage could be taken of packers on either side when the other reduces the pack, either for protection of the fish or to regulate the supply.

The fact that several British Columbia sealing schooners are offered for sale causes apprehension for the future and much gloom in their interests. It is feared that the Russians will be able to pack on either side when the other reduces the pack, either for protection of the fish or to regulate the supply.

WILL CONTEST.

New Complications in the Suit for the J. D. Walker Estate.

TUCSON (Ariz.), Oct. 6.—Another chapter opened in the contest over the estate of John D. Walker of Florence, who died last year in the Napa Insane Asylum, leaving a large estate, claimed by his brother and sister against his wife. A new claimant has come forward, who says she is Walker's daughter; that her mother was a Pina Indian; that she was Walker's former wife. The girl is 21 years of age and the image of Walker. Her mother has been dead several years. The second wife took the girl and brought suit to recover possession of the estate, and the jury hung on the question of Walker's sanity at the time of marriage. His daughter, through her attorneys, has made a demand on the acting administrator, A. J. Doran, for possession of her father's estate. There is to be abundant proof of the legitimacy of the deceased's first marriage.

EVANS AND SONTAG.

Visited by a Reporter at Their Residence North of Kings River.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—An Examiner reporter visited Evans and Sontag last Tuesday and Wednesday at a point north of Kings River, Fresno County. A detailed interview was had with the fugitive bandits, in which they described their many adventures since the fatal fight of August 7th at Jim Young's cabin. They were comfortably situated in a house by them. Evans is in perfect health, save for a scratch from a bullet which McGinnis sent from his six-shooter during the fight. John Sontag was also shot by McGinnis through the right arm at the same time, but it was merely a flesh wound and healed a week ago. The men are confident of their escape, and have a full winter's supply of provisions.

COCKRAN ON THE STUMP.

He Addresses a Great Democratic Meeting in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—Congressman W. Bourke Cockran addressed a great Democratic ratification meeting at Tremont Temple to-night. Hon. James M. Beck of Philadelphia also spoke. Cockran was given a most enthusiastic reception. He spoke at length on the tariff question, and, speaking of the reciprocity paragraph, said: "In it we have the power given the President to suspend the operation of the tariff law. That is, however, claimed by Charles I. and James H. I appeal for a wide interpretation of our constitution that the mere power to do so enjoy that constitutional liberty which the Pilgrim fathers sought? I don't believe the constitutional theory of this country began when that Constitution was adopted. It had its origin in the cabin of the Mayflower.

"That constitutional system holds as a fundamental truth the theory that taxation without representation is tyrannical. If this reciprocity system of Mr. Blaine's with its vicious and unconstitutional encroachment on the life of the American people is to be maintained, it must be applied to every city of the Union, the wealth would have been purchased at a great sacrifice of the institutions which made the American people what they are. The reciprocity clause is not a broadening but a restriction of the free list. If the interest of the American people require these articles to be placed on the free list, why should the necessities of American labor be made subject to a dicker with a few feeble South American States?"

Cockran spoke of the merchant marine, which he said was originally destroyed by the Republicans, and discussed the free list at length.

BIG CAMPAIGN FUND.

The Republicans Need Two Million Dollars.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—A dispatch from Philadelphia to the Herald says: There was an interesting conference some days ago at Mayor Stuart's private residence. After the meeting adjourned itself to business, it was announced that the National Campaign Committee required exactly $2,000,000 for campaign purposes, and Philadelphia was expected to contribute largely. After a protracted conference Joseph B. Allen, of the big dry goods store of J. B. Allen, Altemus & Co., went forth as solicitor. He had another $10,000 subscribed $10,000. Thomas Dolan $10,000, "Hunt" Diston $10,000. Postmaster-General, San Francisco, John and James Smith $10,000. There is another $10,000 subscriber whose name I did not obtain. Corbin, Altemus & Co. pledged $5,000, and the list goes on. One firm has conditionally subscribed $30,000, while another company has pledged $10,000. Much of this money will be used in New York.
