

COLUMBUS' MEMORY.

How It Was Honored by the People of Sacramento.

The School-Children to the Front-Parade of Civil and Military Bodies—Literary Exercises.

If Columbus could have revisited the earth yesterday and witnessed with his own eyes the celebration of the four hundred anniversary of his landing on American soil, he would no doubt have promptly filed an application to be admitted to citizenship in this great republic, which has been the outgrowth of his famous boat ride.

The local celebration of the day was appropriately carried out, and, aside from some delay in the matter of getting the procession under way, thereby causing the school-children nearly two hours of weary waiting in the hot sun, everything went off with admirable order.

A more delightful day for the festivities could not have been devised, and every one seemed to enjoy the beautiful morning, with its bracing air, and the crowds were correspondingly enthusiastic in their admiration of the parade and demonstration.

The uniformed part of the procession formed about nine o'clock at Sixth and L streets, and marched to Twenty-ninth street, and thence to Second, returning up K to Tenth, and then to the Capitol Park.

The procession was under the Marshalship of Major W. H. Sherman, supported by numerous aids, with School Director C. M. Harrison as Chief Aid. The First Artillery Regiment was under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel McKee, acting in the absence of Colonel Guthrie.

The procession was in every respect a creditable one. It was preceded by a platoon of police under command of Chief Rodgers and Captain Bradley, and then followed, in their proper order, the Grand Marshal, his aids and the First Artillery Regiment, preceded by the Artillery Band.

Next came two uniformed divisions of the Knights of Pythias, a marching band, consisting of four officers and thirty-five members, in Highland costume, and then the Italian Society and Bersaglieri Guard of forty men, preceded by the Hussar Band.

After these came the floats, the first representing Columbus before Queen Isabella. In the second float were Misses Lombardi and Miss Gagliardo, the former representing Columbus and the latter Italy, and wearing the respective national colors.

The third float was an admirable representation of the ship in which Columbus landed. It was manned by a crew of twenty, and tossed about on the conveyance upon which it was located very nearly as the famous vessel of the great discoverer must have tossed on the heaving billows.

The "Caravel de Santa Maria" was followed by a mounted guard and the Society Fenimore Lee.

Then came a long line of carriages, in the first of which were seated guests of the Italian societies—Hon. E. J. Gregory, Hon. R. L. McLaughlin and D. Lazzarini, President of the Day.

Before the procession had started, the Grand Army passed by their quarters, and each post marched to one of the grammar schools and escorted the children to the Capitol.

When the military bands and the main procession reached the Capitol the school children were drawn up on L street, and the procession passed in review before them in the line as the procession turned back and entered the approach to the Capitol.

The Sacramento Grammar School pupils, under the escort of Sam McNeil, the Capitol Grammar School, escorted by Warren Post, and the Sutter Grammar School, in charge of Pat Oakes, then joined the procession and the hundreds of children extended the ranks under the guidance of their teachers.

In front of the Capitol a grand stand had been erected, and before it the tire procession passed in review, the mounted portion of it and the conveyances being taken through the park and out by the Tenth-street gates.

While the procession was passing the grand stand an immense throng of men, women and children gathered on the terraces, lined the route of march, and pressed in upon the driveway in front of the Capitol that the Grand Army Post and the Italian Guards had to form a line and good-naturedly charge back upon the crowd to maintain a passage-way.

The hundreds of children marched around the Capitol, and presented a beautiful picture.

It was about 11 o'clock when the parade had passed and the throng gathered about the stand and the entrance to the Capitol, anticipating the exercises. So large was the throng of children, however, and the younger ones were so excited, that in their demonstrations that it was soon evident that any effort at a literary entertainment would be heard by few.

THE EXERCISES.

These were very brief, and it was just as well that they were, as the children were completely tired out from their long wait for the procession, as well as the many thousands of adults who had assembled in the Park as early as 9 o'clock.

It was nearly noon when School Superintendent Albert Hart appeared on the platform before the throng of school children on the pavement and called the vast assemblage to order. But there was no order, as people were moving about and talking all the time.

Without making himself heard many feet away, Mr. Hart introduced Master Simon Heilbron, a pupil of the Sacramento Grammar School, who read the proclamation by the President declaring Columbus Day a National Holiday.

Owing to the hubbub, only a few of the juvenile reader were able to tell that he read the proclamation in a clear voice and without a perceptible effect.

Led by Professor Kilross, the school children then raised their voices and sang an ode to Columbus, accompanied by the Artillery Band.

Master Delman Lenoir, a pupil of the Capital Grammar School, read an address prepared for all the schools of the county, entitled "The Meaning of the Four Centuries."

The school children sang "America," with band accompaniment, after which the assemblage was dismissed.

AT THE SYNAGOGUE.

Interesting Services at the Jewish Church Last Evening.

The Synagogue was filled last evening with those participating in the Thanksgiving service conducted by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy, in commemoration of the fourth anniversary of the discovery of America—Columbus Day.

The service throughout was both interesting and instructive, as well as impressive, and the music and singing were especially good.

The services began with the usual organ voluntary and opened with the introductory prayer by the Rabbi. This was followed by the regular Hebrew prayers, and the singing of the "Shema Yisrael."

The Rabbi then delivered his sermon entitled "Our Country—What We Owe It." The discourse was one of great interest and singularly appropriate to the day, and was a happy fusion of patriotism and religious sentiment.

The sermon was not preceded by any announced text, but opened with quotation from a European writer, that "our lives are a constant procession, and lacking in enthusiasm," and the saying of an American that "man ought to keep his eyes heavenward, while the struggle for the elevation constantly turns them earthward."

Modern life, said the Rabbi, lacks enthusiasm and inspiration. It is true we require earnest, quiet reflection, but we require also those who look through rose-colored glasses and are all enthusiasm and hope.

We need that something which lifts above the material, that something which has inspired heroes in all ages and which has resulted in great achievements and noble characters.

It was the something else which made Columbus, against every obstacle and discouragement, a poor Italian sailor of Genoa, set out on his historic voyage of discovery and allowed nothing to hold him back. True he was reduced to beggary and obliged afterward to sell his goods for sustenance.

His dearest were all victories, and though the men of his generation refused him honor we accord him praise. Four hundred years is a short period in the world's history in which to record such great results, and the history of the world has no such record as that of the fabulous exploits of Columbus.

The Pilgrim fathers who landed on our shores represented all that was democratic and all that was puritan in England, and each post marched to one of the grammar schools and escorted the children to the Capitol.

When the military bands and the main procession reached the Capitol the school children were drawn up on L street, and the procession passed in review before them in the line as the procession turned back and entered the approach to the Capitol.

The Sacramento Grammar School pupils, under the escort of Sam McNeil, the Capitol Grammar School, escorted by Warren Post, and the Sutter Grammar School, in charge of Pat Oakes, then joined the procession and the hundreds of children extended the ranks under the guidance of their teachers.

In front of the Capitol a grand stand had been erected, and before it the tire procession passed in review, the mounted portion of it and the conveyances being taken through the park and out by the Tenth-street gates.

While the procession was passing the grand stand an immense throng of men, women and children gathered on the terraces, lined the route of march, and pressed in upon the driveway in front of the Capitol that the Grand Army Post and the Italian Guards had to form a line and good-naturedly charge back upon the crowd to maintain a passage-way.

The hundreds of children marched around the Capitol, and presented a beautiful picture.

It was about 11 o'clock when the parade had passed and the throng gathered about the stand and the entrance to the Capitol, anticipating the exercises. So large was the throng of children, however, and the younger ones were so excited, that in their demonstrations that it was soon evident that any effort at a literary entertainment would be heard by few.

THE EXERCISES.

These were very brief, and it was just as well that they were, as the children were completely tired out from their long wait for the procession, as well as the many thousands of adults who had assembled in the Park as early as 9 o'clock.

It was nearly noon when School Superintendent Albert Hart appeared on the platform before the throng of school children on the pavement and called the vast assemblage to order. But there was no order, as people were moving about and talking all the time.

Without making himself heard many feet away, Mr. Hart introduced Master Simon Heilbron, a pupil of the Sacramento Grammar School, who read the proclamation by the President declaring Columbus Day a National Holiday.

Owing to the hubbub, only a few of the juvenile reader were able to tell that he read the proclamation in a clear voice and without a perceptible effect.

Led by Professor Kilross, the school children then raised their voices and sang an ode to Columbus, accompanied by the Artillery Band.

Master Delman Lenoir, a pupil of the Capital Grammar School, read an address prepared for all the schools of the county, entitled "The Meaning of the Four Centuries."

The school children sang "America," with band accompaniment, after which the assemblage was dismissed.

AT THE SYNAGOGUE.

Interesting Services at the Jewish Church Last Evening.

The Synagogue was filled last evening with those participating in the Thanksgiving service conducted by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy, in commemoration of the fourth anniversary of the discovery of America—Columbus Day.

The service throughout was both interesting and instructive, as well as impressive, and the music and singing were especially good.

The services began with the usual organ voluntary and opened with the introductory prayer by the Rabbi. This was followed by the regular Hebrew prayers, and the singing of the "Shema Yisrael."

The Rabbi then delivered his sermon entitled "Our Country—What We Owe It." The discourse was one of great interest and singularly appropriate to the day, and was a happy fusion of patriotism and religious sentiment.

The sermon was not preceded by any announced text, but opened with quotation from a European writer, that "our lives are a constant procession, and lacking in enthusiasm," and the saying of an American that "man ought to keep his eyes heavenward, while the struggle for the elevation constantly turns them earthward."

AT CATHEDRAL AND SCHOOLS.

An Address to Catholic School Children by Bishop Manogue.

Interesting Exercises Appropriate to Columbus Day by College and Convent Pupils.

Columbus Day received appropriate recognition at the hands of the Catholics of this city yesterday. Columbus was himself a devout believer in that faith, and it was proper that its members should take special interest in honoring his memory.

The exercises commenced shortly before 8 o'clock in the morning, when the pupils of the college, numbering some 250, marched down to the convent, preceded by the first Artillery Band, where they formed in line behind the young misses of that institution, 200 in number.

In the line of procession was a carriage containing J. Rooney, who represented Columbus, and Miss Agnes O'Brien, representing Queen Isabella. Columbus was dressed in the antique style of his time, and Isabella wore a long, queenly robe, over which she displayed her jewels.

On her head she wore the conventional crown. All, preceded by the organ and the singers, were in the cathedral, making a most impressive appearance.

At the cathedral there was high mass, of which the celebrant was Rev. Father George Keenan, Father Gregory, and Father J. Moran. The choir rendered Lambellotti's Mass with fine effect. Miss Lizzie Griffin presided at the organ, and the choir rendered Copersmith, Mrs. Longbottom, Mrs. Robert Hawley, Miss Madge Hassett, Miss Burns and Messrs. Genshica, Longbottom and Phinney.

The sermon was not preceded by any announced text, but opened with quotation from a European writer, that "our lives are a constant procession, and lacking in enthusiasm," and the saying of an American that "man ought to keep his eyes heavenward, while the struggle for the elevation constantly turns them earthward."

Modern life, said the Rabbi, lacks enthusiasm and inspiration. It is true we require earnest, quiet reflection, but we require also those who look through rose-colored glasses and are all enthusiasm and hope.

We need that something which lifts above the material, that something which has inspired heroes in all ages and which has resulted in great achievements and noble characters.

It was the something else which made Columbus, against every obstacle and discouragement, a poor Italian sailor of Genoa, set out on his historic voyage of discovery and allowed nothing to hold him back. True he was reduced to beggary and obliged afterward to sell his goods for sustenance.

His dearest were all victories, and though the men of his generation refused him honor we accord him praise. Four hundred years is a short period in the world's history in which to record such great results, and the history of the world has no such record as that of the fabulous exploits of Columbus.

The Pilgrim fathers who landed on our shores represented all that was democratic and all that was puritan in England, and each post marched to one of the grammar schools and escorted the children to the Capitol.

When the military bands and the main procession reached the Capitol the school children were drawn up on L street, and the procession passed in review before them in the line as the procession turned back and entered the approach to the Capitol.

The Sacramento Grammar School pupils, under the escort of Sam McNeil, the Capitol Grammar School, escorted by Warren Post, and the Sutter Grammar School, in charge of Pat Oakes, then joined the procession and the hundreds of children extended the ranks under the guidance of their teachers.

In front of the Capitol a grand stand had been erected, and before it the tire procession passed in review, the mounted portion of it and the conveyances being taken through the park and out by the Tenth-street gates.

While the procession was passing the grand stand an immense throng of men, women and children gathered on the terraces, lined the route of march, and pressed in upon the driveway in front of the Capitol that the Grand Army Post and the Italian Guards had to form a line and good-naturedly charge back upon the crowd to maintain a passage-way.

The hundreds of children marched around the Capitol, and presented a beautiful picture.

It was about 11 o'clock when the parade had passed and the throng gathered about the stand and the entrance to the Capitol, anticipating the exercises. So large was the throng of children, however, and the younger ones were so excited, that in their demonstrations that it was soon evident that any effort at a literary entertainment would be heard by few.

THE EXERCISES.

These were very brief, and it was just as well that they were, as the children were completely tired out from their long wait for the procession, as well as the many thousands of adults who had assembled in the Park as early as 9 o'clock.

It was nearly noon when School Superintendent Albert Hart appeared on the platform before the throng of school children on the pavement and called the vast assemblage to order. But there was no order, as people were moving about and talking all the time.

Without making himself heard many feet away, Mr. Hart introduced Master Simon Heilbron, a pupil of the Sacramento Grammar School, who read the proclamation by the President declaring Columbus Day a National Holiday.

Owing to the hubbub, only a few of the juvenile reader were able to tell that he read the proclamation in a clear voice and without a perceptible effect.

Led by Professor Kilross, the school children then raised their voices and sang an ode to Columbus, accompanied by the Artillery Band.

Master Delman Lenoir, a pupil of the Capital Grammar School, read an address prepared for all the schools of the county, entitled "The Meaning of the Four Centuries."

The school children sang "America," with band accompaniment, after which the assemblage was dismissed.

which the entire congregation arose and remained standing.

On leaving the Cathedral the pupils again formed in line and marched to the convent where exercises appropriate to the occasion were held. The assembly-room was neatly decorated with American, Italian and Spanish emblems, and under the management of the Sisters the following programme was rendered:

Grand entrance, "Patriotic March," Miss M. Sheehan; Columbus, the Gem of the Ocean," grand chorus, by the school; "Raguet Gallop" (instrumental duet), Miss M. Gildersleeve and M. Cassidy; "The First to Great Columbus" (recitation), Miss A. Murphy; "Star of the Sea" (hymn singers), class; "Les Dames de Seville" (instrumental duet), Miss R. Sheehan and B. Duffe; "The Claims of the Nation"—"America," Miss M. Touhey; "Spain," Miss L. Healy; "Italy," Miss K. Mahoney; "Raise High the Flag," vocal duet; singing, by the class; Indian dance, Misses Eick, Summers, Bronner, Summers and Gildersleeve; "La Reine de Castes" (vocal duet), Misses A. O'Brien and E. Mahoney; "Ave Sanctissimo" (instrumental solo), Miss M. Sheehan; "America," "I Love My Star," song by smaller girls; "Ode to Columbus"; recitation, Miss M. Cassidy; "Gloria in Excelsis Deo," vocal duet; singing, by the class.

Uncle Ike's nine best Golden Rule men at Oak Park yesterday by a score of seven to six, in an eleven-inning game. There will be another game on Sunday if the weather is fair. Zemanaky will be umpire and McManus scorer.

False Economy Is practiced by people who buy inferior articles of food because cheaper than standard goods. Infants are entitled to the best food obtainable. It is a fact that condensed milk is the best infant food. Your grocer and druggist keep it.

Berlin Cough Cure. For coughs and colds and all lung and throat affections this article has superior merit. It is perfectly harmless, gives immediate relief, and cures the worst cases in from two to three days. Indorsed by our best physicians. A bottle and you will always keep it. Price, 50 cents a bottle.

Compound Sulphur Powder, the most perfect laxative and cathartic known. Indigestion, piles, biliousness, liver troubles, rheumatism, gravel, etc., etc. A great blood purifier and pleasant to the taste. The W. J. & Co. Company, San Francisco, sole proprietors. Price, 50 cents a bottle.

FREE transfers will hereafter be issued to and from the 4 and M streets cars at Tenth street to the Cemetery line.

MAIRED. MOORE-PATRICK—In Alameda, October 15th, by Rev. Scudder, W. J. Moore, Los Angeles to Ada G. Patrick of Sacramento.

BORN. FUCHS—In this city, September 30th, to the wife of G. J. Fuchs, a daughter.

DIED. DINELLI—In this city, October 20th, Antonio Dinelli, brother of Giuseppe Dinelli, a native of Italy, aged 43 years, 8 months and 16 days.

GORDON—In this city, October 21st, Mary J. wife of Andrew Gordon, a native of Ireland, aged 73 years and 46 days.

Did you ever see a sickly baby with dimples? or a healthy one without them? A thin baby is always delicate. Nobody worries about a plump one.

If you can get your baby plump, he is almost sure to be well. If you can get him well, he is almost sure to be plump.

The way to do both—there is but one way—is by CAREFUL LIVING. Sometimes this depends on Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

We will send you a book on it; free.

HALE'S LONGER ENGLISH POEMS, $1.20.

BLOTTER PAPER, 19x24, Extra heavy, to cover school desks, 4c per Sheet.

Two colors. W. F. PURNELL, Bookseller and Stationer, 609 J STREET.

WORTH A GUINEA A BOX. BILIOUS AND NERVOUS DISORDERS. (Tasteless—Effectual) FOR ALL BILIOUS AND NERVOUS DISORDERS.

Such as Sick Headache, Wind and Pain in the Stomach, Giddiness, Fullness, Swelling after Meals, Dizziness, Drowsiness, Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Constipation, Scarcy, Blotches on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, All Nervous and Trembling Sensations, and all irregularities incidental to Ladies.

Covered with a Tasteless and Soluble Coating. Of all druggists. Price 25 cents a Box. NEW YORK DEPOT, CHAS. McDOUGALL.

D. McDOUGALL, Merchant & Tailor. Repairing and Cleaning Tailor Work. 619 K STREET, GOLDEN EAGLE HOTEL BUILDING.

THE SACRAMENTO BUSINESS COLLEGE. Bookkeeping, Penmanship, Arithmetic, Shortland and Typewriting. Special attention to persons of neglected education.

THE FELTS COMPANY. Wine and Liquor Dealers. I HAVE JUST BOUGHT OVER $25,000 worth of the latest English trousering and Suspenders, which I will offer for the next sixty days.

PERFECT FIT AND BEST OF WORKMANSHIP GUARANTEED OR NO SALE. Rates for self-measurement and samples of cloth sent free to any address.

JOE POHEIM The Tailor. 609 J Street, Corner Sixth, SACRAMENTO.

H. H. PIERSON DENTIST, 511-1st SAC.

DELINQUENT NOTICE. EXCELSIOR DRIFT GOLD MINING COMPANY. Location of principal place of business, Sacramento, California.

Notice—There is delinquent upon the following described stock, on account of assessment No. 3, levied on the 25th day of August, 1892, the several amounts set opposite the names of the respective shareholders as follows:

Name No. Cert. No. Shares Am't. Conrad, John 7 3,000 $60.00 Owens, Ed. 39 1,650 33.00 Pellow, Jas. E. 42 2,000 40.00

And in accordance with law and an order of the Board of Directors made August 25, 1892, so many shares of each parcel of such stock as are due to pay on account of the above assessment at the office of the company, in Sacramento City, on MONDAY, the 31st day of October, 1892, at 2 o'clock P. M., to pay delinquent assessment thereon, together with cost of advertising and expenses of the sale.

By order of the Board of Directors, JOHN J. BAUER, Secretary. Office, No. 300 1/2 Street, Sacramento, Cal. 10-1-92

Changed Daily for Weinstein, Lubin & Co.

To-day at 9:30 A. M. SPECIAL SALE

Blankets, Flannels, Crash and Remnants.

LOT 1—Stevens' All-linen Crash Toweling, unbleached, 6c a yard.

LOT 2—Silver Gray Blankets, medium size, fancy borders, excellent value, 98c a pair.

LOT 3—Small lot of All-wool Checked Shirting Flannels, suitable for children's dresses, house wrappers or men's and boys' shirts. Price, 24c.

LOT 4—Extra-heavy Dark Gray Blankets, full size, colored borders, warm and durable. Price, $1 69 a pair.

LOT 5—Bleached Muslin, 36 inches wide, 7c a yard.

LOT 6—Good size Huck Towels, all linen, just the thing for barbers and lodging-houses, 11c each.

LOT 7—Will contain a useful lot of Domestic Remnants, comprising Canton Flannels, Sheetings, Flannels, Muslins, Dress Linings, Gingham, Calicoes, Ticking, Crash Toweling and Table Linens. Some excellent lengths will be found among this lot of Remnants.

DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT. WEINSTEIN, LUBIN & CO. AGENTS FOR STANDARD PAPER PATTERNS. 400 to 412 K Street, Sacramento, Cal.

MILLINERY! I am constantly receiving large invoices of the newest goods, comprising HATS IN ALL SHAPES AND COLORS, including a large assortment of WHITE HATS (which are in great demand), Fancy Feathers, Prince of Wales Tips, Ribbons, Rhine Stone Ornaments, Etc., Etc. An early call will give you the first choice of them. Cordially yours,

MRS. M. A. PEALER, 610 to 623 J Street, Sacramento, Cal.

A FINAL EFFORT—To Close Out the Balance of the—O'Brien Shoe Stock, 607 J Street. PRICES CUT ONE-HALF

Men's French Calf Shoes, hand sewed, lace or gaiter style (narrow widths), $3 50

Men's Fine Calf Shoes, lace or corduroy, $3 00

Workingmen's Kip Buckle Shoes, full stock, $1 65

Ladies' Fine French Dongola Button Shoes, flexible soles, square toe and tip, or opera toe, diamond tip, reduced to $2 75

Ladies' Fine Dongola Button Shoes, opera toe and tip, low heel, $1 45

Misses' Spring-heel Shoes, patent tip, $1 75

Children's sizes 8 to 10, $1 32

Address 607 J Street, O'Brien's Old Store.

Dentistry. DR. W. WOOD, DENTIST, QUINN'S BUILDING, 401 J Street. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 5 P. M.

DENTIST, 914 F STREET, between I and J, west side, opposite Congregational Church.

DENTIST, LINDLEY BUILDING, southeast corner Seventh and J streets, Sacramento.

DENTIST, COLLIER SEVENTH and J streets, Sacramento.

DENTIST, OFFICE, MASONIC Temple, corner Sixth and K streets.

H. H. PIERSON DENTIST, 511-1st SAC.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, OFFICE, SOUTH-west corner Fifth and J streets, Rooms 12, 13 and 14, Sutter building.

LAWYERS—OFFICES, 920 FIFTH ST., Sacramento. Telephone No. 14.

LAWYERS—420 J STREET, SACRAMENTO. Notaries Public.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, SUTTER BUILDING, southwest corner of Fifth and J streets.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, 521 K STREET, Sacramento. Notary Public.

Miscellaneous.

CHAPTER CXL. An Act to provide for the issuance and sale of State bonds to create a fund for the construction and furnishing by the Board of State Harbor Commissioners of a general ferry and passenger depot in the City and County of San Francisco; to create a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds, and providing for the submission of this Act to a vote of the people.

[Approved March 17, 1891.] THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of providing a fund for the payment of the indebtedness hereby authorized to be incurred by the Board of State Harbor Commissioners, for the erection and furnishing of a general railroad, passenger and ferry depot at or near the foot of Market Street, in the City and County of San Francisco, at a cost not to exceed six hundred thousand dollars, which said Board of State Harbor Commissioners are hereby authorized to construct in the manner and method and providing for the submission of this Act to a vote of the people.

SECTION 2. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and the improvement fund, on Controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SECTION 3. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and the improvement fund, on Controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SECTION 4. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and the improvement fund, on Controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SECTION 5. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and the improvement fund, on Controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SECTION 6. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and the improvement fund, on Controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SECTION 7. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and the improvement fund, on Controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SECTION 8. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and the improvement fund, on Controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.

SECTION 9. The sum of one thousand dollars is hereby appropriated to pay the expense that may be incurred by the State Treasurer in having said bonds prepared. Said amount shall be paid out of the State Treasury, and the improvement fund, on Controller's warrants duly drawn for that purpose.