Enthusiastic Meetings in Many Parts of the Country.

BIG REPUBLICAN RALLY AT DANVILLE, ILLINOIS.

The Buffalonian Cleveland Club Tenders a Reception to the ex-President - Dewey Addresses a Large Assemblage at Philadelphia - Adlai E. Stevenson Speaks in Brooklyn - Ex-Speaker Reed at Pittsburg - Democratic Demonstration at Elwood, Indiana.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

DANVILLE (Ill.), Oct. 26.-The McKinley demonstration here to-day was one of the greatest political rallies ever seen in this section of the State. Conservative estimates place the number of people between thirty and forty thousand. A great parade occurred in the forenoon, but more crowds poured in in the afternoon, and another parade was formed, that the late arrivals might have a chance to vent their surplus enthusiasm.

Governor McKinley arrived at 2:40 P. M., accompanied by ex-Congressman Cannon and others. He was greeted at the depot by a crowd of several thousand, and driven rapidly to Forest Park, where his arrival was greeted by the assembled crowd with tremendous enthusiasm. He spoke at some length on the issues of the campaign, the greatest enthusiasm being manifested throughout. He closed with a prayer of ex-Congressman Cannon, and urged his election.

RECEPTION TO CLEVELAND. NEW YORK, Oct. 26.-The reception at the Imperial Hotel to-night given to ex-President Cleveland by the Buffalo Club was attended by about 200 persons, consisting of members of the club and a few invited guests. Cleveland's arrival was the occasion of applause, and all those present remained standing until the speeches of the evening, which lasted almost an hour, were over. After a brief preliminary speech, calling the meeting to order, the guest of the evening was introduced as one whose name created enthusiasm even when mentioned in a Republican meeting.

Mr. Cleveland spoke in a pleasant vein about his early days in Buffalo, and his friends of that time, who he now found among the members of the club. "In the atmosphere of personal friendliness that pervades this occasion," he said, "I nearly forgot that the organization has political aims and purposes. However, when these plans and purposes recur to his mind; they merely add to his general appreciation of their personal kindness. "Therefore," he said, "while my heart is full of gratitude to the friends I see about me, I cannot but feel the suggestion of those who say that your organization not only demonstrates your personal friendship for an old townsman, but also indicates that you are fully alive to your duties as good citizens.

"You know how devoted I am to the principles of the Democratic party, and your knowledge of me will surely acquit me of insincerity when I express the opinion that the result of the pending political struggle means more to our country and to me than any other in which you or I have ever been engaged. On one side the claim is defiantly and arrogantly announced that the functions of our government are being usurped for the benefit of certain special interests with at best a very remote regard to the welfare of the masses of the people.

"In opposing this policy, an appeal is made to our fellow-citizens to hold fast to the doctrine that their Government should, at all times, be administered directly by the people. It is their duty to be obliged to receive as their share of the blessings of the free Government they maintain the small portion which may be theirs through the agency of a few making special beneficiaries rich, and other words, the Democratic party is insisting on the most direct application of the rule that a Government by the people should be a Government for the people.

"It is as needless as it is foreign to my purpose to discuss in detail before those who are thoughtful and intelligent as you Buffalo friends the differences between the political principles and purposes presented to our people in this appeal. I only desire to assure that the gradations of your personal attachment affords is greatly enhanced by a consciousness that it is an attempt to do away with the conviction that the support you give in an organized way to your old townsman cannot create in your minds the least suspicion that such support is in aid of principles at all inconsistent with the highest duty as American citizens. It only remains for me to say that, whatever the result of the campaign, I shall always remember as its most pleasing incident this occasion, and the evidence it furnishes me of the conservation and devotion of my Buffalo friends."

Cleveland was followed by Lieutenant-Governor Sheehan, who spoke of the certainty of New York's going for the Democratic nominee.

Then Mayor Bishop of Buffalo made a few remarks, and the rest of the evening was spent in conversation and hand-shaking.

DEPEW AT PHILADELPHIA. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26.-Chauncey M. Depew spoke this evening at the Academy of Music, under the auspices of the Union League Club, to an audience that taxed the building to its greatest capacity. The speech was an oration in favor of protection and the tariff, and was a Republican party. In the course of his address Mr. Depew said: "The most impressive sight in my life was 20,000 people gathered together in one building during the Chicago Columbian celebration. I saw a million or two, more or less, on my way to the building. All seemed happy and prosperous. I saw no beggars, met with no rags; everything indicated that they represented a happy people and a happy country, and in that building I listened to the ablest Republican speech I ever heard delivered, by Henry Watterson of Kentucky. Mr. Watterson, the ablest Democrat in the country to-day, and introduced the free trade plank in the Chicago platform, yet Watterson, in the glowing oratory of the South, described the phenomenal growth and prosperity of the country since the civil war. It was a proud picture of a proud people celebrating a proud event, and calling upon the world to look upon their prosperity."

STEVENS SPEAKS IN BROOKLYN. BROOKLYN, Oct. 26.-The Democracy of Brooklyn turned out in force to-night and held a great mass meeting at the Academy of Music, where Adlai E. Stevenson, Vice-Presidential candidate, and Congressman Raynor of Maryland spoke on the issues of the campaign to over 4,000 persons. Stevenson received an ovation as he stepped upon the stage.

DEATH IN THE FLAMES.

Terrible Fate of a Family of Four at Cleveland.

SUFFOCATED BY SMOKE AND THEIR BODIES BURNED.

Lawlessness Continues on the Increase at Homestead, in Spite of Large Number of Officers on Duty - Prospect of the Town Being Placed Under Martial Law - Four People Asphyxiated in Chicago.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 26.-At 1:30 this morning flames were discovered bursting from the lower part of a building at the corner of Central avenue and Harriet street, and an alarm was at once turned in. The fire had such headway when discovered that by the time the firemen reached the scene the whole building was in a blaze, and all that could be done was to save adjoining property.

The building in which the fire started was totally destroyed. It was occupied in the lower part by James Shannon and John McGinty, saloon-keepers, and by Frank Mann, a barber. Shannon and his family lived in the upper part.

It was only after the building had been almost entirely consumed that the discovery was made that the Shannon family was missing. As soon as the ruins were cool enough an exploration was made and the bodies of the entire family were found. They were so badly burned as to be unrecognizable except by the size. They were James Shannon, aged 32, and two boys - James, aged 6, and John, aged 4.

From the way in which the bodies were found, as well as from the fact that there had apparently been no attempt to escape, it is probable that death was the result of suffocation. The building was filled with dense smoke before the fire was seen, and the four victims were probably dead before the fire reached them. The loss on the building was $3,000, covered by insurance.

THE LATE MRS. HARRISON. Arrangements for the funeral nearly completed.

AT HOMESTEAD. Lawlessness continues on the increase - More Workmen Assailed.

HOMESTEAD, Oct. 26.-Lawlessness continues on the increase. Several non-unionists were assaulted in daylight today, and crowds which defied the force of Deputy Sheriffs gathered in a short time and carried matters with a high hand. It appears that spies watch the movements of the Deputy Sheriffs, and the moment they are away make a sudden onslaught on the residences and persons of non-union men. It has been decided to increase the force of night deputies to fifty, if good men can be found, and the borough may again be placed under martial law. The mills are operating as usual, though the several thousand workmen who are employed are in a state of constant alarm, and many say they will leave sooner than the chances of being killed. They look upon the assaults as the last resort of the beaten men.

Four People Asphyxiated. CHICAGO, Oct. 26.-Carelessness in turning off the gas jets resulted in the death of four people here to-day. Two printers, Baris Godard and Terro Hamte, and John Glisner of St. Louis, were found dead in their rooms this morning, and in the afternoon, in another part of the city, A. B. Collins and wife, colored, were found dead from the same cause.

Training School team at Springfield - fifty to nothing. Princeton defeated the Manhattan Athletic Club, every man of which was an old Princeton player - forty-six to nothing.

Brewery Combination. MILWAUKEE, Oct. 26.-One of the biggest brewery combinations ever made here was perfected to-day by the consolidation of the Pabst Brewing Company and the Falk and Jung-Bobert Company. THOMAS STARR KING. Monument Erected in Honor of His Memory Unveiled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.-The bronze monument erected in Golden Gate Park to Thomas Starr King was unveiled this afternoon in the presence of several hundred people.

There were interesting exercises, beginning with music by the Park Band and prayer by Rev. C. W. Wendle of the Unitarian Church of Oakland.

J. B. Stetson, President of the Starr King Association, presided, and in a brief address related the progress of the movement, begun by old associates and friends, which has now culminated in the unveiling of the monument.

The statue, which was draped in the American flag, was unveiled by three grandchildren of Thomas Starr King - Fredrick A. Brown, Eliza Millard, and Joseph Mirandette. The ceremony was very pretty.

The statue, of heroic size, was modeled by several Grand Army men, and known as the sculptor of the John Harvard statue and "The Minute Man."

The address was "America," and then Fredrick A. Brown, Eliza Millard, and Joseph Mirandette sang "The Minute Man." Mr. Stetson said: "The story of loyalty and patriotism at one of our western breezes are here to fan its brow."

SHIP WRECKED. The Joseph F. Spinney Strikes a Rock Off Fort Ross.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.-Yesterday afternoon the ship Joseph F. Spinney, from New York for this port, with a cargo of general merchandise, struck on a sunken rock in the vicinity of Fort Ross, about seventy-five miles distant from San Francisco, and rapidly filled with water. She was deserted by the Captain and crew and now lies in about forty fathoms of water.

The officers and crew, on learning that the vessel could not be kept afloat, took to the boats and were picked up by the fishing-boat Farragut and brought to this port.

The Spinney would have reached this port in a short time and was speeding along at a good rate. The lookout noticed that the sea ahead of the vessel appeared to be perfectly smooth, and had no occasion to give warning of any kind.

When the vessel struck she did so with such force as to punch an enormous hole in her hull forward. The water rushed in at a tremendous rate, and before the Captain and crew realized the extent of the damage the ship was fast sinking. The pumps could not be worked fast enough to lower the volume of water in the hold, and although the attempt to save the vessel was kept up for hours, it was finally abandoned.

The vessel was abandoned and the crew and passengers were ordered to take to the boats and were picked up by the fishing-boat Farragut and brought to this port.
