

DAILY RECORD-UNION

ISSUED BY THE SACRAMENTO PUBLISHING COMPANY. Office, Third Street, between J and K. THE DAILY RECORD-UNION, For one year, $3 00 For six months, 2 00 For three months, 1 50

THE WEEKLY UNION. In the cheapest and most desirable Home News and Literary Journal published on the Pacific Coast. The WEEKLY UNION per year, $1 50

Special Agencies. This paper is for sale at the following places: L. P. Fisher's, room 21, Merchants' Exchange, California street; the principal News Stands and Hotels, and at the Market-street Ferry, San Francisco.

Official forecast for the twenty-four hours ending at midnight, November 14th: For Northern California—fair weather, south-westerly winds; cooler.

THE SUBMITTED QUESTIONS. The submitted questions at the election of Tuesday were all decided in this county as the RECORD-UNION advised.

A few papers went wrong, however, and advised action that was not taken by the people. In this county the prevailing vote on all the submitted matters was in harmony with the views advocated by the great mass of the press, and which the RECORD-UNION kept before the public mind persistently.

The proposition to extend the legislative term went down in wreck by a majority of nearly 2,000 votes, and this in a community financially benefited by a long-term Legislature.

The proposition to make bonded periods for city, town and district debts forty instead of twenty years carried by 3,000 majority, while the scheme to salary the Lieutenant-Governor and give clerks in the Capitol license to lobby the Legislature for increase of salaries was snuffed under by nearly 3,000 votes.

The proposition to limit deficiencies and to prevent State officials incurring deficiencies was carried by a handsome majority. That it was less than in the previous cases is due to the fact that a considerable number believed sincerely that to give a State Board power to approve deficiencies was not good policy, as any deficiency whatever is now prohibited; but the law is ignored.

The abolition of differing methods for cities of differing population strength in preparing new charters was approved by nearly 4,000 majority. The test of sentiment relative to the election of United States Senator by the direct vote of the people was decided in the affirmative by 5,500 majority.

The San Francisco Depot Act was confirmed by nearly 2,500 majority, and the voters' educational qualification sentiment test goes up from Sacramento County with the voice of 4,000 majority in an approval that amounts in its emphasis to a demand.

The proposition to refund the State debt Sacramento rejected, and wisely. Thus on every proposition the RECORD-UNION's position and the vote of the people agree, an outcome that, we trust, reflects the vote of the State generally.

UNACCOUNTABLE STUPIDITY. It would seem to be quite impossible to frame sentences in the English language, relative to the duties of election officers, so that all boards will understand and obey them. For years the law has required the inspector of every board to retain in his private possession, for six months, to be open meanwhile to the inspection of all citizens who ask to see the same, one of the tally lists and one of the poll lists.

The instructions referred to (Sec. 1202 of the election law) is a very necessary one. It is intended to supply a correct tally sheet in case any mishap the copy sent to the County Clerk is lost or destroyed.

THE WEEKLY UNION TO YOUR FRIENDS IN THE EAST. It is intended, also, to afford voters an opportunity to examine a tally and a poll list prior to the official count, and finally to enable the people to ascertain the re-result of an election immediately after the precinct count is closed.

Perhaps, in view of the fact that some Election Boards always refuse to obey the law, it would be well to so amend it that some other person shall be named whose duty it shall be to demand and receive the duplicate list from Boards of Election at the close of the count in each precinct.

SAID the Milwaukee Sentinel a few days ago: "Money Dewey approves of the general principle of the law, 'that the people don't want any change. When you have a great excitement it means that the people are excited and want a change. The country is unusually prosperous. The American people are usually content with the things they have, and they don't want a change just for the sake of a change.'"

Our contemporary will now agree that Mr. Dewey was wonderfully mistaken; that apathy may mean impending change, and that really on the 8th of November the "certain period" ended. But the change was not made for its own sake, but in protest against a policy—that was the long and the short of it.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The "Engineering Magazine" for November (New York) is a superb number, very richly illustrated, and in matter it is full of interest. No mere theoretical essays, but practical, understandable and entertaining articles. The contents are: "Light in Tall Office Buildings," "Banking in the West," "The Art of Wood Working," "C. R. Tompkins, M. E.," "Industrial Development of the South," "R. H. Edmunds," "City Hall Architecture in America," "Barr Ferree," "Our Costly Geological Survey—A Glimpse of Its Record," "Senator E. O. Wolcott," "Reasons for Supporting It," "Prof. N. S. Shaler," "What 'Engineering' Does for Us," "Relative Cost of Gas and Electricity," "J. Russell Humphreys," "The Mississippi Problem Up to Date," "William Stealing, Chief Engineer," "The Electric Motor and the Farmer," "William Nelson Black," "Business Opportunities in Cuba," "Eduardo J. Chilas, Esq.," "Electricity," "Franklin L. Pope," "Mechanics," "Frederic R. Hutton," "Architecture," "Barr Ferree," "Civil Engineering," "T. Graham Grubb," "Mining and Metallurgy," "Albert Williams, Jr.," "Machine Shop Notes," "Albert D. Feintz."

The November number of "Romance" is a typical American one. The stories are grouped together characteristic stories: Nathaniel Hawthorne, Edgar Allan Poe, Mary Hartwell Catherwood, Henry S. Gribble, Sherwood Bonner, Mary E. Wilkins and Harriet Prescott Spofford—the last of whom contributes a thrilling Thanksgiving story. The East, the West, the North and the South are alike represented in these vigorous, wholesome and picturesque narratives, among which are half a dozen uncommonly strong original ones by N. S. Shaler, Grayville Sharp, W. Thompson, R. L. Ketchum and Fred M. Hopkins. This is the third in the magazine's series of "special numbers," illustrating the fiction of different nations, which are proving as popular as they are novel. "Romance" is issued by Romance Publishing Company, Clinton Hall, Astor Place, New York. The price is 25 cents a copy; subscriptions, $2 50 a year.

The more important articles in "The Modern Nursery" for November are: "Constitution in Children," by Dr. C. L. Dodge; "Common Disorders Attending Maternity," by Dr. Joseph B. Cook; "The Prevention of Disease in Children," by Dr. W. B. Cannon; and "Our Relations to Our Neighbors' Children." A large number of helpful hints are included in the departments of "Nursery Helps and Novelties," "Nursery Problems," etc. The number contains the detailed index for the year, a glance at which shows the wide range of subjects treated, justifying the claim of the magazine made when it started eight years ago under the name of "Babyhood," that it would be the most complete and authoritative guide to mothers in the care of children. Babyhood Publishing Company, 5 Beekman street, New York.

As both story-teller and poet there is probably no living French writer more widely popular in his own country than Francis Coppée, whose contes en prose are among the best and most excellent examples of fiction in any language. The announcement, therefore, that he contributes a short story to the November number of "Harpers Magazine" is received with much interest. Many American readers to whom he has hitherto been a stranger thus have an opportunity to judge of his simple but unrivaled quality of his art. The story is entitled "The Rivals," and it is accompanied by several appropriate illustrations—some of which is the frontispiece to the number—from drawings by Albert E. Sterner.

"Belford's Monthly" for November (Chicago) has these papers: "An American Soldier," William Armstrong; "Partisan War in Virginia," John S. Mosby; "Found at the Altar," Alvah Nelson Kerr; "Physical Culture," a sex-agony; "Reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln," Ralph E. Hoyt; "Letting Down the Bars," A. H. Quinn; "In the White City," Milton; "Out of the Mouth of Hell," Joseph Boyden; "Chicago City Government," Ada C. Sweet; "Whittier," Ernest McGaffey; "The Men Who Made the West," William Armstrong; "With a Copy of Locke's Veres," T. P. Pollard; Editorials: "Do Critics Criticize?" "Whittier and Tennyson," "A Long Fall Went."

"Once a Week" is a weekly illustrated paper of New York, that is taking a place in the front rank of illustrated journalism. Its issue for November 5th was especially shows the pictures executed in the best style of process work and also superior wood-engraving. It is newsy, varied in matter, and addresses home matters. The paper issues a weekly library book giving a complete note that for November 5th is "On Trust," by Thomas Cobb.

The "Traveler and Shippers' Directory" for November (320 Broadway street, San Francisco, The Denborn Company), is at hand. It is, as we have said, the best guide and directory of coast travel ever issued, a model for all travel directories, the completest and most exhaustive of any issued in the world, and of this we know whereof we speak.
