

TURNED STATE'S EVIDENCE.

Young John Mullen Testifies Against His Partner, Fred Davis.

The Man Who Shot Grocer Wall Examined for Assault on Murderer, and Held to Answer.

Fred Davis was examined by Police Judge Craven yesterday on the charge of having shot P. H. Wall, a grocer, on the night of October 11th, at the latter's store at Sixth and P streets, and held for trial. As is well-known to the readers of the RECORD-UNION, Wall was shot and nearly killed that night while resisting two men who attempted to rob him.

Davis and a 17-year-old youth named John Mullen were arrested for the crime, and both confessed that they were the men who called at Wall's store on the night in question. Since making their confessions, however, Davis concluded to contest his case in court, and yesterday he was represented by Alvin J. Bruner, while District Attorney Ryan and City Attorney Hart appeared for the prosecution.

Wall, the victim of the shooting, was in court having apparently fully recovered from the effects of his wound. He told the story of the assault made upon him, and of the escape of his assailants.

Police Officer Talbot was called by the prosecution and related the circumstances of the arrest of Davis and Mullen, as published at the time, and was testifying regarding what transpired at the commission at which the prisoners confessed the crime. He said he told Davis that if he owned up to the thing it would go all the easier with him.

Mr. Bruner objected to this part of the testimony, on the ground that Davis' confession was obtained by a promise of reward.

After conferring together for a few minutes, the prosecuting officers concluded to withdraw Officer Talbot as a witness. They then asked that the charge against Mullen be dismissed, as he would testify for the prosecution and against Davis.

Judge Craven granted the motion, and Mullen was called to the witness stand. His testimony was not quite as strong as the story he told just after his arrest, and on one point he testified that if he made a certain statement (that he carried a stick on the night of the assault) he must have been mistaken, as he had no weapon.

The witness, who appeared to be not over-bright, testified that Davis made an appointment with him for the evening in question. They walked up P street, and when opposite Wall's store Davis placed him a piece of cloth, at the same time placing a mask over his own face and remarking that he was going to rob a man across the street.

Mullen said he also saw a pistol in Davis' hand as the latter started to cross the street; that he then realized that Davis meant business, and he started to run up an alley. He then discovered that the article which Davis had given him was a mask, and he threw it away.

Mullen appeared to be a very unwilling witness, and the prosecution had considerable difficulty in drawing him out. Enough testimony was obtained from him, however, to warrant the prosecuting lawyers in submitting the case to the court after brief arguments.

Judge Craven held Davis to answer before the superior court, and fixed his bail at $2,000.

A SUBURBAN BLAZE. Burning of Mrs. Jacob's Boarding-House—Little Water, As Usual.

About half-past 7 o'clock yesterday morning a burning-house at Twenty-eighth and L streets, conducted by Mrs. Magdalena Jacobs, was destroyed by fire. Most of the lodgers were conductors and gripen in the employ of the Electric Railway Company, some of whom slept late in the morning. A number of them had barely escaped from the burning building, and one came very near not getting out at all.

The firemen responded promptly, but they were unable to save the building, as they could do very little from a lack of water. It was not until the building was nearly consumed that a stream could be got to play upon the flames.

The house was owned by Henry Dehn, and was insured. Mrs. Jacobs managed to save some of her effects.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Governor Markham Issues His Proclamation Thereof.

Yesterday Governor Markham issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

"The President of the United States, in accordance with time-honored custom, having appointed Thursday, the 24th day of the present month, as a day of thanksgiving to God for His mercies and supplications, for His goodness and grace, and as the people of this State have prospered in the past year enjoyed great prosperity, I deem it most fitting that on the day designated by the President we should acknowledge the many blessings with which we have been surrounded;

And I therefore recommend that said 24th day of November be observed by the people of this State generally as a day of rest and meditation, and that each in his own way give thanks for our continued prosperity and invoke divine guidance for the future.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the State to be affixed at Sacramento this sixteenth day of November in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two. H. H. MARKHAM, Governor.

Attest: E. G. WAITE, Secretary of State.

WAS NOT EVANS.

Deputy Sheriff Alter Has an Experience of the Quickest.

For several days reports have reached Police Headquarters and the sheriff's office from Sutterville to the effect that a desperate-looking individual, heavily armed, was camping in the brush near that place, and that he answered the description given of Evans, the outlaw.

Deputy Sheriff Alter buckled on his armor yesterday, and with visions of big rewards and glory in his mind, started after the desperado. He pointed upon the fellow while he was taking his afternoon nap in the tules, and brought him to the County Jail. The prisoner convinced the deputy that he was not an outlaw, but simply an unfortunate who was too strong to work, and who had been visited by his physician to take plenty of fresh air, being that he might spoil on their hamis the officers turned him out.

After conferring together for a few minutes, the prosecuting officers concluded to withdraw Officer Talbot as a witness. They then asked that the charge against Mullen be dismissed, as he would testify for the prosecution and against Davis.

Judge Craven granted the motion, and Mullen was called to the witness stand. His testimony was not quite as strong as the story he told just after his arrest, and on one point he testified that if he made a certain statement (that he carried a stick on the night of the assault) he must have been mistaken, as he had no weapon.

The witness, who appeared to be not over-bright, testified that Davis made an appointment with him for the evening in question. They walked up P street, and when opposite Wall's store Davis placed him a piece of cloth, at the same time placing a mask over his own face and remarking that he was going to rob a man across the street.

Mullen said he also saw a pistol in Davis' hand as the latter started to cross the street; that he then realized that Davis meant business, and he started to run up an alley. He then discovered that the article which Davis had given him was a mask, and he threw it away.

Mullen appeared to be a very unwilling witness, and the prosecution had considerable difficulty in drawing him out. Enough testimony was obtained from him, however, to warrant the prosecuting lawyers in submitting the case to the court after brief arguments.

Judge Craven held Davis to answer before the superior court, and fixed his bail at $2,000.

Judge-Elect Johnson to Serve Out the Unexpired Term.

A Non-Partisan Petition to the Governor—Judge Johnson Will at Once Ascend the Bench.

Business in Department Two of the Superior Court, which is somewhat behind hand in consequence of the recent retirement of Judge Van Fleet, will soon take a fresh start. Governor Markham yesterday appointed Matt F. Johnson, the Superior Judge-elect, to fill the unexpired term of Judge Van Fleet, and it is understood he will enter on the discharge of his duties next Monday. A delegation of members of the bar waited on the Governor yesterday and presented the following petition asking for Mr. Johnson's appointment:

"SACRAMENTO, November 14, 1892. Hon. H. H. Markham, Governor of California: We, the undersigned members of the bar of Sacramento desire to call your attention to the fact that Hon. W. C. Van Fleet resigned the office of Judge of the Superior Court of said county on the first Monday of the present month, and there is now a vacancy in such office.

At the election which has just occurred Matt F. Johnson was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Van Fleet, but it will probably be more than one month before the complete official proceedings can be had which will result in his receiving his commission pursuant to such election.

The business of the courts is in the meantime accumulating, and it is much more than the remaining Judge can dispatch, resulting in inconvenience and expense to the public. It is therefore respectfully requested that the office of Judge of the Superior Court to fill the vacancy which now exists in that office in the county of Sacramento, California, be assigned to Matt F. Johnson, a native born citizen of the State of California, and a member of the bar of this county, who is well known to the public, and who is well qualified to discharge the duties of the office. We are, Sir, your obedient servants, J. C. Tubbs, W. H. S. Scott, H. G. Soule, Jr., Charles T. Jones, Johnson, Johnson & Johnson, W. A. Anderson, H. L. Buckley, S. J. Holsinger, Judson C. Brasie.

Goodwin Was Innocent. John Goodwin, the man who was arrested Tuesday on a charge of stealing two shaguns and some ammunition belonging to Frederick McClure, was examined by Judge Henry yesterday, and was promptly discharged. It appears from the evidence that the charge was groundless. Goodwin and McClure's partner went on a duck-hunting together, and the latter had appropriated the guns instead of Goodwin. Neither had any idea of stealing them, and when they were through hunting returned them.

An Abandoned Enterprise. While some men were engaged in cutting brush near the levee on the Yolo side of the river, about a mile beyond the Bryte ranch, a couple of days ago, they found two bricks that had been doctored with bronze so as to resemble the gold bricks used by bunco sharps in swindling honest grangers and other unsophisticated people.

There was also found a miner's garb, which had evidently been intended for use by the owner of the bricks.

Cases Continued. The Superior Court has ordered all cases set on the present term calendar for November 24th in departments to be continued to Friday, November 25, 1892.

Notaries Public. J. H. Ball of Willows, Glenn County, and A. H. Rott of Sacramento were appointed Notaries Public by the Governor yesterday.

For Dyspepsia. USE HORSFORD'S ACID PHOSPHATE. DR. LORENZO WAITE, Pittsfield, MASS., says: "From its use for a period of about eight weeks, to the exclusion of all other remedies, I attribute the restoration of health of a patient who was emaciated to the last degree, in consequence of nervous prostration and dyspepsia. This patient's stomach was in such an irritable condition that he could not bear either liquid or solid food. An accomplished physician had prescribed for this patient whom I called in consultation, pronounced his case an incurable one. At this stage I decided to use Horsford's Acid Phosphate, which resulted as above mentioned."

THOSE MISSING MEN.

William Pitt Eldred and Milo Wagner Are All Right.

The Sycamore Mystery Deepens—Eldred Says He Saw Him In San Francisco on Monday.

William Pitt Eldred and Milo Wagner are not missing, as was reported on Tuesday. Railroad Commissioner Beckman, who came up from San Francisco on that evening, yesterday said to a RECORD-UNION reporter: "I see by this morning's paper that Pitt Eldred is missing. I met Eldred last Monday in front of the Grand Hotel, San Francisco, looking for some way to get to Salt River."

Last night Eldred came up from San Francisco. He is now staying at the man who started the story that he was missing.

Wagner, who is in the employ of the City Engineer, was on hand yesterday morning for his usual detail of work.

In the case of Sycome, the missing mechanic, whose hat and coat were found on the Yolo bridge on Sunday morning, nothing new has developed to shed light on the mystery surrounding his disappearance. About a week ago, however, that man with whom he was seen near the bridge about 2 o'clock that morning was Jack Deegan, and that the latter has also been absent since that time.

From all accounts, Sycome must have been drinking quite heavily on Saturday night. He is said to have been seen in a saloon at Eight and K streets in company with "Stoogy" Welch and Bell Murphy, and that the party were drinking freely.

Officer May says he saw and talked with Sycome about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning at Third and J streets, and that the latter then showed the effects of drink. About a week ago, however, he saw three men some distance away and heading in the direction of the Yolo bridge. One of the number appeared to be quite under the influence of liquor. May was not close enough to be able to identify any of the trio, but thinks Sycome was one.

Some persons still hold to the theory that Sycome has left the city, and they base their belief on the rumor that Sycome had of late remarked to friends that he was expected to return to the city in a few days, and that he was prepared to assume the responsibilities of wedded life.

LATER—IS SYCOME AT THE YOLO? Late last night, and after the above was put in type, it was ascertained from a gentleman who had talked with W. P. Eldred, on the latter's return from San Francisco last evening, that Eldred claims to have seen and talked with Sycome in the bar-room of the Russ House, San Francisco, on Monday. Our informant states that Eldred insisted he had seen Sycome at the time and place named.

If Eldred's statement can be verified, it will, of course, dispose of the theory of foul play.

PURLOINERS OF IRON. Hicklin and Dresser Found Guilty of Robbing the Union Iron Works.

In the Police Court yesterday Ed Hicklin and Charles Dresser were found guilty of petty larceny in having stolen some iron from the Union Iron Works.

John Driscoll, one of the firm, testified that iron had been missing from their premises frequently for over a year, and identified the articles recovered from Hicklin and Dresser as belonging to the firm.

Officer Aherm testified to the arrest, and that the men had sold the iron to a junk dealer.

Dresser made a statement in which he charged Hicklin with getting the iron, and the latter swore he found them loose in the alley.

Judge Craven pronounced both men guilty, and sentenced Hicklin to 120 days in the County Jail, reserving judgment for Dresser until to-day.

John Taylor, convicted of vagrancy, was sentenced to 100 days in the County Jail.

Ed Francis, who haunted a crib occupied by the "China Lily," on L street, was dragged from his den and found guilty of vagrancy. He will receive sentence to-day.

Ed Hines, charged with assault with a deadly weapon on Frederick Boehm, had the charge against him dismissed at the latter's request. Boehm stated in court that his wife was sick, and on her account he did not wish to prosecute.

John Doe was fined $5, or two and a half days, for being drunk.

ANOTHER GOOD HAUL. Emil Bayer's Residence Robbed of Two Hundred Dollars.

The burglars gang that have been operating so merrily in this city for some weeks past are still "doing business at the old stand." On Tuesday night they paid a visit to the residence of Emil Bayer, at Seventeenth and Q streets, where they made a haul of $200 in coin.

The family went out in the evening, and it was during their absence that the party was entered. The burglars made a pretty thorough overhauling of the premises, but took nothing but the money referred to.

As in the case of the burglary of the E. A. Avery residence on Saturday night, it would seem that the thieves were familiar with the premises, as they apparently had no difficulty in locating the spot in a rear room where the coin was packed.

The operations of these burglars have long since been going on, and it is much to be regretted that they have secured money and valuables to the extent of several thousand dollars, and as the police have not the slightest clue to the operators, it is quite likely the latter will not soon abandon so profitable a field.

OFFICIAL COUNT. The Supervisors Find No Errors in the Election Returns.

The task of canvassing the returns of the late election is progressing slowly in the hands of the Supervisors. The board is taking its time, however, for the purpose of making an absolutely correct count.

A number of candidates who had close races in the election are still on hand, looking after their own interests. The count, however, has shown very few changes in the figures as originally presented by the RECORD-UNION to its readers. And what changes there are are insignificant. The contest for the Strivings, which was the closest, remains entirely unchanged. The same condition applies with reference to the contest for State

Senator, despite the reports that an error had been discovered which gave William Boyne a large number of votes not heretofore counted for him.

The Second and Third Districts were nearly finished yesterday, and it is thought that the count will be concluded by this evening. There are some districts on account of the absence of a tally-list from the Ninth Precinct of the Third District. The Inspector of that polling-place was sent for, and he furnished the missing sheet. No changes in the returns were noticed.

The Tenth Precinct of the Second District was not counted yesterday, as the tally-sheet had been misplaced.

SINCE THE ELECTION. A Cold Wave Still Rolling Over This Part of the Country.

The Weather Bureau reports show the highest and lowest temperatures yesterday to have been 62° and 35°, with brisk light northerly winds traveling from eighteen to twenty-four miles per hour.

Reports received show there was frost in the early morning from Stockton to Portland and beyond.

The barometrical readings at 5 a. m. and 5 p. m. were 30.17 and 30.18 inches, respectively.

The highest and lowest temperatures one year ago yesterday were 67° and 38°, and one year ago to-day 70° and 35°, showing that the present chilling blast is colder than at the same time last year.

It appears singular that the lowest temperature each day since the election has been growing colder and colder, but it will probably soon wind up in a good, warm and prosperous rain.

Articles of Incorporation. The following articles of incorporation were filed in the Secretary of State's office yesterday:

Sickness Among Children. Especially infants, is prevalent at all times, but is largely avoided by giving proper nourishment and wholesome food. The most successful and reliable is Gail Borden "Eagle" Brand Condensed Milk. Your grocer and druggist keep it.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless, dark, dismal days act depressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to reinforce the system with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.
