

FARMERS IN EARNEST.

There Must be Relief for the Overburdened Rivers.

What the Drainage and Reclamation Convention Did Yesterday—To Meet Again To-day.

A large number of delegates—Supervisors and other citizens of several counties—came to the city yesterday in response to an invitation extended by the Board of Supervisors of this county, requesting a number of river counties to send delegates, consisting of five Supervisors and five citizens from each, to meet in a convention for the purpose of considering a plan for the drainage of the lands subject to overflow when the Sacramento River is at flood height, and also for the reclamation of the lands in question.

The convention met in the lecture-room of the Art Gallery, and the number of representative citizens present testified to the lively interest taken in the matter and the determination to solve, if possible, the problem.

The Convention was called to order by J. M. Morrison, Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, who stated the objects of the meeting to be the consideration of a plan of draining of the surplus waters of the river and reclaiming the overflowed land. He concluded by reading the call for the convention.

Nominations for temporary Chairman being in order, Dr. G. M. Dixon of Sacramento nominated David Lubin, and he was unanimously elected.

THE CHAIRMAN'S REMARKS. Mr. Lubin, on taking the chair, said the time did not permit extended remarks. "The situation was this: We have a river that is under normal conditions at two periods of the year, the summer season and the flood time. If we could have been here hundreds of years ago we would probably have found the condition just as it now is, that the land close to the rivers was most productive, and the people naturally preferred it and tried to hold it against the floods. We were trying to do so now. In proportion to the time we wait, the expense will increase in trying to hold the land, but the result is inevitably the same, and unless we provide relief from the surface water.

It was the general practice, said Mr. Lubin, to add a great claimant had occurred; but in this case we mean concerted plans in advance to protect themselves. The attendance this morning showed that the intention of those present was not to await a time of disaster. When we make our homes safe we reclaim land that has not perhaps seen the light of the sun for centuries, and which, if reclaimed, will add to our wealth for centuries to come.

In this progressive age, said the speaker, every man is a priest, and because is no less sacred than the former work of the priesthood in the olden times, if he uncover one acre of land and make it productive, just as the priests of old made the duty of uncovering the truth to the sight of the people. A bill may be formulated by this convention to attain the object in view. We will be the assistants of everyone, and cannot afford to antagonize anyone. He thought that in action of the convention good, sound, everyday sense would prevail rather than rhetorical display. He trusted the business of the convention would come to a successful issue.

Frank Miller of Sacramento proposed W. D. Lawton and A. G. Hoagland as Secretary and Assistant Secretary, and they were elected. He also proposed the appointment by the Chair of a Committee on Credentials, consisting of one delegate from each county.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED. On motion of Dr. Dixon, a Committee on Organization was appointed, consisting of one from each county, was appointed, to be named by the delegates from the several counties.

The Committee on Credentials was appointed as follows: Edward Fagan of Butte County, Dr. Gray of Colusa County, J. M. Fulweiler of Placer, James Miller of Solano, W. F. Locke of Sutter, F. W. Adams of Yolo, Supervisor Saul of Yuba and William Curtis of Sacramento.

Mr. Fulweiler thought that unless some time was given to the committee to examine data it would be difficult for the committee to determine the question of credentials.

On motion of Dr. Briggs the committees were instructed to report at the opening of the evening session.

Mr. Fulweiler asked that Judge F. W. Spear be appointed in his place on the Committee on Credentials, and it was done.

The committee was appointed as follows: D. Street of Butte, W. A. Green of Colusa, A. P. Hall of Placer, E. L. Upham of Solano, John Burns of Sutter, William King of Yolo, Dr. Johnson of Yuba, Dr. Dixon of Sacramento.

Mr. Rose moved that the convention take a recess till 7 p. m., and it was so ordered.

The committees met immediately after the convention took a recess.

Evening Session. The convention was called to order at 7 o'clock by Chairman Lubin. Mayor Comstock being present, was invited to take a seat on the platform.

Second—We recommend D. H. Arnold of Colusa for President; R. F. Walton of Sutter County and William Johnston of Sacramento for Vice-Presidents; also, W. D. Lawton and A. G. Hoagland, respectively, as Secretary and Assistant Secretary, and Frank Miller of Sacramento as Treasurer.

Third—We recommend as order of business: First—The election of officers. Second—Appointment by the President of a committee of five, a legislative committee, to consist of twenty members; a committee of three engineers, to consist of C. E. Grunsky, Marston Mansson and J. C. Pierson.

Third—A Committee on Memorial and Resolutions to Congress, to consist of five members.

Fourth—We further recommend that in voting each county delegation be allowed to cast the vote of absent members as said delegation may agree.

THE PRESIDENT'S REMARKS. On taking the chair Mr. Arnold said: "I thank you, gentlemen, sincerely for the honor conferred upon me in electing me President of a convention which will consider one of the most important ever held in Sacramento County."

"Over half a million acres of our best land in the State is now under water and not only is the damage done to the owners of land, but the loss is the ruin of other people as well. I have lived here thirty-one years and I am satisfied the river can never be confined by levees built along its banks, and the sooner this fact is realized and the steps taken to provide against it the better."

"Notwithstanding the immense amount of flooded land in Colusa County, the river protection of a convention which is deeper than that was thirty years ago, with from 16 to 24 feet tall to the mile, and yet it does not carry half the water. Over a million dollars have been spent there to reclaim one small district and nearly as much more for another, and both of these districts are now under water."

"We have tried every means of individual and sectional effort, and the people realize that some plan of larger magnitude and of more general efficiency must be adopted."

"Among us here are men of various theories, different plans and ideas to suggest, and I am not a speech-maker but a worker, and I want to see something accomplished. We should all lay aside our pet ideas and notions and try and unite on some general and comprehensive plan to benefit us all."

"What is now a vast area of useless land covered with water can be reclaimed, and wherever it is reclaimed it is the best land in the State—the best in the world."

"I am not a parliamentarian, and I ask that you will assist in maintaining order and good feeling among the members of this convention."

"Gentlemen, we are now ready to hear what is your pleasure."

Mr. Arnold was favored with a round of applause at the close of his remarks.

COMMITTEE OF ENGINEERS. Mr. Hilliard wanted to know what was said about the Committee of Engineers, and the names and objects of that committee were again read. He then asked if the adoption of the report elected the three gentlemen named, and was informed that it did.

Dr. Dixon moved that the engineers be instructed to report at the next meeting of this convention, and it was carried.

OTHER COMMITTEES. At the request of Chairman Arnold, the report of the Committee on Permanent Organization was again read as he was not present at the first reading. The Chair then stated he would require some time to select committees so as to get the very best men.

Mr. Hilliard moved that the roll of counties be called, and the Legislative Committee be appointed by the delegates. Carried.

Senator Ostrom said it would be impossible for him to be present much of the time, and asked the appointment of C. F. Berry in his place.

It was considered against the provisions of the call, and Senator Ostrom withdrew his motion.

Mr. Fulweiler moved that any member of the convention might give his proxy to a member of his county, and it was so ordered.

OBJECT OF THE CONVENTION. Mr. Rose suggested that before the appointment of the committee the plans of operation ought to be stated to the convention.

Mr. Dixon said that was the object of the convention, and was embodied in the call.

Mr. Rose thought the plans should be more clearly defined.

F. R. Dray suggested that the convention might meet with obstacles in considering both the reclamation of the lands and the preservation of the navigation of the river, and that it should select perhaps one object and confine itself to that.

Mr. Barcar thought the ones calling for the reclamation of the lands in regard to ways and means.

Mr. Boggs thought the first thing should be to hear the report of the engineers and learn something of the probable expense. The land should bear its portion, and if necessary the Government be asked to protect the rivers. If they could get the state or Government to assist, well and good.

Carroll said the State ought to be asked to aid in surveys, but was ruled out of order. It was decided that the appointment of committees be deferred until the objects of the convention were discussed.

RECLAMATION BILL. F. R. Dray said a scheme for the reclamation of districts, a proposed law, had been prepared and submitted to the Legislature, and the bill referred to was read by the Secretary. It is Assembly Bill No. 205.

MEMBERS WERE LEFT FOR HIM TO APPOINT, AND HE DESIRED TIME TO SELECT THE BEST MEN POSSIBLE.

Senator Ostrom said, if possible, the committee should be appointed at once, as many of the members expected to go home to their families. Mr. Boggs thought it too much to demand of the Chairman until he had time to confer with the members, and suggested a recess was then taken for five minutes.

THE COMMITTEES. After recess the Chair gave the appointments made by him to the Legislative Committee. The Executive Committee was appointed: Sacramento, William Johnston; Colusa, L. F. Moulton; Nevada, Niles Searls; Butte, Edward Fagan; Solano, Peter Siebe; Sutter, Woodward; Sutter, A. H. Wilbur; Placer, R. L. Dunn; Yuba, J. C. White; Glenn, H. C. Hale.

The Executive Committee was appointed from the several counties, was as follows: T. B. Hutchins, Butte; D. H. Arnold, Colusa; Geo. C. Gaylor, Nevada; W. D. Perkins, Placer; Dr. J. C. Pierson, Sacramento; D. K. Korin, Solano; Eli Davis, Sutter; Wm. King, Yolo; Thos. Sherwood, Yuba.

To memorialize Congress the following were appointed to prepare and present a memorial to Congress, Mr. Dray said he called the Governor's attention to the memorial he had been instructed to have prepared in Washington, and it was found the Governor had never sent it. It was bound and sent and nothing was ever heard from it. He had the original in his possession, and he also Senator Felton's bill, which amended the Caminetti bill in twenty-three places. Congress will not take any action unless we ask for a proper survey, and we intend to procure the proper relief.

This county and those above us all need relief from water, but we must tax ourselves in Washington, and we want to do, relieve ourselves or memorialize Congress? Let us find out and do it. The Caminetti bill was published this morning in the Sacramento Union, and we want to see that the convention might become conversant with its provisions.

The bill mentioned the tributaries of the Sacramento and San Joaquin. If we are going to become petitioners to Congress, we should endeavor to have included not only the tributaries, but the rivers in some general and comprehensive plan to benefit us all.

Dr. Dixon asked Senator Dray if there was any reason why this convention could not ask about the contract system without stepping out of its legitimate channel.

Mr. Bingham of Yuba thought Senator Dray misunderstood the question at issue. He did not mean to step out of its channel, but to amend the bill. The clause was put in for the direct benefit of the Sacramento Valley.

W. S. Green of Colusa said this convention was to avoid the debris question, and here we were bringing it right in.

LET THE BILL ALONE. He feared its introduction as the Trojans should have feared the introduction of the wooden horse into their city. We ought to have nothing to do with it. Let us take hold of this question ourselves in some shape or form, and if we have had expanded in disjointed bills and a reclamation which, if applied on some common system, might have produced good results. Perhaps the Government will take hold and help us, but we must do something for ourselves. He was certain that reclamation could be done if we would only go to it intelligently and with a well conceived system. We have lost in Colusa County, he said, MORE THAN $1,000,000.

By the floods on our grain-fields, that amount expended for the county would have rendered the country secure for us and our children and our children's children. This work cannot be done by expecting to come here and go home by the railroad's train. It would take days and weeks.

Let us stay by it, he said, till the work is done. We are all interested in this question, and we should protect those in the low lands in their property, and was of interest to those on the high lands by lowering their taxes. Sacramento City could not pay the whole amount and it would come back to it in a year. It was economy in every way to carry out what we were now undertaking.

DAVID LUBIN'S REMARKS. Mr. Lubin said the Secretary had read a bill and the framer of the bill was present—he referred to Judge McKune—his bill had been badly used, and it was likely there was another side to the question, and he would like to hear from it. He made a long speech, in which he advocated united effort, as all were concerned in the object of the convention was working. He thought we had no right to ask more of the Government than what it could legally give us, which was useless, and we should do what we have a right and ought to ask the Government to do what it can. The reclamation of the land would go to establish an empire, and was the richest land in the world. He thought taxes levied for such a purpose was not a tax, as everyone would be benefited by the general prosperity which would follow proper expenditures for reclamation and river improvement.

There were capitalists who would jump at the chance to reclaim the lands, a continuous chain from the beginning of the trouble to the sea was necessary.

Mr. Dray said a memorial to Congress would be useless, as we had no representative in Congress who would work to make it a law. A memorial to Congress is waste time.

Here a delegate interrupted with, "We have to-day elected a Senator who will do it!"

The speaker acknowledged Senator

White's election and paid him a neat tribute.

OFF THE TRACK. Mr. Rose hoped they would lay aside the Caminetti bill, and that the discussion should confine itself to reclamation, and that the members should present their views on the subject. "Let us find out if they are willing to do so. If any good is to be done, the land-owners must put up their money."

Judge J. H. McKune was requested to read the Caminetti bill and explain it, and did so. Then considerable time was spent in discussing the bill.

Judge McKune said it was impossible to discuss the bill properly in a short speech. He could only refer generally to the objects it was framed to provide for, in framing the bill he had nothing to go by in the work done in the past, and it was framed from suggestions of friends and reasonings of his own.

Provisions made heretofore had been merely local in their effect and the work done was to protect small and often isolated tracts. The law in regard to these things was weak, and had nothing to go by in the work done in the past, and it was framed from suggestions of friends and reasonings of his own.

The law in regard to these things was weak, and had nothing to go by in the work done in the past, and it was framed from suggestions of friends and reasonings of his own.

Money expended in levees to confine the river to a channel 800 feet wide is an unwise and useless expenditure that has proven a failure. There was no end to levee building. You will, he said, find it in time useless. In general scope we know about as much as the engineers on this point. We may as well resolve that the two questions to consider are engineering and finances. We must endeavor to secure good engineering.

Judge McKune spoke at length on the condition of the lands and rivers and made many valuable suggestions. He said there was no way but a comprehensive survey and a provision for

AN AMPLE CHANNEL. For the water. A channel he thought ought to be cut through the Montezuma Hills, in forming districts he would make it as simple as possible. The bill provides for three commissions. The people are willing to be taxed for any such thing. We cannot get money from State or Government without a plan being formulated.

He assured the convention that it was an easier thing to do than to build up. His bill is intended only as a nucleus to be built up and perfected, and if this were done in a few years would effect the results wished.

INVITATIONS EXTENDED. The Chairman read an invitation from the directors of the California Museum Association to the members of the convention to meet at the museum on Tuesday. On motion of D. Lubin, W. H. Mills and General Bidwell were invited to meet with the convention.

Chief Rodgers met with a slight accident yesterday morning by having his horse step on his foot. He received quite a painful bruise, but it is not likely to prove serious.
