

THE RECORD-UNION.

VOLUME LXXXIV.—NO. 131.

SACRAMENTO, FRIDAY MORNING, JANUARY 20, 1893.

WHOLE NO. 15,995.

MOURNING FOR THE DEAD.

Funeral of the Late Ex-President to Take Place To-Day.

THE SERVICES WILL BE SIMPLE AND IMPRESSIVE.

Thousands of Strangers Floeking to Fremont to Attend the Ceremonies—Orders Issued for the Closing of All Departments of the Government To-Day—The White House Draped in Mourning Out of Respect to Deceased.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

FREMONT (Ohio), Jan. 19.—The citizens of this little place were busy to-day preparing to do honor to the patriot and statesman whose remains are lying in state to-night at Spiegel Grove. There is no ostentation anywhere, but tokens of mourning are seen on every hand, simple and touching, as befits the memory of the illustrious departed. To-night a detachment from the Sons of Veterans stands in military order in the hall and by the tier, while some of the many friends of the late General Hayes pass slowly by viewing the familiar face. He lies as if in repose, peacefully asleep in trust of a true Christian faith. Few friends have yet arrived from out of town. The principal display to-morrow will be by the military. The First City Cavalry troop of Cleveland, of which Webb Hayes is a member, will be the guard of honor. The Toledo Cadets and the Sixteenth Regiment, with Battery D of Toledo, will add to the quiet majesty of the funeral procession. General Hayes' old regiment, the Twenty-third Ohio Volunteer Infantry, will not only be represented by Governor McKinley, but by Ben Killam, the Secret Regimental Association, and delegations of grizzled old veterans who loved General Hayes like a father.

Flowers in elaborate pieces are coming in in great numbers.

DISTINGUISHED PEOPLE ARRIVING.

FREMONT (O.), Jan. 19.—Two members of Rawson Post, G. A. R., of which General Hayes was a member, kept vigil beside the remains of the late ex-President last night. The remains have been embalmed and lie in the southwest bedroom. They present a most lifelike appearance. The Wisconsin Commandery of the Royal Legion has telegraphed its sympathies.

By order of Governor McKinley the Eighteenth Regiment of the State Militia, Battery D and the Toledo Cadets will take part in the funeral services.

Many distinguished people are arriving and are expected to arrive here to participate in the funeral services. Governor McKinley and the members of the State Legislature will arrive to-morrow in time for the funeral, beside Foster, Rusk, Noble and Wanamaker of President Harrison's Cabinet.

Fully 10,000 strangers are expected to be present from all parts of the country. Many business houses closed to-day and all will be closed to-morrow. A special committee of citizens is arranging to take care of the throng, which will be an unusual thing for this quiet town. Meals will be served in the parlors of the churches.

President-elect Cleveland will arrive to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock, and will be the guest of Colonel H. S. Birenard. The coming of Cleveland has occasioned wide and pleasant comment and great gratification to the family and friends of the illustrious citizen, and is regarded as a delicate and dignified tribute to a worthy man who was once chosen President, and chosen a second time to fill the highest office in the gift of the people.

The halls and other public places and private residences have been placed at the disposal of the committees for the accommodation of visitors. It has been decided, at the request of citizens, to forego holding the funeral at the house and to conduct the services at the Methodist Church. The ceremonies will take place at 2 P. M. The body will lie in state in the Hayes mansion to-morrow forenoon.

The school children, civic bodies and general public will be permitted to view the remains to-morrow forenoon, beginning at 10 o'clock.

The services will be simple and impressive. At 2 o'clock the family, personal friends and dignitaries from abroad will assemble within the parlors. The Twenty-third Psalm will be read by the pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, immediately followed by a favorite hymn, sung by Professor Alfred Arthur of Cleveland and David H. Kimberly of the Twenty-third Ohio, assisted by a quartette. A prayer will then be offered by Dr. James Basford, President of the Ohio Wesleyan University. There will be no sermon. The service will close with singing and the Lord's Prayer. The Grand Army ritual, which is very simple, will be used at the cemetery.

The Ohio National Guard and other military bodies will be in the procession. Colonel Henry C. Corbin, Assistant Adjutant-General of the United States Army, who will have charge of the ceremonies will arrive from Washington this evening.

Letters and telegrams of condolence in endless numbers continue to pour in on the family from all over the world.

WHITE HOUSE DRAPED IN MOURNING.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The White House and all the executive departments were draped in mourning to-day, and will wear sable emblems of sorrow for a period of thirty days. All departments will be closed to-morrow. Secretary Foster of the Treasury Department to-day issued an order closing all sub-treasuries and Customs offices throughout the United States on Friday, January 20th, the day of the funeral of the ex-President.

ORDERS ISSUED.

The following order was issued this morning by the Postmaster-General: "As a mark of respect, and in recognition of the nation's loss in the death of General Rutherford B. Hayes, late President of the United States, all post-offices are ordered to be closed during the funeral, between the hours of 2 and 5 P. M., January 20th."

In general orders issued to-day announcing the death of ex-President Hayes, Major-General Scofield directs that the day of the funeral at each military post the troops and cadets be paraded on the order road to them. After which all labors of the day will cease. The national flag will be displayed at half-mast. At the dawn of day thirteen guns will be fired, and afterward, at intervals of thirty minutes, between the rising and setting of the sun, a single gun, and at the close of the day a national salute of forty-four guns. The officers will wear grape on the left arm and on the swords, and colors of the battalion of engineers, of the several regiments and the United States corps of cadets will be put in mourning for a period of six months.

By direction of the Secretary of War the following officers were detailed to repair to Fremont, O., and attend the funeral: Brigadier General Joseph C. Breckinridge, Colonel George D. Ruggles, Lieutenant-Colonel Marshal L. Ludington, Lieutenant-Colonel Corbin, Captain Tasker and H. Bliss, Aid-de-Camp to the Major-General commanding the army.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Department, to-day issued a general order to the navy in reference to the death of Mr. Hayes. The order directs that on the day of the funeral, where the order may be received in time, otherwise on the day after receipt, the ensign of each naval station and of each vessel of the United States navy in commission be hoisted at half-mast from sunrise to sunset, and at each naval station and on board flagships and vessels acting singly a gun be fired at interval of every hour from sunrise to sunset. Officers of the navy and marine corps will wear the usual badge of mourning attached to the sword hilt and on the left arm for a period of thirty days.

It is in accordance with the wishes of the family that the usual military honors be omitted at the funeral. The military escort for the ex-President includes nearly the entire strength of the army, so its omission on the occasion means a great deal.

Orders have been issued by General S. S. Yoder, Commander-in-Chief of the Union Veterans' Union, that each department headquarters and precinct command of the Union Veterans' Union place a becoming evidence of mourning in their respective halls for thirty days; that each command take steps to hold at an early date memorial services expressive of esteem and love for their late comrade.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Yesterday's Proceedings in the Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—In the Senate to-day Wolcott gave notice of an amendment to the Sherman silver repeal bill requiring the coining of all silver bullion now in the treasury or hereafter produced.

Peffer resumed his argument in favor of a constitutional amendment limiting the Presidential office to one term.

At the conclusion of Peffer's address the anti-option bill came up and Platt resumed his argument against its constitutionality.

Cullom of Illinois from the Committee on Commerce, reported an amendment to the Interstate Commerce Act. Placed on calendar.

Teller of Colorado introduced a new bill to submit the McGarraghan claim to the Court of Private Land Claims, and had it referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Wolcott of Colorado introduced a joint resolution directing the Postmaster-General to discontinue the sale of the so-called foreign postage stamps, except where specially called for. He asked that the resolution be immediately acted on, and said he knew nothing more ridiculous than those stamps covering half an envelope. The resolution went over.

Stewart of Nevada then took the floor in opposition to the anti-option bill, on constitutional and business grounds.

After further debate, Washburn withdrew his request to reach a vote to-day. The Senate will vote to-morrow. He should ask the Senate to remain in session till a vote was reached. The bill went over without action, and the Senate adjourned.

IN THE HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—The House passed the light-house bill, and the bill was called up for the construction of two revenue cutters for use on the Pacific Coast, but Kilgore filibustered against it and the bill was withdrawn.

The Senate will vote to-day on a substitute providing that no person shall be excused from testifying before the Inter-State Commerce commission on the ground that his evidences may tend to criminate himself, was passed.

Patterson then called up the bill amending the Interstate Commerce Act. The report accompanying the measure says: The bill is intended to obviate the construction which the courts placed on the words "same line" as they appear in the fourth section of the Act.

The pooling section was amended by striking out the word "pool," and inserting the words "any contract, agreement or arrangement." It further provides that railroad companies may make "contracts, agreements or arrangements" for apportioning among themselves traffic or gross or net earnings under certain conditions to be imposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The bill further provides that a common carrier, who is a corporation, may be indicted for violation of any provisions of the Act.

Lind of Minnesota moved to strike out Section 2, amending the "pooling section of the original proposition," but O'Neill of Pennsylvania strenuously objected. The motion was agreed to.

Boatman of Indiana offered an amendment, requiring all railway common carriers to accept from connecting lines loaded cars or trains to be hauled to the point of delivery at a rate not to exceed the charge for similar service over their lines. Agreed to—55 to 58.

The bill then passed.

SOCIALISTS TO THE FRONT.

They Think They Will Soon be in Control of Affairs in France.

WHAT THEY WILL DO WHEN THEY COME INTO POWER.

Railroads and Factories to be Worked on State Account—Great Landed Properties to be Seized and Similarly Dealt With, the Present Proprietors to be Used Only to Collect Revenues on Behalf of the State.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—The socialists continue to make the Panama scandal the basis for revolutionary agitation. Citizen Guesde says in an interview that the Panama developments are advancing the hour of socialist triumph. "The revelations," he declares, "as bad as they are, have told our party nothing new. It long has been known the Opportunist circles were tainted and filling to pieces through its composition. The Panama affair is a great scandal, but all the great banks and industrial enterprises are in much the same condition, only the turpitude is hidden more deeply. The Panama exposure will help enlighten the country. The small agriculturists, their eyes opened to the dishonesty of their Deputies, will recognize that it is only our party that can promise something appreciable, while asking nothing in return. In one sense the occasion has come with convenient suddenness. Fear has ripened too quickly, and events find us in rather an unprepared condition. The socialist ranks are not fully equipped for the coming election. If we had a personal policy sufficient for the present hour; if we had money, like the Opportunists and Reactionists, we would be certain to secure a majority in the next Chamber of Deputies."

"Unfortunately we can contest only part of the electoral districts, but despite all disadvantages we shall return forty to sixty members from the rural districts and retain our hold on the towns, thus making a respectable minority, through which, with perfected organization, we can attain victory within four years along the whole line. Once attaining power we shall endeavor to bring about political economy, the expropriation of the capitalist class and substituting the socialist methods of production, we shall have, in the name of the State, on the great railway companies, the great industries and the warehouses. Under social revolution thus realized, the workers on the railways and in the factories and stores shall work on State account. Salaries will immediately be raised and the hours of labor shortened. We will deal similarly with great landed properties. We will seize all of them. The farmers will work on account of the State, and the rent of the farms will be diminished by half. The present proprietors will be used only as agents to collect the revenues in behalf of the State. These changes will not touch the small agriculturists who cultivate and own land."

Guesde and other leaders disavow any intention of using force to accomplish these ends.

ORLEANIST PROGRAMME.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—Comte de Houssonville, general representative of Comte de Paris, has formulated the Orleanist programme in a long letter to the editor of Soleil. He denies the charge that the Monarchists tried to aggravate the Panama scandal. Nobody could doubt that the time has come when a strong hand and will is needed for the head of the French people. The Monarchists ought to assume the leadership and direction of public opinion in this emergency. A league to sustain public integrity and protect society should be formed, as the Government is absorbed in the cares of public defence. The organization of the Monarchist movement is complete, and they should now make all conservative and liberal allies possible, without distinction. Precise instructions would be issued before the beginning of the general election. Meantime it is necessary to prepare for the conflict and to present emergency, as a violent crisis is inevitable. In anticipation the Monarchists are bound by loyalty to France to organize with all the forces they could rally and prepare a way for the Prince of Orleans.

THE TRIAL.

PARIS, Jan. 19.—Public interest in the Panama trial is evidently increasing as the case draws to a close. To-day the defense opened, and the courtroom was packed with people anxious to hear Maitre Barbois' speech opening the case for his clients. Political considerations, he declared, had much to do with the prosecution, and he was defending the interests of the men he was defending, who he declared were fully justified.

When Barbois finished the court adjourned till Tuesday.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 19.—The all-gate stake of the Pacific Coast field trials started to-day on the old club grounds, six miles from town. The early part of the morning was foggy, but the afternoon was warm and birds very scarce. It was the largest attendance yet. Being ladies' day, a great many of the fair sex were present, and many followed the judges on horseback the entire afternoon.

The dogs were drawn as follows: California—Kennel's English setter Pelham against W. G. Kendall's English setter Sam K. (Gladstone); John H. Noell's Irish setter Dora O'More against Flood's Lady; James E. Watson's black pointer Old Black Joe II. against B. N. Dowdie's pointer Queen Croxteth; Henry Huber's pointer Sally Brass II. against George Crocker's English setter Lady Fane; C. T. J. Watson's English setter Starlight, a bye.

The favorites, Sally Brass, winner of second last year, and Sam G. Gladstone, last year's derby winner, were defeated in the first series.

Pelham, handled by Dodge, and Sam K., Gladstone, handled by Walters, were the first brace. Sam had the best pace range. Pelham was very stylish in pointing a covey, and Sam refused to back. Sam pointed scent, and Pelham refused to back. Sam dropped to a point, and Walters shot and killed. Sam flushed a pair and dropped to wing. Pelham pointed a covey. Sam flushed and then pointed, and Pelham flushed. Walters shot and killed, and Sam retrieved. Pelham pointed, Dodge shot and killed, and Pelham retrieved the bird. They were down ninety minutes, and Pelham won.

Dora O'More, handled by Allender, and Lady Fane, handled by Stedars, were the next brace. Lady had the best range, pace and style. Dora pointed a covey and Allender shot and killed. Dora worked merrily, but failed to find birds. Clay pointed twice, and Stedars shot and killed. Both dogs were steady to wing shot. Clay won the heat in fifty-three minutes.

Old Black Joe, handled by Allender, and Queen Croxteth, handled by Stedars, were the next brace. Queen ranged the best, but was running while Joe was hunting. Joe established a point, followed quickly by another, which Queen backed. Queen dropped to wing. Queen pointed, and then Joe pointed scent, and did the finest work of the trials, roading a small heavy three hundred yards. Both pointed. Stedars fired, and Queen broke shot. Old Black Joe won; down seventy-five minutes.

Sally Brass, handled by Allender, and Lady Fane, handled by Walters, were the next brace. Lady pointed and Sally backed; then Sally pointed and Lady backed. No birds were found. Lady pointed twice. Walters killed, and Lady retrieved. Lady had the best pace and range, and won; down 46 minutes.

Starlight, the bye dog, handled by De Mott, was put against Pelham in the first of the second series. Starlight was the most stylish, but neither were fast. Both pointed often on scent; both roaded and pointed, but Starlight won; down 35 minutes.

At the meeting of the Pacific Coast Field Trial Club last evening the following new members were elected: C. U. Wright, A. S. Standish, Charles Swisher of Placerville, C. A. Haight of San Francisco, P. F. Tibbalt of Butte, Mont., Cohn Stewart of Pasadena, James E. Watson of San Francisco, and W. J. Matthews of Oakland. J. G. The signal agent, supposing the train had gone beyond the track, signalled to the Baltimore and Ohio express, immediately following that the road was clear. The express crashed into the stalled train, completely telescoping it. Two persons were killed outright and seventeen wounded. The injured were brought to this city. The Fearless started in search and headed for the spot where the Willamette Valley had sighted the hull, and after a short search he found it about three miles south of Point Gordo and about a mile off the beach.

It is not known how the accident occurred, as the first heard was the boy calling for help. It is supposed that he attempted to climb up the iron ladder inside of a freight car, and was thrown off by the sudden jerk of the train in starting.

Non-Union Sailors Assaulted.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 19.—The non-union crew of the schooner Edward Parke, which arrived at this port this evening, was attacked in the harbor by unknown parties after dark, and first mate Anderson was slightly wounded by a pistol shot fired by the attacking party. Several boats, each containing four or five men, were observed by those on board, who at length succeeded in repelling the assault. The work is ascribed to the Sailors' Union, but the police have been unable to connect them definitely with the outrage.

HEALDSBURG, Jan. 19.—Six miles from Middletown live three brothers named White. One of the brothers was murdered on Tuesday night last by some parties unknown, supposed to be Indians, who concealed his body in the sand, covering him with their hands, where his brothers found him. As he had no money, he is supposed to have been murdered for revenge.
