

THE RUSH FOR OFFICE.

No Diminution in the Number of the President's Callers.

CARLISLE WILL ENFORCE THE CIVIL SERVICE RULES

The Senate Confirms a Number of Presidential Nominations—The Republican Senators Decide to Fight the Reorganization of the Senate by the Democrats Until the Regular Session.

Special to the RECORD-UNION. WASHINGTON, March 23.—The rush for office continues, and the number of callers on the President to-day showed no falling off as compared with the previous days.

To a gentleman who saw him with reference to the reappointment of two former office-holders who were endorsed almost unanimously by the Congressional delegation, and by a large number of prominent people, Cleveland intimated that if he made the appointments desired he would do so with the understanding that the people of the community would assume the responsibility for the action.

Secretary Carlisle evidently intends to support the President's civil service policy as strongly as possible. Carlisle said to-day that no pressure could be brought to bear on him which would induce him to abolish the good rule, even if it had been made under a Republican administration.

All the delegates to the recent International Monetary Conference have resigned. Among members of Congress it is believed the President will send a commission to Brussels to represent this country when the conference reassembles.

The Secretary of State is now endeavoring to ascertain how many countries will be represented at the reassembling of the conference. Some officials hold to the opinion that President Cleveland will not send another delegation to Brussels, but will designate our Minister to Belgium to attend the conference as a representative of the United States.

SENAE PROCEEDINGS. Several Nominations Made by the President Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—When the Senate met to-day Call offered a resolution in regard to the commission to inquire into the several executive departments of the Government, which was the subject of discussion at yesterday's session. The resolution declares a Provision Appropriation Act providing for the appointment of three Senators and three Representatives of the Fifty-third Congress by the presiding officers in the two houses of the Fifty-second Congress as such commission.

Gorman suggested a reference of the resolution to the Committee on Privileges and Elections.

Call said he preferred that the resolution be printed and laid on the table, as he wished to make some observations upon it. That order was made, and then the Senate proceeded to executive business.

After spending three-quarters of an hour in executive session the doors were reopened and the Senate adjourned till Monday. The Senate confirmed the following nominations: Theodore Ruyton of New Jersey, Minister to Germany; W. D. DeWay of Virginia, Solicitor Department of State; Edward Whitney of New York, Assistant Attorney-General; J. C. Jenkins of Wisconsin, United States Circuit Judge Seventh Judicial Circuit; G. B. Stewart of Texas, Judge of United States Court in Indian Territory; Abernethy, Marshal of the Eastern District of Arkansas; J. W. House, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Arkansas; Colonel Jackson, United States Army Indian Territory; E. P. Baldwin of Maryland, First Auditor of the Treasury; Thomas Holcomb of Delaware, Fifth Auditor of the Treasury. Postmasters—Montana, Joseph E. Swindhurst of Livingston; Wyoming, Stephen A. D. Keister of Lander.

TURNING THEM OUT. Changes Being Made in the Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Secretary Carlisle has requested the resignation of J. M. Patterson, Second Auditor of the Treasury. Patterson declines to resign. The Secretary has accepted the resignation of W. D. Owens, Superintendent of Immigration, and A. M. Hughes of Tennessee, Chief of the loan division in the Register's office, Treasury Department. The latter was first recorded as dismissed for cause, but was subsequently permitted to resign.

EDITORS NOT DEBARRED. WASHINGTON, March 23.—California editors who are barred from Postoffice will welcome this bit of intelligence: Postmaster-General Bliss stated to-day that no editor was placed under an interdiction rule. "If a Postmaster chooses to sit up until late in the night writing editorials," he said, "we certainly will not object, nor will we if the Postmaster writes anything after office hours for a weekly paper."

WORLD'S FAIR FUNDS. Secretary Carlisle Signs More of the Vouchers.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Secretary Carlisle to-day signed vouchers to the amount of $229,120 in favor of the World's Fair Commission, which is payable in souvenir half-dollars. The commission up to this time has received $1,920,120 of the $2,600,000 appropriation by Congress payable in souvenir half-dollars. The Secretary reserves $570,880 of the original appropriation until the proper security as provided by law is given by the commission to the Secretary of the Treasury.

THE NAVAL REVIEW. Warships Which Will Represent the British Government.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Navy Department has received a notification from the British Government stating it will be represented at the naval review by the following vessels, under command of Vice-Admiral J. O. Hopkins, C. B. R., Commander-in-Chief of the North American Station: The Blake will be the flagship of the British fleet, Captain W. De V. Hamilton; the Mabileonne, commanded by Captain J. O. Pilon, R. N. C.; M. G. Tartar, commanded by H. L. Fleet; Partridge, commanded by N. Y. Macalester; Australia, Captain S. F. Holland. A bout thirty foreign vessels and fourteen of our own will take part in the review.

Republicans Will Fight Organization. WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Republican members, immediately after the ad-journalment of the Senate to-day, went into caucus to consider their procedure on the question of reorganizing the Senate executive offices. The caucus was largely attended, but of short duration. Those in favor of contesting the proposed organization were largely in the majority, and it is probable that the next executive session an effort will be made to settle the matter behind closed doors, and that failing the fight will be transferred to open session.

TARIFF DUTIES. Secretary Carlisle Familiarizing Himself With the Subject.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Secretary Carlisle, it is stated on good authority, intends to give much of his time this week to consideration of the tariff, with a view to so thoroughly familiarizing himself with the subject as to indicate in a general way the outlines for the formation of a tariff bill by the next Democratic House. Nearly every mail that reaches the Treasury Department contains suggestions from statisticians and others as to the compilation of a tariff bill. Some thirty or forty of these communications have already been received, prominent among them being that from the New York Reform Club. The general outline of the New York Reform Club tariff proposition corresponds closely to a proposition submitted in 1885 by Edward Atkinson of Boston, Mass., to President Cleveland and Secretary Manning.

GOT HIS MAN. Sheriff O'Neil Will Leave Tacoma To-day With Dr. Graham.

A dispatch to the RECORD-UNION last night from Tacoma, Wash., says: "On motion of Dr. G. H. Graham's counsel, the habeas corpus proceedings commenced before Judge Parker were dismissed to-day. The twelve-year-old girl, Effie Posey, whom he is charged with abducting, will be taken to Sacramento to-morrow by Sheriff O'Neil. "Mrs. Graham left California last night, taking with her Adella Moore, the twelve-year-old half-breed Indian girl, who has been a member of the doctor's family for some time."

TO ENCOURAGE MANUFACTORIES. The Committee Meets and Generally Discusses Matters.

A Sub-Committee Appointed to Devise a Feasible Plan to Further the Ends Desired. A majority of the Committee of Seventeen, appointed by the Citizens' Committee of Thirty to devise some plan to encourage the establishing of manufactories and the making of general improvements in Sacramento, held a meeting last night, and generally talked over matters.

David Lubin was chosen to preside over the meeting, and George B. Katzenstein as Secretary. There were present, besides the officers, Messrs. C. A. Luhrs, G. M. Mott, Mayor Steinman, W. Land, J. O. Coleman, A. Abbott, P. C. Drescher, Ben. Welch, T. J. Gormley, F. R. Dray, R. T. Devlin and John Brenner. Mayor Steinman was excused from acting as a member of the committee, but not without expressions of regret.

The Chairman stated the importance of the meeting, and outlined what he thought to be a feasible plan to pursue. As Sacramento as a municipality could do nothing, he thought the committee should incorporate.

Each man took a card and said he would be first adopted, and a general discussion then followed as to the best means to adopt to further the ends desired.

Verdine Jackson, who had spoken of what had been accomplished in various cities throughout the East, notably in Chicago and Omaha, and said with manufactories in Sacramento there would be an increase in real estate values, more business would be transacted, and a general prosperity would pervade the city.

He said Sacramento is far ahead of the original Omaha. The moment the movement to encourage manufactories was inaugurated in Omaha the city grew so fast the people stood on their heads in amazement.

Mr. Chairman also stated that the California Woolen Mills, located at Petaluma, and other manufactories, might be induced to locate in Sacramento if the people would make the companies satisfactory propositions.

Ex-Senator Dray, Postmaster Coleman and others spoke of the superior advantages enjoyed by Sacramento in being centrally located and having cheap labor more than many places where success has been achieved by manufactories.

No definite action was taken, and the devising of a feasible plan was left to a Sub-Committee on Industrial Enterprise, which will report something substantial at a meeting to be held in a week or ten days.

POKER AND POLICE. An Elk Grove Sport Falls Among San Francisco Sharks.

He Gives the Boys a Few Ideas About Draw Poker, and the Boys Give Him a Good Licking.

Sam Robinson, a young man from Elk Grove, knows more about the festive and delusive game of poker to-day—says the San Francisco Post to last evening—than he did yesterday, and, incidentally, he has also more food for reflection than he ever had before.

Sam is a great sport in his own town, and many the wild tale he has told those beardless embryotic gamblers of Elk Grove of the adventures he has passed through in various parts of the world over the gambling board. To hear Sam tell it he had tackled everything from traps to Monte Carlo, and the 400 of New York and gave some of the inhabitants of the water front a few ideas of how the game should be conducted from an Elk Grove view of it.

He found lots of people who wanted ideas, particularly when they were framed with the same kind of stuff he carried in his inside pocket. He strolled casually into Harry Craig's saloon at G and Cass street, and easily got a game. He also got the next train for Elk Grove in search of more sport.

Back he came and took the fickle goddess with him, cards, and back he went again to Elk Grove for more dress for the goddess. He came back here yesterday, and by that time the gods had become so tired that he was a "good fellow, you see." He sat down at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and had it not been for an unforeseen incident he would have been playing yet. The unforeseen incident was a squabble over rights, and when the squabble was ended he proceeded to play on his own. When in a cell at the North Harbor Police Station minus his necktie and most of his change.

The people the sport sat down with were not a stranger, but a stranger! Alas, how many a plot has been woven about that little word in yellow-covered novels, and how many a man has been arrested and easily got a game. This stranger was the usual thing. He sat back and said nothing. He dealt his cards, and when he got a hand to have a basket to hold them from getting away from him.

Joe Mann played awfully lucky, and finally his hand came up almost full asleep from city front luck. Mann sized up his play, and TIPPED THE WINK. To the stranger, who passed the word to the cardholders in a conspiratorial way. When Sam had one pair he "chipped" a quarter, because the game was stretched out. When he got two pair he stretched his legs out under the table and passed.

When he got three of a kind he pulled his hand down over his eye, and said: "How much do you want?" When he got a full hand he blew out a whole lot of steam and put his hat on the back of his head, tilted his nose up, and said: "I'm a puddin'!"

Everything went along nicely—Robinson's hand came up almost full asleep from city front luck. Mann sized up his play, and
