

COL. ELLIOTT F. SHEPARD.

The Editor of the "Mail and Express" Dies Suddenly.

DEATH FOLLOWED THE ADMINISTRATION OF ETHER.

A New York Journal Claims to Have Unearthed Something New and Startling in the Hawaiian Matter, a Supposed Dispatch From Princess Kaiulani's Guardian to Her Father in Honolulu.

Special to the Record-Union.

New York, March 24.—Colonel Elliott F. Shepard, editor of the Mail and Express, died suddenly this afternoon at his home at 2 West Fifty-second street.

His death followed the administration of ether by Dr. Charles McBurney and his family physician, Dr. J. W. McLane, who were about to make an examination to ascertain whether the Colonel's suspicion that he suffered from a stone in the bladder was correct.

Before the arrival of the doctor he complained of severe pains, and called upon the Editor of the Mail and Express and gave a number of instructions about the future conduct of the newspaper in case anything should happen to him.

About 1 o'clock Colonel Shepard said he was ready for the surgeons, and, with the nurses, began the work of putting him under ether.

Then, without warning, and for no apparent reason, he began rapidly to sink. The oxygen treatment was resumed, but it was of no avail, and at 4:20 o'clock he died.

The cause of death was given by the physicians as edema of the lungs.

Immediately before Colonel Shepard's death a message was sent to Mrs. Shepard announcing that he was very ill, and might not live.

At a late hour no arrangements had been made for the funeral.

Elliott F. Shepard was born in June 25, 1833. He was educated at a university in the city of New York, admitted to the bar in 1858, and for many years practiced in New York City.
