

RECEPTION TO RABBI LEVY.

His Co-Laborers Testify to the Esteem in Which He is Held.

As a Farewell Token the Learned Rabbi is Presented With a Gold Watch and an Album.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather the synagogue was quite well filled with friends last night of Rabbi J. L. Levy, who assembled to tender a farewell reception to the learned and eloquent doctor, who leaves in a few days for Philadelphia to make his home.

H. Weinstein, President of the Jewish congregation, happily officiated as President of the evening. He stated that the programme would be opened with singing by the Synagogue quartet, consisting of Mesdames Hawley and Ross and Messrs. Kinross and Cohn. Mrs. Kinross presided at the piano.

Mr. Weinstein said the occasion was a pleasant and an unpleasant one. It is always a pleasant duty, he said, to testify to the esteem in which we hold those we love, but an unpleasant one to say farewell. He said he knew it would be a source of pleasure to the friends of Rabbi Levy, irrespective of their faith, to say a kind word of him.

Those who knew the doctor best responded to the invitation, and eloquently told of the respect they had for the broad-minded, liberal, refined, and noble man.

Rev. Koehne, pastor of the Congregational Church, said for him to speak in a Jewish synagogue would seem rather strange, if he represented the past, but not at all so in representing the present and future. He was glad to have associated with such a man of advanced ideas of Judaism as Rabbi Levy.

It has truly been said that "sooner or later the dearest must part," and so it has come to pass that the day is near at hand when our congregation and its beloved Rabbi must, perhaps forever, sever their connections.

As we did that his abilities fitted him for a much larger field than the one he has been filling in our midst, knowing as we did that the world needed men with his attainments in places where they could reach the great masses, we felt certain that we could hope to keep him with us only until such time as his merit should lead him to a greater field.

It is with us that the day is near at hand when our congregation and its beloved Rabbi must, perhaps forever, sever their connections.

conception of the Fatherhood of God, and a nobler idea of the brotherhood of man; he has instilled within our minds the beautiful lessons of kindness of spirit, of charity, benevolence, faith, hope and virtue.

As a preacher of the word of God and an exponent of the Bible he has made the teachings of Judaism unmistakably plain to us. He has made clear and simple that which before had to us been cloudy and difficult of comprehension. He has swept away many of the mysterious, the doubts, and the incomprehensible dogmas surrounding religion.

As a citizen, he has taught us many lessons of patriotism; he has done no little to make us more public-spirited and more patriotic. He has shown us that we may be rightly made up of us by our State and our Nation; he has aroused within us a deeper sense of the duties of citizenship and a greater willingness on our part to perform the sacred duty of the citizen in time of peace and the fearless duty of the soldier in time of war.

As a friend, he has shown us what it is to be steadfast and loyal, what it is to be liberal, refined, and noble in our joy and in our sorrow. He has given us of his sympathies by the bedside of our sick and suffering; he has consoled us in our grief and given courage in the days of our trials and our adversities; he has ever extended his helping hand to those among us who became needy and have ever been ready to do all that he could to render us any possible aid.

A Sharp Decline in the Barometer Yesterday.

South Zephyrs Traveling at the Rate of Twenty-four Miles an Hour—Average April Weather.

The Weather Bureau reports show the highest and lowest temperatures yesterday have been 64° and 49°, with brisk to high southerly winds and rainy weather prevailing.

The barometrical readings at 5 A. M. and 5 P. M. were 29.97 and 29.05 inches, respectively, showing a fall of .32 of an inch in twelve hours, which is a rapid fall in the barometer.

The highest and lowest temperatures of the day yesterday were 68° and 42°, and one year ago to-day 70° and 42°, with no precipitation.

The wind yesterday traveled from 25 to 30 miles an hour, being 24 miles per hour at the 5 P. M. observation.

The Director of the State Weather Bureau furnishes the following data, compiled from the record of observations for the month of April, taken at this station for a period of fifteen years.

It is believed that the facts thus set forth will be of interest to the public, as well as the special student, showing as they do the average and extreme conditions of an important meteorological element and the range of which such variations may be expected to keep during any corresponding month.

Temperature—Average or normal temperature, 59.9; that of April was that of 1888, with an average of 62.3; the coldest April was that of 1880, with an average of 51.0; the highest temperature during an April, 1892, average during April was 76° on the 17th, 1892; average during an April, 1880, was 51.0; the lowest temperature during any April was 36° on the 17th, 1892; average during an April, 1880, was 51.0.

Precipitation—Average for the month, 2.73 inches; average number of days with .01 of an inch or more; 8; the greatest monthly precipitation was 14.20 inches, on April 15, 1882; the least monthly precipitation was .10 of an inch, in 1888; the longest period of precipitation recorded in any April was 20 consecutive hours, 7.24 inches, on April 15, 1882.

Clouds and weather—Average number of cloudless days, 14; average number of partly cloudy days, 11; average number of rainy days, 5.

Wind—The prevailing winds have been from the south. The highest velocity of the wind during any April was 30 miles, on the 19th, 1888.

The Inter-Ocean and Weekly Union. THE WORLD'S FAIR! The Chicago Inter-Ocean AND The Weekly Union! BOTH ONLY $2 A YEAR.

There are thousands of people in California, and on the Pacific Coast, who will be unable to attend the WORLD'S FAIR at CHICAGO in 1893, being unable to devote the time and money incidental to making such a trip. THE FAIR will be the GRANDEST EXHIBITION THE CENTURY HAS PRODUCED. It will show the marvelous strides made in the arts and sciences throughout the United States and the world generally, of which the intelligent California public will want accurate descriptions.

INTER-OCEAN. To all its subscribers, both new and renewals, for the additional sum of 50 cents per year. The INTER-OCEAN will treat of this most interesting and ACCURATELY THAN ANY OTHER PAPER PUBLISHED IN THE EAST. It is a splendid 12-page paper, as is the WEEKLY UNION, and both can be had for $2 per year. Either paper is well worth the money.

The descriptions will be so full that the readers of the INTER-OCEAN will have almost as good a knowledge of the WORLD'S FAIR as if they had made a personal visit. It is scarcely necessary to elaborate on the merits of the INTER-OCEAN as a newspaper. Its fame is wider than the continent, and the minutest matters connected with the GRANDEST EXHIBITION THAT THE PRESENT GENERATION WILL AGAIN witness, will be treated in detail. It is less necessary for us to boast of the merits of the RECORD-UNION or WEEKLY UNION. They are household words on this coast. Clean, bright, newsy. Making a specialty of giving correct and reliable information on California affairs, fruit culture, agriculture, mining, etc., and for the reason are pre-eminently the papers to send to friends in the foreign States.

Both of these magnificent weeklies can be had for $2 per year, and the DAILY RECORD-UNION and WEEKLY INTER-OCEAN for $4.50. It is an unprecedented offer. The INTER-OCEAN will be sent direct to subscribers from Chicago. Usual commission paid agents and Postmasters. Address SACRAMENTO PUBLISHING CO., SACRAMENTO, CAL.

Avail of this offer NOW, Because the work of preparation for the Fair has begun, and is a part of its history and full of present interest and information.
