

SACRAMENTO'S KINDERGARTENS.

What Has Been Accomplished for the Little Ones

Through the Efforts of Some of the Charitable and Public-Spirited Ladies of the City.

Mrs. Charles McCreary, President of the Froebel Kindergarten Association, makes the following report, showing what has been accomplished in the last three years in the way of establishing and maintaining free kindergarten schools in this city for the benefit of the children of poor families.

"At first one room was deemed large enough for the needs of the little ones, but it was not long before the back room had to be swept and garnished to provide accommodations for the ever-increasing numbers. Today three rooms are in use, and the books show an enrollment of ninety-six children.

"In the year following—April, 1890, on Froebel's birthday—the school was opened on the corner of Fifth and P streets. This school, although auxiliary to the Sacramento Free Kindergarten Association, is a separate entity, with its own officers and its own funds, and is known as the 'Froebel Kindergarten.'

"And still there was work to be done, for in the Orphan Asylum of this city were fifty-five babies who, as a foregone conclusion, would some day have to look the world in the face with only their own hands and brains as a heritage. So the next step was to open a school in the basement of the schoolhouse on the grounds of the asylum—now known as Sacramento Kindergarten, No. 2."

"With the establishment of the third school came a corresponding increase in endeavor on the part of the ladies, but Sacramento has proved equal to the demands. The schools are supported by monthly subscriptions and donations from public-spirited individuals, together with the proceeds from various entertainments.

"The twentieth annual meeting was held at the residence of Mrs. Charles McCreary on April 11th, when the same officers were unanimously re-elected, as follows: President, Mrs. Charles McCreary; First Vice-President, Mrs. H. W. A. Briggs; Treasurer, Mrs. W. Colclough; Secretary, Mrs. F. Y. Colclough; Trustees—Messdames Upson, Hadley, Holl, Wiley, Sparrow, Smith, Higgins and Van Voorhies.

"The Treasurer's report for the year, for the two schools—Sacramento Kindergarten No. 1 and No. 2 (Orphan Asylum)—was as follows:

Table with financial data: Balance on hand at last annual statement, $1,130 70; Received from subscriptions and donations, 1,000 52; Total, $2,131 22; Paid out for salaries, 1,673 94; Paid out for repairs, 457 28; Cash in bank, April '93, 457 28; Total, $2,131 22.

"Last October the Froebel Society, with a view to disseminating kindergarten principles in a section of the city not heretofore enjoying this privilege, removed their school from Fifth and P to Seventh street, near where they occupy the basement of the A. M. E. Church.

"The good work does not end with the schoolroom. The kindergarten ladies are brightly and by the never-failing sympathy of the kindergartners, and clothes are freely distributed among the really needy children.

"The present outlook is fair, provided the long-looked-for amalgamation with the public schools will take place at no very distant date. That the general public opinion is in this direction is indicated by the fact that in four of the largest cities the kindergarten has become a part of the general school system—in Philadelphia, Boston, Milwaukee and St. Louis. Four other cities—New York, Chicago, Brooklyn and Buffalo—are putting forth efforts to secure that end. Indeed, the work comes that the New York City Board of Education has resolved to adopt the system.

"We do not believe that Sacramento will be behind other cities in a good movement of this sort. In 1870 there were only five kindergarten schools in the United States. In 1893 there are 3,200, of which 65 are in San Francisco and Oakland.

"Thanks are heartily extended by the ladies to all who have assisted in any way to maintain this charity."

BURR'S CHESTNUT.

This Time He is After the Assistant District Attorney's Scalp.

E. A. Burr yesterday filed a complaint against County Treasurer Lyon, Auditor Johnson and Deputy District Attorney Jones, in the Superior Court, to restrain them from drawing, receiving or paying warrants to Jones for services rendered the county under his appointment by the Board of Supervisors as special counsel.

The complaint states that his pretended employment as special counsel was really to relieve District Attorney Ryan from paying him a salary as his deputy. Judge Johnson has issued an order, on the recent complaint of Burr, directing Auditor Johnson, Treasurer Lyon and Deputy Recorder Richard Chin, ordering them to appear in his court on the 11th and show cause why they should not be restrained from drawing, receiving or presenting for payment, and paying, warrants in favor of Chin for services rendered or "claimed to have been rendered" by him to the county, and restraining them from committing any of the said acts until further order of the court.

GRANGERS' PICNIC.

It Will Take Place at Graham's Grove To-Morrow.

The Grangers' annual picnic will be held to-morrow at Graham's Grove, near the town of Elk Grove. These yearly outings are the most enjoyable affairs in the picnic line that take place within the county. Graham's Grove is one of the most charming spots in the county, and is accessible by rail and good wagon roads from all directions.

The Hossar band has been engaged to provide music for the occasion. Regular trains will have the depot in this city at 8:30 and 10:40 A. M., and returning will arrive at 2:30 and 7:30 P. M. The grounds are but a short distance from Elk Grove, and there will be conveyances on hand to carry picnicers back and forth for ten cents each. Admission to the grounds will be free. No intoxicating liquors will be allowed to be sold.

FROM JAIL TO HOSPITAL.

Judge Catlin Sends J. D. Smith Out Under His Treatment.

Judge Catlin yesterday announced that it satisfactorily appeared to the court that J. D. Smith—charged and convicted of the crime of murder and confined in the County Jail, pending his appeal to the Supreme Court for a new trial—is seriously ill and liable within a short time to die; and that it also appears that the jail is not a proper place to take care of a person in his physical condition.

Therefore, on motion of A. J. Bruner, the District Attorney consenting thereto, he ordered that Smith be conveyed to the County Hospital and placed in charge of the County Physician, and that the latter be requested to inform the court from time to time of Smith's physical condition, and especially of any marked improvement in his health.

Smith is suffering from a complication of diseases, and his physician, Dr. Atkinson, certified that if he was kept in the jail he would die there shortly. Smith was taken out on a stretcher, in an express wagon, and as he was being away thanked the officers for their kindness to him.

BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

The General Run of Chinamen Are in a Dilemma.

This is the last day for Chinamen to register or get out of the country. In the Sacramento District only about two thousand have accepted the first-named alternative.

The Six Companies have sent placards to each advising Chinamen not to obey the law, and assuring them that the whole matter will be satisfactorily adjusted in a few days.

The Chinese are in a dilemma. If left to exercise their own judgment they would resist the law, as the law requires, but they are afraid of their masters, who have by threat intimidated most of them from obeying the law.

The meeting was called to order by G. H. Stephenson, who presided, ex-Mayor W. D. Constock, who was to preside, being unable to attend. A. D. Bowley was appointed Secretary, and a number of Vice-Presidents were chosen.

In opening the meeting Mr. Stephenson said it was hardly necessary to state its objects, as all were familiar with them, and like himself had the interest of the movement and the welfare of the city at heart. He was not himself a speaker, and trusted to hear from others.

J. M. AVERY Being called upon, said he had found no one in his travels but those who loved the factories, but there were some different views as to the desirability of their location here. It behooved those interested in the city's welfare to unite upon the plans proposed by the association.

He believed everyone in the community would be benefited a hundred fold by the establishment of factories. It was true the city had other resources, but it was not wise to depend on one or two things alone. He believed good progress was being made in this manner, and the apathy of many who should be foremost in the public movement for the general welfare.

Many men, Mr. Avery said, were slow and would not stand in the way of what before they signed the notes, but he found none who could offer sensible reasons for not signing them. He thought that many, who had signed, were increasing, would sign themselves, and believed all that was now needed was steady hard work to induce the backward ones to come to the front.

F. R. DRAY Said he had attended the Transmississippi Congress at Ogden, and he was surprised at the progress made there and at Salt Lake City, where they had comparatively very limited resources. He found that Ogden was offering bonuses and inducements to manufacturers to come there, and he thought it was the same in other cities, upon plans similar to those adopted here.

Sacramento, he said, could undoubtedly benefit hereof in the same manner, and should push the undertaking to success. He thought if the people could only be assured of the benefits to ensue none would be backward in signing the notes. The power within the reach of this city was a basis for great industries, and it should by all means be utilized.

It was not a good plan to hold back in such an enterprise, or wait to see who would sign first. That was not the way to progress. Salt Lake and Ogden were good places to see what could be done by enterprise.

JUDGE R. O. CRAVENS Said he came to hear, rather than to speak, as he wanted to know what the good reasons why Sacramento should not be taken were. He thought the public-spirited young men ought to be aroused in the city—men with the future before them. He also thought so some of us ought to be taken to induce enterprising men from the East and elsewhere to locate here and infuse new life into the efforts of our citizens.

With the water power in reach and the city's natural resources, there was no good reason why Sacramento should not be taken. The city's resources needed advertising, and these meetings were a good step for that purpose. No city prospered now by the things which are advertised and its resources and advantages. "Keep the ball moving," said the Judge, "and you'll get it."

THAS. PHIPPS Thought the main object was to work hard for more signatures to the notes, and, if necessary, appoint more committees for the purpose.

Lancaster, he said, had 30,000 people, and ought to make greater headway than it has been making. He knew of Eastern towns with half our pretensions, which had made more progress in one year, with less natural advantages, than this city had in ten. He thought all that was necessary was earnest work.

ROBERT H. HAWLEY Said he had attended the meetings, and while he had not worked with the committees he had got a number of non-resident property owners to sign the notes by correspondence with them.

J. H. ARNOLD Said he looked upon the movement as he would upon any private business. It was with cities as with individuals, those alive in the business always prospered. It was thus with cities and men everywhere. Sacramento was too much inclined to wait for what might come from that already long list of factories established here it would greatly enhance the value of her present resources, by supplying her present population with many things which are now imported from elsewhere and which might better be produced here.

RICHARD CAVERLY Said he was a wage-earner, and had not hesitated to sign the notes. He believed this was a means to bring about the right results in the end. He believed the laboring people should take an active part in the movement, as it would in a great measure profit them. He thought the tax rate had much to do with the prosperity of a community, and the way to reduce it was by increase of population and industries.

G. P. WILLIS Thought some additional members should be added to the committee of the Eighth Ward, as many of the present committee were too much occupied and had not sufficient time to give to an energetic canvass. Fair success had been met with for the time given to the work.

Messrs. Robin, Likus, Denton and others expressed their sympathy and promised their hearty support to the movement, and said they would do all in their power to help it along. These gentlemen offered a number of PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

And gave examples of the utilization of water power and other resources by cities situated, in a measure, under the same conditions obtaining here.

Mr. Denton said he knew many stood back and criticized the movement, but he believed the movement of this kind and failed to appreciate that they were impeding their own progress as well as that of others.

S. R. SMITH Said this movement, so favorable to the city, ought to be readier and more enthusiastic success than it has. He believed citizens ought to be particularly active and distinguish themselves by working for the success of the city. He thought too many were inclined to hold back, and wait for too much assurance, instead of adding their support.

J. O. COLEMAN Said the directors of the association had resolved not to appear except when called upon for information, and he would rather hear from others. The meetings, he said, had greatly encouraged the workers and helped them. He believed the movement would be a success, Sacramento's were sometimes slow to act, but when they realized a necessity for action they always responded.

When the city's pride was appealed to, and it was known that the eyes of the State were upon her, as in this undertaking, Sacramento's were usually equal to the situation. He believed those who

THE BALL KEPT ROLLING.

Citizens Pushing Along the Industrial Enterprise.

Last Night's Meeting at Federation Hall, and What the Speakers Had to Say.

The fourth of the ward meetings called by the Industrial Improvement Association, held at Federation Hall last night, was addressed by a number of earnest and enthusiastic business men, and there seems to be a general spirit of determination to carry to success the objects of the association.

The meeting was called to order by G. H. Stephenson, who presided, ex-Mayor W. D. Constock, who was to preside, being unable to attend. A. D. Bowley was appointed Secretary, and a number of Vice-Presidents were chosen.

In opening the meeting Mr. Stephenson said it was hardly necessary to state its objects, as all were familiar with them, and like himself had the interest of the movement and the welfare of the city at heart. He was not himself a speaker, and trusted to hear from others.

J. M. AVERY Being called upon, said he had found no one in his travels but those who loved the factories, but there were some different views as to the desirability of their location here. It behooved those interested in the city's welfare to unite upon the plans proposed by the association.

He believed everyone in the community would be benefited a hundred fold by the establishment of factories. It was true the city had other resources, but it was not wise to depend on one or two things alone. He believed good progress was being made in this manner, and the apathy of many who should be foremost in the public movement for the general welfare.

Many men, Mr. Avery said, were slow and would not stand in the way of what before they signed the notes, but he found none who could offer sensible reasons for not signing them. He thought that many, who had signed, were increasing, would sign themselves, and believed all that was now needed was steady hard work to induce the backward ones to come to the front.

F. R. DRAY Said he had attended the Transmississippi Congress at Ogden, and he was surprised at the progress made there and at Salt Lake City, where they had comparatively very limited resources. He found that Ogden was offering bonuses and inducements to manufacturers to come there, and he thought it was the same in other cities, upon plans similar to those adopted here.

Sacramento, he said, could undoubtedly benefit hereof in the same manner, and should push the undertaking to success. He thought if the people could only be assured of the benefits to ensue none would be backward in signing the notes. The power within the reach of this city was a basis for great industries, and it should by all means be utilized.

It was not a good plan to hold back in such an enterprise, or wait to see who would sign first. That was not the way to progress. Salt Lake and Ogden were good places to see what could be done by enterprise.

JUDGE R. O. CRAVENS Said he came to hear, rather than to speak, as he wanted to know what the good reasons why Sacramento should not be taken were. He thought the public-spirited young men ought to be aroused in the city—men with the future before them. He also thought so some of us ought to be taken to induce enterprising men from the East and elsewhere to locate here and infuse new life into the efforts of our citizens.

With the water power in reach and the city's natural resources, there was no good reason why Sacramento should not be taken. The city's resources needed advertising, and these meetings were a good step for that purpose. No city prospered now by the things which are advertised and its resources and advantages. "Keep the ball moving," said the Judge, "and you'll get it."

THAS. PHIPPS Thought the main object was to work hard for more signatures to the notes, and, if necessary, appoint more committees for the purpose.

Lancaster, he said, had 30,000 people, and ought to make greater headway than it has been making. He knew of Eastern towns with half our pretensions, which had made more progress in one year, with less natural advantages, than this city had in ten. He thought all that was necessary was earnest work.

ROBERT H. HAWLEY Said he had attended the meetings, and while he had not worked with the committees he had got a number of non-resident property owners to sign the notes by correspondence with them.

J. H. ARNOLD Said he looked upon the movement as he would upon any private business. It was with cities as with individuals, those alive in the business always prospered. It was thus with cities and men everywhere. Sacramento was too much inclined to wait for what might come from that already long list of factories established here it would greatly enhance the value of her present resources, by supplying her present population with many things which are now imported from elsewhere and which might better be produced here.

RICHARD CAVERLY Said he was a wage-earner, and had not hesitated to sign the notes. He believed this was a means to bring about the right results in the end. He believed the laboring people should take an active part in the movement, as it would in a great measure profit them. He thought the tax rate had much to do with the prosperity of a community, and the way to reduce it was by increase of population and industries.

G. P. WILLIS Thought some additional members should be added to the committee of the Eighth Ward, as many of the present committee were too much occupied and had not sufficient time to give to an energetic canvass. Fair success had been met with for the time given to the work.

Messrs. Robin, Likus, Denton and others expressed their sympathy and promised their hearty support to the movement, and said they would do all in their power to help it along. These gentlemen offered a number of PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

And gave examples of the utilization of water power and other resources by cities situated, in a measure, under the same conditions obtaining here.

Mr. Denton said he knew many stood back and criticized the movement, but he believed the movement of this kind and failed to appreciate that they were impeding their own progress as well as that of others.

S. R. SMITH Said this movement, so favorable to the city, ought to be readier and more enthusiastic success than it has. He believed citizens ought to be particularly active and distinguish themselves by working for the success of the city. He thought too many were inclined to hold back, and wait for too much assurance, instead of adding their support.

J. O. COLEMAN Said the directors of the association had resolved not to appear except when called upon for information, and he would rather hear from others. The meetings, he said, had greatly encouraged the workers and helped them. He believed the movement would be a success, Sacramento's were sometimes slow to act, but when they realized a necessity for action they always responded.

When the city's pride was appealed to, and it was known that the eyes of the State were upon her, as in this undertaking, Sacramento's were usually equal to the situation. He believed those who were slow at the start would be sure to come forward later. He had met no one who would be at all satisfied to have the movement fail. No one was in favor of giving it up. He believed in pushing on energetically in the work.

Messrs. Hook, Bentley, Luce and others followed with encouraging remarks and suggestions.

David Lubin spoke enthusiastically of the progress of the work, and explained, in reply to questions, a number of the proposed methods of the association and its expectations. He was followed by other earnest speakers.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Clunie Opera-house to-night the thrilling drama "The Lancashire Lass" will be given again with the Misses Nannary in roles that present them at their best, and Mr. Waldron as "A party by the name of Johnson" in which he is original to a degree that does him great credit. The play is a good one, and has less to do than in anything else he has appeared in here, but as in all her dramatic work, she does it well.

A good sized audience, large, indeed, at the Metropolitan last night was greatly amused by Hallen & Hart's "Our Idea" company. It is the best comic singing company that has been here in a long time, and besides Hallen & Hart, the leaders, has in Al Wilson, one of the best eccentric German dialect actors that has ever appeared on the stage here. The farce is going through, the first floor being the vivacity, wit and musical eccentricities of the party compensate for the make-up of the play.

At the Metropolitan Theater, May 19th and 20th, Manager Todd announces the Boston Howard Atteneum Company will appear. It is represented as one of the best specialty and variety troupes ever put upon the stage.

The Humane Society, by its benefit Wednesday night, cleared about $40. It had hoped for a $100 clear.

A Courthouse Episode.

As Taylor, the defendant in the Sleton case, was passing through the Courthouse corridor yesterday, it is said that one Nichols, who was with Halpin when the trouble occurred, called Taylor a vile name and struck at him, at the same time asking him why he called him "a red-headed fellow."

Judge Johnson summoned Nichols before him, and after stating the language or striking at Taylor.

Groceries, Liquors, Etc., at Auction.

D. J. Simmons & Co. will sell at auction on Tuesday, the 9th, at 10:30 A. M., at the store on N. Ewers, corner of Thirtieth and H streets, the entire stock of groceries and liquors, therein also, the fixtures, horse, wagon and harness.

At the same time they will also sell the real estate, being 40x110, with a good two-story building thereon, the first floor being a store and the second floor a residence.

Williams Pleads Guilty.

The case of John Williams, charged with grand larceny, was called in Judge Johnson's court yesterday morning, and by consent of the District Attorney he was allowed to withdraw his plea of not guilty and plead guilty of petit larceny. The Judge ordered him to appear for sentence on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Heavy Travel Eastward.

It is evident that California will be well-represented at the World's Fair, judging from the immense increase in travel Eastward.

Last night's overland train was so heavy that it was run in two sections, one having twelve and the other thirteen coaches.

Household Goods.

The Saturday auction sale of Bell & Co., at 323 J street, at 10 A. M., will embrace some rare bargains in furniture, carpets, bedding, etc., also a new Packard organ, costing $180, range, gas stove, and other articles. Livestock, harness and vehicles of all kinds will also be sold.

Turner and Walker.

Charles Turner, the colored heavy-weight slogger of this city, and Soldier Walker were to have their second fight at Carson City last night. When they fought here three months ago Walker was victorious in a 25-round battle.

Turners' Festival.

The thirty-ninth annual May festival of the Sacramento Turn-Verein will be held on Sunday next at Richmond Grove. There will be games of all kinds, athletic exercises, etc., and fine music.

Picnic Privileges.

Bids for privileges, separate or for all, at the Improved Order of Red Men's picnic, on the 12th, will be received at the Windsor Hotel, Eighth and J streets, until Saturday, the 6th, at 7 P. M.

Board of Trade.

There will be a special meeting of the City Board of Trade at 8 o'clock this evening, at the Secretary's office, 918 Fifth street.

"A wolf in sheep's clothing"—the substitute offered by the "cutters" as being just as good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If you don't want to be bitten, insist upon having Ayer's Sarsaparilla, even if it is a little more expensive than the cheap imitations on the market, it will be cheaper for you in the end.

DR. PRICE'S DELICIOUS Flavoring Extracts

NATURAL FRUIT FLAVORS. Of perfect purity. Of great strength. Economy in their use. Flavor as delicately and deliciously as the fresh fruit.

Vanilla, Lemon, Orange, Almond, Rose etc.

MARRIED.

RANLETT-ROWE—in this city, May 3d, at the home of the bride, by Rev. A. C. Herrick, Albert B. Ranlett to Kittle M. Rowe.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

LACE CURTAINS.

SPRING TIME HAS ARRIVED, AND house-cleaning is under way. Send your orders to AMERICAN STEAM LAUNDRY, Nineteenth and I streets.

SEND THE WEEKLY UNION TO YOUR friends in the East. It tells them all

Changed Daily for Weinstein, Lubin & Co.

To-day at 9:30 A. M. Sateens, Gingham, Lawns and Towels.

LOT 1—Black Cashmere Finished Henrietta Sateens, fast black and perspiration proof. Ten yards required for a full suit. Width, 29 inches. Special sale price, 12c per yard.

LOT 2—Good dark styles in Plaid and Striped Dress Gingham, standard width and reliable brand. Price, 7c per yard.

LOT 3—Plain White Victoria Lawn for dresses, waists and aprons, 6c per yard.

LOT 4—Imported Linen Damask Towels, with openwork and fringed ends, assorted pink, brown and blue borders; sizes, 20x42 inches. Special sale price, 24c each.

Brooks' Soft-finished 6-cord Sewing Thread, black or white, and in all sizes, 40c per dozen. Suitable for machine or hand sewing.

Scrim for Ties and Bureau Scarfs, 18 inches wide, with fancy openwork borders. Price, 19c per yard.

A large and varied assortment of Fancy Metal Hairpins in gilt and silver. Prices, 25c and 35c.

Ladies' Black Sleeveless Vests. Price, 17c.

Stamped Monie Linen Bureau Scarfs, size 18x72 inches, openwork border and heavy knotted fringe. Price, 30c, 75c, $1 and $1 75.

Ladies' Black Hose, full opera length, 50c. An unusually low price for Hosiery of this length.

LADIES' $1 25 SHOES. We have a few dozen left of the Ladies' Black Dongola Kid Button Shoes, in such demand a short time ago. They have patent leather tips and are certainly surprising value at the price named.

Men's Laced Tennis Shoes of black cloth, with rubber soles, for all kinds of athletic sports, $1 25 per pair.

WEINSTEIN, LUBIN & CO. AGENTS FOR STANDARD PAPER PATTERNS, 400 TO 412 K STREET, SACRAMENTO.

"WELL BRED, SOON WED." GIRLS WHO USE ARE QUICKLY MARRIED.

Try it in Your Next House Cleaning.

THESE BOYS ARE ANXIOUS TO SHOW THE NEW PATTERNS. SO ARE WE. Our prices guaranteed as low as any, and it may be a little lower in some things. Come and see.

INGRAM & BIRD, FURNITURE AND CARPETS. 617 K STREET.

PANCAKES! PANCAKES! Get a 10-pound sack of PHENIX SELF-RAISING FLOUR from your grocer and bake some pancakes for your breakfast. They cannot be beat.

WE HAVE NOW ON HAND A LARGE STOCK OF FILTERS. EVERY FAMILY SHOULD HAVE ONE.

Great Bargains in Lawn Mowers. YOU CAN BUY ONE FOR $4 25.

Don't forget we carry a large stock of HARDWARE, TINNING, PLUMBING AND GAS FITTING a specialty.

H. K. WALLACE & CO., 813, 815, 817 J Street. F. A. PELTIER. H. K. WALLACE.

Undertakers. J. FRANK CLARK, UNDERTAKING PARLORS, 1017-1019 Fourth St., Sacramento.

W. J. KAVANAUGH, Undertaker, No. 513 J st., bet. Fifth and Sixth. ALWAYS ON HAND A LARGE ASSORTMENT of Metallic and Wooden Caskets.

W. F. FRAZER, Lumber Dealer, Office—Cor. Fifth and I Streets.

FRUIT, SHADE AND ORNAMENTAL TREES of Every Description.

SOLE AGENTS FOR THE KING ORANGE. The finest of all Oranges. Call and examine stock.

Tree Yard Next to Passenger Depot. W. R. STONG COMPANY.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD IS CONTAINED IN THE WEEKLY UNION.

Hotels and Restaurants.

GOLDEN EAGLE HOTEL, Corner Seventh and K Streets. STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS. FREE BUS to and from the cars. W. O. BOWERS, Proprietor.

WESTERN HOTEL, THE LEADING HOUSE OF SACRAMENTO, Cal. Meals, 25 cents. W.M. LAND, Proprietor. Free bus to and from hotel.

CAPITAL HOTEL, CORNER SEVENTH and K STREETS. STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS. Free bus to and from depot. H. E. SULLIVAN & OUTHRIE, Proprietors.