Special to the RECORD-UNION. ARKANSAS CITY, June 29.—Another train robber came to grief to-day. A tough-looking character boarded the north-bound passenger train at Oklahoma City, carrying a large parcel. After the train was well out of town he went into the toilet-room, and soon emerged with a Winchester in his hand. He held up the conductor, compelled him to stop the train, and then ordered him to go ahead to the engine. As they stepped to the ground the robber allowed his gaze and gun to slightly shift. The agile conductor felled him with a blow on the jaw, and beat him into submission with his own gun. He was placed in jail at Wichita. He was equipped with two sacks of dynamite beside guns.

An Assistant Roadmaster on the Siskiyou Division of the Oregon and California Road Thrown Underneath the Wheels of a Moving Train, at Ashland, and Crushed to Death—Burglaries of Frequent Occurrence at Santa Rosa.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—About 9 o'clock this morning an old lady named Mrs. Lippincott committed suicide at 2091 Polk street by cutting her throat with a razor. She has been living with Mrs. A. F. Miller, who resides at 2091, since last December, and during all that time, although a little eccentric, has never manifested a suicidal mania. She was accustomed to puff her hair on Saturdays and this morning appeared at breakfast with her locks done up in that fashion.

Mrs. Miller remarked this, and asked her why she had broken her custom. Mrs. Lippincott made some explanation, and after finishing her coffee entered the room of a son of Mrs. Miller, which she joins the parlor. When she entered she was standing in the middle of the floor, with a stream of blood flowing down her bosom and a blood-stained razor in her hand. The latter had been taken from a bureau drawer and belonged to Mrs. Miller's son.

Mrs. Miller assisted her to a chair and attempted to stop the flow of blood, but the old lady, having severed the jugular, died in about three minutes.

About three years ago Mrs. Lippincott was sick for a long time with the grip, and since that time she has acted strangely at times, though at no time was it thought that she contemplated suicide. Her daughter, Mrs. Holland, is the wife of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel.

Morehouse, their attorney, entered a plea of not guilty for all, and asked that only Captain Albert Wray be held under bonds, and further, be taken in custody by the Chief of Police. The request was granted and their trial was set for July 10th. As soon as Wray was taken into custody by the officer Mr. Morehouse presented an application to Judge Lougan for a writ of habeas corpus, which was granted, instructing the Chief of Police to bring defendant Wray in to-morrow morning for hearing on the writ.

The Mayor and Council have no power to make such an ordinance; that it discriminates against a religious body and is contrary to the Constitution of the State and the general law of the land. The ordinance under which the arrests were made reads as follows: "No person shall on any day of the week hold, or assist in holding, or participate in a religious meeting or parade on First street, between St. John and San Carlos, on Market street, between San Augustine and San Fernando; on Santa Clara street, between Third and Orchard."

How the report stated that the Government intended to issue this money in souvenir coins, thus practically throwing them on the market, the officials do not know, but it is authoritatively denied.

SEAL FISHERIES QUESTION.

PHILIPS CONTINUES HIS ADDRESS BEFORE THE ARBITRATION TRIBUNAL. PARIS, June 29.—Phelps, in continuing his address before the Behring Sea tribunal to-day, devoted most of his time to an amplification of his argument regarding the right of nations to protect all marine animals in which they have proprietary rights. He referred to the protection accorded Great Britain to the coral and pearl oyster industries, and by Norway to whales within her fjords. Phelps argued that the three-mile limit was the minimum line of self-defense, and not the maximum. Jurisdiction, he contended, may extend much farther than the three-mile limit when it is necessary to protect a special national interest.
