

CARTER H. HARRISON.

Chicago's Mayor Assassinated at His Home by a Paper-Carrier.

THREE SHOTS FIRED, EACH OF WHICH TOOK EFFECT.

The Murderer Then Hurries to the Police Station and Surrenders to the Authorities—Claims That He Committed the Crime Because Mr. Harrison Had Declined to Appoint Him to Office—Biography of Chicago's Five-Times Mayor.

Special to the RECORD-UNION. CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Chicago to-day is overwhelmed with sorrow and shame. Her citizens mourn for the man who stood closer to the people's hearts than any other who has lived or died within her boundary lines, or has been in any way connected with the city's growth and progress. The feeling of shame is that just at the close of the greatest and most glorious period of her municipal history—just at the dawn of a brighter period than she ever before experienced, the dark crime of murder leaves a red blot on her record. From all ranks and conditions of men there comes but one voice, and it is that of grief. Carter Henry Harrison, without question, was the most popular man among the residents of Chicago. He had more of the spirit, audacity, endurance and activity characteristic of Chicago than any other man. The feeling of sorrow is not stronger than the mortified civic pride which burdens them down. There may be for Chicago days of greater pride or higher glory than she has yet beheld. There can never be a day of greater grief or more poignant sorrow. The remains of Mr. Harrison lay all day in the room which was always occupied by him as a sleeping apartment. Late this afternoon the death mask was executed, and the result is said to be a most lifelike representation. To-morrow the body will be made ready for lying in state at the City Hall.

DETAILS OF THE MURDER.

Mayor Harrison Shot Down Without a Word of Warning.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Carter H. Harrison, Mayor of Chicago, was assassinated last night at his home, 231 Ashland boulevard. The murder was committed by Eugene Patrick Prendergast, a paper carrier, who has declared that Mayor Harrison had promised to make him Corporation Counsel and had not kept his word. This, he said, was his only reason for committing the crime. The shooting took place at 8 o'clock. Mayor Harrison died at 8:27 o'clock. The murderer gave himself up at the Desplaines street station a few minutes after the shooting.

BIOGRAPHY OF MAYOR HARRISON.

Carter H. Harrison was born near Lexington, Ky., on February 15, 1823. His great-grandfather was the father of Benjamin, who was the father of President William Henry Harrison, and his grandfather was a first cousin of John C. Breckinridge and of Benjamin Harrison. By the death of his father he was left at the age of 8 years to the care of his mother, who was a daughter of Colonel William Russell of the United States army, the great Northwestern pioneer. Dr. Lewis Marshall, brother of the Chief Justice and the father of Tom Marshall, prepared him for Yale, where he graduated in 1845. After graduating in law at Transylvania and traveling abroad for two years he settled in Chicago in 1845, invested in real estate and became wealthy. He was Commissioner of Cook County from 1851 to 1854, when he went to Congress, serving two years. He attracted attention during the Hayes-Tilden contest, when he introduced a resolution for a six-year presidential term and making the President eligible for one term only but Senator for life at the expiration of their term. He was elected Mayor of Chicago in 1873, 1881, 1888, 1892 and 1893. In 1884 he was Democratic candidate against John C. Breckinridge for Governor of Illinois, and in the same year was delegate-at-large to the National Convention that nominated Cleveland. After completing his fourth term as Mayor he made a trip around the world and wrote "A Race With the Sun." In 1890 he visited Alaska and the National Park of the Yellowstone, and his book, "Summer's Outing," edited by his literary friend, in 1891 he purchased the "Chicago Times," which he added until elected Mayor last April, and which his son now owns. He was married in 1855 to Sappley Preston. She died in Europe in 1870. In 1882 he married Marguerite Stearns, who died in 1887, and he was to have been married in a few days to Miss Anna Howard of New Orleans. At the time of his death he was a candidate for United States Senator. During the past six months he has received the officials and delegations visiting the World's Fair, and the different congresses and conventions from all parts of the country and the world, and his welcome addresses constitute a volume of happy thoughts and suggestions. His last address was delivered yesterday to the visiting Mayors and municipal officials.

FUNERAL TO TAKE PLACE WEDNESDAY.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—The inquest on the body of Mayor Harrison was held to-day at his late residence. Except for a technical description of the wounds, but little news was elicited. The verdict was in accordance with the facts, and recommended that Prendergast be held for murder until discharged by due process of law. Prendergast was present at the inquest, and maintained a stolid indifference, except when attracted by the presence of Mrs. Chalmers. He asked if she was Mrs. Harrison, and said he wanted to tell her he was sorry for her trouble. The Harrison residence was thronged with sorrowing friends all day, and the sidewalks in the vicinity were impassable. Members of the family denied admittance to all but intimate friends. All of them bore up bravely under the terrible affliction, the real significance of which could hardly be realized by them. Miss Howard, the late Mayor's fiancée, although prostrated by the shock, rested quietly during the day. Telegrams and letters of sympathy in great numbers were received from public and private friends of the late Mayor in various parts of the country. Secretary of State Gresham telegraphed from Washington his sincere sympathy. At the request of Mrs. Foster-Palmer, the reception in her honor by the National Commissioners, to be given to-morrow evening, was postponed indefinitely on account of the tragic death of the Mayor. The farewell reception of the French Commissioners was also postponed.

THE NUMBER OF SOCIETIES MEETING AT LEGION, AND THE FAMILY IS LITERALLY OVERWHELMED WITH COPIES OF RESOLUTIONS.

Prendergast was telegraphed from Indianapolis: "My daughter joins me in offering the fullest sympathy in your appalling sorrow." Messages of condolence were received from Henry Irving and the Japanese Commissioners to the fair. Arrangements for the funeral of the murdered man will not be made until after the special meeting of the City Council to-morrow. It has, however, been decided that the funeral will take place on Wednesday. Mayor Harrison's body will lie in state at least one day in the City Hall. The active pallbearers will be eight police captains. The honorary pallbearers will be John J. Thomas, W. Palmer, H. N. Higginbotham, General Nelson A. Miles, ex-Governor Oglesby, Judge Trumbull, General Fitzsimmons, F. D. Armore, ex-Mayors Roche, McMillan and Washburn. Seldom has anything awakened such deep sorrow among the residents of Chicago as the death of Mr. Harrison. The most singular evidence of sorrow will be the absence of all festivities at the fair to-morrow. Director-General Davis has issued general orders announcing that the ceremonies scheduled for to-morrow in connection with the closing of the exposition will be wholly dispensed with, and the public are requested to assemble in Festival Hall at 1 o'clock to take suitable action on the death of the Mayor. It was further ordered that flags upon all buildings within the grounds remain at half-mast. Prendergast, Harrison's murderer, is now lodged in a cell at the County Jail. He still sticks to the story that he killed the Mayor because he believed that he was not made Corporation Counsel, and insists that he had an entire right to do as he did. The cell in which Prendergast is lodged is the one in which Louis Riel was held, and Dr. Scudder committed suicide.

murderer had been lost. But even before the Mayor had breathed his last, officers from every station in the city were on the lookout for the murderer.

Every possible effort was made to secure medical attendance for Harrison, but when Dr. Lyman, the first physician to arrive, reached the Mayor's side, the patient was a dead man. Mention the tidings of the murder swept like an electric shock through the city. Everybody seemed to gather about the central station. Bulletins were posted in prominent downtown places, and about them eager crowds surged and struggled. Newspaper offices were besieged by eager questioners and business for a time was at a standstill.

THE ASSASSIN SURRENDERS HIMSELF.

About twenty-five minutes after the shooting Sergeant Frank McDonald was standing in the office of the Desplaines-street police station. Every available officer had already hurried out to work on the case and McDonald was preparing to follow. The door was pushed gently open and in walked a small, stout, shaven, poorly-dressed man, carrying a revolver in his hand. He shook like a man with palsy; his face was white and drawn; great drops of perspiration chased each other down his forehead; his tottering limbs seemed scarcely able to hold him up. Looking at McDonald straight in the eye, he said: "I did it."

"DID YOU DO IT?"

"Yes, I did."

"DID WHAT?"

"I shot Mayor Harrison, and that is what I shot him with," was the reply.

"WHAT MADE YOU DO IT?"

"He said he would make me a Corporation Counsel, and he did not; that is what I shot him for."

Prendergast was trembling so that he could scarcely stand, and the officer led him to a chair and asked him a few more questions, to which Prendergast would only make the reply he had first given as to the cause of the shooting. He said that after leaving Harrison's house he had taken a street-car and started toward the Desplaines-street station with the object of giving himself up.

"THE CAR DID NOT GO VERY FAST,"

"or I would have been here sooner."

When Prendergast was lodged in the County Jail he was not disposed to talk, but today asked to see the papers. They were handed him, but the local paper containing the story of the crime were not given him, and he quickly asked for an account of the murder. He read it in a mechanical manner, and then said: "I did my duty."

"DID HARRISON SAY ANYTHING TO YOU WHEN YOU MET HIM IN THE HOUSE?"

"No, I drew my revolver and fired. At the first shot Harrison shouted: 'Murder,' but I did not hear him say anything else."

MR. HARRISON'S FIANCEE.

Miss Annie Howard, fiancée of Mr. Harrison, was not in the house at the time the fatal shots were fired, but in accordance with the wounded man's request, she was at once summoned.

Miss Howard's grief was pitiable. She was completely overcome, and was taken to the house of Carter Harrison, Jr., where she spent the night. Carter Harrison, Jr., was at Jackson Park when the news of his father's death reached him, and he returned home.

Mrs. Heaton Ousley, the Mayor's daughter, who resides nearly five miles from her father's residence, received the news by telephone and hastened to Ashland boulevard, but her father was dead twenty minutes before she arrived.

Secretary of Freeste, Democratic State Committee, was in favor of additional legislation to protect people against cranks.

YO TAMBIEN WINS.

The California Brood Horse Easily Defeats Lamplighter.

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—"Yo Tambien wins" and a howl of joy went up from 10,000 throats at Hawthorne yesterday as the magnificent mare went under the wire in the one-and-an-eighth-mile race, with Lamplighter something less than a block behind, in the fast time of 2:01. The great triangular race between the two horses named and Clifford had been postponed, as the latter's owner thought the track was too slow for his colt, but the postponement was far from pleasing to the people who had gone to the track to see that particular race, and it was finally decided to let Yo Tambien and Lamplighter go one and an eighth miles as the fourth race on the card for a purse of $2,500 and an entrance fee of $1,000 each.

Lamplighter had many hearty supporters, but they were in the minority on the betting on Yo Tambien being at 7 to 10, while Lamplighter was readily sold at even money.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Lamplighter, with a lead of 113 pounds, up, came past the grand stand, and was greeted with rousing cheers. A moment later a roar of applause greeted Yo Tambien, under Sammy Dogget, at the same weight.

Shortly at 3:30 the red flag went down and the two great runners started. As they dashed past the grand stand Yo Tambien was half a length ahead, and she stayed there all the way round.

Yo Tambien, the mare, gained a little nearer the leader, but the mare gained more than she lost in the stretch. As Yo Tambien neared the wire she drew further and further away from the Eastern crack until at the finish there were fully three lengths between the two horses.

DISCONTENTED CARDINALS.

LONDON, Oct. 29.—A correspondent of the Standard in Rome says Cardinal Rampoll, having learned that several influential Cardinals had urged upon Pope Leo the expediency of a change in the policy of the Vatican to one less hostile to the Italian Government, requested leave to resign his office of Secretary of State to his holiness. The Pope, nevertheless, advised the Vatican correspondent to be much impressed with the discontent of the Cardinals.

Suicide of a Resident of Washington.

TERRE HAUTE (Ind.), Oct. 29.—A. Muir of Whatcom, Wash., committed suicide at the Germania Hotel here yesterday by taking morphine. A note written in German was found, saying: "All the money I had was robbed at at Chicago, and I have no means to take me home. This makes me take this step. Long life to all." The Pope, nevertheless, advised the Vatican correspondent to be much impressed with the discontent of the Cardinals.

Defrauded Customs Authorities.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—W. H. Riley, senior member of the large dry goods importing house of W. H. Riley & Co. of New York and Paris, was arrested to-day, charged with entering imported goods at the Custom-house by means of false invoices at a valuation far below the worth of the goods. The amount of which the Customs authorities were defrauded is said to run far into the thousands.

Not His Real Daughter.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 29.—Charles Kuhn, whose recent marriage to Miss Kuhn Beveridge created a sensation, says the young actress who bears his name is not his real or adopted daughter, and she is not of illegitimate birth. Questions to Come Before Parliament.

DUBLIN, Oct. 29.—In a speech to-day John Redmond, Parnellite leader, declared that the parliamentary sessions of 1894 should be devoted to English legislation, and said the Parnellites will support the Government upon the condition that a week of the autumn session be devoted to the thirty-tenant's bill and a registra-

FORECAST OF CONGRESS.

The Senate Will Probably Dispose of the Repeal Bill To-Day.

ADJOURNMENT OR RECESS COUNTED ON BY THURSDAY.

A Resident of Whatcom, Washington, Claiming to Have Been Robbed of All His Wealth at Chicago, and Not Having Any Means to Reach His Home, Commits Suicide at Terre Haute, Indiana.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—If Senator Voorhees' calculations do not miscarry, the repeal bill will be disposed of by the Senate to-morrow. There will be a few more speeches, and the amendments will all probably be voted down, after which a vote on the main question will be taken. The bill will be passed by a majority of ten or possibly eleven votes, and the long contest ended.

If the House should lose any time in disposing of the repeal bill, the Senate has quite a large calendar upon which it can draw for material.

It is probable the Senate during the week will dispose of the House bill extending the time in which Chinese laborers may be allowed to register. The probabilities are that after the repeal and Chinese bills are out of the way, the time will be devoted to private bills and other measures of minor importance. There will also be an effort to clear up executive business. The Senators are counting upon adjournment or recess by Thursday.

Prominent members of the House assure the Senators that the House will dispose of the repeal bill one day after receiving it. When the repeal bill comes to the House to-morrow or Tuesday, if the unexpected does not happen, Wilson will be recognized to move a concurrence in the Senate amendment. If the silver men insist on disposition to discontinue the rule, it will be brought in by the Committee on Rules, that will force a vote. A few hours may be allowed before the previous question cutting off all debate. The repeal men expect 20 members present when the bill comes to a vote.

STANTON-MELLO INCIDENT.

Why the Rear-Admiral Was Detached From Command.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Secretary Herbert has given out the following statement and telegram in regard to the Stanton-Mello incident.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Nothing else was discussed in the clubs and hotels to-day but the cowardly, unprovoked assassination of Mayor Harrison. The tragedy is universally deplored, and wonder was expressed that the murderer had not been lynched. One of the most prominent Chicagoans, who is in New York, is Victor F. Lawson, publisher of the Chicago Record and the Chicago Daily News. He said: "Mayor Harrison was an extraordinary man, of tremendous strength and personality, and possessed what was called great personal magnetism." Lawson said it must be admitted that the administration has been successful, although from a high moral standard it could be criticized.

Secretary De Freeste, Democratic State Committee, was in favor of additional legislation to protect people against cranks.

PRUSSIAN DIET.

Interest in Tuesday's Election Reduced to a Minimum.

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—Tuesday, the election of "Wahlmann" takes place, who elect Deputies to the new lower house of the Prussian Diet. The fact that the electoral qualification and indirect suffrage accounts for the interest taken in elections reduced to a minimum. Since the opening of the Radical campaign, the organs show a feeling of antagonism against each other, and should the quarrel continue, it will probably be the National Liberals and followers of Herr Richter's wing of the Radical party will be gaining against the candidates put forward by that section of the opposition party. The Social Democratic party has decided as usual upon taking no part in the elections, in view of the "wretched electoral system," as they describe it.

THE TROUBLE AT MELILLA.

A SPANISH GENERAL KILLED IN FRIDAY NIGHT'S BATTLE.

The Moors Charge Recklessly in the Face of a Terrible Fire, But Are Finally Repulsed.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

MADRID, Oct. 29.—The battle yesterday and Friday night about the trenches before Melilla, and which, as exclusively cabled to the Associated Press, resulted in the death of General Margallo, who commanded the Spanish troops, caused a profound sensation here. The Spaniards were amazed at the courage shown by the Moors.

The Moors, regardless of the danger, succeeded in entering the Spanish trenches, and captured two modern field pieces and a supply of ammunition. The Moors, unable to withstand the attack of cold steel in the hands of the Spanish soldiers, began to retreat. The Spaniards directed their attack against the Moors who captured the two guns, and who had been using them freely against the forts and warships. Nothing seemed to stand before the charges of the Estramadura regiment and the battalion of soldiers undergoing punishment for breaches of military law. They pressed onward, bayonetting the Moors, who made an attempt to retreat, and managed to recover the two field pieces.

During the panic which followed the death of General Margallo the Moors succeeded in carrying off the body of the Spanish commander, and it was this more than anything which enabled the Spanish officers to rally their men and make the charge which drove the Moors from the trenches. During the rush onward of the Spanish troops a detachment then pursued the Moors who were carrying away the General's body, and after a hand-to-hand conflict the Spaniards succeeded in recovering the body of their late commander, and eventually escorted it into Melilla.

No systematic pursuit of the Moors was attempted, owing to the insufficient force of soldiers at Fort Cabral, but it is understood that General Ortega is making preparations to take terrible vengeance upon the Moors for the death of General Margallo when he has enough men under his command to be able to make the movement in force enough to chase the Moors.

When the steamer brought the above details of the battle of Malaga firing was still proceeding, and it was reported that the Moors had made another attack upon the Spanish troops. General Ortega is known to have sent an urgent dispatch asking for reinforcements, and expressing his inability to do any more than hold his own until reinforced by a large body of troops. Spain is now making war preparations on a very large scale, which will tax the resources of the Government to the utmost.

A motley demonstration was held here to-day. Crowds are parading the streets bearing a banner and singing patriotic songs, doing everything possible to urge the Government to hurry forward reinforcements to Melilla, in order that the loss suffered by the Spaniards may be avenged.

Additional dispatches received this evening say fighting was continued to-day, and it is rumored that there has been serious loss of life. The situation of the Spaniards is said to be growing desperate. General Campos, Commander-in-Chief of the Spanish forces, has advised the Government to promptly issue an order for a mobilization of all reserve troops in Spain. A crowd of people, excited by the rumors in circulation, made an attack upon the Civil Governor in Puerto del Sol, causing the Governor to take refuge in the Bureau of the Minister of the Interior, where men at the door were severely beaten by the angry crowd.

Eight Men Under Arrest at Martinez on Suspicion of Murdering John J. Maloney, Who Was Found Dead Beside the Railroad Track Two Miles From Cornwall Station on the Sixteenth Inst.

Special to the RECORD-UNION.

MARTINEZ, Oct. 29.—Citizens in the southern part of this county, in the neighborhood of Tice Valley and Los Tampus Peak, have for the past five months been greatly annoyed by the operations of a gang of cattle thieves, who have stolen many valuable cattle. Sheriff Rogers was notified, and at last secured evidence which pointed to Frank Posert at Tice Valley and Charles R. Laine as the cattle thieves or leaders of the gang. Posert was arrested on the 20th inst., but Laine took alarm and disappeared. Word was received last week that he had been seen in the hills near his late residence, and the Sheriff sent Deputy Sheriff Joseph P. Bryare to hunt him up. Bryare finally ran his quarry down in a barn into which the outlaw had crawled to get some sleep. He gave himself up without resistance, and is now locked up in the county jail. The preliminary examination of Posert and Laine will take place next Tuesday in Martinez.

J. J. MALONEY'S DEATH.

Eight Men Arrested on Suspicion of Committing the Murder.

MARTINEZ, Oct. 29.—On the morning of October 16th the body of John J. Maloney was found lying beside the railroad track, two miles from Cornwall Station, with the skull cut in two, and every evidence of having been killed by a passing train. Upon examination of the body, however, a bullet hole was found in the skull, which led to the suspicion that the man had been murdered. The testimony before the Coroner's jury strengthened this suspicion, and the jury returned a verdict of murdered by parties unknown. Yesterday the Sheriff caused the arrest of Richard Yates, keeper of a saloon where Maloney was last seen alive, and James Madden, John Smith, John Casey, G. A. Cunningham, J. Devey, John Doneal and John Walsh, section men employed on the Cornwall section at the time of the murder. They were brought to Martinez, and are now lodged in the County Jail. Their preliminary examination will be held on Wednesday next, and the officers are quite confident the guilty ones will be held to answer before the Superior Court.

The wind was light, the ocean smooth, and the vessel is resting easily. Wreckers are busy, however, stripping her.
