My Experience.

During last fall and winter I was obliged to suspend the most of my labor in my field of Home Missionary work on account of my health. RECLAMATION DISTRICT 535.

The Contestants of the Trustee Election Successful.

J. G. Hite Must Give Way to E. R. Edwards—The Lowlands to be at Once Reclaimed.

Judge Catlin yesterday concluded the hearing of the contest over the election of J. G. Hite as one of the Trustees in Reclamation District No. 535, just south of the city. He decided that Hite's election was informal, and that E. R. Edwards is entitled to the place.

The case was brought by George Peters, in the name of the people, on the relation of the Attorney-General, J. G. Hite, who had received a certificate of election from the board which conducted the election for Trustees, held at Oak Hall on October 1st.

The complaint alleged that errors were committed by which many illegal votes were cast for Hite, and that Edwards was duly elected and should have received the certificate awarded to Hite, hence a request for a mandamus to issue.

There were five candidates for Trustees, representing what are known as the highlands and lowlands in the district—James McNasser, J. G. Hite, E. R. Edwards, John Cox and Carl Mueger. Hite and McNasser were the only ones who were declared elected were McNasser, Hite and Cox. According to the returns made by the election board, the entire vote of the district amounted to 1,284,698, 1,009, which Cox received 483,068, Hite 466,556, McNasser 465,443 and Edwards 466,170.

At the bottom of all the strife lay the question of putting in a pumping plant at the lower end of the "pocket," to release the district of the surplus waters and bring all of the land under cultivation. There were some land-owners opposed to the pumping plant, claiming that their own land was not injured by surplus water and holding that they could be taxed for improving the other portions of the district. This element was represented by Cox and Hite, and the other by McNasser and Edwards.

Cox was an anti-pump element because the desire of each side to secure as the second member of the Board of Trustees one who would be in its interest.

Cox and Hite organized a Board of Trustees, and so did McNasser and Edwards, but the land-owners who wanted the pumping plant instituted in the contest to determine who was legally elected trustee—Hite or Edwards.

The case began on Wednesday, and Judge Catlin canvassed all the ballots cast at the election. The attorneys for the contestants were Armstrong, Gruener and Platnauer, and for the defendant, Albert M. Johnson and W. M. Sims. The number of ballots to which each land-owner was entitled was determined by the assessment roll of the county.

The process was a tedious one, but as the result thereof the court found that Edwards was entitled to 43,245 votes, and Hite 48,911, giving Edwards a majority of 10,434.

Colonel McNasser was very jubilant when met by a Tacoma-Tribune reporter after the court had rendered its judgment.

"Now," said the Colonel, "this thing is settled, and you will see a boom down our way. It is the biggest thing that has ever occurred for the whole low country lying between this city and Freeport. We intend to see right at work and place our levee in a better condition than it has ever been. We can do it in a few weeks, now that we have a set of Trustees who believe in progress."

"That whole district, sir," said the Colonel, with great animation, "comprises as rich land as can be found along the Sacramento River anywhere, and can be made the garden spot of the State. Yes, sir, the garden spot of the State! Wait till we get in a pumping plant and relieve it of the water that for years has been doing us wrong. We will have the best of our land, and you will see the fairest spot in California—many thousands of acres of fertile land producing several crops a year and supporting a densely populated community to the taxable wealth of the county."

"All that we shall ask of outsiders," continued Colonel McNasser, "is that they cease to interfere with our plans, and leave us to handle only the natural rainfall and the sparge incident to the proximity of the river. We intend to perfect our levee and manage it so that the justice of our cause will admit the justice of our plan. We are the worst obstacles our people down there have had to deal with, except the drainage sent down from the plains."

"Together these evils have combined to make for years a swamp of what should be the fairest section of the county. But we think our day of deliverance is at hand. At any rate, we're going to work now in earnest to perfect our levee and manage a pumping system that will cause an increase in the value and productiveness of every acre of land in the district."

THOSE COWBOYS. A Pair of Rough Riders Who Should Be Prosecuted.

E. Fallitree, father of the boy who was nearly killed on Tenth street on Thursday night by two half-drunk men mounted on white horses—those reckless riding caused the little fellow to be thrown from a cart—says the men had been racing their horses up and down the streets all that evening, and wonders why they were not arrested.

He says he saw the men in a saloon in the vicinity of Twenty-fifth and P streets about 2 o'clock yesterday.

There is together too much reckless riding through the streets by men and boys on horseback, and examples should be made of some of them.

THE ACORN CLUB. It Gave a Grand Social Dance Last Night.

A most enjoyable social dance was given by the Acorn Club at their club-house last night, it being unfortunately marred somewhat by the fact that the electric lights went out in the hall just after the grand march was formed, and it was some time before the scene was lighted up again, except by a lamp on the musicians' stand. Fisch, Jones & Watson's Orchestra furnished their usual incomparable music for the dancers, and the management had left no stone unturned for the enjoyment of their guests.

The following were the committees: Arrangements—Daniel Webb, H. Roberts, Joseph Dunn, J. Griffin, Joseph Boylan, J. Gunter, Reception—F. Lohmeyer, William Schumeloff, James Carroll, H. W. Watson, J. M. Wheat, Benjamin Sweeney, Floor Director—F.

Lohmeyer, Floor Managers—R. Clark, William Lohmeyer, William Cummings, William Schumeloff, A. W. O'Brien, H. Messenger.

A SEVERE OPERATION.

Favorable Condition of Frank Daroux Last Evening.

Yesterday four surgeons performed an operation on Frank Daroux, assistant engineer at the Water Works, for appendicitis. The diseased intestine was removed successfully, but the ultimate effect on the patient cannot yet be determined.

Early in the evening Mr. Daroux returned to consciousness from the effects of the anæsthetics administered and conversed rationally with those in attendance on him. Apparently he is doing well.

The surgeons discovered that the trouble was not caused, as had been supposed, by a grape seed, but by some larger substance—possibly a lime or apple seed. The patient is still denied to visitors.

MORE FOOTPADS.

Four Miscreants Beat an Old Man and Rob Him.

An old man named William H. Johnson, who looked as if he had been run through a thrashing machine, appeared at the Police Station yesterday and stated that on the previous night he was assaulted on Second street, near the railroad depot, by four footpads.

One of them, he said, kicked him in the stomach, while another beat him up badly. They then robbed him of about $15 in money and his blankets.

A novelty in the shape of a female tramp arrived in this city yesterday morning. She was followed by a large crowd of boys and hobos as she wended her way down the street. She wore a man's coat and hat, and the extremities of her sturdy limbs were adorned with a pair of men's shoes.

Rescued from Death

All Said She Could Not Live a Month

Now Alive and Well—Thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I must praise Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is wonderful medicine. I suffered 10 years with Neuralgia and Dyspepsia and fainting spells. Sometimes I would be almost stiff with cold perspiration. I spent a great deal of money for medical attendance, but it did not get any benefit until my daughter told me about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I began to take it. I weighed less than 100 lbs. and was in a perfect fever. I owe all to it."

Every one who saw me thought I could not live another month. But I began to improve at once after beginning with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and have gradually gained until I am now perfectly cured. I eat well, sleep well, and am in a perfect fever. I owe all to it."
