

FALLING INTO LINE.

The Northern and Central Counties Are in Earnest.

A Site and Building Agreed Upon for the Midwinter Fair, to Cost About $18,000.

Northern and Central California counties intend to be strictly in it at the coming Midwinter Fair.

At the meeting of their representatives in San Francisco the following officers of the association were elected: President, Thomas B. Hall of Sacramento; Vice-President, Frank H. Buck of Solano; Secretary, William B. Gester of Placer; Treasurer, N. A. Ridout of Marysville.

The matter of the erection of a special building was decided in the affirmative, and the following Building Committee appointed, with full power to act for the association: R. M. Green, Frank H. Buck and Thomas B. Hall. A plan was also decided on for the building.

The counties that yesterday subscribed their full share to the expense fund were Sacramento, Placer, Yuba, Colusa, Butte, Yuba and Solano. There is every reason to believe that inside of ten days Shasta, Siskiyou, Nevada, Sutter, Yolo, Stanislaus, El Dorado, Contra Costa and Lake will also fall into line.

President Hall and Secretary Gester came up from San Francisco last evening and were seen by a RECORD-UNION reporter. They were quite enthusiastic over the prospect of the northern and central counties making a grand display of their resources at the Midwinter Fair.

The members of the Building Committee were to meet with the Executive Committee of the Midwinter Fair Commissioners on the grounds at "Sunset City" this afternoon, and arrange for a location for the building, which site has, however, been practically agreed upon. The spot adjoins the main Agricultural building on the north and west. The building is expected to occupy a space of 180x120 feet. That is the size called for by the plan approved by the Executive Committee.

The Northern California Citrus Fair Association yesterday afternoon notified the Northern and Central California Midwinter Fair Association of its acceptance of the latter's invitation to hold its citrus fair in the new building.

R. M. Green of Oroville has been elected a director in place of D. K. Perkins, resigned. Committees have been chosen as follows: On Transportation—J. A. Filcher, D. E. Knight and General J. W. B. Montgomery. On Building—R. M. Green, F. H. Buck, T. B. Hall, Excelsior, M. Green, General W. B. Montgomery, Oscar Robinson, Colonel L. F. Moulton, Leonard Cotter, C. H. Wood, D. E. Knight, R. W. Steadman, Frank H. Buck, E. E. Crotchet, Thomas H. Hart, Morrison, W. B. Gester and J. A. Filcher.

The counties of Butte, Colusa, Yuba, Yuba, Solano, Sacramento and Placer are represented on the Executive Committee. The membership of the committee will be enlarged as the counties enter the association. It was decided to invite all other counties not admitted to the Sixth Congressional District to come into the organization.

The Executive Committee recommended the adoption of the plan for a building drawn by Architect George W. Bordwell. This calls for a handsome two-story structure of wood and staff, in the form of a Greek cross, somewhat after the style of the State Agricultural Pavilion at Sacramento. The estimated cost is given as $18,000.

Senator Campbell of Siskiyou was present at yesterday's meeting, and his invitation addressed the association. He said it had been proposed that the counties of Trinity, Modoc, Lassen, Siskiyou, Shasta and Tehama form a separate exhibit in a building of their own. That plan was devised before the movement for a general Northern California exhibit had been started. The Supervisors of Siskiyou intend to meet to-day and an effort is to be made to induce them to vote $2,500 for the purpose mentioned. But the Senator said that other counties not admitted to the Sixth Congressional District mentioned to come into the association, and he would advise by telegraph, so that the Supervisors might act upon the matter in the light of the latest developments.

Mr. Skinner said that ex-Senator Preston of Nevada County had told him that county would probably come into the association. President Hall said he believed El Dorado would probably also come in. The association desires to contribute to the Southern counties mentioned to come into the association, and he would advise by telegraph, so that the Supervisors might act upon the matter in the light of the latest developments.

TO-DAY'S FOOTBALL. The Athletics and High School Teams will play at Snowflake Park. To-day's football game promises to be a great success, as there has been much interest shown as to the respective merits of the two teams; also from the fact that there is quite a dispute in regard to the weight of the players. The general impression has been right along that the High School team was much lighter than the Athletic Club boys. This is erroneous, as on weighing the members of both teams, it was found that the average throughout is about equal.

The players will assemble at Kimball & Tyson's at 10 P. M. and proceed to the grounds in a large straval, with flying colors and blast of horns. The players of the Athletic Club team have been changed slightly on account of illness among some of them. The team that will play will be: Cole, Powers, Hamlin, Spanner, Kimball, Pommer, Heintzmann, McGinnis, Plintner, Smith and Payne.

The High School boys will play as originally published. None but players and persons directly connected with the game will be allowed on the field, as by observing this rule strictly a better game can be guaranteed, and the audience in general will be able to see all the plays free from obstruction.

To-day's Auctions. Crowell & Lambert, at 927 K street, will offer a large and varied collection of household furniture at their regular sale to-day, at 10 A. M. To-day, they will also sell at 10 A. M. a large and complete line of household goods, stoves, ranges, crockery, carpets, glassware, etc.

R. E. Greer & Co. will sell at 10 A. M. to-day, at their salerooms, 1004-J street, a complete line of harness, including a full and complete line of household goods, stoves, ranges, crockery, carpets, glassware, etc.

Bell & Co., at 323 J street, announce a large sale to-day, at 10 A. M., of household articles for parlor, bedroom, dining-room and kitchen use, including many just received. They also make a specialty of harness, buggies, wagons, carriages and harness.

YANKEE FARMER. The other characters are: Ebenezer, Sander, W. B. Gester; Richard Westphal, N. D. Mann; Stephen, George T. Gaden, Jr.; Mrs. Ebenezer Sanders, Miss Iva Donette; Fidy Sanders, Mrs. C. C. Gaden; M. H. Halloway, Miss Agnes Young. The New York Herald says of the play: The piece made a decided hit with the audience. Both Mr. Mann and Miss Lipman met with a warm reception. The play is a clever American comedy in three acts, with enough human interest in it to keep the attention of the audience and is replete with comical situations.

There have been for some time much preparation at the Clunie Opera-house for the production next week of Boucicault's drama, "Arras in a Fogue." In 1883, when Mr. Boucicault was producing this piece at the California Theater, in San Francisco, he was taken sick and for over a week was confined to his bed. He called for J. Ward to take his place as Shann, the Post, which Mr. Ward did with complete success, and kept the engagement up without loss and with decided brilliancy of execution. Boucicault was so grateful and convinced that Ward had played the character with credit to the actor and author that he prepared a special gold watch, and gave him written consent to play the piece as long and wherever he pleased without payment of royalty. The watch was given to him, and it is richly engraved with monogram design, and on the inside case bears an inscription reciting the facts, with a humorous motto in French.

Concerning De Koutski, the eminent composer and musician, who appears here Monday evening for the Sacramento Lecture Association, C. A. Neale, the well-known musician of this city, who has heard the artist, yesterday said: "The Chevalier De Koutski is of a family eminent in music. He was born in Cracow, in 1817. He is noted for great delicacy of touch and brilliancy of execution. In addition to being court pianist to the German imperial court, he is the composer of many pieces de salon, of which his 'Ave Maria' is the most popular. He is well-known 'Awakening of the Lion.' The Chevalier has known intimately all the noted men in art, literature and music in Europe, and he is a man of great refinement and of great interest. Time does not seem to have impaired the strength or brilliancy of his playing. To have seen and heard De Koutski would mark an era in the musical experience of anyone."

A chrysanthemum social was held at the Christ Lutheran Church last night, a fair audience being present, who listened to an excellent literary and musical entertainment. Mrs. Abbie Gerlach-Gunung gave a fine vocal solo on the organ and Miss Hatie Webb's contralto solo was loudly applauded. Miss Yvonne West gave a fine vocal solo, representing the reading classes of several grades in a school, and Miss Belle Stargel recited with dramatic effect. "Fidelity" was the title of the play, and Miss Belle Morton and a contralto solo, "Afterwards," by Miss Alice Andrews completed the programme. The evening was a very successful one, and the refreshments were more than excellent.

The South Sea Islanders, thirty-five in number, who appear at the World's Fair for five months, will play at the Metropolitan Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and a Wednesday matinee next week. Julian Hawthorne, the journalist, traveler and author, said of the troupe, while at the fair: "I never saw a day party so good as the one I saw and heard the South Sea Islanders in their songs and dances. They have a comfortable theater, seating several hundred, and the style of the stage is of the highest quality. They give their performance three or four times daily. I have no hesitation in saying that it is the most delightful and interesting performance I have seen. The troupe is well equipped with the latest improvements in stage machinery, and the refreshments were served.

Jeffrey's Case Continued. The Jeffrey murder case was yesterday continued until Monday morning, Judge Pray's motherly illness of Judge Pray's mother, which required his presence in Auburn.

WARTBURG CASTLE.

One of the Historic Features of the Fatherland.

Scenes Along the Rhine and Some Incidents in the Life of Martin Luther.

A large audience gathered last night at the German Lutheran Church, corner of Twelfth and K streets, to enjoy the illustrated lecture on "Luther and the Wartburg." Rev. Mr. Oehler, the lecturer, proved to be quite an interesting speaker and held the closest attention of his hearers during the time, of very nearly two hours. He also proved to be thoroughly posted on the subject of the evening, and seemed to be quite at home in the old castle, the Wartburg, as well as in the history of the Reformation.

This lecture differed from others, inasmuch as there were not the usual bewildering amount of views presented to the eyes, through which those in attendance got confused and do not get the true benefit of the lecture. There were between fifty and sixty stereopticon views presented, and the lecturer took time enough to give an explanation of each.

After showing some good views in and about New York City, Mr. Oehler took his hearers on an ocean steamer and lifted them through the waves of the ocean he shortened with the recital of some interesting incidents which occurred to him in his travels. A sailing vessel was sighted, which seemed to be in great distress. When they came nearer to it it proved to be a storm-torn vessel, and the crew were to use the sails, because they were torn off in a terrific storm. Boats were lowered and the occupants were rescued by the brave seamen.

After reaching the city of Amsterdam, Holland, the lecturer proceeded to travel up the Rhine. He stopped at Cologne and paid a visit to the cathedral, and probably the most magnificent structure of the gothic style of architecture in the world.

After several other stops views were presented of Heidelberg, the old university city of Germany. Here the great Heidelberg Castle drew the attention of the hearers. In it is the celebrated Heidelberg tower, which is a fine relic of the past. Then some funny views were enjoyed, after which the journey proceeded to the Wartburg, near Eisenach, Thuringia.

The Wartburg is indeed a lovely castle. Situated on the top of a high mountain, it thrones like a queen, governing and overlooking the surrounding country for miles and miles. The castle is a fine historical castle of the Fatherland which has been kept in almost its original state. Its construction dates back to the eleventh century.

This historical spot is kept sacred by the German Protestant population, because it was there that Luther, the reformer, was confined in the Wartburg. The strong walls of the castle. With great accuracy Mr. Oehler guided the attention through the interior of the Wartburg, everywhere giving explanations of deep historical importance. He indeed made his hearers feel as though they were present at one of those medieval feasts enjoyed by the gallant knights and their ladies. Mr. Oehler's lecture was a most interesting one, and the more decent elements also combined against them. The bosses employed all of the toughs and strikers whom they could find, and the result was a riotous and a desperate one, but the bosses were signally defeated. In fact, it was a wretchedly bad day for bosses.

On Friday evening, at St. Paul's Church, the rector in charge, Rev. A. C. George, will take up the discussion of the question of "Woman in Business," a subject which has lately much engaged their attention. The rector will also give a lecture on "The Rights of Women," a subject which has lately much engaged their attention. I Am Not Inconsistent. Eds. RECORD-UNION: I am charged with inconsistency in voting for Steinman, the inconsistency being my pronounced opposition to the saloon as an institution. To charge a minister with inconsistency in this manner is a very serious matter, for it is a thrust at his character, and his character above all things determines his influence.

One has said, "You need not preach against the saloon to me, after voting for Steinman." Let me ask my critics a question: If I had voted for Knox would my vote have expressed any opposition to the saloon? If Mr. Knox has said anything or done anything expressive of opposition to the saloon, I have not heard of it, for I can hardly conceive of such men supporting a man who was known to be opposed to the saloon. Was there any candidate for whom I could have voted and thereby expressed opposition to the saloon?
