

MONEY FOR SACRAMENTO DAY.

Auditor Young's Objection Overruled by the Trustees.

Mayor Steinman Asked to Confer with the Railroad Company About Paving Second Street.

The Board of City Trustees held an adjourned meeting last night, Messrs. Lawton, Wachhorst, Kent, Davis, Bragg, Devine, Leonard, Tozer and Pennish being present.

The following communication from the Mayor was read and placed on file:

To the Board of Trustees: As Second street, from K to H streets, is soon to be improved by the laying of a bituminous pavement, it would be advisable, if possible, to have the improvement continued to the depot.

The Southern Pacific Company is the owner of the property on each side of Second street, from H street to the depot. I am of the opinion that if a request is made to the railroad company by your board to have this portion of the street improved in the same manner and at the same time with the other portion, it would probably comply with the request.

If this could be accomplished the city would then have a continuous pavement from the depot along Second street and up to other principal business streets. Respectfully submitted, B. U. STEINMAN, Mayor.

Kent moved that the Street Committee be directed to act in accordance with the recommendation of the Mayor.

Davis moved to refer the matter to the Mayor, with the request that he confer with the railroad authorities, and the motion was carried.

WANTS A WATER MAIN.

Thomas Hague said that thirteen years ago a one-inch water pipe was laid down to his place. It is nearly filled up now, so that water runs very slowly. It is the part of the city near Y street is not sprinkled better this summer than heretofore. It will be very little use and more than the price of necessary pipe will be lost. There is very little water protection against fire down there, as there is only a six-inch main to T street. He hoped that the board would order from T to W is graveled, the board will lay a suitable main to W street.

A communication was read from Thomas Lewis and Jesse Slaughter, cesspool cleaners, claiming that Sanitary and Building Inspector Herr has combined with one Campbell, and has been giving the work of cess-pool cleaning to the latter. They feel that they have been discriminated against, and ask that Herr be removed from office.

Lawton moved that the matter be referred to a committee of three, to be appointed by the Chair. Leonard, who was in the chair, appointed Leonard, Kent and Davis, but afterward appointed Devine in President Lawton's place.

AUDITOR'S VETO OVERRULED.

A communication from the Auditor was read, declining to draw a warrant for the $250 appropriated the night before for the celebration of Sacramento Day. He could find, he said, no authority in the charter for it, and thought it would be setting an unwise precedent.

Devine argued in favor of passing the bill over the Auditor's veto. It would be a disgrace to the city to leave the citizens who were appointed on the committee and who have worked so hard in the lurch at this late hour. He believed it would return benefits to the city in excess of the expenditure.

Devine favored passing it over the veto. He read a section of the charter which he thought applied to it, which empowers the Trustees to make contracts and agreements for the benefit of the city.

Bragg said he was in favor of the appropriation, but thought now it was wrong. The veto was overruled by a vote of 5 to 1, Davis, Bragg, Leonard and Pennish voting no.

ROUND OR SQUARE.

Mr. Watkins, Superintendent of the fire alarm system, said he was surprised when he read the report of Monday night's meeting to find that the board objected to the use of round poles. It would cost much more for square ones, and they will not last nearly as long as round ones. He hopes they would change their minds. The poles are in a very bad condition, and he would need much more than fifty poles—possibly three times that amount. Round poles cost a little more than square ones.

Kent moved that the word "round" instead of "square" be inserted in the motion of the Sewerage Committee. Lawton said it was absurd to think that round poles will last longer than a square one. If the heart wood is selected it will last.

A spirited discussion resulted in a vote of 5 to 4, in favor of square poles.

ANOTHER MAIN NEEDED.

P. S. Driver asked that the water mains be extended by putting in a pipe from Twenty-third to Twenty-sixth streets, between L and M. Residents there are using water from an inch pipe, and paying the same water rates as people downtown who have better facilities. The locality will soon be built up solid, and the people should have an equal show.

The matter was referred to the Water Committee for investigation, as was the need of pipes between F and G, Twenty-sixth and Thirtieth streets.

SEWERAGE SLOUGH.

Kent renewed his motion of the other night—that the Sewerage Committee be sent down at the city's expense. He had withdrawn the motion before at Devine's request, but he thought it feasible and that it would save the city $100,000 to run the sewerage that way.

Pennish said that, if the levee breaks, the sewerage would be backed up to the city's doors. The route has been surveyed several times.

Tozer said all the facts in relation to it are on record in the Surveyor's office and easy accessible, without going to this expense.

Kent had seen these sketches on paper, and expected to see more. He would like to go down and see for himself where the sewerage has been running for thirty years over the top of the ground.

THE MOTION WAS LOST.

CHINESE VEGETABLE CARTS. E. Kuchler came to see about the Chinese vegetable carts on the sidewalks. They take possession of the walks and refuse to get off them into the street. He believed that there was an ordinance against it.

SACRAMENTO DAY COMMITTEE.

J. O. Coleman said that the committee appointed by the old board and the Supervisors found themselves in an awkward position. The Supervisors have appropriated half the amount needed, supposing the Board of Trustees would do likewise, which had been done. The committee hoped that the Trustees would not recede from what they had done, and did not wish the result of failure fall on the two boards. It appreciates the action of the Trustees on both nights, and hoped the Mayor would sustain it. If he does not the committee would rely on the assistance of the board in raising the amount by private subscription, and hoped they would receive that assistance. Leonard said that he had voted against the appropriation because he did not think there was money in the treasury for it. Personally he would assist with his own means and with his efforts in canvassing.

Devine moved that a committee of three be appointed by the Chair to act in conjunction with the other committee and confer with the Mayor on the subject.

The motion was carried, and Wachhorst, Pennish and Devine were appointed. On suggestion of Devine, Bragg and Tozer were added to the committee.

THE GAS BILLS.

Devine stated that an indemnity bond had been given by the gas company, that neither the Trustees nor the bondsmen who might vote for paying the gas bills should be held responsible for the money paid for the bills. He moved the bills be paid.

The alleged bond was read, and it was discovered that no signatures or seal were attached to it. Lawton protested against taking any vote on the proposition on the strength of such an instrument.

Bragg said that when he, as Chairman of the Board of Trustees, ordered gas put in, he considered that a contract was made with them. The gas is being used and should be paid for.

Several of the Trustees favored paying the bills. Lawton said that to pay these bills would knock out the appeal to the Superior Court. With the exception of the bill under litigation, he might consent to pay the bills if the bond were properly executed, but should oppose any action until the City Attorney had been consulted. He advised them to look before they leaped.

Leonard said if the bond were made properly he might willingly vote to pay the bills, but was not fighting the gas company. He did not believe in being scared into paying the bills because a corporation threatened to turn off the gas. He did not agree with Judge Coleman's decision, although he did not doubt the Judge's ability.

Lawton said he possessed a high opinion of the Judge's ability, but it is agreed that the matter should be definitely settled in the court, whichever way the court should decide.

Bragg moved that a committee of three be appointed by the Chair to confer with the gas company and see if any satisfactory arrangements can be made, and also to confer with the City Attorney and get his written opinion as to the legality of paying the bills and taking the bond.

The motion was carried, and the Chair appointed Bragg, Pennish and Tozer as such committee.

THE BOARD THEN ADJOURNED.

MUD SPRINGS' ONCE GREAT HOTEL.

A Pane of Glass That Has Withstood Time's Ravages.

Forty Years Ago Yesterday Lee & Marshall's Men Inscrubed Their Names Thereon.

All old Californians of the early fifties, and for some years thereafter, have seen or heard of Lee & Marshall's circus, the best show in the circus line that ever visited the coast.

Those were the days when circuses had to make their tour of the State over the wagon roads, when it took one and sometimes two or three days to make the trip from one town to another. The circus was a new thing to the rising generation of that time, and "circus day" was an event looked forward to with wistful longing. The "grand entree" (as they called it) into a town always brought out the entire population, and while the company remained there the rignmaster and the clown were the biggest men in the camp.

On May 29, 1854, Lee & Marshall's circus opened in this city at Fourth and I streets for a season of four nights, and then went to the mines. Everybody went to see the show, but there are only a few of them left now.

That year's visit of the circus has been brought to mind by a little incident that occurred a couple of days ago during a visit of County Assessor R. C. Irvine to El Dorado County.

"Dick" used to live at Mud Springs, where his father was one of the founders of Peace, and he frequently visits his old home. The other day, while there the place is now known as the village of El Dorado, he entered the old building which in early days gloried in the name of the Oriental Hotel. Like the few old miners who still haunt the diggings where once they washed out the shining gold, what is left of the old hotel does not amount to much. The dry rot of age and neglect has nearly done its work, and rats and mice are high carnival where once was heard the steady clink of gold on the bar and gaming tables, and where song and revelry nightly prevailed.

In looking about the old tavern Irvine noticed some scratches on one of the window panes, and on examining them closely discovered a list of names written on the pane by means of a diamond. They were: "Orlando Hohler, Thomas Neville, George H. Edmonds, George Peoples—of Lee & Marshall's Circus, May 29, 1854."

"Just forty years ago yesterday! And all this time that window-pane has remained intact in its old place—unbroken by bullet during the many gun fights that have taken place about the hostility, and stranger still, it has escaped the slingshots and stones of the several generations of boys that have flourished since those names were written there.

Who that ever attended Lee & Marshall's Circus does not remember the darling of the crowd, riding of George Peoples, or the wonderful acrobatic feats of Edmonds?

It is safe to say that if any members of that famous circus troupe are living to-day, they would give considerable to possess that pane of glass as a memento of the good old days of forty years ago, when $20-pieces were more plentiful in Mud Springs than nickels are to-day.

Comparison of Its Last Year's Operations and This.

Pitfalls That Beset Young Men on All Sides—Progress of the Several Departments.

Following are some statistics of the Young Men's Christian Association of Sacramento: Attendance during the year ending October 1, 1893: General, 32,430; five months ending May 1, 1894, 18,400; gymnasium, 6,728; five months, 3,100; baths, 7,244; five months, 2,530; educational classes, 900; five months, 540; meetings (Sunday), 2,840; five months, 1,317; training classes, 463; five months, 255; asked for prayers, 70; five months, 28; professed conversion, 49; five months, 23; employment secured, 114; five months, 20; board and rooms, 40; five months, 16; letters assisted, 187; five months, 110; letters written, 2,720; five months, 1,120; letters received, 1,905; five months, 935; active membership, 112; associate membership, 149; junior membership, 20; total membership, 281.

Secretary Miller gives the following reasons why work is being done for young men: First—Because upon the young men depends the future of the country. Second—Because the devil and every other power of evil are working for young men. The young man in the city away from home has temptations where others have none. Third—Because every saloon and house of ill fame is a place of sin. There are 250 saloons, besides other places, standing open to the young men of the city every night, and one young man in every ten is ruined. In respect to state work, it may be said that there are fifteen associations in California, with a membership of 3,000. They are all doing good, but there are twenty more places where there ought to be strong associations, and to open up these places and strengthen others that are weak is the mission of the State work. A plan is now being worked out operation that will proceed with the organization of a work for the salvation of young men in these places and bring them into correspondence with the associations of the cities to which the young men go. By this means the man will be followed up on leaving home and infidels thrown around him that may go a long way toward keeping him from the evil of the cities. To do this there must be a State Secretary, who can put in his time with the work, and his support must come from the pastors of those who have at heart the interests of the young men of the State.

At the last meeting of the Ministerial Association the matter of the observation of the jubilee of the organization of the Young Men's Christian Association was brought up and discussed by the members of the association. It was decided that it would not be advisable to attempt to hold a union service as recommended by the State committee of the Young Men's Christian Association, but a motion was made and carried that all the pastors of the city be requested to take up a collection on the evening of the first Sunday in June for the benefit of the work of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association was requested to furnish to the pastors information as to the object of the work of the association, from which the pastors are to present the work to their people in taking the collection. It is thought best to take the collection for the general work, and the amount will be divided between the local work in Sacramento and the State work in California. As this is the first, and probably the only appeal that will be made for the work of the association during this year, it is hoped that the contribution will be as liberal as possible.

Secretary George A. Miller preached in the Methodist Church at Placerview on Sunday last.

An interesting and exciting game of handball took place in the gymnasium on Monday afternoon. The spectators were much pleased with the performance of the players.

An unusual number of new members have been secured during the past week as the result of enterprising "hustling."

The General Secretary will go to San Jose to-day. The object of the trip is unknown.

The band practices twice a week, and is getting to the front with a great deal of rapidity. In the language of the day, "they play pretty stiff music now."

B. H. Marsh led the men's meeting Sunday afternoon. About eighty were present, and the usual degree of interest was shown in the proceedings.

Henry W. Tracy, Chairman of the Christian Work Department, led the training class in place of the General Secretary on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. There was a good attendance.

Governor Markham Commutes the Sentence of Frank Luna.

Governor Markham has commuted the sentence of Frank Luna, sentenced in June, 1893, to two years in the Alameda County jail for assault with a deadly weapon on his wife, he being drunk at the time, an unusual occurrence with him.

His wife was not seriously injured and would not have prosecuted him had she not been induced by outside influences. Their domestic troubles have since been amicably settled, and she is willing to live with him again, and joins in the petition for his pardon.

The petition is signed by the Judge, District Attorney, committing magistrate, all the jury and a large number of leading citizens of the county, who all testify to his previous good character for peace, quietness, industry, and that his large family need his support.

In view of his good behavior in jail and believing the ends of justice have been served, the Governor commutes his sentence to fourteen and one-half months, which will release him on June 6th.

The Yellow Glow of the Horizon.

Painted on the sky by the setting sun, is beautiful. Not so the sallow saffron of a face tinged with bile. And oh! the unspeakable discomfort that bile in the wrong place produces. Twings in the right side and under the right shoulder indicate, nausea, vertigo, sick headache, constipation, faulty digestion. Not in an instant can the symptoms of biliousness be dispelled, but persistence in the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will eradicate them, restore digestion and regularity of the bowels, and counteract tendencies to more aggravated complaints, which an interrupt of those functions begets. Rheumatism, inactivity of the kidneys and bladder, neuralgia and inability to sleep, are also remedied by this genial purgative and restorative of nerve force and tranquility. As an antidote to the poison of malaria, it is unfailing and prompt. A wineglassful three times a day.
