

DAILY RECORD-UNION

ISSUED BY THE SACRAMENTO PUBLISHING COMPANY. Office, Third Street, between J and K.

THE DAILY RECORD-UNION For one year, $6 00 For three months, $3 00 For six months, $4 50

THE WEEKLY UNION Is the cheapest and most desirable Home, News and Literary Journal published on the Pacific Coast.

Special Agencies. This paper is for sale at the following places: L. P. Fisher's, room #1, Merchants' Exchange, California street; the principal News Stands and Hotels, and at the Market Street Ferry, San Francisco.

LOS ANGELES—Electric Book Store, corner Second and Main streets. SAN DIEGO—Emmal & Co., 860 Fifth street, Coronado—Hopkins & Cox, Coronado Hotel.

SANTA BARBARA—Hessinger's News Depot, Fresno—C. T. Cleary, 1111 J street. SANTA CRUZ—Cooper Bros' News Depot.

THE RECORD-UNION and WEEKLY UNION are the only papers on the Coast, outside of San Francisco, that receive the full Associated Press Dispatches from all parts of the world.

PROPOSED PRISON CONSOLIDATION.

It is said that the Prison Commissioners or Directors will recommend to the coming Legislature, indeed have already prepared a report to that end, that the San Quentin Prison grounds and property be sold, and the State Prison grounds be consolidated at Folsom.

It is true, and if the recommendation is likely to be acted upon favorably, the result will be bad for Sacramento, but good for the State. The location of a penitentiary in this county has proved to be a curse; we invited it, however, and must not now complain.

The San Quentin Prison is too near to the metropolis; it is too easy of access; its power for industrial purposes is all artificial and very costly, even the water necessary for prison uses has to be purchased at an expense in excess of $13,000 a year.

The maintenance of two prisons within ninety miles of each other is useless, one set of administrative and executive officers could as well serve the State if the prisons were consolidated.

The California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

This journal has always contended that the California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

This journal has always contended that the California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

This journal has always contended that the California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

This journal has always contended that the California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

This journal has always contended that the California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

This journal has always contended that the California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

This journal has always contended that the California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

This journal has always contended that the California system of scattering institutions of the character of prisons and asylums is a costly, silly and inexcusable policy. The rule should be that of consolidation for economic reasons first and reformatory and treatment purposes second.

will be no cost for material for building purposes beyond the cost of machine appliances to aid convict labor in moving the stone from the quarry, and that at Folsom the convicts may be constantly and usefully employed both as a matter of discipline and of self-support, while at San Quentin that is simply impossible with artificial power, heavy fuel, light and water cost and limitations of the most exacting order upon the industries which may there be prosecuted.

The whole question is one of economy and of wise keeping and disciplining of convicts; it is a question of the ease of classifying prisoners and separating within the same prison grounds the inmates from the neophytes in crime, a most desirable end now in view, and that must be attained sooner or later. It is a question also of wisdom in removing convicts from the immediate vicinity of the metropolis of the State, for their own good and the furtherance of reform of the criminal. Finally it is a question of radical and permanent change of policy regarding the management of the State institutions, namely, the abandonment of the distribution policy for that of consolidation, and under which, despite the enormous outlays already made, we might wisely abandon some of our distributed State institutions to the owls and bats and gather their inmates under one control and administration at one or two points.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

INSULTING EXPRESSION. Governor Carr of North Carolina is greatly mistaken with regard to the attitude and expression of the press outside of the South, concerning Southern lynchings. He declares, according to yesterday's dispatches, that if the negroes of the South should or could read Northern papers the crimes for which they are now so frequently lynched would be multiplied, and the criminals be greatly emboldened and encouraged by the commendation of the Northern press.

BESELENA'S LECTURE.

She Talks Plainly to a Young Married Lady.

Her Idea of the Proper Method of Retaining the Affections of a Husband.

(Special Correspondence of RECORD-UNION.) "Come and see me. I am half sick and thoroughly blue.—Evelyn."

The above was a note my boy, Joe, handed me a few days ago. Evelyn was a former schoolmate of mine; a bright, vivacious little thing, with a faculty all her own of winning people. How she did it I no one knew exactly. I don't believe she even knew herself. When she was a child she lured over her mother, her nurse, her companions and everyone else. Never in a dictatorial manner, but with such a winning sweetness that people were woe to say that "Evelyn was born to rule."

I first met her at boarding school and it was here as well as every place else. No one seemed surprised, or even disconcerted, that Evelyn had things all her own way. Even to the terrible lady principal, who took snuff and glared at the girls over the tops of her formidable spectacles.

Evelyn wasn't particularly bright, but in some mysterious manner she managed to keep up with her classes. Much to my sorrow, for we were great friends, and the schoolgirl parsnips, who left school to get married, were woe to graduate. For some time afterwards I did not hear of her. Then one day she walked in upon me—the same old Evelyn, and yet not the same. She was a bride. Her husband, in whom she was very properly wrapped up, was a good business man, young, industrious and with all that. He says he was married with a man for himself. They settled down to house-keeping, and to all outward appearances were a model couple.

But I, who knew Evelyn so well, saw that things were not what they seemed, so I was not surprised when I received the note. I lost no time in getting out there.

I found Evelyn just as I expected; her hair was hanging in an untidy braid down her back, her hands were straight, she wore a loose wrapper of the Mother Hubbard variety, without belt or sash to confine its gaping wideness. An old maid's shawl was slung over her shoulders with a brass safety-pin, and her slippers, like those of the Marchioness that dear old Dickens tells about, were much down-at-heel.

"I am glad you come, Bess," was Evelyn's greeting as she took me into the house; and as I laid aside my hat and gloves and seated myself in the arm chair with my old schoolmate opposite me, she gave vent to the pent-up feelings in her which induced her to write me the note, and which were now about to induce her to make me her confidant.

"I am awfully lonely all the time," she began, stroking the silky white fur of a huge Angora cat which had jumped into her lap. "Charlie is away all day now; he is rarely home to dinner; in fact I seldom see him before bedtime, and often much later. He says he is busy in the office, pleads great rush of business, and all that nonsense, but I don't believe half of it, and that's the reason I have asked you to come here to-day and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

Here there was a suspicious break in her voice and she looked at me with the softest of smiles. She emerged as brightly and lively as ever, said she wouldn't hear a word upon the subject until she had lunched, and then then to my own devices while she went out to help the cook. All during luncheon she rattled on at a lively rate, and it was not until she had finished her coffee that she came back and help me find out why Charlie acts this way."

THEY LIKE SACRAMENTO.

What the Red Men Think of the Capital City.

A few weeks since the Great Council of the Improved Order of Red Men was held in this city, and the following from the Flagship, the official organ of the order, has this to say of how the delegates were treated here.

"It was great times! From the moment the representatives set foot upon the soil of the Capital City until they rolled away again across the bridge to the Yolo side, they were, to quote in a military way, bombarded with entertainment. We know the Red Men of those hunting grounds of old, but we acknowledge to just a bit of surprise at the exhibition of youthful energy, pristine imagination and untiring zeal with which they were entertained, and kept up the whole pleasant business."

"Speaking for one's self, we confess we had a somewhat desire to sleep more, eat less and take in less moisture; but what we were to do in the matter of sleep we found in rapid circles, 'corn and venison' were plenty and appetizing, and there were only twenty-four hours in a day up there. In our sleep we were almost lulled all around again and partaking of spirituous comorials and alimentive products of the local business."

"And the climate! If they had gone into the very arena where temperate suns, soft breezes and genial nights are in their element they could not have selected a finer assortment. The browned away from the mountain sides, the semi-laked ones from valleys and the wind-blasted sojourners of the coast just revel in it."

"And then the ladies—well, we shall be long in forgetting the scenes at the opening of the banquet that followed. If the one and original Pocahontas can look down from the 'happy hunting ground' and if she did, she must have been highly pleased with the daughters of the ilk, and if it shall so turn out that she was not able, we will say that we had admiration enough, and to spare, for both us in the premises. The browned away from the mountain sides, the semi-laked ones from valleys and the wind-blasted sojourners of the coast just revel in it."

WEATHER AND CROPS How the One Affected the Other the Past Week.

Director Barwick of the California Weather Service, in his report for the week ending September 10th, summarizes as follows: The average weekly temperature was: For San Francisco, 64;ureka, 58; Red Bluff, 80; Sacramento, 70; Fresno, 87; Los Angeles, 70; San Diego, 66.

As compared with the normal temperature there is an excess of heat shown at all points, the greatest at Sacramento, Southern California, where a slight deficiency prevails.

The excess at San Francisco and Eureka is 2°; Red Bluff 24°; Sacramento 12°; Los Angeles, 7°; San Diego, 6°. As compared with the normal temperature there is an excess of heat shown at all points, the greatest at Sacramento, Southern California, where a slight deficiency prevails.

The week's weather has been favorable for the crops that are now being secured, such as corn, grapes, beans and late fruits, excepting at San Diego, where the cool and cloudy weather has retarded rather than helped the outlook.

The highest and lowest temperatures reported was 110° at Huron, Fresno County, and 40° at Yreka, Siskiyou County.

BRIEF NOTES The Gilt Edge defeated the State Printing Office nine at Snowflake Park Sunday afternoon by a score of 26 to 11.

Frank H. Duden announces himself as the nominee of the Republican party for the office of County Clerk in this morning's issue.

Senator E. C. Hart has returned from a Republican meeting which was held at Grass Valley on Saturday night, after the vote at the County Convention was concluded.

Mrs. Friedman Dead. Mrs. Annie J. Friedman, a native of Australia, wife of L. F. Friedman, died yesterday, after a short illness. The funeral will take place from the residence on Wednesday afternoon.

SPECIAL NOTICES DR. F. M. SHIELDS, Dentist, has removed his office to 415 J street, bet. Fourth and Fifth.

DR. WELDON, Dentist, has opened an office at 809 J street.

NEW TO-DAY. 1894 1894 STATE FAIR. PARK. RACING AT 1:30 P. M. DAILY. TUESDAY, September 11th. GRAND STOCK PARADE AT 9 A. M.

Save Money! Save Time! Save Temper! By buying your Shoes HERE. The principal feature of this department is the PERFECT FITTING of people's feet QUICKLY.

AMUSEMENTS. METROPOLITAN THEATER. J. H. TODD, Manager. 5 NIGHTS 5. Commencing MONDAY, September 10.

MISS Jeffreys Lewis. Who will appear in a Series of New Characters in the following Great Plays, together with a Perfect Company.

CLUNIE OPERA HOUSE. J. H. TODD, Manager. Commencing Monday, September 10th, and Saturday Matinee.

INTERNATIONAL TEMPLE OF ART. 727 & 729 street, four doors above the Postoffice.

HANANNA MASAKICHI. The $5,000 Statue. It equal has never been seen in Sacramento.

HARPER'S WAR VOLUMES. OF INTEREST TO Record-Union Subscribers.

A File Harper's Weekly (During the War) is worth $100.

HARPER'S Pictorial History of the Civil War.

TOBACCO, CIGARS and CIGARETTES. EASTERN AND KEY WEST ONLY.

THE GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES AT JOE POHEM'S.

THE TAILOR, FOR THE LAST THIRTY DAYS IS CONTINUING.

LISTER & McCRAKEN, Tailoring Parlors, 620 J Street, - - Sacramento.

CULMEACHER. The finest in the land at the GILT EDGE, 1014 J Street, JACOB GRUHLER, Proprietor.

How!!! Well, you want to first get part No. 1 and see the table of contents and that there is ten times as much value as you thought, or even saw before for the money.

Given to all subscribers of the Record-Union and Weekly Union for 8 cents per number. Only $2 08 for the complete work.

ATKINSON'S Practical - - Incubator. MAIN OFFICE AND FACTORY, 1029 J Street, B. F. PIKE, Manufacturer.

CROSSMAN'S SPECIFIC MIXTURE. WITH THIS REMEDY PERSONS CAN cure their troubles without the least exposure, change of diet or change in application to business.

AUCTIONS. ARION, 207 1/2; SUNOL, 208 1/2; AZOTE, 209 1/2; PALO ALTO, 208 1/2.

STANDARD AND HIGH BRED Trotting Brood Mares. -BRED AT THE FAMOUS PALO ALTO STOCK FARM, AT AUCTION, Wednesday, September 12, 1894.

AGRICULTURAL FAIR GROUND, SACRAMENTO. During meeting of California State Agricultural Society.

KILLIP & CO., Live Stock Auctioneers, 22 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

AUCTION SALE OF REAL ESTATE, ON THE PREMISES, 1818 J Street.

BELL & CO., Auctioneers. FOR SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1894.

HO! FOR KLAMATH SPRINGS! THEY ARE TWENTY MILES FROM Ager on the California and Oregon route.

"IVY LODGE," Santa Cruz, Cal. SELECT PRIVATE BOARDING, BEAUTIFUL grounds, sunny rooms, large library, music rooms, etc.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY (PACIFIC SYSTEM) AUGUST 1, 1894.

Trains Leave and are Due to Arrive at Sacramento:

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Ashland and Portland, Calistoga and Napa, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Central Atlantic Express for Oregon and East, Oroville via Roseville, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

Table with columns: LEAVE (For), TRAINS RUN DAILY, ARRIVE (From). Rows include Stockton and Galt, Stockton and Galt, etc.

CANDIDATES. L. T. HATFIELD, Regular Republican Nominee for the ASSEMBLY.

FRANK D. RYAN, Republican Nominee for DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

F. T. JOHNSON, Regular Republican Nominee for SHERIFF.

JACOB HEINTZ, People's Party Nominee for SHERIFF.

T. H. BERKEY, Republican Nominee for ASSESSOR.

WM. B. HAMILTON, People's Party Nominee for COUNTY CLERK.

RICH. T. COHN, Regular Republican Nominee for AUDITOR AND RECORDER.

THOS. JENKINS, (PRESENT INCUMBENT), Regular Republican Nominee for SUPERVISOR, FIFTH DISTRICT.

GEO. G. DAVIS, Republican Nominee for CITY JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.

W. W. COONS, Republican Nominee for SACRAMENTO TOWNSHIP JUSTICE.

JOHN P. BRISSEL, People's Party Nominee, Nominee of Reorganized Democratic Party for CONSTABLE.

W. A. WALL, (K. of P. building, Ninth and I streets), Candidate for CONSTABLE, SACRAMENTO TOWNSHIP.

RAILROAD TIME TABLE. SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY (PACIFIC SYSTEM) AUGUST 1, 1894.

PURELY A FAMILY AFFAIR. One doz. Flat Jars in a box, 50c per doz.

TEAS. At 20c, 25c, 30c, 35c, 40c and 50c per pound. Our New Crop 50c Teas equals others' 75c.

COFFEES. At 15c, 20c, 25c, 30c and 35c per pound. Our Mocha and Java Blend makes a perfect Cup of Coffee.

Perhaps You Don't Know We Sell CROCKERY, CHINAWARE, GLASSWARE AND TINWARE.

Great American Importing Tea COMPANY, 617 J Street, Sacramento.

REWARD! The SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY hereby offers to pay FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

As a reward for information or evidence leading to the arrest and conviction of one or more of the criminals who caused the derailment of west bound mail and passenger train, No. 4, at a point about three miles west of Sacramento about noon this date, JULY 11, 1894, in which wreck three or more persons were killed.

(Signed) A. N. TOWNE, Second Vice-President and General Manager.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY hereby offers to pay FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.