ANOTHER REASON. Several excellent reasons have been given in these columns, and by many of our contemporaries, why proposed Amendment No. 4 to the State Constitution should be voted down.

The proposition is that certain foreigners shall not be permitted to own real estate in the State. But it is not provided that foreigners under the guise of a home corporation shall not acquire real estate.

It was probably supposed by the author of the proposed amendment that he had covered the ground when he provided that "foreigners of the white race or of African descent, etc., may own property other than real estate."

It is not at all surprising to learn that the Chinese are feeling demoralized and discouraged in their contest with Japan. The Chinese have been so exclusive, so inflated and arrogant a nation, refusing to accept advice or take counsel, that it is natural they should be greatly depressed by having the conceit taken out of them by a much weaker, but less exclusive and more liberal-minded power.

WHEREVER Mr. Johnson, the next Congressman from this district, goes to address the people he is enthusiastically received. Evidences become apparent day by day that our prophecy is to be realized, namely, that he will have the largest vote ever cast for any candidate in the district.

HAVING endured four months of jaw wrangling between bruisers Corbett and Jackson, the people are now in a hardened condition and capable of standing up under three months of jawing between Fitzsimmons and Corbett.

From the San Luis Obispo Tribune we have this half large quarto souvenir, railroad edition, illustrative of the scenery, products and capacity of the whole San Luis Obispo region. It consists of 100 pages, and is very handsomely and very profusely illustrated, giving portraits of leading citizens, noted farms, towns, villages, ocean and coast views, landings and resorts, business houses, shops of artisans, ranch scenes, the old Mission, woodlands, streams, forest views, railway grades, tunnels, depots, etc.

MR. LARUE'S POSITION. He Does Not Stand On the Democratic Platform. The following communication to the RECORD-UNION is self-explanatory: SACRAMENTO, September 28, 1894.

Eds. RECORD-UNION: Referring to an editorial in your issue of the 26th inst., I have to say that in accepting my nomination for Railroad Commissioner in the late Democratic Convention, I was advised not to make any promises as to my future action as Railroad Commissioner if elected. Indeed it would seem to me that as the functions of that office are quasi-judicial, no promises could be made in advance as to any action I would take in any matter which should come before that commission.

In accepting my nomination, and at a public meeting subsequently held in this city, I stated what my course would be, if elected, in performing my duties as such officer, that is to say, that I would in all things carry into effect the provisions of Section 22 of Article XII of our State Constitution, according to the true intent and meaning thereof, and to the best of my ability. This is the only pledge I have made and I do not intend to make any other.

Trusting that you will recognize this as a pretty face with a fresh, bright complexion? For it, use Pozzoni's Powder.

stand any appreciable length of time before field artillery and long cast torpedoes. In many places it is only of mud composition, and in many it is down almost level with the ground through age and neglect. On all the lines of travel toward Pekin, however, it is in good condition, and is so kept for some fifty to a hundred miles each side of the gates. We apprehend that the stronger probability will be realized by a great battle between the contending Orientals long before the little brown men come within sight of the wall.

"GENERAL" FRYE is reported to be working up a scheme to kindle a revolution and overthrow the United States Government. Two Populists to whom he confided his plans have given the snap away. These two men are probably good American citizens, who could not stomach the thought of a revolution with nothing but anarchy in sight. But it will not be forgotten that Populists all along his route of travel and pillage last spring mailed Frye as a hero, and gave him material and moral assistance, just as they did in this State. The party has had only commendatory words for Frye all along, and certain secret leaders are as bad as Frye, since they are working to bring on disorder, out of which they expect personal gain. These fellows are never found posing on the surface, but they are to be located just the same. They are the radical socialists, the shrewd anarchists, the revolutionary "monkeys" who are making "cat's-paws" out of the people who have been drawn into the party in sincere belief that it can accomplish true and needed reforms.

LI HUNG CHANG, the aged Minister of State for China, is reported as desirous of taking the field at the head of all the armies of the Empire. The old man is rapidly proving the estimate of General Grant to have been in error; he is not another Bismarck. He is too old for the field; he is not a warrior in the modern sense, and because he is a statesman, and for Chinese politics a brilliant one, does not prove that he is fitted to command an army. The story is probably true that he wishes to command, but so too is the report probably correct that the Tartar Emperor is pondering upon the proposition to take off Chang's mortal as well as his political head.

SIX months ago we forecast that there would be prior to the November election some revival in trade, and that it would be made campaign powder by the Democracy, under the claim that such recovery is due to the Democratic policy. That has come to pass, and the renewed trade activity at the East is the text for the most vigorous Democratic literature and stump oratory. But, as we said last spring, the change was inevitable, the rebound would not be sharp, but it must come, and now that its premonitory signs are noticed the Democracy is claiming the credit.

The Colusa Sun charges that T. V. Cator advocated the repudiation of all indebtedness; that while he did not in so many words say so, as the Sun puts it, "he did tell how nicely it could be done, and how often it had been done in the past." It should not surprise the Sun, if the Populist orators have omitted anywhere to advocate chimerical and outrageously absurd financial schemes, it has been from no lack of desire, but simple failure of ability or from forgetfulness.
