

WHAT IS ALL THE MYSTERY ABOUT?

Expert Dunn Seems to Have Found Something.

Charges of Tampering with Gas-Jets at the Water Works Will Be Investigated.

The City Board of Trustees held its weekly meeting last night, Trustees Lawson, Wachhorst, Kent, Davis, Bragg, Devine, Leonard, Tozer and Pennish being present.

The following messages were received from the Mayor:

OPENING OF STREETS. To the Board of Trustees: Referring to the power of this city to open certain streets now contained in blocks in the vicinity of I street and S streets, which matter was referred to me by your board some time ago, I will state that I have requested Corporation Counsel Robert T. Devine to examine into the legal status of the matter. He has done so, and has filed in my office his opinion upon the subject. He informs me that he will present a copy of his opinion to your board at your meeting this evening. Respectfully submitted, B. U. STEINMAN, Mayor.

AN ORDINANCE APPROVED. To the Board of Trustees: I herewith transmit to your honorable body with my approval indorsed thereon, Ordinance No. 1, entitled, "An ordinance to amend Section 1 of an ordinance numbered 312, passed April 3, 1885, entitled, 'Providing for the condemnation, construction, alteration and repair of sidewalks, bulkheads and curbing,' and changing in amendment with the said ordinance an act of the board at your meeting this evening. Respectfully submitted, B. U. STEINMAN, Mayor.

GREAT REGISTERS FOR THE CITY. To the Board of Trustees: Your attention is called to Section 268 of the charter, which provides as follows: 'It shall be the duty of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Sacramento, when Great Registers are being printed, to provide for the printing of a sufficient number of such registers, in addition to the number required otherwise by law, to be printed for the general and special municipal elections to be held, or likely to be held, in the city of Sacramento, and it shall be the duty of the County Clerk of said county to furnish such registers in sufficient number when so required by the Board of Trustees of the City of Sacramento, when so required, for the purpose of a general or special municipal election, shall furnish to the Board of Trustees of the City of Sacramento, a sufficient number of such registers, and it shall be the duty of the County Clerk of said county to provide for the printing of a sufficient number of such registers, and to provide for the payment of the same.' There may be a legal question whether the charter can place an additional duty upon the Board of Supervisors not ordered by the County Government Act, but as this is the proper time to give attention to the matter I therefore ask that your board authorize me to act in the matter; that is to say, that you authorize me to arrange and make a contract for the number of registers your board may decide are necessary. Respectfully submitted, B. U. STEINMAN, Mayor.

AN ACT OF CHARITY. To the Board of Trustees: Referring to a communication from your Clerk of September 19, 1894, in reference to collection of water rates from Mrs. M. Henry, I will state that I have looked into the matter, and advise you that she is a worthy person and in poor circumstances, and that it will be an act of charity to let her have her water free. Respectfully submitted, B. U. STEINMAN, Mayor.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE. To the Board of Trustees: At your last meeting I sent in a communication in which I advised you that I had investigated the matter of the delinquency of S. A. Hendren in the payment of his water rates, and that I had requested Superintendent of Streets Murray to give him employment so as to make up the sum in city work. I made this report upon the statement of M. C. Hendren, who had appeared before your board at a meeting previous upon the same matter. Since that time Mrs. Hendren, the wife of S. A. Hendren, has appeared at office and stated that they were not living in Tilden's house and had moved away. Further, that in the payment of the rent to Tilden Mr. Hendren had paid the necessary water rates, and if there was anything due to the city, Tilden owed the same and not Hendren.

Since that time Mrs. Hendren has paid three months in advance for water rates for this particular house, but the old delinquency still remains. Mr. Hendren is working for himself and does not desire any work from the city to pay this bill, as he claims he does not owe it. Either Mr. Tilden was misinformed or both your board and myself misunderstood him. However, I think that under the present ordinance the City Collector would have the right to deduct the water for the past delinquency. If you agree with me, it would be well for you to authorize the Collector to proceed in that way. Respectfully submitted, B. U. STEINMAN, Mayor.

Lawton said that he thought the Mayor must have been out of the city for the last thirty days, as the Great Registers have been ordered to be printed. Hendren matter, Mr. Tilden was evidently working his houses systematically, appearing for one house one week and another the next, till he gets out. Devine moved that the Collector be instructed to collect the delinquent water rate from Mr. Tilden, and it was so ordered.

Tozer stated that the board had taken no official action in the matter of the registers, but the Clerk had, by his indorsement, ordered the printing of the registers. The board ratified his action. Bragg moved that the expert's report be returned to the Mayor in accordance with his request, and it was so ordered. Leonard hoped the motion would not prevail. He thought it should remain on file in the Trustees' office.

The Clerk, on motion of Bragg, read the Mayor's request, and Bragg read his motion the condition that it be returned to the board when the Mayor was through. Lawton said that the motion to return to the Mayor was not correct and should be "placed in the hands of the Mayor." Leonard amended the motion according to Lawton's suggestion and it was passed.

A KICK ON WATER. Mr. Meagher asked for a reduction in the rate for his water, which has been raised under the ordinance. A part of the year his cows, of which he keeps thirty, and sells milk in the city, do not use the city water, as they can drink out of pond holes after the rains come. He had asked a reduction from the Water Committee, and they promised to look it up. Davis said that the board did not come around, as he was told, to do about the matter. He moved that he be charged only twenty cents a cow, but Tozer thought that would be special legislation. He did not know dairies were allowed in the city.

A spectator suggested, sotto voce, that it might be well to look into the matter of the water supplied to dairy cows, if they drink out of pond holes on land where kept. There may be a question of public health in it. It is said that there are not a few dairymen who do not pay sufficient attention to this matter.

Mr. Meagher said that he had an insufficient supply of water for his block at Seventh and G streets, and that he had been laid to Eighteenth street, in order to protect his property. The Fire Committee were requested to look after the matter. Charles Barnes, at 910 J street, asked for a reduction of his water rate, and his request was referred to the Water Committee.

CLOSED STREETS. Corporation Counsel Devine read an opinion on the subject of the powers of parties to close certain streets south of I street and east of Eleventh street, reciting the action of a former board in closing them. The question was whether the Legislature had power to delegate such authority to the Trustees. The decision of the courts is that it has, and in his opinion the Trustees had the right. The board agreed to open them they will have to take action for that object, and they have power to do so.

THAT NEVER AGAIN. E. Orland complained that a Chinaman had opened the sewer-pipe at Front and Y streets again, and is letting the sewage run out. The Superintendent of Streets said he had closed the pipe and did not know it had been opened since then. The Superintendent of Streets was instructed to close the pipes and arrest any one tampering with them hereafter.

CAN MAKE SOME HOWL. The Chinese were granted the privilege of having street parades, etc., between the 17th and 22d of this month. COMMITTEE REPORTS. Leonard, of the Fire Committee, asked that a hydrant be placed near the engine house at Nineteenth street, and that the Superintendent of Fire Alarms be authorized to go to San Francisco to pick out a good second-hand alarm-box and place it at Eleventh and Q streets. A saving to the city would result. Lawton said he should vote against getting a second-hand box. Leonard insisted that the box was a good one and it would not be bought. Both requests were granted.

Devine reported that the plank sidewalk at 371 J street was two inches lower than the cement sidewalk. It was a good walk, and he moved that the owner, Mrs. Koller, be allowed to raise it even with the others. Pennish raised the point of order that it could not be done under the ordinance, and the Chair sustained him. Tozer thought the ordinance should be amended and to allow good sidewalks to be raised.

Leonard recommended that the bridge across the Y street canal at Thirty-first and W streets be not built. It was so ordered. Leonard moved that when the board adjourn it do so to meet again Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. It was so ordered.

A MYSTERY. Kent thought the bill of Expert Dunn would not cost the city anything when he is through his work. There are a number of jobs that were supposed to be sold which have never been sold. His discoveries will result in the collection by the city of $2,000 or more. He moved it be paid.

Leonard said that if members of the board had gone out to see what Mr. Dunn is doing they would ask no questions. There were no questions being made that had better not be made public just now. Pennish said that he did not think it would pay for Mr. Dunn's employment. He wanted to see the report. Leonard said that it is better that some things that have been found be not published just at present, as it would defeat the object aimed at.

Lawton suggested that the bill might be laid over for a week, rather than reject the bill. Leonard said that there has been much complaint at the water works that the gaslights would not burn properly. One light absolutely refused to burn, and when the burner was taken out and examined, it was found that paper had been stuffed in so tightly that no gas could get through. The screws for regulating the flow of gas in the burners have been found screwed up so tight that they could not be moved with a monkey wrench. He moved that the city employ a man who will tamper with things thus, it would be well for the board to replace them with others.

Having thought of these things occurred on one watch it would be well to replace all on that watch with other men. Kent moved that the contractor on Third street be empowered to do the work on the street to Third and I streets at the same price. So ordered.

STREET MATTERS. A motion to abandon the contracts advertised for the improvement of G street, from Twenty-first to Thirty-first street, from Eighth to Seventeenth, Eighteenth, from E to Q, Ninth, from D to I, O and P, from Fourth to Fifth, was introduced and laid over for one week. While the father was lopping off the branches the child was playing about, and had unnoticed, got beneath the trunk just as the saw cut off one of the branches that held it above the ground.

The tree rolled over, and before Hildebrand, who lives on Eighth street, between P and Q, had cut down a tree, the trunk of which was held several feet from the ground by a couple of large limbs. While the father was lopping off the branches the child was playing about, and had unnoticed, got beneath the trunk just as the saw cut off one of the branches that held it above the ground.

HAYDEN'S "PRIOR." The Burglarious Ex-Convict Likely to Go Back to Folsom. George Hayden was held to answer in the Police Court yesterday for having burglarized the residence of H. W. Decker on the 7th inst.

Documentary evidence was introduced showing that Hayden was sentenced to the State Prison at Folsom under the name of H. Lounds, from Sutter County, January 22, 1882, for two years and six months for burglary, and that he had served the sentence. The prior conviction was recorded against him, and his bail was fixed at $1,000.

HIS LAST SPREE. Ed Blum, the Duck-Hunter, Drowned Near Courtland. The body of Ed Blum, a hunter, who lived on Sutter Street, was found in the river yesterday afternoon about half a mile above Courtland.

Blum was seen in Courtland on Friday night, and, after having purchased some groceries and other things, got into a duck-boat and started for home. He was under the influence of liquor, and it is supposed he was not able to paddle the boat.

The body was taken charge of by Coroner Clark of this county, and Justice Newton of Washington will hold the inquest this morning.

All Hands Fined. Devine thought it should be granted, but Leonard asked for information, as he would not vote for it if there were any reasons against it. Lawton said the inhabitants there to whom he had spoken he did not seem to object. Pennish said that when the place was a saloon before a rather tough gang hung out there, and he did not think it would be a good thing to grant the license.

Devine said the saloon would be run on a high-moral plane, as Gullion is a nice man. Kent moved to put it off for a week, but Pennish said he had heard Kent and Wachhorst colloquing to put it off, because they needed Davis' vote to carry the license.

Kent said that he always liked to win when he went in for things. He thought Gullion must have voted against Pennish. The license was granted, Bragg, Tozer and Pennish voting no.

The application of W. H. Verhelm for a license to keep a saloon at 315 K—the "Gold Dust"—was referred to the Chief of Police.

Devine reported in relation to the killing of the cow on the street, that he had interviewed the Superintendent and that he had been promised that the matter would be attended to.

Leonard said that he had an entirely too fast, and the board should investigate it. Kent moved that the policemen be instructed to arrest any motorman found tampering with the law, and it was so ordered.

A resolution of intention to improve the alley between Fourth and Fifth, O and P streets, was read, and Devine and Leonard opposed it. Tozer said it was almost impassable in the winter. The resolution was passed. The resolution for constructing a sewer in the alley between P and Q, Tenth and Eleventh streets, was laid over for a week, and that for improving the alley between N and O, Sixth and Seventh, was passed.

It was decided to cover the boiler-room at the Water Works with galvanized corrugated iron. In relation to the approach to the Y street levee, at Eleventh street, Kent moved that only the north side be done, and that the board let the county do the other side, so as to save money for the levees this winter. It was so ordered, and bids ordered advertised for.

The Water Committee was directed to investigate the complaints with regard to the gas at the Water Works. The matter of repairing a bridge across the canal at Cavanaugh's place was referred to the Street Committee.

Kent brought up the matter of King's contract on T street again, and moved that he be notified that if he did not get through within the specified time his bonds will be forfeited.

Leonard stated that he had visited the work and it should be finished. He was told that King has stated that he would get an extension of time and was not trying to get it done.

The motion was carried. Pennish stated he had called on Superintendent Wright in relation to the outside levee and was told that he would have the company's engineer make some estimate on the matter.

The board then adjourned. CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR. County Convention of the Young People's Society.

AN AWFUL ACCIDENT. A Little Child Killed by a Falling Tree. One of the most heartrending accidents that has occurred in this city in years was that by which little two-year-old Freddie Hildebrand lost his life yesterday.

The child's father, William Hildebrand, who lives on Eighth street, between P and Q, had cut down a tree, the trunk of which was held several feet from the ground by a couple of large limbs. While the father was lopping off the branches the child was playing about, and had unnoticed, got beneath the trunk just as the saw cut off one of the branches that held it above the ground.

DETECTIVES STILL IN THE DARK.

No Clue to the Yolo Train Robbers as Yet.

The Woodland Suspects Were Two Ranch Hands Who Had Been on a Spree.

The perpetrators of the train robbery last Thursday night did a very neat job—so neat that the detectives have not been able as yet to find the slightest clue to their movements after leaving the locomotive car, while they rode from the scene of the robbery. It is now believed the same men intended to hold up the overland express at the same place on the night preceding the robbery. A torpedo had been placed on the track, but as the engineer saw no flagman he pushed right along. The next night the robbers made a more complete job of it.

Detective Hume has been to Woodland, and in connection therewith is a rumor that Melvin Hatch—now in jail there for trial for the Yolo train-reeking—had said that he knew the robbery was to be committed. If he did say so, it was doubtless for the purpose of making work for the detectives.

As many persons supposed, the two men who caused so much excitement about Woodland on Sunday were not the train robbers. It turns out, according to a telegraphic message from the Mail to the Recorder, that the men who held up the men had been on a Saturday night spree in the tough portion of Woodland, winding up with a fight, in which one of them had been killed.

When he remarked to his companion, in the Byrnes Hotel barroom, that they had better light out or they might get arrested, he was afraid they might be picked up for disturbing the peace. They were ranch-hands from Madison, and drove home as rapidly as possible for fear the officers would take them into camp.

Woodland seems to be furnishing about all the excitement that develops in connection with the train-robbery. A dispatch from Sacramento states that before the robbery, two men known to be ex-convicts came to that place in a buggy, well armed, and the day before the robbery they were arrested. They were going into the mines to hunt. Their description corresponds to the two men who held up the train.

TOO MUCH MARRIED. Restaurant-keeper Nichols Relates His Tale of Woe. George Nichols, a restaurant keeper, was found guilty in the Police Court yesterday of omitting to care and provide for his three minor children.

Mrs. Nichols testified that at times the children have been supported partly by herself and husband. She said she is not able to provide the children with the necessities of life, and her husband had refused to do so. Charles De Yore testified that Nichols told him that he was not inclined to provide for them.

Jerry Mahoney testified that Nichols told him that he would not support the children under any circumstances, claiming that they were not his. Nichols testified that he is unable to support his children other than to feed them in his restaurant. He denied having refused to support them, but said that he is unable to do any more for them than what he has done, and this he is willing to do. He said his wife wanted him to do only support the children, but also to provide for his mother-in-law, his father-in-law and the children's grandparents. This, he says, he is unable to do.

Justice Devine said he did not think Nichols should, as much affection for his children as he showed, be allowed to be delinquent one week, in which time the court said he would expect Nichols to make arrangements for the support of his children.
