ISSUED BY THE SACRAMENTO PUBLISHING COMPANY

Office, Third Street, between J and K.

Weather Forecast. For Northern California—Generally fair today; warmer in the interior; fresh to brisk southwest winds.

VOTING ON CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS.

Wednesday last we pointed out the necessity for every voter preparing a memorandum to be carried into the voting booth on election day, in order that no mistake be made in voting upon the proposed constitutional amendments.

At that time we presented one form of memorandum to meet the need. But that will not be enough unless the voter properly relates the advertised number of the proposed amendment to the Assembly or Senate number.

Thus, in the Governor's proclamation the amendments are numbered from one to nine, inclusive, as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, but they will not be voted upon by those numbers, but by the Senate and Assembly numbers, as will be seen by the form given at the conclusion of the Governor's proclamation.

So, then, what is advertised as "Amendment Number One," will, on the official ballot, be referred to as "Assembly Constitutional Amendment Number Eight," and what in the advertisement is numbered in large type as "Amendment Two" will appear upon the official ballot as "Senate Constitutional Amendment Number Fourteen."

Prior to election day, therefore, the voter should cut from the official advertisement in the RECORD-UNION the table of numbers with which the proclamation closes; ascertaining how he wishes to vote on the propositions, he should then so mark his memorandum as to enable him to identify the numbers when in the voting booth.

We now present a form of such memorandum, with an X marked as the advice of the RECORD-UNION is to the voters. Such a guide can be prepared in a few moments by any voter capable of voting intelligently. Without something of this kind, there is liability to err.

Advertised Form and Number on Official Ballot.

The socialists of Europe have just met in annual convention at Frankfurt-on-the-Main. As usual they have exchanged condolences that the world has shown no disposition to accept their fanciful ideas of social reorganization.

Mr. Mills is not only a railroad official of high standing (being one of the Vice-Presidents of the Southern Pacific Company), but he is a man and a gentleman, first of all and most of all, and a journalist of conspicuous ability and untarnished record. His to-day proponent of his name as a newspaper man of long years service to what he conscientiously believes to be the best interests of the State than he is of any other achievement of his life.

NICE country that is Russia—delightful spot for a comfortable residence by a liberty-loving man. Because the Czar is ill, sick unto death, the police forbid the newspapers to publish the facts regarding his condition. They are required to issue special editions for special circulation in certain quarters only, and these editions must pass the ordeal of censorship. The result is that there are whole populations in vast extent in parts of Russia that are as yet in ignorance of the fact that the head of the Government is sick and near to death.

If Sacramento permits the present opportunities to have a chosen son in Congress to slip through her fingers she may expect many years to lapse before another efforts. Local pride alone should suffice to carry all Sacramento votes to Grove L. Johnson.

CONVENTIONS OF FRUIT-GROWERS.

Efforts to Have Two Bodies Meet in This City.

The National Pomological Society Will be Asked to Hold its Session Here.

A few prominent citizens met at Mayor Steinman's office yesterday afternoon to discuss matters pertaining to the meeting of the Fruit-growers' Association, which is to be held in this city on the 29th of next month, and also the meeting of the National Pomological Society, which, it is understood, will meet in San Francisco next January.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Steinman, who stated that the purposes of the meeting were to make arrangements for the entertainment of the fruit-growers while here and to extend to them the hospitality of the city, also to outline a plan to have the Pomological Society meet in this city, instead of in San Francisco.

It was stated that the society had decided to meet in this city, but somebody had informed that organization that accommodations for the delegates could not be secured here, and the society rescinded its action and decided upon San Francisco. It is not known by whom this was done, and it was one of the objects of yesterday's meeting to take action to refute the falsehood.

Trustee W. B. Lawton and George B. Katzenstein were appointed a committee upon the Secretary of State in order to secure the Assembly Chamber as a meeting place for the Fruit-growers' Association. During the latter's stay they will be in the principal points of interest in and around Sacramento, and on the last day of the session a reception will be held in the Art Gallery, where an orchestra will render delightful music and refreshments be served.

George B. Katzenstein was appointed a committee to go to San Francisco and attempt to have the Credentials Committee of the Pomological Society decide upon having the meeting of that body held in this city.

An adjournment was then taken until November 13th, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when the committee will report, and other action taken.

GARTNER GOES FREE.

But the Court Warns Him to Care for His Horse Better.

In the Police Court yesterday Joseph Gartner, a brewer, was charged with cruelty to animals. Dan Miller, an officer of the Humane Society, testified that Gartner's horse was tied up to a fence in the rain without a blanket nearly all day and checked up very high. A lady testified to the same circumstances, and said that the horse was often left tied up nearly all night.

Gartner claimed that his horse was well blanketed, and that he did not stand where it was stated during the afternoon. His horse was not checked up very high. Miller testified to the same effect, and said he knew the horse was in the stable in the afternoon. Two other brewery employes testified to the same effect.

THE ASSAULT ON WM. H. MILLS.

His Friends Resent the Aspersions of the "Examiner."

The San Francisco Examiner, which only a short time ago had to make a public apology for publishing the charge that among the assets of the Standard estate was a note of Morris M. Estee for $5,000, has evidently learned no wisdom from its humiliation, for it has once more entered the domain of unjust aspersions by charging that the recent publication in the Post concerning James Budd was brought about by W. H. Mills.

We have no hesitation in pronouncing the charge unjust. Mr. Mills has been for a long time prominent man in the State and his character is known to all. He is not the sort of man who resorts to that style of defeating a political opponent. The charges against Mr. Budd may be true or false, we have no means of knowing which, but we are sure that whether true or false, they were not published through the suggestion of W. H. Mills. Concerning the publication itself, we have no judgment to pronounce. That rests with the editor of the Post, who alone is responsible for it, and who does not have reasons which he deems sufficient to justify the publication. We are concerned only with the wrong done to one of the foremost gentlemen that ever lived. Mr. Mills never in his life allowed the heat of battle to hurry him into a mode of warfare that strikes at the friends and the honor of an opponent and fails with a blighting blow on the affection of the wife for the husband and the honest pride of children in their father.

We have no desire to give a wider circulation to this wretched story of sin and shame. Whether true or false, we ignore it. We propose to contest the evidence of Mr. Budd, on other grounds, those which assail his private life and affect the happiness of his home. We have alluded to it only to resent the imputation cast upon him upon all Californians honor. Mr. Mills's character is worth something to him. Mr. Mills has a hard fighter all his life, and is a hard fighter yet, but he is above the kind of fighting attributed to him by the aspersions of the Examiner, and his friends will not be slow in resenting them.

Mr. Budd at length, disclaiming all responsibility for the offensive publication, from which dispatch we make the following extracts: "Yesterday he wired Mr. Budd at length, disclaiming all responsibility for the offensive publication, from which dispatch we make the following extracts: "I am a Republican and shall vote for Mr. Estee, believing that man determine great politics in government by their hands. I will not permit to be used as a tool for the purpose of attacking a man, and my record as a journalist in the district which you represented in Congress, and which record is well known to you, will vindicate the statement that I am in no way responsible for the publication in the Post, nor do I approve of such publication. I am not connected with the editorial conduct of the Post and never have been."

"I have no fear of personal injury through false or malicious statements of any parties, but I will permit to be used as a tool for the purpose of attacking a man, and my record as a journalist in the district which you represented in Congress, and which record is well known to you, will vindicate the statement that I am in no way responsible for the publication in the Post, nor do I approve of such publication. I am not connected with the editorial conduct of the Post and never have been."

JOHNSON IN SUTTER.

The Coming Congressman Had a Big Meeting in Sutter County.

On Monday night Hon. Grove L. Johnson spoke at Nicolaus, Sutter County, to the largest gathering of voters seen there since 1880, upward of six hundred persons being present. H. O. Purinton acted as chairman. The Marysville Brass Band was in attendance, and some people traveled twenty-five miles to attend the meeting. If the weather had been propitious there would have been even a larger attendance. As it was, the hall was packed to suffocation. The farmers present were very enthusiastic, and promised good results. Bonfires blazed in the streets, and anvils thundered a welcome to the next Congressman.

Orders have been issued from headquarters of the Fourth Brigade, N. G. C., calling for an election to be held next Tuesday evening of a First Lieutenant of Company A of this city. The election will be held to select a successor to Lieutenant W. G. Schneider, who resigned.
