

CLOSE RACE FOR GOVERNOR.

The Republican State Committee Claims the Election of Estee.

THE RETURNS GREATLY REDUCE BUDD'S PLURALITY.

Geary Making Large Gains on Barham for Congress in the First District—A Mine Superintendent Falls Six Hundred Feet Down a Shaft in Nevada County, and is Instantly Killed.

Special to the Record-Union.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—At midnight the Associated Press had received complete returns from 1,907 precincts out of a total of 2,574 precincts in California. Budd's vote is 103,041, Estee 102,826, Webb 46,226. Budd's plurality, 778. In addition to these figures, the Examiner claims to have returned from all except one precinct in San Francisco, which increase Budd's plurality in San Francisco from 11,221 to 11,763, which would increase Budd's total plurality in the State to 1,355.

At the State headquarters of each party a gubernatorial victory is claimed. For the first time since the election the rooms of the Republican State Central Committee were filled to-night with an enthusiastic crowd. Chairman P. B. Cornwall claims that Estee has been defeated of thousands of votes in San Francisco by Democratic judges and inspectors, whom he believes counted for Budd votes cast in 1893.

If the final returns do not show a plurality for Estee, the Republicans will demand a recount before the next Legislature, where gubernatorial contest election cases must be heard. This, it is claimed, will show gains for Estee in San Francisco as will overcome a Democratic plurality of 1,000, should Budd secure such.

Secretary John Markley of the Democratic State Central Committee claims a plurality for Budd to-night of 42,000 based upon private returns from all counties. The count in this city has been finished. Following are the figures for Mayor: Adolph Sutro (Pop.), 2,977; C. O'Donnell (L. & C. L.), 1,258; L. E. Elbert (N. P., R.), 11,275; Jefferson G. James (D.), 4,678; N. E. Kelsey (S. L.), 238; C. B. Williams (W. C.), 256.

William Broderick (N. P.), has been elected Auditor; John D. Siebe (N. P.), Assessor; Richard I. Whelan (D.), Sheriff; James H. Wilder (U. S. R.), Recorder; Treasurer; Thomas J. Glynn (D.), Recorder; William S. Barnes (R.), District Attorney; Charles F. Curry (R.), County Clerk; Andrew Anderson (U. S. R.), A. C. L., Superintendent of Public Schools.

Among the Superior Judges elected is James V. Coffey. Judge Walter Levy is defeated for re-election by a very small vote. Charles T. Conlan, formerly of Sacramento, is among the Police Judges elected.

Two hundred and eighty-eight precincts, in a total of 433 in the First Congressional District, give Barham 10,401, Estee 10,153, and Webb 4,258. Complete returns from 364 precincts, in a total of 457 precincts in the Second Congressional District, give Johnson 16,137, Estee 12,349, and Webb 5,348.

Two hundred and seventy-one precincts, in a total of 232 in the Sixth Congressional District, give McLachlan 18,350, Estee 12,349, and Webb 5,348. Complete returns from 185 precincts out of 200 in the Fifth Congressional District give Loh 11,555, Kelly 7,761, Rogers 6,881, Bennett 3,576, and Webb 2,576.

Three hundred and ninety-nine precincts, in a total of 477 in the Seventeenth Congressional District, give Bowers 16,000, Alford 12,349, and Webb 5,348. Four hundred and seventy precincts, in a total of 871 in the First Railroad District, give Beckman 20,522, LaRue 19,435, and Webb 5,348.

Nine hundred and ninety precincts, in a total of 1,055 in the Third Railroad District, give Clarke 41,553, Phillips 31,576, and Webb 5,348.

AMADOR COUNTY RETURNS. JACKSON, Nov. 9.—Complete returns give Estee 1,129, Budd 1,128, Caminito 1,130, Johnson 803. There are no returns for other State district offices.

The Democrats elected R. C. Rust Superior Judge, U. S. Gregory Sheriff, J. A. Brown Assessor, C. L. Gilbert Clerk, D. Patterson Recorder, W. Brown Surveyor and two supervisors.

The Republicans elect Voorhees Senator, Tibbitts Assemblyman, E. A. Freeman District Attorney, M. B. Church Coroner, George F. Mack School Superintendent, S. G. Spagnoli Treasurer.

SIERRA COUNTY. REDDING, Nov. 9.—It is safe to state that there will be 180 majority for Estee over Budd here.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY. SAN DIEGO, Nov. 9.—Seventy-nine precincts out of eighty-five in San Diego County give Estee 2,722, Budd 1,784, Webster 1,722, French 307. The total poll of the other precincts is about 600. Estee's plurality will be about 975.

SAN FRANCISCO COUNTY. DOWNTOWN, Nov. 9.—Sierra County gives Estee about 300 more majority. The Democrats captured most of the county offices.

HIS BODY HORRIBLY MANGLED.

A Mine Superintendent Killed by Falling Down a Shaft.

NEVADA, Nov. 9.—Ernest Hahn, Superintendent of the Eagle Bird Mine at Mayburt, fell 600 feet in the shaft last evening and was instantly killed. The body was horribly mangled.

MINER KILLED.

TOWLES, Nov. 9.—Benjamin Barber was instantly killed in a mine in Green Valley, while working with his brother Charles, who escaped with slight injuries. Deceased was a resident of Alta, Placer County, aged 22.

California Veterinary College.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The California Veterinary College has just been incorporated and is the only one of the kind on the Pacific Coast. The necessary funds for its establishment have been secured by private subscription. The college will be affiliated with the State University. There will be eight professorial chairs in the college, which will be opened on the first Monday in January, with at least fifty matriculants.

Receiver for a Dry Goods Firm.

TACOMA, Nov. 9.—Otis Sprague has been appointed receiver of the Garretson, Woodruff, Pratt Company, a wholesale dry goods firm, the largest of the

TAH LIEN WAN TAKEN.

Japanese Capture an Important Fort Near Port Arthur.

THE CHINESE ARMY RETREATS TO THE MOUNTAINS.

The Chinese Government Requests the United States to Intervene to Put a Stop to the War—A Spanish Steamship Founders and Ten of Her Passengers and Crew Drowned—Ten Men Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured by the Collapse of the Top Floor of a Large Building at Montreal.

A Negro Burglar Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Two charges of burglary have been made against Samuel Thomas, a negro who was arrested a few days ago on suspicion of being the burglar who had terrorized the residents of Nob Hill, in this city. The police are positive that Thomas is the man who committed the murderous assault on Mrs. Wolfe and his wife in Alameda, when they were nearly as alone as a hen in a coop. Property stolen from houses in Alameda has been found in Thomas' possession.

A Painter's Terrible Death.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Gus Wales, a painter, working on a building at Bush and Polk streets, grasped an electric light wire that was in his way and attempted to pull it aside. He had a live wire, and was shocked, three stories below. He died soon after in the receiving hospital. Both legs were broken, and his skull was fractured.

The Baby Farmer Found Galtly.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—W. J. Cornell, the baby farmer of El Cerrito, charged with the fraudulent use of the United States mails, was found guilty by a jury in the United States District Court, this afternoon. Cornell had been using the mails to bring small persons whose children he proposed to exclude from society.

Mexican Flair-ship.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The Mexican corvette Zaragoza, training ship and flagship of the Mexican squadron on the Pacific, steamed into port this afternoon, saluting as she passed the forts. She is commanded by Carey Houston, an Englishman, who is a resident here to retire.

Lost His Left Foot.

LODI, Nov. 9.—Vesley Mealand was taken to the County Hospital to-night minus his left foot. It is said he was lost by falling under the wheels of a train, the result of being shoved off by a brakeman while the train was in motion. He was stealing a ride to Sacramento.

The Monterey Ordered to Puget Sound.

PORTLAND (Or.), Nov. 9.—The United States steamship Monterey to-day received orders to proceed to Puget Sound next Tuesday.

THE LATE CZAR OF RUSSIA.

Impressive Memorial Services Held at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Profoundly impressive ceremonies were had at the Russian Legation here to-day in memory of Czar Alexander III. President Cleveland and the entire Cabinet, except Postmaster General Russell, attended, accompanied by the elaborate vestments of the Cabinet and the Russian Legation. Foreign Ministers, with their extensive suites, wearing their rich official and court dress, gave brilliant color to the solemn occasion. Services began at 9 o'clock with the playing of the Russian national anthem, in the presence of the President, members of the Cabinet and Diplomatic Corps. Each minister, in turn, held a wax candle throughout the ceremonies.

Prince Cantacuzene met President and Mrs. Cleveland at the doorway and escorted them to the altar. The President's wife carried a candle, as did Secretary Gresham and all others. Next to the altar, standing in the center, were the Russian Minister Kurin and his wife and Princess Cantacuzene. Then came Secretary Gresham, Carlisle, Lamont, Herbert, Morton, Smith and Attorney-General Russell, each bearing a candle. Behind them stood Minister Kurin's wife and suite in the black and gold uniforms of Japan. The Russian officials were their quiet, but their dress was strikingly elegant. These and the other Ministers and officers gave a presentation to every foreign court having a representation in Washington.

Chanting began, and the candles were lighted, lending a weird and picturesque aspect to the scene. The Bishop was the first to read the eulogy of his office, his hair being set with jewels, rubies and emeralds woven into mosaic embroideries, and his red velvet surplice being embroidered with gold and small jewels. The Greek monk was robed in a lengthy flowing black gown, falling from the top of his head, and from which appeared the long and shaggy bearded face of a typical Cossack of romance. The Bishop and his attendants chanted the service alternately, the acolytes swinging the censur until the air was misty with incense. The services lasted half an hour, the candles being extinguished as the chants closed, after which Prince Cantacuzene escorted President and Mrs. Cleveland to the door, and the other guests withdrew.

THE ELECTION IN NEBRASKA.

Bryan Sums Up the Causes of Defeat of the Fusion Forces.

OMAHA, Nov. 9.—Congressman Bryan issued a manifesto to Nebraska Democrats to-night, in which he sums up the causes which led to the defeat of the fusion forces, and announces his retirement from the political arena. He says: "I shall continue as a lawyer and as an editor to advocate the fusion of Populists and Democrats. It is the only hope for the people of Nebraska. The fusion Democrats had acquiesced in the action of a majority of the party we could have elected all the State officers. If the Populists had shown more liberality in their treatment of friendly Democrats, we might have secured a Legislature in harmony with the governor, and could then have secured a senatorial majority to tariff reform, to the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1, to an income tax, and to the election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people."

THE TOP FLOOR COLLAPSED.

Two Men Killed, One Fatally Injured and a Dozen Maimed at Montreal.

MONTREAL, Nov. 9.—At 3:30 the top floor of the new and magnificent offices of the City Passenger Railroad, on the corner of Place Arns Hill and Craig street, caved in, killing two men instantly, injuring one fatally and maiming a dozen others. The accident was caused by frost, which made the heavy iron girders leave their sockets, and which, crashing down, carried with them everything below. There were at the time about fifty workmen in the building, and many were miraculously saved from death. Dead: Joseph Marquis, Robert Pauso, both French Canadians. Pierre Monette, whose injuries will prove fatal, had his skull crushed and bones fractured in many places. While the men were working on the different floors of the building they suddenly came a deafening crash, when down came iron beams, planking, brick and mortar and laths in a heap. An alarm was sounded, and the fire and pa-

IMPORTS OF WOOLS AND WOOLENS.

Point Overlooked Which May Change Its Complexion.

THE ADMISSION OF NEW STATES CUTS QUITE A FIGURE.

The Battle-ground for Supremacy Between the Two Parties in the Upper Branch of Congress Likely to be in Utah, New Mexico and Arizona.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

UNITED STATES SENATE.

Point Overlooked Which May Change Its Complexion.

THE ADMISSION OF NEW STATES CUTS QUITE A FIGURE.

The Battle-ground for Supremacy Between the Two Parties in the Upper Branch of Congress Likely to be in Utah, New Mexico and Arizona.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

IMPORTS OF WOOLS AND WOOLENS.

Point Overlooked Which May Change Its Complexion.

THE ADMISSION OF NEW STATES CUTS QUITE A FIGURE.

The Battle-ground for Supremacy Between the Two Parties in the Upper Branch of Congress Likely to be in Utah, New Mexico and Arizona.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—A point that has been overlooked in computing the political complexion of the next Senate is the admission of Utah with two Senators. The Act of the last session of Congress, admitting Utah, provides that in March, 1895, the Constitutional Convention shall be held. On the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November of that year the Constitution is to be submitted to the people, and if ratified and found by the President in accordance with the Act he will issue a proclamation admitting it as a State.

Special to the Record-Union.