The Wheat Market in Better Shape for Sellers Than a Week Ago.

No Radical Change in Barley Prices—Trade is Slow and the Market Lacks Vim.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 4th. The wheat market is in better shape for sellers than it was a week ago, quotations being about $1 20 higher. Encouraging advices from Liverpool this week have stimulated the local situation, causing more activity and stronger prices. It is believed that a more general demand for wheat will soon set in and business of stirring character is expected to develop in the near future. For shipping purposes, 93 1/2 c is obtained for a standard article, while choice stock will bring 95 c. Millers will pay full figures for wheat suitable for their trade, the quotable range being 90 1/2 to 91 1/2 c. Considerable wheat is still coming down the Walla Walla direction.

There is no radical change in barley prices. Trade is slow and the market lacks vim. Once or twice it looked as if matters were likely to improve, but those who inclined to the belief of better business were disappointed. There is no scarcity of offerings, while stocks are constantly being added to by receipts from the north. This morning about 20,000 cbs arrived from Oregon. Moderate inquiry for oats, and all classes of stock come in for fair share of attention. But supplies still come along with freedom, and competition is not general enough to prevent accumulation of stocks. As a consequence, prices have easy tone and the advantage of the market is on the side of buyers.
