Everything Given Up for the Inauguration Ceremonies.

Little Business Transacted in Senate or Assembly—How the Lieutenant-Governor Will Qualify Not Yet Decided—Adjourned Until Monday at 2 P. M.

There was very little business transacted in either Senate or Assembly yesterday, and both houses adjourned to meet on Monday at 2 p. m.

At 11:30 o'clock the Senate assembled, with Lieutenant-Governor Reddick in the chair. The roll-call showed a quorum present.

A message was received from the Assembly to the effect that the House was ready to receive the Senate in joint session to effect the inauguration of the Governor.

The Senate proceeded to the Assembly Chamber to assist in the inaugural ceremonies.

The Senate reassembled at 1:40 o'clock p. m., with a quorum present.

A resolution was adopted providing that 1,000 copies of Governor Markham's message be printed for use in the Senate.

A resolution was adopted authorizing the printing of 1,000 copies of Governor Budd's inaugural address for the use of the Senate.

Senator Langford moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was adopted. The motion prevailed, and the resolution was amended, on motion of Senator Langford, increasing the number from 1,000 to 1,500 copies.

A resolution was adopted providing that the Controller be authorized to draw his warrant for the sum of $150 to pay for forty-five pocket editions of Hemming's Constitution and Codes, for use of Senators and the Secretary of the Senate.

Senator Gesford, Chairman of the committee appointed to arrange for the inauguration of Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, stated that the committee had decided to effect the inauguration of Lieutenant-Governor-elect Millard. It was intimated by the Senator that a telegram had been received stating that the oath of office had been administered to Lieutenant-Governor-elect Millard at Los Angeles.

The resolution would be referred to a committee to be given until Monday next to report, and it was so ordered by the President.

At 2 o'clock p. m. the Senate adjourned to meet on Monday next at 2 o'clock p. m.

At 11:25 a. m. Speaker Lynch called the Assembly to order. Long before that time the gallery was crowded with people who wished to witness the inauguration, and most of the seats upon the floor were also occupied by the relatives and friends of members.

The Speaker and Clerks' desks had been handsomely decorated with palms, ferns and potted plants.

The roll was called and a quorum found present.

Prayer by the Chaplain. On motion of Pendleton, the reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

On motion of Pendleton, the Assembly took a recess till 12 m., the time being in joint convention with the Senate for the inaugural ceremonies, an account of which appears elsewhere in this paper.

After the joint convention adjourned, the Speaker called the Assembly to order. Bettman moved that the Assembly adjourn till Monday at 2 p. m., and the motion was carried unanimously.

Legislative Notes. It was intimated yesterday morning that a number of the members of the Legislature who attended the joint caucus of Thursday evening, did not consider themselves bound to support Proctor for Senator. It is reported that a list of those who could not be elected, it is said that they do not consider the pledge binding, if an effort to elect his election fails. The fact is that the de Young men are just as confident as ever that they will win their fight and see their man elected in the end.

Immediately after the inauguration yesterday Governor Budd repaired to his private office where an informal reception was held. Hundreds of people thronged the room eager to shake hands with the Chief Magistrate, and everything passed off pleasantly.

Immediately after the oath of office had been administered to Governor-elect, the cannon boomed out the Governor's salute, and the inaugural address was not commenced until that proceeding was completed.

The members of the Troquois Club of San Francisco occupied the southern gallery of the Assembly, during the inauguration ceremonies yesterday. The Grand Chief presiding. After the oath had been administered he demanded three cheers for "Our Jim," and the members responded with vim. At the close of the inaugural address he called for three more cheers for the man who "stopped the tidal wave," which were accordingly given.

Though the Assembly chamber was packed nearly to suffocation during the inaugural ceremonies yesterday, there were thousands who could find no place in the corridors and rotunda, unable to obtain even standing room. Many waits were heard behind the scenes, where they were not held in the open air as they were four years ago.

A boat has been forwarded to the scene of the accident, and men are engaged in searching for the body.

STAFFORD ACQUITTED. His Shooting of Yates Held to Have Been Justifiable. In the Police Court yesterday City Attorney Brown addressed the court and stated that it was his opinion, after careful examination, that the testimony in the Stafford shooting case would hardly warrant a conviction before a jury, and he would recommend that the case against the defendant be dismissed.

The case against the defendant, Stafford, discharged, Judge Devine, who conducted the defense, thanked the court and the City Attorney on the behalf of his client.

A Great Social Lesson. There is no stronger character drawing in American fiction than has been shown in Edgar L. Wakeman's "Tales of Ten Travellers." The almost relentless realism and fidelity of his portraiture of an ignorant, heartless, ambitious and home-destroying woman in "Once Upon a Time," printed elsewhere in this issue, is in itself a great social lesson, and it certainly foreshadows the powerful work to be found when Wakeman's extended novel, "The Social Lesson," already completed, shall have been given to the public.

The Wheat Market Quiet, While Prices Keep Moderately Steady.

Barley Drags Badly, the Demand Being Light—But Little Inquiry for Oats. SAN FRANCISCO, January 11th.

So far this month only two vessels have cleared with wheat cargoes. At the moment the market is quiet, while prices keep moderately steady. For standard shipping wheat 87 1/2c per cwt is about the top rate, though 85c could likely be obtained for a choice offering.

Barley drags badly. The demand for local supply is light and slow, while no shipping inquiry prevails. Under such circumstances it is to be expected that prices should rather decline.

The inquiry for oats is neither general nor pressing, while stocks are of rather liberal proportions. Prices were lowered during the week, but that action did not bring out any extra demand.

Strictly choice butter is scarce and quotations for such stock continue firm, while of poor quality there is an abundance. Eggs are likely to be cheaper in a day or two, as the roads are beginning to run.

Poultry and game are both in liberal receipt, with prices favorable to consumers. Cranberries are a little dearer. Oranges are coming in freely, while of Apples the supply is in excess of market needs. Strawberries were poor and unsalable.

Asparagus is making better exhibit, being a shade lower in price. Los Angeles tomatoes are in good receipt for the time of year. Volunter new crop Potatoes also make good showing. Beans are in light offering and slow sale.
