

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.

Proposition for Another Constitutional Convention.

The General Appropriation Bill Passed by the Senate and Returned to the Assembly—Report of the Assembly Committee on Hospitals—The Teachers' Annuity Bill Creates a Good Deal of Discussion in the Assembly.

The special urgency file was considered by the Senate at the morning session and several bills carrying heavy appropriations for deficiencies were passed.

At the afternoon session the general appropriation bill was passed and at once transmitted to the Assembly.

Each Senator was given the privilege of having any three bills read and advanced on the file, and most of them took advantage of the opportunity.

At 4 p. m. an adjournment was taken until 10 o'clock this morning.

Most of Saturday's session in the Assembly was uneventful, the second reading of bills being the main work.

The Committee on Hospitals and Asylums presented a long report on the various State asylums visited by them, which was commendatory of all the institutions except the Home for the Adult Blind.

Bills, for the Joint Committee on Constitutional Amendments and Judiciary, offered a concurrent resolution to submit to the people a proposition for a Constitutional Convention, which was made a special order for to-day.

The afternoon was passed in second reading of bills, the only session being the debate on the teachers' annuity bill, which was quite lively for a time, and the House finally adjourned till to-day.

Brusis, for the Committee on Ways and Means, reported favorably on A. B. 257, to pay, to pay deficiency for repairs of the Capitol; favorably on A. Powers then moved to amend by making the age of consent 18 years, but that was also declared out of order.

The bill was put on its passage and passed—ayes 47, noes 1—and transmitted to the Governor.

CLEARING THE FLOOR. Langouron called up his resolution excluding all persons from the floor except those entitled to be admitted there, wives and children of members, and members of the press.

Dixon moved to lay the matter on the table.

Langouron offered a resolution to admit the members of the third house, and designated the resolution as a "unanimous resolution," but withdrew his resolution.

The resolution of Langouron was adopted.

Cargill, for the Committee on Hospitals and Asylums, reported favorably on the bill for the support of certain cases of insane persons; A. B. 271, relative to the Mendocino Insane Asylum as amended; A. B. 45, for repairs of the State Insane Asylum at Napa, and recommending the payment of $317 for expenses of sub-committee that visited the State asylums.

THE COMMITTEE ON ASYLUMS. The committee on the report of the asylums reported that it found everything at Ukiah in excellent condition and commended the management for its reduced cost, and that it was in good shape, it still, however, 40 per cent. higher than that of Napa, Agnews or Stockton, owing to the fact that a complete corps of attendants is maintained at Ukiah, instead of inmates, thus showing the expense of the State's multiplying public institutions.

There are still accommodations for 175 beds at Ukiah, and the committee commended the management for its economy and the advisability of appropriating anything at this session for enlargement of the asylum or for purchase of land. The committee also reported that the asylum is not enlarged till land communication is opened with the northern part of the State, except that an administration building possibly be required in about two years.

The Home for Feeble-minded Children is located in a building which is well-ventilated, and the committee commended the management for its economy and the advisability of appropriating anything at this session for enlargement of the asylum or for purchase of land. The committee also reported that the asylum is not enlarged till land communication is opened with the northern part of the State, except that an administration building possibly be required in about two years.

Many changes of bad management had been made, but the committee inquired carefully into them and thinks that all differences are settled, and that under the management of the committee the institution will soon take a front rank.

The committee says it cannot speak too highly of the management of Napa and Agnews, every inmate of the first-class condition and the officers skilled in their profession and in executive ability. The per capita in both is 28 cents.

The committee, however, deprecates the fact that every asylum has been built on general plan, with large dormitories and too few single rooms, and believes the bedding together of so many insane persons in one room to be detrimental to the recovery of the insane, and that two large dining-rooms be built at the Ukiah asylum, and that 100 more patients.

The report recommends that the former Home for Feeble-minded Children be sold, and the land used for the Home for Adult Blind, and that the site of the present site, received condition of the Oakland Home that A. B. 301 should be passed for the same.

SENATE MESSAGES. On motion of Dodge, Senate messages were taken up, and various Senate bills substituted for Assembly bills on the file.

RESOLUTION. A resolution by Thomas, that in view of the facts that in view of the fact that on night sessions, the Secretary of State be authorized to employ an assistant engineer at a per diem of $5 and an additional $100 per month, and that he be paid out of the contingent fund, was referred to the Committee on Attaches.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION. Bills, for the Joint Committee on Judiciary and Constitutional Amendments, were offered a concurrent resolution to submit to the people a proposition for a convention to amend the Constitution.

It was stated that the expense of the members had, though, convinced them all of the necessity of a revision of the Constitution, and that the proposed constitutional amendments had been offered in session in addition to all voted on last fall. The resolution was prepared by the committee, and provided for a deliberation and discussion, and provided for eighty members at a per diem of $5, and the cost will be very small in comparison to the benefits to be derived therefrom.

Wade favored the resolution, saying that such a convention would give an opportunity to cut off useless commissions and appointments.

Waymire also spoke in favor of the resolution and the benefit to be derived from the convention.

Dinkelspiel favored the resolution, and said the cost of printing the constitution amendments last fall showed the necessity for a revision, and that the convention would cost less than the printing of numerous amendments. The offer of the presentation of fifty-four amendments at this session was an indication of public sentiment on the subject.

Powers also spoke for the resolution and, on his motion, it was made a special order for Monday after the consideration of A. B. 624.

SPECIAL FILE. The special file was taken up and A. B. 624, making an appropriation for support of the Southern California State Asylum for the Insane and Inebriates for the forty-sixth fiscal year, was substituted for A. B. 188, on the same subject, read the second time, and the third reading.

Powers moved that the hour of recess be extended until 1:30 p. m., and that when the Assembly adjourns it do so till Monday.

A storm of noes arose, and the motion was sustained.

COMMERCIAL.

Transactions in Wheat Mostly Limited to Futures.

Dairy Produce in Heavy Supply, and Prices Are Tending Downward—Fruit Market Quiet.

The Dried Fruit market continues quiet, with trade moving slowly and values easy, although prices are generally higher than last year.

There is some demand for shipment East and the shippers appear to prefer mixed carloads. Dealers are advising growers to forward small or odd lots in order to meet this demand.

Fruity grades of Peaches bring full quotations, but there is considerable medium-class stock offering at lower rates. Supplies of fruit are plentiful and prices remain unchanged. Raisins remain dull, with sales at unchanged figures. Holdings in the East are light and it is useless to send any California stock in this direction for the present.

The movement of trade in the local Produce markets is quiet, and with heavy receipts, there is considerable accumulated stock on dealers' hands. There was scarcely any fluctuation in prices yesterday, values generally being so low there was not much room for further decline. Navy oranges are plentiful, and although the supply is steady and fairly large, the quality is not at the best. Sweet oranges remain in good supply and prices are quite well sustained by the moderate demand, but the supply is small. Medium stock sales slowly at low figures.

Dairy Produce is in heavy oversupply, and although prices are generally higher, the quality is not at the best. Butter is weak and eggs are offered at a little better, but poultry is generally dull.

The wheat market is unchanged, country wheat being in short supply. There is very little doing in shipping.
