

NEW TIME TABLE FOR FRIDAY.

The Solano Will Resume Her Trips on That Day.

Changes to Be Made in the Time of Various Trains on That Account.

The steamer Solano will resume her trips across Carquinez Straits on Friday, and the trains from San Francisco will on that day commence running by the Ontario route.

Following is the new railroad time schedule under which trains will be run, commencing on Friday:

No. 1, the east-bound first and second-class overland train, will leave San Francisco at 7 A. M., arrive at Sacramento at 11:20 A. M., stop twenty minutes and continue east at 11:40 A. M.

No. 2, the west-bound first and second-class overland train, will arrive at Sacramento at 9:40 P. M., stop twenty minutes, and leave for the East at 10 P. M.

No. 3, the north-bound express, will leave San Francisco at 7 P. M., arrive at Sacramento at 10:35 P. M., and after stopping twenty-five minutes, go north at 11 P. M.

No. 4, the west-bound first and second-class overland train, will arrive at 6:40 P. M., stop twenty minutes, leave at 7 P. M., and arrive at San Francisco at 10:50 P. M.

No. 4, west-bound fast mail, will arrive at 6:50 A. M., stop twenty minutes, and leave at 7:10 A. M., arriving at San Francisco at 10:45 A. M.

No. 5, the south-bound Portland express, will arrive at 6:20 A. M., leave at 6:45 A. M., and arrive at San Francisco at 10:45 A. M., taking on at Sacramento the second-class cars for the Portland route.

A local train for San Francisco, via Benicia, will leave Sacramento at 3 P. M. and reach San Francisco at 7:15 P. M.

Local, via Benicia, will leave San Francisco at 4 P. M., arriving at Sacramento at 8:10 P. M.

Local for Tracy, connecting at that point with train for Fresno and Los Angeles, will leave at 6:30 P. M.

Mixed train from Tracy, with connection from Los Angeles and New Orleans, will arrive at 6:10 P. M.

The local from Fresno and Placerville will arrive at 2:40 P. M., leaving Folsom at 1:45 P. M. (Sundays excepted).

The Colfax local will arrive at 1:40 P. M. Returning, it will leave Folsom at 1:45 P. M.

The local for Woodland, Willows and Redding will leave at 10:30 A. M., and arrive from those points at 3:55 P. M.

The local from Crocker, Knight's Landing and Woodland will arrive at 7:45 A. M., and leave for those points at 7:10 P. M.

The run of the Colfax local will be extended to Folsom and it will leave Folsom at 6:35 A. M., Colfax at 6:45 A. M., connecting there with Nevada City and Grass Valley, and arriving here at 10:45 A. M. It will leave here on its return at 3 P. M., arriving at Colfax at 7:50 P. M. and connecting with Nevada City and Placerville at 8:50 P. M. Train No. 1 will also connect with Nevada City and Placerville.

The mixed train for Folsom and Placerville will leave here at 6:30 A. M. (Sundays excepted), instead of 7 A. M. as at present. Its time of arrival in the morning will not be changed.

It will probably take a couple of days for the 6:40 P. M. train from the East to adjust itself to the new conditions, as it is a change of about six hours in its time and several trains will be on the road when the change takes place, but with this exception the trains will all run according to the figures given on Friday.

All trains not mentioned will run on the same time as heretofore.

MRS. QUARELLES'S QUARRELS

Mary Burns is found guilty of talking back.

Mary Doe Burns was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace of Mrs. Quarelles.

The trouble arose over the letter alleged to have been sent by Mrs. Quarelles to Mrs. Berlin, whose husband committed suicide last week. Mrs. Quarelles said Mary accused her saying that she had better cause another man's death, and called her a liar when she denied having done so.

Mary said that Mrs. Quarelles addressed her and threatened to send her to a reform school, saying that she was under sixties years of age. Mrs. Quarelles came out twice to see who the gentleman was who had been visiting witness. She told Mrs. Quarelles that she had caused one man's death and she said she was glad of it.

Mrs. Gogings corroborated her testimony as to Mrs. Quarelles coming out twice to see who the man was and she threatened. Mrs. Quarelles was always watching their room and trying to find out who came there.

Mary was found guilty and will receive sentence to-day.

WHERE IS THE MAN

Who Gave Munroe and O'Neill a Box of Macaroni to Carry?

Thomas Munroe and Thomas O'Neill were charged yesterday in the Police Court with petty larceny in taking a box of macaroni from a truck in front of the Adams-Booth Company's store.

Munroe testified that he and O'Neill were together and a man came up to them and gave them the box and half a dollar to take it to 711 L Street. He did not know who the man was.

Other Talbot testified that he and Clerk Desmond arrested the men with the box in their possession and that one of them admitted that the box was taken from the truck.

O'Neill began a rambling story of how Talbot said he would smash him if he did not pick up the box and confess that he stole it.

"Did you see this other gentleman who sits at the desk?" asked the court, pointing to Clerk Desmond.

"Well, there was some one there, a short, chunky fellow. He is a pretty tough man, I guess," answered the prisoner, with a withering glance at the genial clerk.

The defendants were found guilty and sentenced to thirty days each in jail.

IS HE MENTALLY WEAK?

The Examination of Charles Ingles Continued 7:11 Wednesday.

Charles Ingles, the young man arrested at Orangevale a week or so ago for helping himself to bicycles in the city and riding them into the country and there disposing of them for small sums, was to have been examined in Justice Henry's court yesterday, but the case was continued.

THE FISH COMMISSIONERS' POWERS.

They May Seize But Not Confiscate Fishing Nets.

Attorney-General Fitzgerald Gives Them an Official Opinion on the Subject.

The State Board of Fish Commissioners has just been informed of a peculiar condition of affairs which materially restricts its powers, and gives the fishermen in all the waters of the State a liberty far greater than they ever expected to obtain.

The commission has always had a great deal of trouble in this State, particularly in this harbor, with fishermen who persist in violating the laws.

The capture of fish out of season and the use of nets prohibited by law have kept the deputies busy. After making their capture of the officers of the commission did what they assumed was right to punish the offenders and prevent a repetition of the offense.

In every instance where nets were illegally used the officers confiscated them. When fish was caught a peculiar problem presented itself. The commission did not feel at liberty to sell fish when such a sale at that time was prohibited by the State. They did not feel that officers of the State, they could do what would be criminal in a private person. Even if they did sell what they had captured they did not know what to do with the money realized from the sale.

At the same time they did not feel at liberty to destroy or give away the fish they had captured. They had no authority to appeal to Attorney-General Fitzgerald for an opinion. The Commissioners received that opinion yesterday and will in future act in accordance with it.

In acting upon this opinion the Fish Commissioners will have, as formerly, full power to seize nets illegally used, but they will not be permitted to confiscate them. They may take them away from the fishermen who use them and remove them from the water, but they must leave them to the fishermen who violate the laws may be sure of the return of their nets.

So far as the fish is concerned, the Fish Commissioners have no right to sell it. They may leave it on the beach and any person who so desires may take it. This important opinion of such general significance will have a wide effect upon the industry in the State. The law will probably be amended at the next session of the Legislature.

FORMAL DECLINATION.

Major Steinman Declines the Fourth of July Presidency.

In response to the invitation of the Fourth of July Committee to act as President of the Day, Mayor Steinman yesterday addressed the following note to the Chairman of the Literary Committee:

SACRAMENTO, June 11, 1895. Hon. Wm. J. Dyer—DEAR SIR: I desire to acknowledge the honor of your invitation of your committee to act as President of the Day at the forthcoming celebration of the Fourth of July. I take deep interest in the proper celebration of the anniversary of our independence as any American citizen can, and exceedingly regret that circumstances, general in nature, and which I would do good to discuss, compel me to decline your invitation. Yours respectfully, B. U. STEINMAN.

H. F. DILLMAN'S DEATH.

Officially Inquired Into by the Coroner Last Evening.

Coroner Clark last evening held an inquest in the case of H. F. Dillman, who committed suicide on Monday afternoon. The witnesses examined were Henry Balsz, brother-in-law of the deceased, ex-Judge H. L. Buckley, J. S. Curtis and George Clark, bartender in the saloon of the deceased.

The statements made by these witnesses fully corroborated that made in these columns last evening. Mr. Balsz, brother-in-law of the deceased, said that he saw Dillman in the saloon of the growing frequency of Mr. Dillman's spells of despondency and of his former threats to take his life because of the hopelessness of ever regaining his health.

Witness Clark stated that the deceased had placed all the saloon money in the safe, even emptying the cash register, and had balanced his books. He had fully determined on taking his life. When he first put the pistol to his head all those in the saloon, except Clark, ran out. He went toward Dillman and begged him for God's sake not to commit such a deed.

Dillman then put down his pistol and began talking with it, and Clark thought he had changed his mind, and concluded not to kill himself. But he was only making doubly sure that the weapon should do its deadly work for in a minute or two he again raised it to his head in a threatening manner.

Clark again stepped forward and again begged Dillman not to kill himself. The latter then leveled the weapon toward Clark and said: "George, you're the best friend I have, and I warn you not to come near me. If you do, I'll give it to you and then kill myself!"

Clark said that he was in dead earnest, and feared he would carry out his threat if the other should attempt to reach him. He was prudently held back. Dillman then placed the pistol to his head and fired. He fell where he stood, and expired in a minute.

After hearing the evidence the jury held a consultation and rendered a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from a pistol wound inflicted by himself with suicidal intent, and while rendered temporarily insane by severe pains in the head.

The funeral will take place at 3 P. M. to-day from Odd Fellows' Temple at Ninth and K streets.

WHARTON'S CASE DISMISSED.

The Court Thinks the Evidence Did Not Show a Discharge.

Z. F. Wharton was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Charles E. Russell testified that Wharton came to the house where Mrs. Wharton, who is Russell's sister, was lying sick, and tried to get in at the back door. He was going to let Wharton in, when his sister screamed and told him not to do it, as Wharton would kill her. He did not hear Wharton ask for any papers. He believed that Mrs. Wharton was very sick, and his mother, witness broke in the door of the house himself that afternoon to prevent his sister being carried to the hospital. His mother was lying on the floor on an old quilt.

Mrs. Craddock, the mother of Mrs. Wharton, testified that Wharton knocked at the door and Mrs. Wharton answered not to let him come in. She told her son to run for the police, and while he was gone Wharton came in and said he wanted to get some things. Mrs. Wharton was afraid of him, being very sick from starvation and threats. The door was broken in by her son because the doctor had said that Mrs. Wharton would have to be removed to the hospital, and she was too weak.

Special Officer Glick testified to arresting Wharton on the complaint of Russell.

Wharton swore that he went to the house to get some legal papers, as he had been informed that the front door had been broken in by Mrs. Wharton, and that she had refused to allow him to do so.

J. F. Wharton, his brother, testified to the same facts. He went with his brother as a witness.

The court said that there was not sufficient evidence to sustain the complaint that the defendant disturbed the peace of Russell. He was discharged.

The case, however, that the testimony of the prosecution brought out a terrible state of affairs, which was difficult to believe. He belonged to Wharton very cruelly to his wife, saying that if it were true the matter should be investigated. As the charges were not sustained he should dismiss the case.

Funeral of the Late Dr. G. G. Tyrrell Yesterday.

The funeral of the late Dr. G. G. Tyrrell took place yesterday afternoon from the family residence, and was largely attended, a number of private vehicles following the hacks in the procession.

The services were conducted by Rev. Henry H. Hoy, and the floral offerings were very numerous and beautiful. The funeral was under the auspices of Union Lodge No. 58, F. and A. M., a large number of the members taking part in the exercises. The Medical Society of Sacramento also marched in the procession.

The pall-bearers were: Albert Hart, B. Wilson, J. A. Cunningham, J. W. Rock, S. I. Green and D. McKay of Union Lodge, F. and A. M., and N. W. Robbins and Nelson Wilcox of Sacramento Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F. Drs. Cluness and Simmons and Chief Justice Beatty and Robert Wait of Nevada City were honorary pall-bearers.

NOT A FISTOL.

The Mystery of an Explosion Satisfactorily Explained.

Shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday morning a railroad switchman reported to the police station that he had just heard a pistol shot down on Front street. An officer went down there, but saw nobody on the street.

The report was probably that made by burglars who tried to blow open the safe in F. Biewener's market at Fourth and M streets, as the safe was found later in the morning to have been badly damaged by such an attempt, but it had resisted the powder charge.

David Davis' Estate.

James Davis, brother of the late David Davis, has, by his attorney, F. D. Ryan, applied to the Superior Court for special letters of administration on the latter's estate. The real property is valued at $8,000, and the personal property at $500.

Deceased left no will. The heir-at-law is his mother, Julia Kelson, aged 55 years. The application has been set for hearing on the 25th instant.

The Sheriff Demurs.

Sheriff Frank T. Johnson, by his attorney, C. H. Outman, has filed a demurrer to the complaint of Gregory Bros. Company in their suit for $25,000 damages for taking possession of their books and accounts. One point made in the demurrer is that the plaintiffs have no capacity to sue.

Rebecca Jacobs, administratrix of the estate of Louis Jacobs, deceased, has, by her attorney, Isaac Joseph, commenced suit in the Superior Court against Samuel Nathan for the possession of the west half of lot 6, J and K, Third and Fourth streets (No. 321 K), and for $165 due on rent.

Shooting in Chinatown.

Two pistol shots were fired on 1 street, near Third, about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. A Chinaman informed Officers Mailey and Douglas, who went to investigate, that John Koon, aged 35 years, had shot at him and then ran away.

For the Fourth of July.

The Red House Co. will commence a large sale of children's hats (trimmed for midsummer wear. Trimmed Tally-hos and Chicago sailors for 45c; black lace hats, $1.85 and up; $8, $10 and $12 lace hats, made from the finest hand-made black lace, from $2.75 to $4.95; untrimmed sailors, 10c and 15c; children's mull hats, 5c. Sale will commence to-morrow, showing a large variety of other goods. See their ad.

Weak and Run Down

After the grip or other serious illness, you find Hood's Sarsaparilla exactly the medicine to build up and give strength.

"I feel thankful to Hood's Sarsaparilla for benefit derived from it. I had the grip and failed to regain health. I did not have any appetite and, in fact, was a mere shadow of myself. I at last resorted to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and soon began to improve. I could soon eat without distress in my stomach. Four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and a box of Hood's Pills took away all signs of the grip. I am now able to do all my work in a like manner, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it will surely do you good."—GEORGE MARLET, Green Oak, Michigan.
