

WHEAT IS RIPENING VERY RAPIDLY.

Some Injury Reported From the North Winds.

Barley is Now Being Harvested—Some Fruit Blown From the Trees

Crops in General.

Following are the reports received by J. A. Barwick, Director of the State Weather Service, for the week ending Monday night last. These reports are from all the grain and fruit-growing sections of the State:

SACRAMENTO VALLEY. Tehama County—Red Bluff—Six days continuous north wind has lighted almost all vegetation, and the high winds have whipped off considerable fruit buds breaking down trees. Late sown grain which was doing nicely has been threshed out by the high winds. The promising crop of a week ago has sustained quite a setback. Corn—The drying north winds have shrunk the grain very much, while the high winds have knocked off a great deal of fruit. The highest temperatures have ranged from 94° to 100°.

Butte County—Oroville—The olives are setting earlier than ever before known in the State. The fruit is ripening. The fruit is getting ripe, peaches and apricots especially. In some localities the grasshoppers are eating the tender grapefruit. The ground is very dry and irrigation has begun. Highest and lowest temperatures, 96° and 61°. Honey—Fruits are up to their average, excepting the apricots.

Glenn County—Willows—This county has not been affected with such a severe north wind in years as the present storm. The wind has been exceedingly strong for five days, and is doing much damage, but as to the extent of the damage it is hard to estimate, as our farmers all differ in their opinions. One man says that green wheat is suffering very little and with favorable weather will come out all right, but the wind has broken a great deal of the ripe grain down. A farmer living south of Willows says that the wind is doing a great deal of injury to the winter sown grain; a farmer on the Jacinto Grant says he is sure the wind has benefited the grain. The wind, as it is, will prevent the wheat from being further devastated from the rust. A farmer on the east side of the river says the wind is doing a wonderful amount of damage to most of it is winter sown and will be shrunk by the storm. Others say that the damage will be very great, as much of the grain is not yet ripe. One man says that the wind is not doing as much damage as it usually does on account of its being so cool. Along the river and on the plains the wheat is being blown off the fruit crop by blowing it off the trees.

Colusa County—Cortina—The haying season is almost over and haying will soon be at hand. The prospects for good crops have never been better. Princeton—The north wind is a great drawback to haying in this county. The wind has blown for several days and has blown a great deal of hay down. The wind has shrunk the grain by shrinkage and heating the heads of that which is ripe. Much damage has also been done fruit by the high winds. Haying over the crop a good one. Grand Island—The north wind is ripening grain very fast; harvesting will begin next week; laying out several leaders have been started. Irrigation well under way, as all are taking advantage of high water in the river. Citrus trees are doing well. Highest and lowest temperatures, 105° and 57°.

Sutter County—Yuba City—Harvesting will begin next week. O'Banion—Hay is about all down except tule hay, which will not be cut till late this year. Yuba County—Wheatland—For the last few days a heavy rain has been blowing weather. In the hop yards the vines literally ran up the strings. With ten days more of such weather the hops would be ready for picking. The vines as the vines will have reached the top wire and will be well armed. Urupie grain and hops slightly damaged by the north wind, but the vines will be well packed for Eastern shipment next week.

Sacramento County—Arno—The continuous hot and dry north wind has blown somewhat of the fruit from the trees. Both, even of the late sown, have rapidly found their golden hue. The wind on some days was too high for haying. Orange County—Weather warm and wind north. Early fruit ripening fast. Highest and lowest temperatures, 97° and 64°. Elk Grove—The north wind has blown considerable fruit from the trees, especially large fruit and small oranges. Grain is ripening up, especially wheat, which is now in the doughy state. Fair prospects for a good crop. Clay—First of the week temperature was 104°. Barley heading progressing, but had to stop on account of the high winds. In some places the north winds have done great damage to grain. Haying is about over and harvesting has commenced in some places. Sacramento—The north wind has done damage to all crops. The winter-sown grain has suffered very much. Summer-fallow or early sown has not been injured, as it is too far advanced to be damaged. Much fruit has been shaken off the trees.

Yolo County—Winters—The damage by the north wind is considerable. The most damage so far has been to almonds, peaches and pears. Woodland—Reports indicate that grain which is nearly ripe will suffer greatly from the heads being broken off and the grain being threshed through the heads. Where the grain is not ripe enough to be injured in this way the wind will to some extent shrink it and also break up the heads where the crop is ready for harvest, nearly all the grain has been threshed out. Capay—The north wind is doing much damage to the grain by breaking up the heads. The fruit is also suffering by being blown off the limbs. Dunnigan—Much damage is being done by the north wind, and a continuance of it will almost totally destroy the grain, as the warm wind is causing it to ripen too fast. Davisville—There has been so much north wind of late that farmers are becoming alarmed in apprehension of serious damage to grain crops. The prospects are now much better than usual, but a few days more of this kind of weather will ruin the prospects. The crops of both apricots and prunes in the Briggs vineyard will be fair.

Solano County—Collinsville—The wheat in this district is taller than the mules that carry the harvesters and bids fair to give a good yield. Rio Vista—The raising of a good crop of flax this season is beginning to open the eyes of our progressive citizens. The harvesting of barley on Brannon Island will begin next week. Dixon—The farmers generally are harvesting barley and soon wheat will be ready for the harvester, the crop will be a fair one. The north wind has done some damage in shelling out the barley. Batavia—The heavy north wind of Friday and Saturday wrought great damage to the grain and fruit crop and it is not over-estimating it to say that the same crop was damaged one-half. What little fruit that was left on the trees from the last high winds is about all on the ground.

Sonoma County—Selbstopol—Crops are advancing well; grapes will not be up to the usual average. Occidental—The fruit trees on the hills escaped the last frost. The apple crop will be heavy, grapes average, peaches light, cherries very light and berries unusually good. Forestville—Weather fine for corn and potatoes. The warm weather has caused grass to turn yellow. Haying cutting is about over and the yield is good. Corn is looking well, but owing to rains last month it is quite small. Grapes as a general thing are not setting well. Hops are doing extremely well. Wild blackberries will be in season next week. Santa Rosa—Peaches are not nearly as plentiful as last year. Some late Crawford trees bear in clusters and require thinning, others have scarcely any on them. The Muir is the only variety of peach that is being raised with a full crop well distributed and requiring general thinning out. Dry Creek farmers above Heidelberg report no apricots or peaches. Cherries, plums and peaches moderate. Apples fair. Grapes appear to be the only fruit that will give a full crop. Near Guerneville peaches and peaches are a fair crop. Prunes considerably less than last year, but promise to be of good size. Cherries are so scattered in Green Valley that many growers will not attempt to gather them.

SANTA CLARA VALLEY. Santa Clara County—Santa Clara—The cutting and cooking of the hay crop will be about completed this week all over the valley. The crop has been cured in excellent condition and the owners of hay fields are happy. San Jose—The apricot and peach crop outlook of Bear Creek Summit, near Los Gatos, is reported to be very promising. Mountain View—The hay crop is all out and stacked and will be rather above the average. The owners are now looking at the wheat. The warm wave has ripened the cherry crop very fast. Campbell's cherries are ripening late. Tartarans are about all off and the late white ones will shortly be ready to ship. Apricots will open about July 1st.

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY. San Joaquin County—Lodi—Warmer weather with brisk northerly winds has hastened the ripening of grain, but did little harm to the crop. The weather has been good for melons and corn, which is now making rapid growth. Grapes are setting well and promise a good crop. Highest and lowest temperatures, 95° and 57°. Stanislaus County—Turlock—This has been an unusual week; the first part was exceedingly warm with high winds blowing in from the east. The continuous winds have blown down quite a lot of grain (wheat and barley) so that it will be almost impossible to harvest. Highest and lowest temperatures, 105° and 48°.

Fresno County—Reedley—Weather favorable for fruit and grain. The grain harvesting begun. Highest and lowest temperatures, 96° and 60°. Highest and lowest at Huron, 100° and 50°. Fresno—Highest and lowest temperatures, 100° and 57°. Tulare County—Goshen—Barley harvest has begun, with good prospects; the grain is ripening and the wind is blowing the rust has destroyed some pieces at least, and much disappointment is the result. The fruit prospect is fair. Lime Kiln—Hay crop about all harvested. Several leaders have been started. Irrigation well under way, as all are taking advantage of high water in the river. Citrus trees are doing well. Highest and lowest temperatures, 105° and 57°.

COAST COUNTIES. Riverside County—Arlington Heights—Citrus fruits are doing nicely, and small fruits will be a heavy crop. The weather for the last month has been very favorable for raising fruit. Trees planted a fortnight ago have already started. Highest and lowest temperatures, 104° and 52°. San Diego County—Olay—The high winds have evaporated considerable moisture from the ground, necessitating additional irrigation. Crops are growing rapidly. Lemon trees have made excellent crops and the fruit is being changed heavily. Grapes progressing favorably, although there is some damage by worms. Appricots and figs are a very light crop. Potatoes are yielding well and the spring crop is being dug. Hay a fair crop. Bernardo—New cherry orchards are now coming into bearing, which will add greatly to the crop next year. No irrigation is needed, as it is in a rain belt. The hay is all out, stacked and baled. Valley Center—There will be a crop of honey this season.

COAST COUNTIES. Humboldt County—Eureka—Abnormally cool weather prevailed; warmer is needed for growing crops. The northerly winds have done some little damage. Highest and lowest temperatures, 90° and 47°, with of .05 inch of rain. Mendocino County—Ukiah—The warm weather seems to have thinned out the worms to some extent in this valley. There has not been a great deal of damage done to the hops, but some alfalfa fields have been badly eaten up. It is believed that if the hot weather continues it will not be long before the worms will disappear.

Monterey County—Salinas—Crop prospects are good in this valley. The bean and potato crops promise well. Likewise yellow mustard. Jolon—Grain is ripening very fast and will make a good crop. Highest temperature on the 5th, 102°. The weather is about the same, but rain is looking exceedingly well. Haying is in full blast, and a greater part of the crop will be out for grain. Bear Valley—The hay crop is ripening very fast, but the late sown is backward. The whole yield, however, will be much more than last year. Haying is progressing, and the yield will be about the same as last year. Willow Grove—The warm weather is rapidly ripening the grain, but the late sown is backward. The yield will be about the same as last year. Highest and lowest temperatures, 94° and 37°.

Santa Luis Obispo County—San Luis Obispo—The first part of the week was warm and the later part cool with fog and dew, making the growing weather for all green crops. The curl leaf has not hurt some varieties of peaches. Highest and lowest temperatures, 94° and 37°.

FOOTHILLS AND MOUNTAIN COUNTIES. Lassen County—Susanville—As the fruits and vegetables have escaped the frost thus far, it is safe to presume that there will be a heavy crop. The weather has been good for melons and corn, which is now almost certain. Cherries will be ripe in a few days and they will be very plentiful.

Siskiyou County—Ager—Rain needed badly for spring-sown grain. Highest and lowest temperatures, 88° and 46°. Yreka—The warm weather has assisted in the ripening of grain. Haying will begin now. Highest and lowest temperatures, 90° and 42°. Gazette—Hay commenced; farmers are all busy replanting their garden truck, the heavy frosts prior to the last two or three days' warm weather froze everything in the garden. The weather is also all in favor of garden vegetables that was exposed. Shasta County—Shasta—Crops doing very well, considering the prevailing dry and hot weather. Haying is well advanced. Olay—The straw season is about closed. Raspberries ripening. Early peaches are showing up nicely. Burney Valley—There will be a good hay crop, and grain crop and an average production of fruit.

Placer County—Newcastle—The cherry crop is nearly gone, and all hands are busy with the grape crop. The north wind has dried the ground out considerably. Peaches are ripening and are a good crop. Highest and lowest temperatures, 88° and 46°. Yreka—The warm weather has assisted in the ripening of peaches. Alexanders are coming in freely. Strawberries and raspberries are nearly all gone. Blackberries are beginning to ripen. The hay is all secured, and fine-class in quality and quantity. Roseville—The hay is about all in the stack. The north wind has ripened the wheat rapidly, and has done no material damage. Heading of grain has begun. Cherry plums, early peaches and apricots are ripening. Fruit in general is all right. Yuba County—Hay crop is well advanced. After the close of the cold snap was over an inspection of the orchards and gardens hereabouts shows that no damage has been done to any of the fruit trees. The crop is all right, but there is plenty left and it will be better for the thinning out.

HOUSES TO BE SLAUGHTERED. The surplus stock will be canned and sent to Germany. The future of the horse of the Western ranges is solved. He is to be slaughtered, canned and then sent to the larger cities of France and Germany for consumption, says the New York Herald. This is a question which has been troubling the stockmen of the West ever since electricity, steam and the bicycles have usurped the usual place of the equine. For years thousands of horses have ranged over the Western country consuming food needed for cattle and sheep. They were literally not worth their oats. Horsemen had long and every day been looking for their surplus stock but no buyers were to be found.

In Portland, O., a company has been incorporated to buy and slaughter the surplus stock of the West, and the slaughtering of horses and the preparing of their flesh for food, utilizing the oil, bones, hair, etc., and making fertilizer of the skulls and heads. The horse is already purchased about 6,000 horses and has options upon as many more. The slaughtering will begin as soon as the surplus stock is available. The horse is not so scarce of stock, as it is estimated that there are fully 200,000 horses running wild in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

The horse is a pachydermatous or thick-skinned animal, but its skin is not so thick as that of the ox. It clings tightly to the flesh, and cannot be removed by the use of a ruminating animal, or ox or sheep can. It is as difficult to get off as the skin of a hog. The skin makes good leather of its kind, and the oil is excellent for medicinal purposes. The hair of the tail is woven into haircloth for upholstering chairs and sofas and lining women's skirts, and the mane hair is used for stuffing chairs and sofas. The bones are good for many things—buttons, knives-handles, bone-dust and charcoal. In fact, every part of the animal can be utilized, and the horse is being slaughtered and prepared as food and to popularize it as such on the Pacific Coast.

Defauling Wood. There is point to the story told by Senator Palmer of a farmer who has been selling his wood for $4 a cord. "This year," says Senator Palmer, "I have a cord of wood for sale. I have a load and I told him I did not want it. He offered it at $2 a cord. I still refused and he wanted to know why. I told him I was using soft coal for which I paid $7 a ton. He said, 'I don't know what you were trying to do. I heard you were trying to defaulize wood.'"

THE DOCTORS FAILED. Then Jenks Studied Up His Own Disease and Cured Himself. (From the Proceedings of the American Medical Association.) There are but few diseases that puzzle physicians more than rheumatism. There are a great many theories as to its cause, and a great many theories as to the best means of curing it, most of which are absurd. One of the most successful sufferers of rheumatism known in the annals of medicine is John G. Jenks, of Riverside, R. I. He became the victim of rheumatism while in the army, and the disease seems to have given him a taste of all its various tortures. Physicians and medicines failed to give him any relief, until at last he effected his own cure by the use of a certain preparation.

What can a man do that's as hard, for most men, as this constant household drudgery is, for most women? If he has any sympathy for you, tell him to get you some Pearlina. Sympathy is all very well, but it's Pearlina, not sympathy, that you want for washing and cleaning.
