

PEOPLE WILL CONTINUE TO SWEAT.

They Must Pay on Indefinitely on the Original Debt.

Some of the City Trustees Change Their Views on the Debt Refunding Proposition.

The City Board of Trustees met at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to further consider the bond refunding question.

A communication was read from the Western Bank Note Company, stating that they will engrave and print 600 bonds of the denomination of $1,000, with the necessary coupons attached, type-printed ordinance on the back, for $347 50.

In a dispatch to President Lawton, Trustee Tozer, who is now in the East, recommended the American Exchange National Bank for paying the coupons.

The Clerk then read the inscriptions to be printed on the bonds, providing how and when they shall be paid off, and everything else necessary to be printed on the coupons.

Bragg moved the adoption of the following resolution: "Resolved, That the American Exchange National Bank of New York be designated as the bank situated in New York at which coupons on the bonds to be issued for refunding the city debt may be paid at the option of the holder."

Devine wanted to know if the resolution meant that the city was to go into the refunding business at once. He was informed by President Lawton that such was not the purpose of the resolution.

Devine, continuing, said it would be a crime upon the people to refund the debt when there were $400,000 of the bonds which do not bear interest and only $204,000 that do bear interest. He was opposed to the proposition if the past due bonds bear no interest.

Lawton said he would like to read to the members of the board Devine's position in the matter, which he so clearly defined a short time ago in one of the newspapers. He said Devine had argued for refunding and made a strong argument in favor of it. He was surprised that Devine had dropped over on the other side of the fence.

Kent said before patronage is given to any bank, the question should be gone into more thoroughly. He regarded as crazy a man who would vote a debt on himself for forty years, when he could pay it up in three years.

Leonard said if Devine and Kent wanted more time to investigate the question they should be given until Monday.

Lawton opposed any delay. He said the board of trustees, consisting of the Mayor, the Auditor and the Collector, would meet in a short time and would furnish the trustees a statement of the amount of money needed to run the affairs of the city government. Every thing should be ready, so that when the trustees meet in September to fix the tax levy they could be informed how much money was needed. He said the question should be settled immediately, so that the people will know whether or not the debt is to be refunded.

Leonard said he would not be in favor of proceeding further until Devine and Kent had an opportunity to make further inquiries into the matter, and indicated what side of the fence they are on.

Bragg said if nothing is to be done about the refunding proposition the whole matter might as well be dropped then and there.

Mayor Steinman said that he would give a bond that the city would be out of debt by July, 1896. Nobody would suffer, he said, if things are left as they are for awhile. Nobody would take the bonds. The Debt Commissioners in 1896 will have $100,000; in 1897 they will have more, and so on. The Mayor said it will not be long before the bondholders will offer the city the non-interest bearing bonds for eighty-five or eighty-eight cents, and then the Commissioners can buy them in. The first expense for the new bonds will be $30, and it is no sure thing they will be taken up.

Wachhorst said he agreed with Devine and Kent. He was in favor of the proposition at first, but since then he had heard considerable against it.

Bragg suggested the whole proposition be rejected.

On motion of Devine, the board adjourned until Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to further consider the matter.

WEATHER BUREAU

Director Barwick Receives a Letter From Chief Moore.

Director Barwick of the California State Weather Service wrote the new chief a congratulatory letter on his promotion to the Chief of the Weather Bureau. A man who started on the lowest round of the Weather Bureau ladder—a second-class private in the Weather Bureau branch of the United States Signal Service in 1875—and through competitive examination passed through all the grades, such as first-class private, corporal and observer-sergeant, then to Director of State Weather Service, and to a professorship, and from the latter to that of Chief of the Weather Bureau, beginning with a salary of $1600 per year and reaching the highest in the service, of $5,000 per year, certainly speaks well for the intelligence and energy of a man not yet reached the middle age of life.

The following letter was received by Director Barwick yesterday, in answer to his of July 6th: "WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11, 1895. Dear Mr. Barwick: Your letter of congratulation received, and coming from one of the old and substantial workers of the service is highly appreciated. I thank you for your kind expressions of good will, and for offering a desired to render all assistance possible to the chief in the prosecution of his arduous duties. The position of Director of a State Weather Service I consider a very important one, and many of our best men must be assigned to this duty. Very respectfully, WILLIS L. MOORE. Mr. James A. Barwick, Director California Weather Service, Sacramento, California."

WANTED TO LEAVE TOWN.

Justice Davis Lets Six Vagrants Shake Off the City's Dust.

Justice Davis dispatched the calendar in the Police Court in a few minutes. Frank Allen, John Welch, Tom Sullivan, Charles Groff, James Doyle and Frank Price, who were gathered in by Officers Fisher, Hayes and Rutherford on the river front, having congregated there after their discharge from jail, pleaded guilty of vagrancy and were sentenced to sixty days each in jail.

They begged to be allowed to leave town, and one of them said: "Judge, just give me time to get across the bridge, and I'll never trouble this town again, sure." The commitment was withheld for one hour in order to give them a chance to go, another of them remarking that he did not want more than five minutes.

Fred Baker, who had also been convicted of vagrancy, was very anxious to

WRANGLE OVER ROAD SPRINKLING.

Stephen Rooney Lectures the Supervisors

Because He Was Not Awarded a Road Sprinkling Contract on the Lovest Bid.

There was quite a wrangle in the Board of Supervisors' room yesterday, caused by Stephen Rooney of Brighton, who complained that he had been "thrown down" by Supervisor Curtis in the matter of the awarding of a road sprinkling contract.

Rooney said he had agreed to do the work for $50, but that the contract was given to Sandy Hall for $20 more, and he demanded to know why it was done.

Supervisor Curtis replied that Hall had better facilities for doing good work than Rooney, and the Contract Committee had taken this fact into consideration in recommending that the job be given to Hall.

This explanation did not satisfy Rooney, who claimed that he had just as good facilities as Hall for obtaining water. In the course of his remarks he said that some people were pretty "sick."

Chairman Morrison wanted to reconsider the board's action, saying that Mr. Rooney was a responsible man, and being the lowest bidder, he was entitled to the contract.

The board declined to reconsider, and Rooney then refused to accept another similar contract that had been awarded him.

A man named Christopher also complained that his bid to sprinkle the road from Duden's place to the road dividing the fourth and fifth Supervisor Districts was the lowest, but that the contract was awarded to W. L. Johnson.

Supervisor Jenkins said complaint had been made about the manner in which the road had been previously sprinkled. Curtis moved that the contract be awarded to A. L. Warren, the next highest bidder, at $72 a month.

Chairman Morrison said the road could go dry before it was voted to pay $72 a month to have it sprinkled. "It will have to go without sprinkling, unless the Lord sprinkles it," he said.

Curtis then withdrew his motion. A resolution of Morrison, the Clerk was instructed to advertise for new bids for sprinkling the road from the railroad crossing to Sandy Hall's place. Bidders are required to accompany their bids with a bond.

Supervisor Curtis said "kick" to make himself. He said it had been stated that he had depleted the road fund of his district. There had been heavy expenditures on account of the hauling of crushed rock from the County Jail, but he was not responsible for that.

Chairman Morrison sustained Mr. Curtis in this, and went so far as to say that the money expended for crushed rock for roads in the County Jail had prevented the county buildings from being overrun with prisoners whom the county would have had to support. He proposed to the good effects of the crushed rock placed on a weak levee and on the Twelfth-street road.

The dove of peace flapped its wings over the scene, and the board adjourned.

MORE CLAIMS.

Two Additional Mining Locations on the American River.

It will not take many more mining locations to cover all the bed of the American River between this city and Folsom.

Yesterday F. P. Horstmyer filed a location of twenty acres in the Perkins Mining District, and M. J. McLane and associates filed on a tract of 300 by 9,000 feet near Alder Creek.

A couple of months ago locations were filed on several miles of the Sacramento River above and below this city, and if the locators should go ahead with their proposed operations, this vicinity will again become a sort of gold mining camp.

By the way, what will be the probable effect on the water supply of Sacramento if these persons go to tearing up the sands and debris therein?

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

G. H. Bittner Nabbed While Committing Arson.

Several small fires having occurred in the Europa Restaurant on J street, near Fourth, insurance men, firemen and police became convinced that an incendiary had been at work.

Yesterday Officer Maley secreted himself in the basement and soon had the satisfaction of catching the firebug in the act of setting another fire. The incendiary proved to be G. H. Bittner, the cook employed by Mrs. Lindsay, proprietress of the restaurant.

Just what the fellow's motive could have been in trying to burn out his employer is a mystery. He will not, however, start any more fires for some time.

THE SHELTON BRIDGE.

It is Badly Worn, and Will be Replanned.

Supervisor Jenkins yesterday reported that the bridge across the Cosumnes River at Sheldon was in a dangerous condition on account of the bad condition of the flooring. The bridge is about 550 feet long, he said, and about 300 feet of lumber will be required to replank it.

The Committee on Roads and Bridges was authorized to have the work done.
