

NO FLIES ON THOSE NATIVE SONS.

The Admission Day Celebration to be a Great Affair.

A Pageant that Will Eclipse Anything Ever Witnessed on the Pacific Coast.

All the carnivals and fetes that have been held in this city will pale into insignificance by the great demonstration that is to take place in the Capital City on the 9th of next month.

The Native Sons' Joint Committee on the twentieth celebration of Admission Day held their weekly meeting last evening.

E. M. Bramford of Stockton Parlor reported that they would be in line in uniform one hundred strong, with a band of music of twenty-four pieces. They also contemplate running an excursion train to Sacramento, bringing in the neighborhood of 1,200 people.

The Native Sons in the mining districts have about decided to turn out in mining costumes, and the joint committee has placed at their disposal a float representing a mining scene.

The directors of the State Fair have made Tuesday, September 10th, Native Sons' Day, and have prepared a special pageant program. They will also have a music competition in the morning with an illustrated concert in the evening at the Pavilion, especially dedicated to the Native Sons.

The Decoration Committee are interviewing the business men with a view to having their places business-decorated in keeping with the handsome decorations that are being put up by the Native Sons. All have thus far signified their willingness to help.

C. E. Warren and F. M. Ely of San Jose have been authorized to sell the "Hear Flag" for decorative purposes, which, being quite pretty in design, will no doubt meet with great favor.

The members of the Uniform Rank of Knights of Pythias of Truckee have signified their willingness to be in the great parade on the 9th, with a drum corps consisting of eighteen young ladies.

The Native Daughters of Grass Valley and Nevada City are coming as escorts to their respective Native Sons' Parlor, and with California Secretary G. W. Sacramento, will be one of the finest features of the parade.

J. P. Dockery and C. E. Bolderman, of the joint committee in San Francisco, were present at last night's meeting and reported unusual enthusiasm among the Day City paraders. They will advertise Sacramento on their return as a summer resort, and they believe this will remove the scruples that some might have in regard to the weather.

The following named persons constitute the local joint committee having in charge the celebration: Thomas Fox (Chairman), A. S. Colby (Vice-Chairman), J. M. Henderson (Secretary), D. R. Carr (Treasurer), R. E. Greer (Sergeant-at-Arms), F. D. Ryan, C. T. Barton, Howard Johnson, H. C. Tubbs, G. N. Post, Theodore Edler, E. E. Johnson, A. C. Kaufman, George C. Schermann, Frank Laflerty, John T. Skelton, Jr.

This committee is every day rendering yeoman's service, and every representative of foreign paraders that has visited the city has returned to his home with the most glowing reports of the treatment received at the hands of the Sacramento committee.

In every instance the parlors of other places have acknowledged that never before have they been so lavishly entertained as in Sacramento.

WHEN THE SHOT.

A Mysterious Affair That Occurred Late Last Night.

About 11:30 o'clock last night a telephone message was received at the police station to the effect that a man had been shot and killed at Fourteenth and K streets. Officers Maley and Balz immediately went to that locality in the patrol wagon, but when they got there they found no dead man, neither did they find anyone who heard the shooting or knew anything about the affair.

They then went to the Phoenix Flouring Mill on Thirteenth street, between J and K, whence the telephone message was sent. The police officers were informed by Frank McCormick, the night engineer at the mill, that a few minutes before he telephoned to the police station a young man named Hoyt, Huff or Hoff,

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

"Overland Monthly" for August will satisfy the demand of summer readers for light literature with an outdoor flavor, and yet has articles that are of permanent value. Of the latter, "What Indiana Has Done for California," by J. A. Woodson, is notable. He makes large claims for Indiana in the development of the Golden State—and proves them by general figures and statistics. The other articles are by Senators, Judges, men of affairs, men of letters, men prominent in all walks of life. Portraits of many of these men are given. The interesting portion of the article will also prove of interest to readers who care to be informed of the growth of their country. Another article of great historical value is "Personal Recollections of Senator H. S. Foote," by George Baber. This takes us back to the exciting discussions that preceded the civil war, the times when California's mission to the Union was a question that upset the careful compromises of many years. Senator Foote was prominent in the Confederacy (Congress as a thorn in the side of President Davis. The mental attitude of a man who disapproved of secession and was yet drawn into it by the inexorable sweep of events is well shown in this leading example. It has been little understood that a Frenchman should treat this subject, because France has done very much for California. It is quite suitable that a Frenchman should treat this subject, because France has done very much for California. It is quite suitable that a Frenchman should treat this subject, because France has done very much for California.

The sooner that men realize that equality before the law only means equal opportunity and equal protection, and that without the former the latter will be a millennium dawn. The dedication of the tramp, the honoring of the outlaw, the demoralization of the church all lead in the wrong direction.

PEOPLE WANTED. (Humboldt Standard.)

The Half-Million Club is doing good work for San Francisco and the Manufacturers' and Merchants' Association of California are doing good work for home manufacturers, but they should understand that before San Francisco can have the reputation of being a city of opportunity and prosperity, the state must have three times as many people outside of the metropolis to support such a city, by providing the raw materials and furnishing their operatives with the staff of life—bread. Country and city are mutually dependent, and any organization which wishes to build up a city must help to build up the country which sustains the city.

THE ATLANTA EXPOSITION. (The Atlanta Journal.)

We are glad to know that California is to have an exhibit at the Atlanta Exposition. California cannot carry her products into too many places for competitive purposes. The exhibit will be widely known. We hope, too, that our own Board of Supervisors will not be asleep but will have Lullare represented with her usual courtesy. There is another point which needs consideration: Californians should be enabled to know what Georgia is likely to produce in the markets of the East. We ought to know beforehand at what time of year Georgia peaches are likely to come in, and we ought to know what else she is likely to produce that we are producing. Georgia is awake and will learn valuable lessons from California. We ought to learn from the Atlanta Exposition much that will redound to our advantage. There is a work here that the California newspapers should make ample preparation for doing.

THE PEOPLE'S FAULT. (San Jose Herald.)

It is the fault of the people that really representative men are not sent to the Legislature—men in whom the people have confidence—men who have demonstrated in the interests of the masses and the welfare of the state. To send mere boys to the Legislature to make laws for a great state is to invite the adoption of legislation in the interests of the bosses and the holders and corrupt cliques and combinations of all sorts. It is also to prevent the passage of wholesome and useful laws that would benefit the people and the honest industry, reduce the expenses of government, and purify every department of politics. The people know all this, but they elect the wrong men to the Legislature, and then howl about high taxes and official corruption and incompetency.

THE TIME CHECKS. (Sacramento Record.)

Those workmen who disposed of their time checks Thursday for so much less than their face value in order to be able to get drinking money just exhibited their usual recklessness. Some of them had probably been out of work for a year or more depending upon charity and a few odd jobs for a living; and they were glad to get in for their work and pay-day come around than they throw up their job, come into town and proceed to spend all they have earned in a few days.

On the other hand, there were a few decent men who as soon as they received their pay checks they took them to the grocery store and bought their families their families since they were out of work and were given credit for the face of the checks as well as dollars in change for other necessities.

KEEP OFF THE HANDLE. (Oroville Mercury.)

Editors have gone into towns of the apathetic class and by means of the local papers endeavor to arouse the people to awake spirit. They have seen their faces multiplied, and probably have been forced to abandon the field after a few days. The people are not so easily won, and it is any wonder capitalist sinners such localities as though they were plague-stricken. Put your fingers on citizens, and when in the near future the lever is ready to give a boost, advance your idea as to the best method to be adopted in the lift, but if you cannot do any lifting yourself do not drag on the handle.

SUNDAY LAW. (Riverdale Enterprise.)

While it may not be matter for regret that stores are kept open in the large cities, State and railway cars crowded with holiday seekers and the people engaged in the shopping, the audiences while the churches have a beggarly attendance, one thing is certain: that the enforcement of Sunday observance is a matter of public interest, and that the people are entitled to the same spirit of intolerance that worked desolation in the early days of American history, and that the people are entitled to outrage their conscience in their worship of God.

DELICIOUS CREAMED SPINACH. Maria Parlova Tells How They Do It in France.

Four quarts of spinach, one large head of lettuce, one whole teaspoonful of butter, one teaspoonful of sugar, a slight dash of nutmeg, one teaspoonful of flour mixed with half a pint of cream or milk. Boil the spinach for five minutes and then in a steapin with one quart of boiling water. Boil rapidly for five minutes, then turn the vegetables into a colander and let the water drain off. Chop the spinach and lettuce into small pieces, and add the nutmeg, salt and pepper to taste. Cook gently for fifteen minutes; then add the flour and cream and cook fifteen minutes longer.—Ladies' Home Journal.

DEFINITION OF A POPULIST. One of our readers who would like to be an editor, no doubt, hands us the following humorous political item from an Oregon paper: "A boy in Kansas was pulling a dog along by a rope. The boy called to the dog: 'Come along Pop, you ought to see!' A bystander asked him why he called the dog 'Pop.' The boy answered the boy: 'What his name?' 'Populist.' 'Why call him Populist?' asked the stranger. The boy said: 'Well, because he is just like a Populist. He is the creepiest dog in Kansas. He ain't worth a darn only to sit on his tail and howl.'"

THE DOCTRINE OF HATE. (Covous Sun.)

Wisdom can only come with experience, the experience so often comes without wisdom. The idea was prevalent that age was worth something when wise men said a vote could not be cast under 21. That a man must be older to occupy higher offices. But now the rush of young men is so great they go in office with the egg on their face, and only finding the few brains that time and experience might enlarge.
